

Sunbury American.

SUNBURY, JUNE 25, 1875.

Railroad Time Table.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF TRAINS AT SUNBURY.
N. C. & W. South. 12.30 p. m. 9.25 a. m.
P. & N. Express. 4.35 p. m. 12.30 p. m.
P. & N. Mail. 12.30 p. m. 9.25 a. m.
P. & N. Mail. 9.40 a. m. 6.15 p. m.
P. & N. Mail. 1.00 p. m. 7.45 p. m.

SHAMOKIN DIVISION, N. C. & W.
LEAVE ARRIVE
Express. 12.30 p. m. 9.25 a. m.
Mail. 4.35 p. m. 12.30 p. m.
An accommodation train leaves Shamokin at 7.10 a. m. arriving at Mt. Carmel at 6.15 p. m. arriving at Shamokin at 6.45 p. m.

LACKAWANNA & BOONSHIRE R. R. TRAINS.
Leave Northumberland at 6.15 a. m., 4.40 p. m.; arrive at 10.55 a. m. and 5.45 p. m. D. & H. W. R. Trains leave at 6.30 a. m. and arrive at 2.50 p. m.

Accidental Insurance Tickets can be had of J. Shipman, Ticket Agent, at the Depot.

Summer Arrangement for the Post Office at Sunbury, Pa.

Office Open from 6.30 a. m. to 8 p. m., except on Sundays.

TIME OF ARRIVAL AND CLOSING OF THE MAILS.
Arrives as follows:
From the East at 3.15 a. m., 4.10 p. m.
From the West at 5.15 a. m., 4.10 p. m.
From the South at 11.15 a. m., 4.10 p. m.
From the North at 10.55 a. m., 5.45 p. m.
From Shamokin at 11.15 a. m., 4.10 p. m.
From Shamokin at 11.15 a. m., 4.10 p. m.

Mails close as follows:
For the East, 5.45 a. m., 10.50 a. m., 4.55 p. m.
For the West, 10.50 a. m., 4.50 p. m., 8 p. m.
For the South, 10.50 a. m., 5.00 p. m., 8 p. m.
For the North, 5.20 p. m., 11 p. m.
Shamokin proper 8.15 a. m.
Shamokin and offices on that route, 4.50 p. m.
Money orders will be issued after 6 p. m., on Saturdays.

J. J. SMITH, P. M.

Local Affairs.

Pure Havana cigars for sale at the Post Office building.

The finest and most beautiful style hats are found at S. Faust's hat store, Market Square. They are sold cheap.

Most splendid fitting suits of clothing are made up by John Shaffer, on Third street. His customers are not excelled either in beauty or cheapness in price.

For Sale—Two second-hand bulk windows class 25 by 45. Also, 10 sets of window sash with 1 1/2 glass, all in good order. Enquire of H. B. Masser.

We are under obligations to H. D. Wharton, Esq., for a full and interesting report of the Bremen's excursion last week.

Improvements in Shamokin.—The report of the town notices a large number of buildings now being erected in Shamokin. We are glad to see so much prosperity in our neighboring town. May it ever be so.

The finest furnished by Mr. A. Steel's heavy wear, is reported as having been excellent. It weighed, when dressed, 1750 pounds.

The Post office building in Sunbury is kept at the Post Office building.

STEWART AVHILL has served his term in the penitentiary, and returned to his home in Watonsville.

There are counterfeits fifty cents notes in circulation hereabouts, and as the imitation is rather good, caution in regard to them should be exercised. The threads of silk worked into the paper in the genuine are supplied by some sort of printing in the counterfeit.

MARRIAGE NOT FULL TO EXAMINE MESSRS. Lantz & Bro.'s large assortment of Goods. See advertisement on fourth page of this issue.

HENRY CLAY citizens at the Post Office building.

ROBERTS.—We are reliably informed that while Mr. James E. Roberts, of Trenton, Pa., was attending church, on the evening of the 6th inst., some person or persons entered his house and, without any chest noise, and made their escape.

