Hon, Orzo J. Dodds ? "My name is Dodds, but " am no longer

as honorable, said the colonel. 'Net an sonorable? Dodds not an ho perable? Now, say St. Paul, when I can sean that honest face, on which all the gods do seem to set their sen | Green seal, murmured Dodds to himsel? I read no thing dishonorable."

'That's right' said Dodds, 'never read SOUR anything disnonorable. But to business, 'Yes, as you say, to business.'

'Yes, as you say, to business. I am a printer -I saight say, with no unbecoming blush, an editor. I am from the noble State of Arkansaw, the only State, by the way, able and willing to support two governments at the same time. But I have been unfortunate. Much have I been tossed through the ire of cruel juno, and :-'June how it is yourself,' broke in the Colonel.

*Buffeted by the world's rude storms, you see me here a stranded wreck. Scarce of my worthy foreman, and sought the peaceful vales and calm retreats of the Muskingum valley, where my childhood sported. Returning, I stopped in Cmeinnati, I fell into evil company, and-but why dweil on details. Enough that I amthat I am-disheartened, rained, broke ! A. mark for scorn to point her slow, unerring finger at. As I was about to give up in despair, having given up everything else I had, I thought of you. Sir, I am here. You have not sent for me, but I have come. Your name, sir, is known and honoted from one end of this great Republic to the other. It-

Glows in the stars Refreshes in the breeze, Warms in the sun, And blossoms on the fees.

When the national treasury was threatened by a borde of greedy congressmen, you stood like a wall of adamant between the people and those infamous salary grabbers! Lend me a dollar!

'My dear str,' the colonel hastened to was one of the grabbers.

'You were?' (grasping the colonel's hand warmly.) 'So much the better. Let me congratulate you that a parsimonious it electron the standard of all the viril ferrors. public could not frighten you out of what was fair remuneration for your invaluable circumstances are so much better than I supposed. Make it two dollars!

And the colonel did. It was the only clean thing left for him to do. - St. Louis

A Good mother was trying to explain to be strongled in its condition, and restore a to perfect to a young hopeful the other day about fighting against the devil. After telling the little fellow who the devil was and how hard he was to successfully resist, he turn- Caldwell's Cough Cure ed around and said, 'Mamma I'd be seared of the old devil, but if I was to come neroes one of his little devils, I'd knock the stuffic out of him."

The landlord of one of the leading hotels in Philadelphia has often had much trouble in converting new hands into smart waiters. His fitst order was, 'give the gentlemen soup before anything else.' A recent arrival from the green Isle had received his directions, and had made up his mind to act on them. The first for him to try them on was a verdant countryman, who did not appreciate soup. Pat brought the soup. Greeny says, 'Don't want it. Throat and Lung Disease Generally. says greeny, again. 'Well, then, yees better take it, for divil a bit will yees have to ate before yees swallow that.

HOW HE CAUGHT IT .- A resident of New Haven, Connecticut, has latterly given up steamboat travel, and now when he wants to go to New York, he provides tickets by the railway. His preference for the latter method of locomotion came about in this wise : Not long ago he had occasion to go to the metropolis of the Empire State, and accordingly be started for the steamer's landing, with a carpet sack in one hand and a cane in the other, in what he supposed to be ample time. But when he came in sight of the wharf he observed the boat apparently swinging away from MAGNETIC CHLOROLOID her moorings, and, amid the shouts and jeers of the bystanders, he broke into a frantic run for the landing. The boat was eight or ten feet from the wharf when he reached the place where he had hoped to find a gaugplank, but nothing daunted, and trusting to the momentum acquired during the run, he leaped into the air and gained the yessel's deck. - Not without accident, however. The carpet-bag struck one passenger so violently in the stomach that he doubled up like a jackknife, and absorbed a whole flask of brandy in getting straightened out, while the cane struck another man in the face with sufficient force to suddealy induce him to get down on his knees to look after his hat. When he had recovered it the man who had occasioned all this commotion said to him, in a tone of mingled apology and self-gratuation, 'Weil, I made it l' 'Yes, you did,' said the sorehended passenger, 'but you durned old fool, this beat ain't going out, she's coming in.'

WHEN a remantic young man determines to surprise his sweetheart by a noonday call, and proceeds to execute his parpose with a shining countenance and a breast full of tumultuous longing, nothing zends such a sickening sensation through his frame, when the servant is about to usher him into the parlor, as to hear the idol of his soul yelling up the basemen stairs for him to just wait awhile, till she washes the molasses off her face.

