We were handed a handsome book a few days ago, by C. S. Hazletine, Book Seller at this place, entitled the "End of the World." It is a genuine love story, and contains a large number of lilustrations. The reading matter is both humorous and instructive. The work has already an ex-

His stock is new and of beautiful styles, calculated to please everybody. Call abuse which is so often witnessed upon our streets. and see his magnificent assortment.

RETURNED .- Jacob Shipman, ticket agent at the P. E. R. R. Depot, and popular Insurance agent for some of the best companies in the country, who, with his family was on a visit to his mother and brothers residing in the State of Iowa, has returned again. Their visit, we are happy to gratefully approve its action." learn, has been a pleasant one, and their accounts of the far west are of a very glowing cha-employment to a large number of men.

WE understand that the pavement around the Park is to be laid with handsome flag stone eight feet in width, with good, substantial curbing. The contract for the work has been awarded to Wm. T. Rickey, of this place. The curbing is to be finished by the first of December, for the sum of $225. The cost of the pavement will be $18 per square of ten feet. The flag stone to be from two to threee inches in thickness, and to be dressed up square.

CLUB ROOM .- The Young men connected with and debating on different subjects. The room is men during the season.

As alarm of fire was caused on Tuesday evening last, by the explosion of a gasoline lamp in the saddler shop of Mr. Hemperly, on Market street. Fortunately the lamp was hurled into the street, and the fire extinguished before any damage was done.

We notice that Mr. Michael Weaver, the popular bar-tender, formerly of the Reese House, has taken possession of the Vandyke Restaurant, under the Moore & Dissinger buildings, corner of Market and Third streets, Mr. Weaver understands the catering department to perfection, and his numerous friends will be happy to patronize him in his new quarters.

THE CLEMENT HOUSE. - Phis very popular House, located in 3d street close to the Masonic Hall has | follows : lately been painted, sanded and otherwise improved. It now presents a fine appearance, and we are happy to see has its full share of public patronage. Under the superior management of our friend Mr. James Tuft it cannot do otherwise. Mr. Tuft has had considerable experience in the business, and through his friendly deportment towards all with whom he comes in contact, he must secure a large patromage, and draw

THE NEW COURT HOUSE CLOCK .- On Monday evening last the illuminated dials of the clock were lit up for the first time. The light from the eight gas burners first tried, was entirely too strong, four burners proving sufficient. The use of reflectors to diffuse the light, will be a still further improvement. As might be expected, various criticisms are indulged in and various opinons given by the learned and unlearned on the subject-some of the latter even suggesting the use of white wooden dials, but how the light was to penetrate them, was not explained. In answer to the other objections, we would suggest that all illuminated dials are made of glass, and that glass at such an elevation always has a blue appearance, assimilating with that of the atmosphere. On such a ground gilt hands and figures afford, perhaps, the very best contrast. At all used in the State House clock in Philadelphia, and the City Hall clock in New York, and almost all others. In regard to the striking ar-Goop Tobacco, Cigars, Pipes, Fancy Articles, rangements, we would say that the bell, when striking the hours, can be heard over ten miles, when the wind is favorable, but the lattice blinds are entirely too close, and should be altered, the slats bing less than an inch apart, whereas they should be from 6 to 8 inches apart. In Philadelbe excelled, and will not vary forty seconds per month from the true time.

A POST OFFICE BUILDING WANTED. - There is considerable complaint on the part of many of tendency to raise the prices on all cotton and our citizens in regard to the Post Office building in this place. The business within a few years has increased so rapidly that the accommodations are entirely too small for our fast growing borough. The crowd gathering on the arrival of the mails, who are compelled to enter and leave through one door, renders it very unpleasant, and especially so to females. A post office building should at least have two doors, so that the people can enter at one and leave through the other. For the credit and convenience of the town a more suitable place should be secured, and if the tention is paid to customers by the most polite Post Office Department will not aid in the matter we hope some of our enterprising citizens will step in and give us this necessary improvement.

EPIZOOTIC .- The dread horse disease which has been travelling over the country, has made its appearance in this vicinity. We learn that on and silver. An essay has been made by Booth Tuesday last several horses were attacked along the canal on the opposite side of the river, and that a number of boats were tied up in consequence. The disease is spreading rapidly along the Pennsylvania canal, and we may soon expeet that cases will occur on this side of the river. As this disease is prevailing all over the conntry, Sunbury and vicinity cannot expect to escape And as there are some unmindful of the Divine that adorn the windows of S. Faust's hat store, and may persist in working their horses when rule, "A merciful man is merciful to his beast," sick, we publish the following sensible paragraph winter stock is superior to any ever seen in this from the Miners' Journal, which suits the case precisely : "Now that so many horses are sick and unable TERRIBLE.—On Thursday evening a fire broke out at the residence of Michael Sanders, in East out at the residence of Michael Sauders, in East Danville, through the explosion of a lamp. The ignited fluid being scattered, rapidly enveloped the house in flames. No time was left to save anything. But Mr. Sanders being tax collecter. anything. But Mr. Sanders being tax collector. tried to save the papers and money belonging to the public. For this purpose he entered the burning building; but alas, he did not return. Overcome by the devouring element he sank down into the fire and was burned to a crisp. A portion of his body was afterwards recovered. An adjoining house was also consumed. This terrible calamity cast a gloom over the minds of all, for all knew and respected Mr. Sanders, as an honest upright man, and as a Christian.
