AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA NEW REVISED EDITION.

Entirely rewritten by the ablest writers on every subject. Printed from new type, and flustrated with several thousand engravings and maps. The work originally published under the title of THE NEW AMERICAN UNCLORABLE WAS completed in 1885, since which time the wide circulation which it has attained in all perts of the United States, and the signal developments which have taken place in every branch of science, literature, and art, have induced the editors and publishers to submit to an exact and thorough revision, and to submit to an exact and thorough revision, and to issue a new edition entitled The AMERICAN CYCLOPARDIA.

Within the last ten years the progress of discovery in every department of knowledge has made a new work of reference an imperative want.

The movement of political affairs has kept pace with the discoveries of science, and their trustful application to the industrial and useful arts, and the convenience and refinement of social life.—Great wars and consequent revolutions have occurred, involving national changes of peculiar moment. The civil war of our own country, which was at its height when the last volume of the old work appeared, has happity been embed, and a new course of commercial and industrial activity has been commenced.

The great political revolutions of the last deca

The great political revolutions of the last decade, with the natural result of the lasse of time, have brought into view a multitude of new men, whose names are in every one's mouth, and of whose lives every one is curious to know the particulars. Great battles have been fought and important sleges maintained, of which the details are as yet preserved only in the newspapers or in the transient publications of the day, but which ought now to take their place in permanent and authentic history. tory.

In preparing the present edition for the press, it has accordingly been thealm of the editors to bring down the information to the latest possible dates, and to furnish an accurate account of the most recent discoveries in science, of every fresh production in literature, and of the news inventions in the practical arts, as well as to give a succinct and original record of the progress of political and histography events.

The work has been begun after long and careful preliminary labor, and with the most ample resources for carrying it on to a successful formina-

MY WIFE AND CHILD.

The tatoo beats, the lights are gone,

The camp around in slumber lies;

But sleep my weary eyes bath flown,

And sad, uneasy thoughts arise.

I think of thee, my dearest one, Whose love my early life hast blest;

Of thee and him-our haby son-

God of the tender, frail and lone,

To mother, wife-the doubly dear In whose young hearts have freshly met

And hover gently, hover near

Oh, guard the tender sleeper's rest.

To her whose watchful eye is wet-

Two streams of love so deep and clear-And cheer her drooping spirits yet.

Oh teach her, Ruler of the skies,

That while, at thy behest alone,

Now, while she kneels before Thy throne,

Earth's mightiest powers fall and rise, No tear is wept, to Thee unknown, No hair is lest, no sparrow dies.

That Thou canst stay the ruthless hands

Of dark disease, and soothe its pain;

The buttle's lost, the soldier's slain; That from the distant soa or land

Her tear wet cheek is sailly pressed,

Theu brings't the wanderer home again.

That only by Thy stern commands

And when upon her pillow lone

May happier visions beam upon

No frowning look or angry tone

Disturb the Sabbath of her rest.
