

THE MISSISSIPPI OVERFLOW.

Interesting Details of the Great Flood.

The New Orleans Times of Thursday has some facts regarding the crevasses along the line of the Mississippi in addition to the telegraphic advices...

We Ought to Pray.

In his Friday evening lecture-room talk, Mr. Morganza said: "I can call to mind one who has been for you a considerable time connected with your Plymouth Society by the mode in which he addresses the Deity in prayer..."

Gen. Thomson reports another crevasse at Lake Side plantation, Pointe Coupee Parish. He states that about twenty sugar plantations have been covered by water from Hickory's, and that hundreds of poor families living on the bayou have been drowned out...

Extraordinary Recovery.

A strange case of recovery from extraordinary wounds is that of Frank Kohler of Bunch's Bend, La., son of Mr. John L. Kohler, of St. Louis, who the Republican of the latter place thus describes: "On the 5th of February last Mr. Kohler, who is but a youth, was assaulted with a knife by G. W. Woodson, and almost literally cut to pieces..."

The Spring Work.

The second month of spring is now upon us, and the prospect for a favorable season for farm labor may be considered fair and if the husbandman has been careful in making all the necessary preparations in his power to go ahead, when the frost is out of the ground he may be able to gain much of his time and get his crops pitched so as to secure all the advantages of the early rains...

Wheat Culture in Arkansas.

Wheat grown on the prairies of Arkansas is pronounced to be superior to that of Illinois, by a correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat. After referring to the fact that hitherto the great prairies of the west have been looked upon as worthless for agricultural purposes, he says that within two or three years experiments have been tried with wheat and corn, but nothing proved very satisfactory until last fall, when a large number of farmers in Prairie County determined to demonstrate the practicability of raising wheat on prairie land...

Emigration Westward.

The last census reveals the fact that since 1860 the westward movement has chiefly centered in the States of Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri, and that these great Western Counties are repeating the history of Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois; which States, as well as Ohio and Indiana, have ceased to be an attractive resort for foreign and domestic emigration. They also go to show that the agricultural and grazing regions are more attractive than the mining regions of the interior of the Continent. Kansas and Nebraska, Bayou Pigeon and on the shores of Grand Lake and Lake Chicot, all of which districts are now submerged, leaving some three hundred families in a state of utter destitution...
