THE beavy rains on Tuesday and Wednesday last caused much damage south and south-west Juniata there were heavy rains which considerably interfered with railroad travel on the Pennsylvania road. At Black Log Station, in the Lewistown Narrows, a landslide of considerable magnitude occurred, and until the obstructions were removed, the trains on that road were sent over the Sunbury and Lewistown road to this place, and from here over the N. C. road to Harrisburg. The Cincinnati Express, fast line, and Philadelphia Express were sent over this route, and were considerably behind time. The Southern Pacific Express trains west, were also sent via Sunbury accompanied by engineers from the N. C. railway who were acquainted with the route. Several narrow escapes of terrible accidents are reported, one of which was east of Lewistown on the Pennsylvania road, on which was our esteemed friend Hop. J. B. Linn, Deputy Secretary of State. The train was running at its usual speed when it came in contact with a telemost instantly stopped by the air brake. The engine was considerably damaged, but no injury was done to the passengers or to any of the found that a culvert had been washed out a short distance ahead, which, had the first accident not occurred, would have precipitated the train into a chasm, and probably caused a complete wreck, resulting in great loss of life among the passengers. At one point along Red Hill, on the Lewistown railroad, we were informed, the water in a certain creek had risen so that it covered the railroad and reached the floor of the postal car, as the train ran through it.

THE NEW POST OFFICE.-The mail matter and offices. The post offic room on the first floor is large and commodious. The interior design was executed by the Yale Lock Manufacturing Company of Connecticut, and is both convenient and ornamental in its structure. The building is twenty-one feet front by forty-three in depth. The general delivery is in front four feet in width. The delivery cases on each side extend back at an angle about eight feet, from whence the interior space is continued 19 feet back, 6 feet seven inches wide, with boxes on each side. The space between the boxes and the walls on each side, is six feet. At the end of the boxes on the left, is the money order desk. On each side, in the centre is a box delivery, besides the general delivery in front. The number of boxes is 800, namely, 500 call boxes, 360 lock boxes, and 28 lock drawers. These boxes are the patent metallic Yale boxes guilt. The wood work is pine lulald with walnut. The space from the entrance door to the general delivery is 13 feet. Don't pay two prices when you can get goods | The entrance to the back office is on the right. The delivery cases on the angle are covered with stained glass.

All who have seen the new arrangement express their admiration, and feel a just pride in having a postoffice which compares favorably with any other in the State. And as the enterprise is solely an individual one, accomplished greatest care. No charges are made to show through the indefatigable efforts of postmaster goods-in fact it is a pleasure to Mr. Finney to Smith, the citizens need not feel under obligashow what a handsome stock he has on hand. tions to the government for this improvement. Sunbury can well boast of its neat, convenient postoffice as well as an accommodating postmaster, and one of the most agreeable and polite postoffice clerks that can be found in the State.

VIOLATING THE MARKET LAWS .- On Saturday last, Market Master Geo. Renn, made complaint plete, and every style of satchels, vallees and against Mr. Henry Shipe, of Lower Augusta the Market Ordinance by peddling produce railroads is to be removed into it. The new dearound town, during market hours. Mr. Shipe was compelled to pay the usual fine of $5 and costs. Our farmer friends should be careful in observing the law, which can be had on application to the Market Master, which will be strictly enforced for the protection of those who attend our market, and abide by the law.

> San Acceptat.-On the morning of the 12th inst., as the brick masons went to work on Mr. Purdy's dwelling, now in course of erection in Pardy's addition, a sad accident occurred. The tenders had piled up a large number of brick on the scaffold, where several men were standing, rise very rapidly. eaught on timbers and saved themselves with slight injuries.

The accident was, undoubtedly, caused from overloading the scaffold, as the nails, 18 in number, were all broken squarely off. The scaffolding was erected by the bricklayers themselves.

AT these times it would be difficult to define which is the most expensive, a wedding or a tuneral. Expense is somewhat allowable in the former case when all the parties feel exuberant and liberal. But when the heart is bowed by the most pressing sorrow, when the vanities the foibles, the fralities of this world are most sensibly felt, and secretly, if not openly acknowledged, it seems hollow and heartless to indulge in
