

We read so much in our own papers about disunity, public and private, that we are apt to conclude that in no country in the world are the morals of the people so low as they are here.

When a live is in an isolated place it needs a cover to turn the rain and snow, and boards, rails and brush placed on every side to absorb the force of the sun and to break the force of a cold wind.

By a large portion of our agricultural readers this question will be answered in the negative. And yet the answer would not be correct.

The Ranger (Mr) Why says that a recent visitor to the French settlement in North-eastern Maine visited a woman ninety seven years old and called her a "spinster."

A remarkable old horse called Charlie, the property of Mr. Dexter E. Wadleigh, of Boston, died recently at the age of twenty-five.

Many successful apianists contend that there is no better way to winter honey bees than to allow the hive to remain isolated in the yard.

Don't forget to take off your hat when you enter the house. Gentlemen never keep their hats on in the house.
