FIRE IN CUMBERLAND VALLEY TWP.

On Thursday night last week a small fire, which was extinguished by the firemen, destroyed the property of Mr. M. M. used for stable for wintering his horses. The loss is estimated at $300. No insurance. - Bedford Inquirer.

FIRE IN SOUTH WOODBERRY TWP.

On the morning of Oct. 12th, about 4:15 o'clock fire was seen issuing from the roof of a new building at the corner of North and New Enterprises, and in a short time the entire building and contents, except the furniture, was reduced to ashes. The origin of the fire is an entire mystery. The loss is estimated at $1,500 to $2,000, on which there was an insurance policy of $800. - Bedford Inquirer.

A PRELUDE TO BROTHERS. - The members of the M. E. Church of this place made a raid on Rev. Scherck's (Pastor) residence on Wednesday morning last and found several sewing machines were unloaded before the door, and from the first break of day until the setting of the sun, the fair daughters of the church were wending their way to headquarters, each one carrying in her arms a goodly load of needlework. The pastor's family, including his young wife and a full line of provisions were included in the list of contributors. It is needless to say that the day was spent pleasantly and that everybody was pleased. - Bedford Inquirer.

A PAIR OF BOOTS WEIGHING SIX POUNDS.

Messrs Snyder & Uhl, have had several orders for boots of this description. Capt. Church on Saturday evening, November 7th, ordered a pair. A number of his friends were so delighted with the appearance of them that they immediately sent their orders. The boots were made of the best heavy leather, the soles are fully an inch thick and very broad. An Irishman who had bought a pair of boots to measure the sole of your boot to see how much would have to be added, before you could fully appreciate a boot as much as Geo. (Fish) could manage.

The Echo gives a lengthy account of a trifling accident at one of the M. Holy parishes, on Friday last, when a young girl, who was engaged in the millinery trade, in attempting to adjust the belt on a top hat, the machinery of a sewing machine revolving one hundred and thirty times per minute, his legs and arms striking the floor at each turn. He remained in this position about one minute, when the machinery was stopped and he was taken down terribly mangled. His right arm and shoulder were badly injured, and his left arm crushed. He lived for several hours after the accident.

In answer to the query. "Who are the right" writers say: "The man will not seem to be but you only have to measure the sole of your boot to see how much would have to be added, before you could fully appreciate a boot as much as Geo. (Fish) could manage." The Echo gives a lengthy account of a trifling accident at one of the M. He remained in this position about one minute, when the machinery was stopped and he was taken down terribly mangled.

A painful accident occurred to a little boy, on Friday morning, when he was driving some horses away from the apples when he was struck by a wheelbarrow which was being pushed over several inches in length in the left cheek. Another young brother of Mr. Bechley's also had his shoulder broken in a very bad manner, when some horses were loose, the boy in driving the horses away from the apples was struck by a wheelbarrow which was being pushed over several inches in length in the left cheek.

Political excitement in our town for the next three or four days has been great. The telegraph business has been more brisk than at any time for years and the Democratic press has been printing roosevelts that ever before. From the time Mr. Riley declared the nomination until he reappeared all was confusion and excitement.

Whiskey Stolen. - We learn from Col. J. A. Davidson, U. S. Gauger, that on Wednesday night last week about fifty gallons of whiskey were stolen from the Hollingshead & Unger's distillery, near the gap. The thieves accomplished their work by filling of the staple of the lock, which gave them access to the cellar and room. They then conveyed it to an old quarry about three hundred yards below the distillery, and hid it in some kegs or vessels—leaving the barrels behind as evidence of the theft. The second loss also pointed a valuable lesson, and it is a warning to all who have kegs at the distillery belonging to Mr. Hollingshead. The perpetrators are requested to come forward and be made known to the authorities.

What KISS YOU RUN FOR on November 10th was a game of the law. A correspondent calls for a short summary. In reply: No night-walk, whippersaw, sparrow, thrush, rack, mach, martin, swallow, woodpecker, flicker, robin, oriole, redpoll, junco, blue bird, or any other birds or insects or insectivorous birds be shot or killed at any time of the year under a penalty of $10.
