BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL DR. JOHNSTON,

Physician of this celebrated Institution, has discovered the most certain, speedy, pleasant and effectual remedy in the world for all DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.

Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Strictures, Affections of Kidneys and Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsy, Languor, Low Spirits, Confesion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Timidity, Tremblings, Dimness of Sight or Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—these terrible Disorders arising from the Solitary Habits of Youth—those secret and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the song of Syrons to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes of anticipations, rendering marriage, &c., impossible.

especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exaited talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence or waked to cestacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.

Marriad Persons or Young Men contemplating marriage, aware of Physical Weakness, (Loss of Procreative Power—Impotency), Nervous Excitability, Palpitation, Organic Weakness, Nervous Debility, or any other Disqualification, specifily relieved.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. J. may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician.

Sleian.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS,
Impotency, Losa of Power, immediately Cured and full Vigor Restored.

This Distressing Affection—which renders Life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgences. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent I Besides being deprived the pleasures of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms to both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions Weakened, Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility, a Wasting of the Frame, Cough, Consumption, Decay and Death.

A CURE WARRANTED IN TWO DAYS. Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders who keep them trilling menth after month, taking poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately.

DR. JOHNSTON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduated from one of the most eminent don, Graduated from one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose ife has been spent in the hospitals of London, Pris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervensness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately. immediately.

HAVE YOU A MOTHER!

Have ven a mother? love her welt. While she is spared on earth; Walt not till death shall call her hence, To know her previous worth.

Wait not till she lies cold and still, Most beautiful, though dead, To think of what you should have done, Before her dear life fled. Think now how much she should be loved,

 And prize her as you ought,
 Or else your life when she is gone,
 With sorrow shall be fraught. Oh, watch her, guard her with your love, While with you she is left, For when she leaves you, life will seem

Oh, soothe her in her hours of pain, Be gentle and be mild; How sweet 'twill be for you to know You've been a faithful child.

An Evil and its Remedy.

One man with any trade is worth a thou-sand without one. A return to the old plan of apprenticing boys to trades is be-ing advocated. The hosts of young men in every large city who apply for employ-ment, and full to get it, for the reason that they cannot truthfully affirm that they are educated or especially fitted for any particular business, constitutes a potent argument in favor of reform. Under the apprentice system we should have fewer ignorant mechanics and incompetent business men. A trade is half a man's fortune. It presents in a nutshell the great evil of the times. How many thousands of young men are now idle in our great cities—in our towns and villages—who profess to be seeking work, yet avoid the foundry, the machine shop, the shop of the builder, and every other place where useful trades are taught and practiced, as they would avoid a pestilence. They seek only such em-ployments as promise little work and large pay. With the most of our young men the learning of a trade is not respectable. And who is to blame for this sentiment, so universal among our youth? It is the par-nts-it is society, so called. Society is understood to taboo the mechanic and working man, and hence it is believed that there is no road to respectability through the mechanic's shop. No greater or more fatal mistake was ever made. No system of education was ever so false and dangerous as that which inculcates the idea that labor is a badge of dishonor or that the laboring man is not the peer of the most exalted in the land.

The work shop is the best and surest road to usefulness and to fortune. It lies directly in the path of honor and distinction fered for the most perfect development of the man of genius and of talent. There is to place where the man of education can demonstrate his capacity for usefulness.

THE KING AND THE SOLDIER .- Fredrick of Prussia had a great mania for enlisting gigantic soldiers, into the Royal Guards, and paid an enormous bounty to his recruiting officers for getting them. One day the recruiting sergeaut chanced to espy an Hibernian who was at least seven habit. HOW A MAN HUNTS FOR CLEAN CLOTHES. Did you ever see a man try to find a shirt, or a handkerchief or something in the bureau drawer where his wife keeps her clean linen? It mostly happens when he's in a hurry, when he has got his fireworks' temper on, and his wife has got the baby on her lap, or she is "up to the elbows" in dough. He finds the white clothes arranged in such symmetrical layers as only a woman, after long practice, can accomplish, and he dives in a good deal as he would fish for nubs of kindling in a barrel of shavings; pitching every-thing right or left or to the floor; mean-while, as he fails to get the desired article, stewing and sweating, and offering up se-lected expressions of relief to his feelings, in a suppressed tone of voice, and vowing, in a key especially designed to reach the ears of his wife, that "it does beat the old —what's 's name ?—a thing can't be put where it can be found." About this time his wife yells out from below that the article sought is right at the top; when he sar-castically desires to know if she supposes he has got no eyes" then tears around into that linen at a more furious rate than ever, swearing that the shirt aint there, for he has got clear to the bottom. And then be gathers everything up in a bunch and rams them back anyhow, just as he can grab them in savage handfuls, tearing around, and jerking things all over with a nervous The appreciative citizens offered looseness. Then he sings out in a sort of abstracted way, as if addressing no one in particular, that he can always tell where POTATO TEA ROLLS.—Take on to find anything he needs at his place of its place. Just about the time he has worked himself into a red hot worry of boiling-over impatience, and got the whole room into a litter, his wife glides in and lays ber hand upon the missing article-

DON'T LIKE IT .- A lady with a poodle dog entered a smoking car on a Western train, the other day, and when the conductor endeavored to persuade her to go into another car, she refused, saying her pre-sence would deter the occupants from wrenched it from his mouth, exclaiming. 'If there is anything I hate it is tobacco smoke." The passengers who had witnessed the affair were convulsed with laughter, but the offending smoker suppressed whatever emotions may have been struggling for expression in words or action, and maintained throughout the same imperturable gravity which had characterized him from the first. Calmly rising from his seat, he opened the window nearst him, fastened it up, and, reaching over the sent back, took that woman's poodle dog and threw him out of the window as far beyond as possible, at the
