foundest knowledge, towering intellect, and enlarged, correct and exalted views. The country is filled with violence-with men ready and willing to perpetrate crimes of the deepest dye, -men who are too lazy to work, but wicked enough to shed innocent blood, fire buildlugs and rob, to obtain money. Most of the fires by which cities and towns have been destroyedmen reduced from wealth to poverty-misery, want, and suffering to various forms entailed on thousands of innocent men, women and children, and causing the death of many hundreds, were probably the work of these wicked men. Offunders against the laws should be presecuted