Ir you would excite inventive genius deprive a toper of his regular dram. If he don't find a way to get liquor it will be remarkable. The last invention in this line is the case of the man who put some rock candy in a bottle, rubbed the neck with camphor, and then had the druggist to fill it with whisky, the wife of the purchaser was troubled so much with the headache.*

A GENTLEMAN at a dance remarked to his partner, a witty young lady, that the "room was too close-he must go out and get some air.' After an absence of half an hour he returned, when she asked him if he had been at the grave-yard, as his breath smelled of bier !

'Do bats ever fly in day time?' asked a teacher of his class in natural history. 'Yes, sir,' said the boys, confidently, "What kind of bats?" exclaimed the astonished teacher. 'Brickhats!' yelled the triumphant boys. They were called out individually and rewarded for their wit.

STRAWBERRIES .- A writer in the Rural New Yorker thus discourses about strawberries : If any of your lady readers would devote half Mail East connects cast and west at Eric with the time they now give to nursing sickly plants L. connections at williamsport with N. C. R. W. Many suppose that it takes a great amount of rains, north, and at Harrisburg with N. C. R. labor to get a very few berries. Such is not the fact. The strawberry will thrive under conditions where many garden vegetables, so called, Philadelphia & Reading Railroad. would perish. Then there are men with half their garden devoted to weeds, who gravely inform me that they haven't an inch of ground to spare for a strawberry patch. Let such keep on raising bitter weed and parsley; verily they TRAINS LEAVE HERNDON AS FOLLOWS: (SUNDAYS shall reap what they sow, a larger and finer crop of weeds next year.

Young Ducks .- The best food for young ducks is ontmeal. If they are hatched under a hen you may let them be at liberty with her, providing them with oat meal mixed with water in a plate. If there is water they (to the hen's discomfort) will dabble about on the edge of it, and find some food. If hatched under a duck the safest plan is to confine them for a fortnight in some old place, such as a pigstye, where the she drags them about towards evening when the flies are about; she takes them under seetling there is only a small and open pond the duck may be safely left at liberty with her brood .-

[From the Germanton Telegraph.] DRY TOAST .- There is as much art and care Owing to the Panic, and in order to meet the general wish and expectation of the public and the ticket-holders for the full payment of the Gifts announced, the man-agement have determined to postpone the Concert and Drawing to the date above stated. necessary to make this simple article properly as to roast a hare or fowl. The slices of bread Drawing to the date above stated.

The object of this enterprise is for the purpose of securing a Steam Fire Engine, which will be an advantage to all neighboring towns accessible by rail, from the fast that it will be an Independent Company. And as we have never failed to discharge our duty when called upon, we certainly will be able to accomplish more good with the aid of a steamer. There is no less than nimeteen large and small towns within thirty miles of Sunbury, all of which can be reached by railroad, thus affording the facility of assisting any of those places in less than an hour's time; while at the same time our town will not be unprotected. Our project being a landable one, we otherwise the steam from thick as liked, and the crust be cut off. It should be held a little distance from the fire to draw the steam out of it, and be turned before it hardens or begins to brown; then be toasted on both sides till of a light golden brown, and be placed in a toast-rack, or be stuck upright on a fork till it is cold. The next piece must be put at the other end of the toast-rack, otherwise the steam from this will make the first should be thin or thick as liked, and the crust be otherwise the steam from this will make the first

AN EXCELLENT BREAD PUDDING .- Soak two pounds of pieces of dry stale bread or toast all night in plenty of water, with a plate laid on the top to keep them under the water. Next morning pour off and squeeze out all the superfluous water : then mash fine the pieces of bread, mix with half a pound of flour, a quarter of a pound of cleaned currants, a quarter of a pound of moist sugar, four ounces of suet chopped fine, and two teaspoonsful of fresh ground allspice; grease the inside of a baking dish with a bit of

Two large tablespoonsful of rice to one quart of milk, one small cup of white sugar, one cup of cut-up raisins. Let it stand in a warm place Twenty thousand numbers, representing and corresponding with fhose on the receipts issued, will be placed in one wheel and cards enclosed with the names of the Premiums in scaled boxes will be placed in another.—From these wheels, a number and one of the above named inscribed cards will be taken simultaneously. The number so drawn from the one wheel secures the premium designated by the card taken at the same time from the other. This operation will be performed by a blind person, and continued until Eighteen Hundred and Fifty-Seven Premiums are exhausted. It is evident three hours, and bake one hour. However paradoxical it may appear, the addition of one or two eggs spoils the pudding, rendering it firm and dry. Half a dozen eggs and half the rice, previously boiled, will make a delicious custard, with a few grains of rice at the bottom. To Make Pastirs .- Make a paste of flour and lard, or suct if preferred, with sufficient cold
