☞ The election to-day is progressing quietly, the Democrats working like beavers to secure the success of their ticket in this borough. As they are aided by some bolting Republicans they may achieve success, unless the Republicans who have not yet voted deposit their ballots. We have a good ticket, every member being worthy of support.

Long, dry sermons keep many people away from church.

The Washington Reporter says that farmers in that county are hiring work hands at $25 to $30 per month, where they board themselves, and from $15 to $18 per month and boarded.

A slippery question under discussion for some weeks past by the Meyersdale Lyceum is, whether it is better to be a fat man and come down heavy, or be a thin man and have nothing to break the fall.

We are glad to announce that the peaches have all been killed. It has been observed that when the peaches are all killed in January, we have excellent crops in August.

It will not be news to the gentleman concerned, but it will be to many others, to know that Hon. John Reilly, Congressman elect from this district, was married a few days ago.

A young lady walking past the Union School House last week slipped and fell. As she went down she was heard to exclaim "My stars and—" "Monograms" yelled a small boy.

Our little town of a thousand inhabitants boasts of seven groceries, five dry goods stores, three drug stores, a hardware store, a book store and a millinery establishment

A number of the young ladies held an "indignation meeting" on last Thursday, at the house of one of the fair ones. A program of resolutions, which we propose to publish next week, were passed.

Our enterprising grocers, Rhoads & Bro., have sold their grocery establishment to Wm. J. Baer Esq. We understand that the former gentlemen intend to engage in the stock business.

The snow came down like a blanket for several days of last week. The roads running east and west are nearly all in good condition, but a majority of those running north and south are nearly all filled with drifted snow.

The Supreme Court has decided that personal property located in one place and owned by parties living in another place shall be taxed in the place in which it is located, and not that in which the owner resides.

A Somerset County man, Mr. Josiah Lambert, aged thirty-two years, met with an accident the other day, by slipping off a log he was hauling to mill, by which his leg was broken, causing lock-jaw to set in, from the effects of which he died. —Johnstown Tribune.

The famous city of Pithole, Pa., has been finally cut off from the outer world by the discontinuance of service on the Pithole and Oleopolis railroad. One mail now reaches the forlorn place, and when communication is resumed it will probably be by aid of pack-horses.

John Thobe is no more. You probably did not know him. He lived in Western Missouri, and on entering the smoke house of a neighbor one night to see how the hams were getting on, a trap gun blew his head off.

We understand that the Keystone Coal Company, near Meyersdale, shipped seventy thousand and twenty-two (70,022) tons of coal from their mines during the month of January. This is probably the largest amount of coal ever shipped from this county in one month.

It is said a deacon of one of our prominent churches recently wrote to a Troy firm in regard to a heater for the church. His letter concludes thusly: "The heater furnished by you for the ——— church works bully. We want one. Give us your bottom rock prices, as we are poor but very pious."

The Internal Revenue collections in this district for the month of January 1875 amounted to thirteen thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine dollars and forty-eight cents, ($13,899.48.) From distilled spirits $8,907.864; tobacco $2,973.084; fermented liquors, $180.94; banks and bankers $1,222.52; penalties $5.

The Science of Health impresses on its readers the pernicious effects of the habit of breathing through the mouth, sneeping or working. The nostrils are the proper breathing apparatus—not the mouth. A man may inhale poisonous gasses through the mouth without being aware of it, but not through the nose.

The young lady who sent our Business Manager a piece of most delicious gingerbread and in a note accompanying the same addressed him affectionately as "My dear Mr. Scull" will please accept our hearty thanks for the same. He only regrets that there was not more of the elegant bread and that he does not know by whose hand it was made.

Our young friend Paul H. Gaither, Esq., took his departure on Thursday last for Erie, there to engage in the practice of law. Mr. Gaither is a young man of marked legal attainments, an earnest student and a courteous gentleman, whose many good traits commend him to the friendship of all with whom he is brought in contact. May prosperity be his.

We have received quite a number of letters, unaccompanied by the money, asking us to send the Herald to parties residing outside of the county and in a number of cases out of the State. Since the new postal law has gone into effect we are compelled to ask that the subscription price, $2 per year, be paid in advance. We pay the postage. No deviation whatever can be made.

Some of our exchanges are telling about valentines in which a lace or pearl handled fan is secreted beneath mottoes, and flowers, and cupids. But as for us give us the good old-fashioned kind, a sheet of note paper with

"As sure as grass grows round the stump, written on it.

The purchasers of the Somerset & Mineral Point Railroad, recently elected the following officers:

The amount of the capital stock has been fixed at $300,000.