The Daily says that J. B. Smith & Bro.'s, Excelsior Boot & Shoe Store has been made attractive by paint and paper hanging. But this is not all. The most attractive part of the establishment is the excellent Boots & Shoes at such extraordinary low prices. A visit will convince any one.

The Junior editor of the American has been attending C. S. Court, as Jurymen, during this week.

Mrs. D. T. BROWN, wife of the Superintendent of the L. & B. railroad, died very suddenly at her home in Kingston, on Friday last. She was in her usual health until she ate a plate of strawberries on the evening of that day, when she took suddenly ill and expired in a few minutes. Poison is suspected.

DANIEL KEIZY, of this place, has been granted a patent for a gas apparatus.

DAILY PAPERS, weeklies and periodicals for sale at the Post Office building.

MESSES MOOREN & Bro. are engaged in making some very good improvements about their brewery by fitting up the new low goods are the water away from their establishment. They are determined to keep up their reputation for cleanliness and making pure lager beer.

DEPUTY U. S. MARSHAL.—We are glad to note that ex-Sheriff Jas. Vandike, of this place, has received the appointment of Deputy U. S. Marshal for the western district of Pennsylvania. The appointment is a well-earned one, as there are few men more vigilant and active in bringing violators of the law to their just rewards.

REAL VICTORIA cigars, fitted with Havana tobacco, at the Post Office building.

SINCE Mr. Disinger has returned from New York with a new supply of goods, the store of Clerk & Disinger presents a grand, business appearance. The clerks are all busily engaged in selling the cheap goods found at that establishment. It is a splendid chance to get low goods at the lowest price of the latest styles. Everything in the Dry Goods and Grocery line can be obtained at the cheap cash store.

An ice cream and strawberry party will be held in the Stone Church, Lower Augusta town, on Friday and Saturday evenings, June 25 and 26. Proceeds for the benefit of the Sabbath school and church.

On Saturday evening, near Mahanostog, on the N. C. road, a freight train ran into a passenger train, causing the caboose of the passenger train and doing considerable damage to the engine of the other. Nobody was hurt.

The genuine Carolina cigars are kept at the Post Office building.

A SINKING switch on the railroad near Fittion threw off the track a train of empty coal cars on Friday. Daniel Pace, the engineer, was fastened to the earth with the boiler upon him and horribly scalded. He was extricated, still living but hopelessly hurt, by digging the ground under him.

A SWINE book of keeping hares in warm water is to be set over a dish containing a large flower pot or glazed earthenware crock, inverted. Wrap a wet cloth around the covering vessel, and place the whole where there is a draft of air.

PLANTATION cigars at the Post Office building.

CHARLES ROCKEFELLER, we see in the Daily, has a hen who is rearing a brood of young chickens and four motherless kittens. Charles says they live happily together.

GENTLEMEN who go abroad on fishing expeditions, and who are fond of their stomachs are sometimes materially interfered with.

STRAWBERRIES are usually abundant this year, but those who raise them still manage to keep them at a high price. Those raised in this vicinity are very fine, and sell at prices ranging from 15 to 20 cts. per box. As a number of our farmers are raising them, they will, we presume, come down to city prices in a year or two.

We are glad to notice that Col. A. Caldwell is not yet inclined to retrograde in the interest of the military in this State. Having served with great distinction during the rebellion, and since been a moving spirit of the military organization of the State, he is looked upon in the central part of the State as being the only man who is not only a military man, but a patriot. We find that the regiment of which he has command is about to be re-uniformed, in which the Colonel and the Shamokin Guards are the principal movers. The whole regiment is to be uniformed alike, and the uniform adopted is one of the very finest we have ever seen. The regiment consists of eleven companies, and when equipped in their new uniform, will, no doubt, be the handsomest looking in the State. Their uniforms will be procured from that well known mammoth military clothing house of Messrs. H. A. Schwartz, No. 1108 Market St., Philadelphia.

