It will citre all diseases caused by Derangement of the Liver. The Symptoms of Liver Compleant are a bitter or bad taste in the mosth; Pain in the Back, Sides or Joints, often mistaken for Rheumatism; Sour Stomach; Loss of Appetite: Bowels alterantely costive and lax; Headache: Loss of Memory, with a painful sensation of having failed to do some-thing which ought to have been done; Debility, Low Spirits, a thick yellow appearance of the Skin and eyes, a dry Cough often mistaken for Con-sumption. Sometimes many of these symptoms attend the disease, at others very few; but the Liver, the largest organ in the body, is generally the seat of the disease, and if not regulated in time, great auffering, wretchedness and DEATH will ensue. Though they have no rumbling sound: Silently they bear us onward, Soon our journey will be o'er-Soon the friends with whom we mingle We shall see and hear no more : Soon our feet shall press the meadows Of the vast eternal shore. Flying months and years remind us Of the world we're passing to:

TIME IS PASSING.

Time is rushing in his chariet ;

Rapidly his wheels go round;

Lot us leave good deads behind us. In the world we're passing through, Which shall be the seed of kindness Watered by celestial dew, And shall bear good fruit for others Fruits of joy and peace and love.

Years long after we are singlog In the immortal land above. Men are born and men are dying: Thousands come, not one can stay; Time is swift, his wheels are flying,

Never ceasing, night or day, For the laughter, nor the erying, Of the stricken or the gay: Gushing down the God defying-They who laugh at Death's delay-And from sorrow, sin and sighing. Bearing gentle souls away.

Plans and schemes of men and nations, Hearts and homes and homestead tree, Granite walls and Art's creations. All the eye delights to see. All the ear delights in hearing. Crumble, tumble, fall and fade;

Oh! we need a world more cheering, Free from graves and cypress shade; Thanks to God ! that world we're nearing In eternal supphires laid.

STONE'S LOVE AFFAIR.

It was agreed on all hands that Ned Stone was a very practicle fellow. He was a broker in the city He had been very poor at one time in his life, and had to work very hard. Death The Dread of Dying.

The Kansas Magazine for September opens with a readable article upon the subject of death, and the dread of dying. In it the writer shows that death, with all its terrors, is not so much dreaded as men suppose. All the known evidence upon the subject goes to show that at the least it is but a painless sleep. At 20, says the writer, we talk sentimentally about it, or jestingly, or defiantly. At 40 we are of a more serious mood ; we carry a grave or two in our hearts, and scarce care to stroll for choice in graveyards.

A word to Wives.

Our arguments upon the subject life insurance have thus far been a most wholly directed to men. We have appealed to their consciences to do justice to those who are dependent upon them. We have shown as clearly as lay within our power their whole duty to those to whom God has placed them in the relationship of husband or father. We now wish to say a word to wives. We wish to impress upon their minds the fact that they have some rights that their husbands are bound to respect. They have a clear right to demand that a certain portion of their hus-By reason of that justice to which the humblest is entitled, they have the right to know that some provision is made for the maintenance this respect should be execrated.