Solid Women.—According to the Waynesburg Republican, they must have formidable females up in the "State of Greene." "There is a woman in the west end of the county who can stand in a half bushel measure and shoulder four bushels of wheat in a wool sack. She offers to bet $3 that she can throw any man in Aleppo township. Another woman in the same township tackled a 200 pound man in church a short time since, in the presence of a large congregation, because the man claimed to be a Universalist, and made him beg for mercy."

It is probable that ere long, sewing machines will be cheap enough for even the poorest families to possess one. The refusal of the House committee to extend the patent on sewing machines is a move in the right direction, and in the interest of the laboring people of the country. It will have the effect to reduce the price of sewing machines from their present exorbitant rate as low as $20. It is in evidence that the cost of the average sewing machine is but $12, and that small manufacturers are required to pay the sewing machine combination as much as $40 profit on each machine manufactured. It is also a curious fact that Wheeler & Wilson's sewing machine can be purchased in Europe and brought to this country for just one-half of the price they cost here, including all costs of duty, freight, &c., the reason being that they have no protection there, any one being allowed to make them. The enormous amount of money already made by the several companies ought to satisfy them. At all events, Congress is determined that the people have a chance.—Pittsburgh Gazette.

Yesterday morning a barn burned down at Millvale, east of Pittsburgh, and thirty-six horses in the stable attached thereto were consumed in the flames, besides fifteen tons of hay, five tons of straw, and a quantity of feed, etc., stored in the barn. This property was owned by a gentleman named Dempsey, who used the horses in doing hauling for Graff, Bennett & Co.'s Rolling mill, and it is said they were the finest draught horses in Western Pennsylvania. There were forty-five head in the stable, but the owner and his sons succeeded in rescuing nine. The building burned so rapidly that those remaining could not be saved. One of the horses consumed was the property of Mr. Graff; a Kentucky trotter valued at $5,000. The loss sustained by Mr. Dempsey alone will foot up $20,000, upon which there is an insurance of $7,500. Owing to the extreme cold the water in the pumps of the fire engine froze, and the steamer was rendered useless. It is not known how the fire originated, although it is thought to have resulted from the carelessness of one of the drivers who had been at the stable feeding and harnessing.

Look to Your Sidewalks.—Judge Gordon, the Supreme Court of this State, decided at Erie, recently, that a municipal corporation is responsible for damage to pedestrians injured in consequence of the accumulation of ice and snow on sidewalks. We look upon this as a most righteous decision. It is certainly the duty of a municipality, through its chosen officials, to protect the property and lives of its citizens to the fullest possible extent. Old fire-traps, slippery pavements, and other things that endanger life and property should receive especial attention at the hands of municipal authorities. It is but a small matter for each individual to sweep before his own door and keep his own pavement clean. And there is no telling how many accidents to life and limb you may prevent by attending to this small and simple duty. The recent decision of the tribunal in this commonwealth makes it incumbent upon the municipal power to see that this matter of keeping the sidewalks clear for pedestrians is properly attended to, if city and borough authorities do not desire to be mulcted into considerable sums of money for damages in case of accidents on account of neglected pavements. Keep your sidewalks clean!

The Old Story.—It really seems that the numerous exposures published from time to time in regard to patent right swindles fail to put our people, particularly farmers, on their guard. On the 26th of September last a chap calling himself Frank B. Gates obtained from Samuel Gantz, of Anewell township, a promissory note for $750 for certain windmill territory alleged to be held by him. Gates (who it was subsequently ascertained passed under several aliases, one being Frank Blinn) very shortly afterward had the note discounted at the Washington Savings Bank. On being notified of this, Gantz made satisfactory arrangements for payment, and at the same time became convinced that he had been made the subject of a huge swindle. He at once made efforts to overhaul Gates, and notwithstanding traces were obtained of him in the State of Ohio, and that these traces were vigorously followed up by John H. Little, of the Fulton House (who proffered assistance to Gantz,) no reliable information was obtained until Monday last, when Mr. Little received a dispatch from Waynesburg to the effect that a man answering the description was then in that place. Mr. Little at once repaired there and found his man, who was taken into custody and brought here the next day. He waived a hearing and was committed by Justice Donehoo to await trial for false pretense. The result will be awaited with interest.—Washington Review and Examiner.

Death of Joseph F. Loy.—This whole community was shocked on Saturday morning, January 29, to hear of the sudden death, at about midnight of the night previous, of Joseph F. Loy, Esq. Mr. Loy had been ailing for a few days previous, but it was not suspected that he was so near his end. He was about 50 years old, was a native of Bedford County, Pa., and was an old resident of this county. He came here in about the year 1830, and engaged in the practice of law at Depere, and afterward removed to this city. In 1857–59 he represented this district in the State Legislature. In 1861 he received a Captain's commission, organized a company of soldiers, which was incorporated into the Fourth Wisconsin Regiment as Company K., and served in the war against the rebellion. In 1863 he resigned at Baton Rouge, and returned home, where he has since practiced his profession. He was a shrewd lawyer and has had a good practice. His impulses were warm and generous and his faults were tempered by many virtues. He was a brother of the late David M. Loy, of Depere. He leaves a wife and three children to mourn his loss.