A CLOSING order and gentleman of intelligence as to that the fishing has been over for all parties who threaten the extermination of that pest. Our friends have a patch of potatoes which he carefully cultivated, killing off the bugs as much as possible, but was unable to prevent them from depositing their eggs. His crop, however, grew large and fine, and with unusually long leaves (like little berries with their grandfathers' overcoat) on settled upon the leaves, and deliberately proceeded to go for the larvae. In a short time thereafter, not a bug nor the egg of one could be seen in the patch. He thinks that this "fish brigade" has been providentially sent to destroy the pest and save the crop. And we hope his hopes are not hopeless.—Leitinger Chronicle.

PEACHES.—Notwithstanding the doleful accounts of the failure of the peach crop a few months since, a careful investigation by the railroad transporters, proves that the crop in Delaware and Maryland are larger than ever known before. The heavy crop of 1874 was about three million bushels, and the present crop is estimated by the railroad officials at over six millions of bushels.

It is impossible to do a family decently, respectfully and intelligently, without a regular supply of newspapers in the house, and in a newspaper a man gets more for his money than in almost any other investment. The man who stops his newspaper to economize is like the man who stops here to save his shoes, and his intelligence will tell him that the year will fare as badly as his unshod foot.

A GAME of base ball was played on Saturday between the Leaning Club and the Comet. The following is the score for this year: Unopposed—1 1 1 0 2 3 0—20 Comet—1 1 1 2 2 3 0—15.

HOW R. M. HENNINGSON, Charles J. Bruner and W. M. Maloney, Esq., commissioners to select a site for the new United States court house and post-office in Harrisburg, advertise for proposals for the sale of a sufficient quantity of land for that purpose—not less than 200 by 125 feet. Proposals are to be received until noon of Saturday, July 10.

A FRIEND at our elbow says "that the delightful weather has brought out our coats for sale as well as hats, and is well worth a visit to our class as had to get rid of the other; and to say which is the most troublesome would puzzle the greatest philosopher.

BLOW into the muzzle of a loaded gun, for therein lurks destruction. Scott Gellis, of Baldwin, Indiana county, tried it, and nobody is Gellis of him on account of his success. Most people prefer to have a hand with a top therein.

REUNION.—On Monday afternoon the horse attached to C. S. Seasholtz's wagon, while standing on Market street, became frightened at a crowd of people, and ran down the street, bringing from the depot, and broke the hitching strap and the shaft of the wagon at the same time. The frightened animal then ran up Fourth street and in turning a corner fell and was captured. The horse was considerably cut about the head and otherwise.—Daily.

A LITTLE eight-year-old son of Mr. Barrett, of Bloomsburg, was drowned in Fishing creek, just below town, on Thursday last. The little fellow was fishing with a number of boys, and we are informed was wrestling with one of them and a wave of water washed into the water and drowned him. He was a fine boy, and was a great favorite.—Advertiser.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.—The little dog, named Oso, presented by the Good Will Fire Company, of Allentown, to Fire Company No. 1, of Sunbury, while on their visit to that place last week, was shot to death, on Thursday morning last, by the street sprinkler.

The skin of the little dog has been stuffed at the expense of the company, and thus his memory will be preserved by the boys.

WEDNESDAY and Thursday were the warmest days of the season. The street sprinkler and the ice cream saloons were kept busy.

PERSONAL.—Mr. John Weaver, of Sunbury, is spending a few days in town, with his daughter, and among other things, he celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday yesterday, and is in the enjoyment of good health—a well preserved old gentleman. He is well known in Lykens Valley, having lived and kept a public house in Berksburg years ago. It is interesting to make a visit upon his relatives in this section. We hope he may be spared yet many years.—Lykens Reporter.

