A REMARKABLE ACCIDENT.-A few days ago Mr. William F. Eckbert, of this place, drove up to the Main saw mill in a buggy, accompanied by a little daughter. When returning, about the middle of Mr. Schnure's peach orchard the wind blew off the little girls bat, and Mr. Eckbert got out to pick it up. As he was doing so, the horse started with the little girl in the buggy. Mr. Eckbert got hold on the rear of the buggy, but fell. He held on to the hind axle suspended by his arms, and whilst the horse was running quite fast he managed to crawl forward along the coupling pole till he got hold with both hands on the front axle. He did this in the hope that the line would fall down and drag and that he could secure it and stop the horse. But the line had fallen over the dasher and did not reach the ground. At the willows above Schoch's warehouse Mr. L. R. Hummel encountered the runaway and attempted to stop him, but he threaten ed to go over the bank, and so be let him pass and then suddenly jumped into the rear of the buggy, seized the line and stopper the horse. Up to this time he was not aware there was really a man under the buggy, as Mr. Eckbert had very much changed appearance, and didn't just then look like a man. The road is rough and stony. His shoes and stockings were torn off; the clothes were rent into shreds on his back, and his pantaloon legs were entirely gone, and he was covered from head to foot with mud and blood and many sore cuts and bruises. He drove home himself, but has since been confined to bed, and the Doctor thinks it will require a week to enable him

THE SIMPLEST KNOWN CURE FOR DIARRHOEA OR SUMMER COMPLAINT .- Take about one gill of rice and place in a spider over the fire, stirring it constantly until thoroughly brown. Do not burn t. As soon as it is thoroughly brown, fill the spider with boiling water and let it boil until the mass is of the consistency of thin paste. If the rice is not cooked perfectly soft, add a little more water and let it boil away again. Be careful at the last moment that it does not burn on the bottom. When cooked soft, turn into a bowl, sweeten with loaf or crushed sugar and salt to sult the taste. Eat in milk.
