

MEETING OF CONGRESS.

The first session of the Forty-fourth Congress will begin on Monday next. It is probable that the House of Representatives will organize at once if the Democracy can agree on the election of a Speaker.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The uneasiness of the Democratic papers about the school question, their apparent anxiety to belittle it, and their constant reference to it, either in depreciation of its importance, or to show that there is really no damage impending in connection with it, all indicate the consciousness that it is the coming question in politics.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The Catholic bishops, such, for instance, as Bishop McQuade, of Rochester, and Bishop Gilmore, of Cleveland, are much more moderate in their tone on this question since the election than they were before, but they still maintain their position of demanding either a proportion share of the school money direct, or the maintenance of Catholic schools out of the common school fund.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The uneasiness of the Democratic papers about the school question, their apparent anxiety to belittle it, and their constant reference to it, either in depreciation of its importance, or to show that there is really no damage impending in connection with it, all indicate the consciousness that it is the coming question in politics.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The Catholic bishops, such, for instance, as Bishop McQuade, of Rochester, and Bishop Gilmore, of Cleveland, are much more moderate in their tone on this question since the election than they were before, but they still maintain their position of demanding either a proportion share of the school money direct, or the maintenance of Catholic schools out of the common school fund.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The uneasiness of the Democratic papers about the school question, their apparent anxiety to belittle it, and their constant reference to it, either in depreciation of its importance, or to show that there is really no damage impending in connection with it, all indicate the consciousness that it is the coming question in politics.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The Catholic bishops, such, for instance, as Bishop McQuade, of Rochester, and Bishop Gilmore, of Cleveland, are much more moderate in their tone on this question since the election than they were before, but they still maintain their position of demanding either a proportion share of the school money direct, or the maintenance of Catholic schools out of the common school fund.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The uneasiness of the Democratic papers about the school question, their apparent anxiety to belittle it, and their constant reference to it, either in depreciation of its importance, or to show that there is really no damage impending in connection with it, all indicate the consciousness that it is the coming question in politics.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The Catholic bishops, such, for instance, as Bishop McQuade, of Rochester, and Bishop Gilmore, of Cleveland, are much more moderate in their tone on this question since the election than they were before, but they still maintain their position of demanding either a proportion share of the school money direct, or the maintenance of Catholic schools out of the common school fund.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The uneasiness of the Democratic papers about the school question, their apparent anxiety to belittle it, and their constant reference to it, either in depreciation of its importance, or to show that there is really no damage impending in connection with it, all indicate the consciousness that it is the coming question in politics.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The Catholic bishops, such, for instance, as Bishop McQuade, of Rochester, and Bishop Gilmore, of Cleveland, are much more moderate in their tone on this question since the election than they were before, but they still maintain their position of demanding either a proportion share of the school money direct, or the maintenance of Catholic schools out of the common school fund.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The uneasiness of the Democratic papers about the school question, their apparent anxiety to belittle it, and their constant reference to it, either in depreciation of its importance, or to show that there is really no damage impending in connection with it, all indicate the consciousness that it is the coming question in politics.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The Catholic bishops, such, for instance, as Bishop McQuade, of Rochester, and Bishop Gilmore, of Cleveland, are much more moderate in their tone on this question since the election than they were before, but they still maintain their position of demanding either a proportion share of the school money direct, or the maintenance of Catholic schools out of the common school fund.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Whether, therefore, they fall back upon a demand for their proportionate share of the school fund, with which to carry on schools under their exclusive control, or whether they claim separate Catholic schools to be maintained out of the common fund, derived from taxation, we are contented with the necessity of deciding.

This will Notify the Public of our intention to put new and lower prices on much of our Stock.

The year's closing out sale will commence at half-past six o'clock, each week-day morning, and CONTINUE UNTIL OUR FALL AND WINTER STOCK IS SOLD.

THE MAIN FACT IS: We have made up too many overcoats and suits for this year, and to transfer our Stock into Cash needed for preparation for 1876, we will make certain sacrifices, which will be apparent on and after WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER FIRST, when we shall have gone through our Showrooms and cut off Profits, and even a part of the cost, from many of our present prices.