MR. G. C. WRIGHT, of this place, having secured a position in Sunbury at his trade, took leave of his friends here on Monday last. He was the center of a social circle without fear of being molested. The city was beautifully decorated everywhere; bunting was spread to the breeze, and every house displayed miniature emblems of our nation to bid our boys welcome. On the occasion of their arrival at the Lebanon Valley depot, they were met by Hope Fire company, which was formed into line, and proceeded by Carl Kirschner's Silver Cornet Band, marched to the "Hope" house to await the hour of the moving of the procession. The "Hope" company followed, having in charge the long carriage, "Gladstone" of the No. 1, headed by Dr. Harrisburg band.

At two o'clock the parade was formed, and was marshaled as follows: Wallace DeWitt, Chief Marshal, Hope Fire company; John Weaver, Friendship company; John Koser, Citizen company; John Koser, Washington company; H. A. Trostle, Mount Vernon company; Samuel Fickinger, Paxton company; J. N. Blinn, Good Will company.

The procession took up its line of march, and traversed the route agreed upon, taking in all the principal streets in the following order: Main and side; Middletown band (14 members); Friendship fire company (36 members); Hope carriage, engine drawn by four horses; Citizen band (28 members); Washington fire company (32 members); Paxton fire company (18 men); Mount Vernon fire company (18 men); Good Will fire company (18 men); Paxton fire company (18 men); Hope carriage, engine drawn by four horses; Paxton fire company (18 men); Washington fire company (32 members); Paxton fire company (18 men); Mount Vernon fire company (18 men); Good Will fire company (18 men); Paxton fire company (18 men).

The band of a thousand lay white on the plain, but the whoops of war they're not to mingle again.

Roll on Susquehanna, as proud art thou yet, As when thy young eyes thy glory first met, As when thy light heart o'er thy surface no bite, A later'd round thy green isles my light bark canoe.

Farwell ere the rays that now silver thy breast, Point up the flag paraded hills of the West; In sunny fields shall wander in spirits subdued, Through the dark pathless depths of that pine solitude.

There yet is a land to the wild hunter deer, And there the lone child of the forest will grow, And hunt by the broad leas the brown buffalo.

Arthur T. Lee, of the town of Jones, Pa. (well known in keeper of the town of Northumberland) was the son of the late Milton Adams, of Jones, Pa. In October, 1855, returned to the United States army, as a Second Lieutenant, and served in 1858 and '59 in what was called "The Parade War" on the Canadian frontier—in 1840 in the removal of the Winnebago Indians from Wisconsin to regions West of the Mississippi river—in our war with the Florida Indians from August, 1840, to the close of same in 1842—also afterwards under Gen. Zachary Taylor, in all matters pertaining to the organization. We find that the regiment of which he has command is about to be re-uniformed, in which the Colonel and the Shamokin Guards are the principal movers. The whole regiment is to be uniformed alike, and the uniform adopted is one of the very finest we have ever seen. The regiment consists of eleven companies, and when equipped in their new uniform, will, no doubt, be the handsomest looking in the State. Their uniforms will be procured from that well known mammoth military clothing house of Messrs. H. A. Schwartz, No. 1108 Market St., Philadelphia.

A CLOSING order and gentleman of intelligence as to that the fishing has been over for all parties who threaten the extermination of that pest. Our friends have a patch of potatoes which he carefully cultivated, killing off the bugs as much as possible, but was unable to prevent them from depositing their eggs. His crop, however, grew large and fine, and with unusually long leaves (like little berries with their grandfathers' overcoat) on settled upon the leaves, and deliberately proceeded to go for the larvae. In a short time thereafter, not a bug nor the egg of one could be seen in the patch. He thinks that this "fish brigade" has been providentially sent to destroy the pest and save the crop. And we hope his hopes are not hopeless.—Leitinger Chronicle.

PEACHES.—Notwithstanding the doleful accounts of the failure of the peach crop a few months since, a careful investigation by the railroad transporters, proves that the crop in Delaware and Maryland are larger than ever known before. The heavy crop of 1874 was about three million bushels, and the present crop is estimated by the railroad officials at over six millions of bushels.

