Shade Trees for Towns.

In the Gardener's Monthly for May Mr. William Sutherland gives some directions about planting trees in the streets of towns and cities. What is most wanted, says he, is a tree easy to move, of rapid growt, not liable to injury from the effects of gas or the action of worms. The tulip poplar has bee found to be per-fectly proof against the ravages of worms. All trees suffer more or less from the effects of a gas leak near their roots, though some kinds are less injured by this cause than others. Hundreds of trees die annually from the effects of gas alone, while others NO. 12 die from want of nourishment, being planted on sidewalks that have been graded up with coal ashes and other How Washoe Undertakers set their refuse, without sufficient soil being put in to support them, they grow a A night or two since, while on his little at first and then gradually fail.