To be very exact in stating this matter, as we do not intend that any advertisement or custom of our house shall mislead the public in the least particular, we think it proper to say, that this Mark Down, whilst it applies to and extends throughout our house, yet there are some lots in which (as they have already been marked at close prices,) we shall make no change.

A THOUSAND AND MORE OVERCOATS, A THOUSAND AND MORE BUSINESS COATS, SEVERAL OF DRESS COATS, HUNDREDS OF VESTS, SEVERAL THOUSAND PAIRS OF PANTS,

We desire to announce that this is OUR FINAL AND ONLY MARK DOWN THIS SEASON, So that none need wait for lower prices. The step we take will wonderfully aid those who feel like economizing.

THE TERMS OF THE SALE ARE THE USUAL TERMS OF OUR HOUSE: 1.—No second or altered Price.—One Fixed Price. 2.—Cash from All, to warrant Low Prices. 3.—The contract on our part, to return money, is a part of the bargain in each case (provided goods are returned unworn). 4.—A full Guarantee for each garment.

The Stock we offer is all new, and is not "bought" or "wholesale" stock, but our own Carefully Made Clothing.

It will be remembered that our stock always embraces the choicest styles of substantial goods, and that every size and shape is provided for both Men and Boys. It will also be borne in mind that there is but one OAK HALL, and that is at the corner of

SIXTH--SIXTH--SIXTH--SIXTH--SIXTH and MARKET Streets.

Hoping for a visit from each reader, and that our friends will pass this announcements to all their friends in the country. We are Very Truly,

WANAMAKER & BROWN, Philadelphia.

FRESH ARRIVAL

OF FALL AND WINTER CLOTHING, HATS, CAPS & GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

Has just returned from the eastern city with the largest stock of Clothing, Hats, Caps and Gents' Furnishing Goods ever brought to this place, and at the lowest hard-time prices.

Clothing of every Description. Overcoats in endless variety, from the cheapest in prices to the very best make in styles and quality.

MENS' SUITS. Of every styles and quality to suit the times, and at such low prices that every body can afford to go well clothed with very little money.

CLOTHING FOR MEN YOUTH BOYS AND CHILDREN. Now is the time to buy, when you can get just what you want with a very little money. Hats and Caps of every description, all of which is of the latest styles and at prices that can not be undersold.

Gents' Furnishing Goods. Under Clothing in abundance of every quality, styles and price.

SHIRTS! SHIRTS! SHIRTS! From the finest white shirt made to the cheapest. Woolen Shirts of all kinds and prices

Gloves of all Description. Kid, Buckskin, Driving, Sheepskin, Woolen and Mittens of all kinds and prices to suit all. Socks, Suspenders, Collars, Neckties, Bows, Jewelry, &c., &c., and anything to be found in a first-class furnishing good store. A specialty in Clothing, Hats, Caps and Gents' Furnishing Goods, all of which we defy competition both in quality and in price. No trouble to show goods.

ISAAC FURMAN, 94 Market St., SUNBURY, PA.

Sunbury, Nov. 5, 1875.

When you visit Philadelphia, call and see SAM. HEILNER, WITH IVINS & BROTHER, Nos. 64, 66 & 68 N. Second St., PHILADELPHIA.

Who Sells SOLD WALNUT MARBLE TOP CHAMBER SUITS FOR $55. Parlor Suits in Hair Cloth or Fancy Reps from $50 up.

Parlor Suits in Plush from $90 up. Walnut Dressing Case Suits, $68.00.

BEST WIRE WOVE SPRING MATTRESS. ALL OTHER GOODS EQUALLY LOW.

Feathers in Pillows or by the Pound. In Large Quantities and of the Finest Quality. GIVE HIM A CALL!

Sept. 17, 1875.—1y.

Correspondence.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

THE DEATH OF VICE-PRESIDENT WILSON.

Correspondence.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

THE DEATH OF VICE-PRESIDENT WILSON.

Correspondence.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

THE DEATH OF VICE-PRESIDENT WILSON.

Correspondence.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

THE DEATH OF VICE-PRESIDENT WILSON.

Correspondence.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

THE DEATH OF VICE-PRESIDENT WILSON.