It is impossible to do a family decently, respectfully and intelligently, without a regular supply of newspapers in the house, and in a newspaper a man gets more for his money than in almost any other investment. The man who stops his newspaper to economize is like the man who stops here to save his shoes, and his intelligence will tell him that the year will fare as badly as his unshod foot.

A GAME of base ball was played on Saturday between the Leaning Club and the Comet. The following is the score for this year: Unopposed—1 1 1 0 2 3 0—20 Comet—1 1 1 2 2 3 0—15.

HOW R. M. HENNINGSON, Charles J. Bruner and W. M. Maloney, Esq., commissioners to select a site for the new United States court house and post-office in Harrisburg, advertise for proposals for the sale of a sufficient quantity of land for that purpose—not less than 200 by 125 feet. Proposals are to be received until noon of Saturday, July 10.

A FRIEND at our elbow says "that the delightful weather has brought out our coats for sale as well as hats, and is well worth a visit to our class as had to get rid of the other; and to say which is the most troublesome would puzzle the greatest philosopher.

BLOW into the muzzle of a loaded gun, for therein lurks destruction. Scott Gellis, of Baldwin, Indiana county, tried it, and nobody is Gellis of him on account of his success. Most people prefer to have a hand with a top therein.

REUNION.—On Monday afternoon the horse attached to C. S. Seasholtz's wagon, while standing on Market street, became frightened at a crowd of people, and ran down the street, bringing from the depot, and broke the hitching strap and the shaft of the wagon at the same time. The frightened animal then ran up Fourth street and in turning a corner fell and was captured. The horse was considerably cut about the head and otherwise.—Daily.

A LITTLE eight-year-old son of Mr. Barrett, of Bloomsburg, was drowned in Fishing creek, just below town, on Thursday last. The little fellow was fishing with a number of boys, and we are informed was wrestling with one of them and a wave of water washed into the water and drowned him. He was a fine boy, and was a great favorite.—Advertiser.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.—The little dog, named Oso, presented by the Good Will Fire Company, of Allentown, to Fire Company No. 1, of Sunbury, while on their visit to that place last week, was shot to death, on Thursday morning last, by the street sprinkler.

The skin of the little dog has been stuffed at the expense of the company, and thus his memory will be preserved by the boys.

WEDNESDAY and Thursday were the warmest days of the season. The street sprinkler and the ice cream saloons were kept busy.

PERSONAL.—Mr. John Weaver, of Sunbury, is spending a few days in town, with his daughter, and among other things, he celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday yesterday, and is in the enjoyment of good health—a well preserved old gentleman. He is well known in Lykens Valley, having lived and kept a public house in Berksburg years ago. It is interesting to make a visit upon his relatives in this section. We hope he may be spared yet many years.—Lykens Reporter.

MR. G. C. WRIGHT, of this place, having secured a position in Sunbury at his trade, took leave of his friends here on Monday last. He was the center of a social circle without fear of being molested. The city was beautifully decorated everywhere; bunting was spread to the breeze, and every house displayed miniature emblems of our nation to bid our boys welcome. On the occasion of their arrival at the Lebanon Valley depot, they were met by Hope Fire company, which was formed into line, and proceeded by Carl Kirschner's Silver Cornet Band, marched to the "Hope" house to await the hour of the moving of the procession. The "Hope" company followed, having in charge the long carriage, "Gladstone" of the No. 1, headed by Dr. Harrisburg band.

At two o'clock the parade was formed, and was marshaled as follows: Wallace DeWitt, Chief Marshal, Hope Fire company; John Weaver, Friendship company; John Koser, Citizen company; John Koser, Washington company; H. A. Trostle, Mount Vernon company; Samuel Fickinger, Paxton company; J. N. Blinn, Good Will company.

