ception and the room has been used ever since as a sort of reception hall for the Mayors of the city and for the Governor of Pennsylvania and the President of the United States. Upon the consolidation of the city in 1854, Councils took possession of the upper part of the edifice and had chambers for their meetings fitted up. As is well known, Independence Hall is now being arranged as nearly as it was in 1776 as possible, and around the walls will be placed portraits of all the signers of the Declaration of Independence .- Philadelphia Press.
