A PPLETONS' AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA

NEW REVISED EDITION.

Entirely rewritten by the ablest writers on every subject. Printed from new type, and illustrated with several thousand engravings and maps. The work originally published under the title of THE NEW AMERICAN CYCLOF ADIA WAS completed in 1861, since which time the wide creulation which it has attained in all parts of the United States, and the signal developments which have taken place in every branch of science, literature, and art, have induced the oditors and publishers to submit to an exact and thorough revision, and to issue a new edition entitled THE AMERICAN CYCLOF EDIA.

Within the last ten years the progress of dis-covery in every department of knowledge has made a new work of reference an imperative want.

The movement of political affairs has kept pace with the discoveries of science, and their trustful application to the industrial and useful arts, and the convenience and refinement of social life.—Great wars and consequent revolutions have occurred, involving national changes of peculiar moment. The civil war of our own country, which was at its height when the last volume of the old work appeared, has happly been ended, and a new course of commercial and industrial activity has been commenced.

Large accessions to our geographical knowledge Large accessions to our geographical knowledge are been made by the indentifigable explorers of Africa.

The great political revolutions of the last decade, with the natural result of the large of time, have brought into view a multitude of new men, whose names are in every one's mouth, and of whose lives every one is curious to know the particulars. Great battles have been fought and important sieges maintained, of which the details are as yet premaintained, of which the details are as yet premaintained.

WHERE IS SHET

[Published at the request of a young merchant of Somerset. 'Tis a pity he cannot find one among all our fair daughters who is not "a thing of trills and pads." But such is the way of all womankind.]

Whene'er I take my walks abroad, How many girls I see! And often do I ask myself, "Where is the girl for me?"

To be without I don't deserve; But one-I ask no more; And hundreds daily pass me by As I stand at my store.

How many girls out in the street Well padded I behold ! They're not the sort to comfort me Now it is getting cold. Still there is one-a little girl,

Who often wanders by, I think she must be wanting me,

So loving is her eye.

And yet I dare not speak to her. So many of the fair. Wear bustles to deceive the men, And cheat them with false hair. Whene'er I wed, I do not want A thing of frill, and pad,

And where can they be had?