The procession took up its line of march, and traversed the route agreed upon, taking in all the principal streets in the following order: Main and side; Middletown band (14 members); Friendship fire company (36 members); Hope carriage, engine drawn by four horses; Citizen band (28 members); Washington fire company (32 members); Paxton fire company (18 men); Mount Vernon fire company (18 men); Good Will fire company (18 men); Paxton fire company (18 men); Washington fire company (32 members); Paxton fire company (18 men); Mount Vernon fire company (18 men); Good Will fire company (18 men); Paxton fire company (18 men).

The band of a thousand lay white on the plain, but the whoops of war they're not to mingle again.

Roll on Susquehanna, as proud art thou yet, As when thy young eyes thy glory first met, As when thy light heart o'er thy surface no bite, A later'd round thy green isles my light bark canoe.

Farwell ere the rays that now silver thy breast, Point up the flag paraded hills of the West; In sunny fields shall wander in spirits subdued, Through the dark pathless depths of that pine solitude.

There yet is a land to the wild hunter deer, And there the lone child of the forest will grow, And hunt by the broad leas the brown buffalo.

Arthur T. Lee, of the town of Jones, Pa. (well known in keeper of the town of Northumberland) was the son of the late Milton Adams, of Jones, Pa. In October, 1855, returned to the United States army, as a Second Lieutenant, and served in 1858 and '59 in what was called "The Parade War" on the Canadian frontier—in 1840 in the removal of the Winnebago Indians from Wisconsin to regions West of the Mississippi river—in our war with the Florida Indians from August, 1840, to the close of same in 1842—also afterwards under Gen. Zachary Taylor, in all matters pertaining to the organization. We find that the regiment of which he has command is about to be re-uniformed, in which the Colonel and the Shamokin Guards are the principal movers. The whole regiment is to be uniformed alike, and the uniform adopted is one of the very finest we have ever seen. The regiment consists of eleven companies, and when equipped in their new uniform, will, no doubt, be the handsomest looking in the State. Their uniforms will be procured from that well known mammoth military clothing house of Messrs. H. A. Schwartz, No. 1108 Market St., Philadelphia.

A CLOSING order and gentleman of intelligence as to that the fishing has been over for all parties who threaten the extermination of that pest. Our friends have a patch of potatoes which he carefully cultivated, killing off the bugs as much as possible, but was unable to prevent them from depositing their eggs. His crop, however, grew large and fine, and with unusually long leaves (like little berries with their grandfathers' overcoat) on settled upon the leaves, and deliberately proceeded to go for the larvae. In a short time thereafter, not a bug nor the egg of one could be seen in the patch. He thinks that this "fish brigade" has been providentially sent to destroy the pest and save the crop. And we hope his hopes are not hopeless.—Leitinger Chronicle.

PEACHES.—Notwithstanding the doleful accounts of the failure of the peach crop a few months since, a careful investigation by the railroad transporters, proves that the crop in Delaware and Maryland are larger than ever known before. The heavy crop of 1874 was about three million bushels, and the present crop is estimated by the railroad officials at over six millions of bushels.

It is impossible to do a family decently, respectfully and intelligently, without a regular supply of newspapers in the house, and in a newspaper a man gets more for his money than in almost any other investment. The man who stops his newspaper to economize is like the man who stops here to save his shoes, and his intelligence will tell him that the year will fare as badly as his unshod foot.

A GAME of base ball was played on Saturday between the Leaning Club and the Comet. The following is the score for this year: Unopposed—1 1 1 0 2 3 0—20 Comet—1 1 1 2 2 3 0—15.

HOW R. M. HENNINGSON, Charles J. Bruner and W. M. Maloney, Esq., commissioners to select a site for the new United States court house and post-office in Harrisburg, advertise for proposals for the sale of a sufficient quantity of land for that purpose—not less than 200 by 125 feet. Proposals are to be received until noon of Saturday, July 10.

A FRIEND at our elbow says "that the delightful weather has brought out our coats for sale as well as hats, and is well worth a visit to our class as had to get rid of the other; and to say which is the most troublesome would puzzle the greatest philosopher.

