as follows:

That the said Augustus Myers on the 25th day of November, in the year aforesaid, at Sunbury, in the county aforesaid, was found dead on the Philadelphia and Eric Railroad, at or near the depot in the said borough, his body having been mutilated by a train; and although no evidence was elicited proving anything other than acci-dental death, there were circumstances connected with the matter which involve the case in mystery.

By the above verdict there appears to be some mystery in the case which we hope will be speedily solved. During last winter several persons were attacked after night in the vicinity where this man was found. We were also told that the old lime kiln was a rendevous for certain parties, who keep prowling about in that vicinity, extending their circuit to the river.