His funeral, on Sunday, was very largely attended by the members of the bar, his former companions in arms, and citizens generally.—Green Bay (Wisconsin) Advocate.

Resolutions of respect and condolence were passed by the Brown County bar, and the surviving members of Captain Loy's Company.

Captain Loy resided in Somerset for several years. He read law in the office of the late Joshua F. Cox, and was admitted to the bar. He married Miss Adeline Patton, of this town, and some twenty-four years ago made Brown County, Wisconsin, his home. Our older citizens all remember him as a man of ability, a genial, whole-souled gentleman.

Yesterday morning an accident occurred at the "New Detmold" mine of the Maryland Coal Company, two or three miles west of Lonaconing, that was more terrible in its results than any we have been called upon to chronicle for many months. Like all the mines along George's creek, the entrance to this one is far up the mountain side, and coal is loaded there and sent down an inclined railway, to the "dump house" at the railroad track, the weight of the descending cars pulling the empty ones up the "plane." As at the other mines, the miners and others are in the habit of riding up and down between the "dump house" and the mine entrance upon the cars.

Yesterday morning two men and three boys got on two of the loaded cars to ride to the foot of the incline, but before the car started two of the lads, whose names we did not learn, got off the car and decided to walk down the mountain, advising their companions to do the same. They declined to do so, however, saying that they preferred to ride, and in a few minutes the cars started on their downward journey. When a short distance from the starting point the drum at the top of the incline, over which the wire rope hauling the cars is run, broke or gave way, and the two cars with their coal and living freight dashed over the rails at lightning speed, which the terrified passengers knew must in a few moments terminate in destruction and death. With this prospect before them it is not to be wondered that on nearing the foot of the incline, which is upon high trestlings, that one of the men named Martin Sexton and a lad, son of Mr. William Douglas, sprang off the car. Mr. Sexton was hurled over the trestling to the ground, and was shortly afterward picked up insensible and seriously injured. Young Douglas remained upon the trestling, but was badly hurt. The cars then dashed into and through the dump house, and the other occupant of the car, Mr. Wm. Beaman, was thrown into the chute, and instantly killed, his throat having been cut by an edge of the iron chute, and his body terribly bruised.

Mr. Sexton and young Douglas were alive last evening, but it is feared that the injuries of the former will prove fatal.—Cumberland News.

We understand a number of substantial improvements are proposed in and around this place the coming season.

A very common remark among the people hereabouts last week was that it was the coldest weather known within the recollection of the oldest inhabitant.

Decidedly the best opening in the county is offered here, to a blacksmith. Chance open for only a short time; location good and rent moderate.

A number of revival meetings have been held here and in the sorrounding community during the present winter, and in a number of instances the efforts put forth to build up the kingdom of Zion proved abundantly successful.

Silas J. Coven, Esq. who purchased the stock of merchandise and fixtures of Kierman & Earl has taken possession of the same, and is doing a very fine business.

The Messrs Ream, the new blacksmiths who recently come to our town, are meeting with good success. These men come to us well recommended and are entitled to a full share of the public patronage.

The school at this place is progressing finely under the careful management of Prop. H. H. Heckman. He seems to give entire satisfaction to both parents and pupils.

Captain Bowman, of Stoystown, and Captain Harrison, of Somerset, paid our town a flying visit last week, the first one for several years. Come again, gentlemen.

At the conference of the U. B. Church, held at Johnstown, a few week ago, it was decided to return Rev. Bieghel to his work again for the ensuing year. This gives general satisfaction to the people of his church in this community, who hope his ministerial labors the present year may be pleasant and profitable to the pastor and the people.

Levi Whitezel, a blacksmith of this place, who left some time ago with the intention of visiting Johnstown and Pittsburgh for the purpose of replenishing his stock, and for some weeks thereafter no clue could be obtained of his whereabouts, has been heard from, having turned up in West Virginia. No reason is assigned for his mysterious disappearance.

A sleighing party from Johnstown, with some of the finest "turn outs" we have seen for some time, visited our place on Thursday last.

JAMES PEW—Was born Jan. 8th, 1794; died Feb. 12th, 1875, aged 81 years, 1 month and 4 days.

The deceased was born in the State of New Jersey but came to this county about the year 1800, since which time he has been a citizen among us and highly respected by all who knew him. He reached the good old age of over four-score years, during which long period he lived an exemplary life, and died a consistent member of the Dunkard church.