BLOW into the muzzle of a loaded gun, for therein lurks destruction. Scott Gellis, of Baldwin, Indiana county, tried it, and nobody is Gellis of him on account of his success. Most people prefer to have a hand with a top therein.

REUNION.—On Monday afternoon the horse attached to C. S. Seasholtz's wagon, while standing on Market street, became frightened at a crowd of people, and ran down the street, bringing from the depot, and broke the hitching strap and the shaft of the wagon at the same time. The frightened animal then ran up Fourth street and in turning a corner fell and was captured. The horse was considerably cut about the head and otherwise.—Daily.

A LITTLE eight-year-old son of Mr. Barrett, of Bloomsburg, was drowned in Fishing creek, just below town, on Thursday last. The little fellow was fishing with a number of boys, and we are informed was wrestling with one of them and a wave of water washed into the water and drowned him. He was a fine boy, and was a great favorite.—Advertiser.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.—The little dog, named Oso, presented by the Good Will Fire Company, of Allentown, to Fire Company No. 1, of Sunbury, while on their visit to that place last week, was shot to death, on Thursday morning last, by the street sprinkler.

The skin of the little dog has been stuffed at the expense of the company, and thus his memory will be preserved by the boys.

WEDNESDAY and Thursday were the warmest days of the season. The street sprinkler and the ice cream saloons were kept busy.

PERSONAL.—Mr. John Weaver, of Sunbury, is spending a few days in town, with his daughter, and among other things, he celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday yesterday, and is in the enjoyment of good health—a well preserved old gentleman. He is well known in Lykens Valley, having lived and kept a public house in Berksburg years ago. It is interesting to make a visit upon his relatives in this section. We hope he may be spared yet many years.—Lykens Reporter.

MR. G. C. WRIGHT, of this place, having secured a position in Sunbury at his trade, took leave of his friends here on Monday last. He was the center of a social circle without fear of being molested. The city was beautifully decorated everywhere; bunting was spread to the breeze, and every house displayed miniature emblems of our nation to bid our boys welcome. On the occasion of their arrival at the Lebanon Valley depot, they were met by Hope Fire company, which was formed into line, and proceeded by Carl Kirschner's Silver Cornet Band, marched to the "Hope" house to await the hour of the moving of the procession. The "Hope" company followed, having in charge the long carriage, "Gladstone" of the No. 1, headed by Dr. Harrisburg band.

At two o'clock the parade was formed, and was marshaled as follows: Wallace DeWitt, Chief Marshal, Hope Fire company; John Weaver, Friendship company; John Koser, Citizen company; John Koser, Washington company; H. A. Trostle, Mount Vernon company; Samuel Fickinger, Paxton company; J. N. Blinn, Good Will company.

The procession took up its line of march, and traversed the route agreed upon, taking in all the principal streets in the following order: Main and side; Middletown band (14 members); Friendship fire company (36 members); Hope carriage, engine drawn by four horses; Citizen band (28 members); Washington fire company (32 members); Paxton fire company (18 men); Mount Vernon fire company (18 men); Good Will fire company (18 men); Paxton fire company (18 men); Washington fire company (32 members); Paxton fire company (18 men); Mount Vernon fire company (18 men); Good Will fire company (18 men); Paxton fire company (18 men).

The band of a thousand lay white on the plain, but the whoops of war they're not to mingle again.

Roll on Susquehanna, as proud art thou yet, As when thy young eyes thy glory first met, As when thy light heart o'er thy surface no bite, A later'd round thy green isles my light bark canoe.

Farwell ere the rays that now silver thy breast, Point up the flag paraded hills of the West; In sunny fields shall wander in spirits subdued, Through the dark pathless depths of that pine solitude.

There yet is a land to the wild hunter deer, And there the lone child of the forest will grow, And hunt by the broad leas the brown buffalo.

