One day last week a party of hunters from Lower Augusta started a fox and ran him into the garden of Daniel Foy, near the Stone Church. Mr. Foy caught him as he was jumping over the fence, much to the objection of his foxhunting and endeavored to dispatch him; after a short struggle, the fox escaped and hid; nearly a fortnight ago, when Foy caught him by the tail, by this time Foy was so enraged that there was a smother danger in letting him go as in holding fast. After a fight of about five minutes Foy succeeded in knocking his brains out against his house. Our friend Foy is now the hero of Lower Augusta, but he got tired telling the story so often—Democratic Guard of this week.

Butter. "You know how it is yourself" is supplanting "How is that for high?" The Potville folks are rejoicing over butter at 25 cents per pound. Lucky people. Our dollar groceries altered to two are said to be in circulation. Look out for them.

The authorities of Danville are moving to have water works erected in that thriving town. We are indebted to R. Montgomery, Esq., of the House of Representatives, at Harrisburg, for public favors.

An effort will be made during the coming summer to erect a new Baptist church in this place. We hope the project will meet with favor, and that the members of the congregation may be successful in their enterprise.

A daily freight line has been established between Shamokin and Philadelphia by Wm. H. Musclemann, Esq., for carrying all kinds of goods and produce.

A railroad keeper in Allentown has a temperance pledge behind his bar, and does his best to get all his dead-bait customers to sign it. We will wager a penny that he won't make a single convert in a twelve-month.

CHEAP GOODS.—In suspension times when money is scarce, everybody is looking for a place where a dollar will go the furthest and buy the best goods, and most of them. Merchants and others should take a note of this, and advertise the price of their goods if they wish to make more sales.

If you wish to offend a neighbor, go his tale to keep him out of jail, and then take proper steps to make yourself safe. He will be sure to think it mean and meddling if you don't consider it prudent to leave everything to his integrity. He may even threaten never to ask another favor of you, which would perhaps be the best part of the performance.

How often we hear "old socks" compare notes about the "good old times" when they were young, and wonder what they're coming to: The old folks say the boys is bad, but out of the window, over the shed, they went to the ground for a little spruce, but it's the same as it used to be.

The damels old, they fume and fret; They say they never saw such a set; As girls as these—"they're getting on?" But they're just like the girls that used to be.

The Harrisburg State Journal says:—A gentleman of Halifax, being at a ladies' fair not long since, and being solicited by any gentleman by a fair creature who kept one of the tables, said he wanted to buy what he feared was not for sale—a look of her hair. To his surprise and delight she promptly cut off the curled curl, and received the price offered—$10. The happy purchaser was exhibiting the trophy to one of his friends, who very suddenly blasted his joy by saying: "She rather deceived you, for, to my certain knowledge, she only paid three dollars for the whole wig."

To our readers in fashion, visit John F. Schneider's Merchant Tailor shop and procure a suit of clothes from him. He is the individual who will enter for you and guarantee any style wished for.

THE CARBIDE GEAR.—Wanamaker & Brown have a "big new" now, on which they keep a full assortment of garments of extra sizes, for men so big that they have usually had to have their clothes made to order.

The immense sales of Boots and Shoes at W. H. Miller's Excelsior Store, during the holidays, took every one by surprise. Box after box was emptied, and we find Mr. Miller still keeping up the largest supply in town. He has again replenished his stock with the very best in market, and all of the latest styles.

PIANOS AND ORGANS.—The subscriber, agent for the best Pianos and Organs in the world, will guarantee them for five years and sell the cheapest than any traveling agent can afford them. But first-class makers employ no such agents. H. B. Mauer.

The new styles of hats at S. Faust's store are admired by everybody. He keeps a splendid assortment to select from, and all of good quality and the latest styles.