Arthur T. Lee, of the town of Jones, Pa. (well known in keeper of the town of Northumberland) was the son of the late Milton Adams, of Jones, Pa. In October, 1855, returned to the United States army, as a Second Lieutenant, and served in 1858 and '59 in what was called "The Parade War" on the Canadian frontier—in 1840 in the removal of the Winnebago Indians from Wisconsin to regions West of the Mississippi river—in our war with the Florida Indians from August, 1840, to the close of same in 1842—also afterwards under Gen. Zachary Taylor, in all matters pertaining to the organization. We find that the regiment of which he has command is about to be re-uniformed, in which the Colonel and the Shamokin Guards are the principal movers. The whole regiment is to be uniformed alike, and the uniform adopted is one of the very finest we have ever seen. The regiment consists of eleven companies, and when equipped in their new uniform, will, no doubt, be the handsomest looking in the State. Their uniforms will be procured from that well known mammoth military clothing house of Messrs. H. A. Schwartz, No. 1108 Market St., Philadelphia.

A CLOSING order and gentleman of intelligence as to that the fishing has been over for all parties who threaten the extermination of that pest. Our friends have a patch of potatoes which he carefully cultivated, killing off the bugs as much as possible, but was unable to prevent them from depositing their eggs. His crop, however, grew large and fine, and with unusually long leaves (like little berries with their grandfathers' overcoat) on settled upon the leaves, and deliberately proceeded to go for the larvae. In a short time thereafter, not a bug nor the egg of one could be seen in the patch. He thinks that this "fish brigade" has been providentially sent to destroy the pest and save the crop. And we hope his hopes are not hopeless.—Leitinger Chronicle.

PEACHES.—Notwithstanding the doleful accounts of the failure of the peach crop a few months since, a careful investigation by the railroad transporters, proves that the crop in Delaware and Maryland are larger than ever known before. The heavy crop of 1874 was about three million bushels, and the present crop is estimated by the railroad officials at over six millions of bushels.

It is impossible to do a family decently, respectfully and intelligently, without a regular supply of newspapers in the house, and in a newspaper a man gets more for his money than in almost any other investment. The man who stops his newspaper to economize is like the man who stops here to save his shoes, and his intelligence will tell him that the year will fare as badly as his unshod foot.

A GAME of base ball was played on Saturday between the Leaning Club and the Comet. The following is the score for this year: Unopposed—1 1 1 0 2 3 0—20 Comet—1 1 1 2 2 3 0—15.

HOW R. M. HENNINGSON, Charles J. Bruner and W. M. Maloney, Esq., commissioners to select a site for the new United States court house and post-office in Harrisburg, advertise for proposals for the sale of a sufficient quantity of land for that purpose—not less than 200 by 125 feet. Proposals are to be received until noon of Saturday, July 10.

A FRIEND at our elbow says "that the delightful weather has brought out our coats for sale as well as hats, and is well worth a visit to our class as had to get rid of the other; and to say which is the most troublesome would puzzle the greatest philosopher.

BLOW into the muzzle of a loaded gun, for therein lurks destruction. Scott Gellis, of Baldwin, Indiana county, tried it, and nobody is Gellis of him on account of his success. Most people prefer to have a hand with a top therein.

REUNION.—On Monday afternoon the horse attached to C. S. Seasholtz's wagon, while standing on Market street, became frightened at a crowd of people, and ran down the street, bringing from the depot, and broke the hitching strap and the shaft of the wagon at the same time. The frightened animal then ran up Fourth street and in turning a corner fell and was captured. The horse was considerably cut about the head and otherwise.—Daily.

A LITTLE eight-year-old son of Mr. Barrett, of Bloomsburg, was drowned in Fishing creek, just below town, on Thursday last. The little fellow was fishing with a number of boys, and we are informed was wrestling with one of them and a wave of water washed into the water and drowned him. He was a fine boy, and was a great favorite.—Advertiser.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.—The little dog, named Oso, presented by the Good Will Fire Company, of Allentown, to Fire Company No. 1, of Sunbury, while on their visit to that place last week, was