

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR, JOHN F. HARRIS, of Montgomery County.

FOR STATE TREASURER, HENRY RAWLE, of Erie.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET.

FOR PROTHONOTARY, FRANCIS J. KOOSER.

FOR SHERIFF, GEORGE W. PILE.

FOR REGISTER AND RECORDER, AARON F. DICKEY.

FOR TREASURER, JOSIAH KELLER.

FOR COMMISSIONERS, DANIEL PHILIPPI, WILLIAM REEL.

FOR FOUR HOUSE DIRECTORS, ISAAC YODER.

FOR AUDITORS, SAMUEL SMITH, SAMUEL S. MILLER.

THE PLATFORM.

The Republicans of Pennsylvania, affirming their confidence in the party whose program is endorsed by the national platform...

1. The equality of all men before the law. 2. The maintenance of the Union...

3. The right of the laborer to protection and representation. 4. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

5. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 6. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

7. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 8. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

9. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 10. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

11. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 12. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

13. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 14. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

15. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 16. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

17. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 18. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

19. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 20. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

21. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 22. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

23. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 24. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

25. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 26. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

27. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 28. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

29. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 30. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

31. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 32. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

33. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 34. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

35. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 36. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

37. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 38. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

39. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 40. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

41. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 42. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

43. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 44. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

45. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property. 46. The right of the citizen to the enjoyment of his property...

The Treasury Department is in a quandary, owing to the unparalleled generosity of certain bidders who offer to print the check stamps for nothing.

For the information of those afflicted souls, we beg leave to state that there was an election there lately, and that although last year the state gave a Democratic majority of 14,036 on the state ticket, and 19,186 on the congressional ticket, the Republicans now elect a majority of the members of the Constitutional Convention, and have a majority on the popular vote largely over 10,000.

The last sad rites are this reported in a dispatch from Greensburg, is that State: "The Republicans have a clear majority in the Convention, with two of our counties given to the Democrats by Democratic County Commissioners. The Convention will restore them, which will give us a clear seven majority. The Associated Press dispatches are false, and are sent to endeavor to check the effect of our great Republican victory. We have carried the State on the popular vote by fully 18,000 majority. The defeat and demoralization of the Democratic party in this State is complete. Their leading men acknowledge it. The vote on both sides, this year, was larger than ever before. You can not rely on the Associated Press dispatches from this State on political matters. They are made up by editors of Democratic newspapers, who are doing what they can to prevent the Northern people from learning and believing that a large majority of the people of this State are Republicans to the core, and true to the Union. North Carolina will withdraw from the political canvass in that State on account of infirm health, and that some other will be nominated in his place. It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

The Toledo, Ohio, Blade says that it has information, believed to be entirely reliable, that Governor Allen will withdraw from the political canvass in that State on account of infirm health, and that some other will be nominated in his place. It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

owing to the "noise and confusion" caused by the breaking of that huge tidal wave on the mighty rock of Republicanism.

For the information of those afflicted souls, we beg leave to state that there was an election there lately, and that although last year the state gave a Democratic majority of 14,036 on the state ticket, and 19,186 on the congressional ticket, the Republicans now elect a majority of the members of the Constitutional Convention, and have a majority on the popular vote largely over 10,000.

The last sad rites are this reported in a dispatch from Greensburg, is that State: "The Republicans have a clear majority in the Convention, with two of our counties given to the Democrats by Democratic County Commissioners. The Convention will restore them, which will give us a clear seven majority. The Associated Press dispatches are false, and are sent to endeavor to check the effect of our great Republican victory. We have carried the State on the popular vote by fully 18,000 majority. The defeat and demoralization of the Democratic party in this State is complete. Their leading men acknowledge it. The vote on both sides, this year, was larger than ever before. You can not rely on the Associated Press dispatches from this State on political matters. They are made up by editors of Democratic newspapers, who are doing what they can to prevent the Northern people from learning and believing that a large majority of the people of this State are Republicans to the core, and true to the Union. North Carolina will withdraw from the political canvass in that State on account of infirm health, and that some other will be nominated in his place. It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

The Toledo, Ohio, Blade says that it has information, believed to be entirely reliable, that Governor Allen will withdraw from the political canvass in that State on account of infirm health, and that some other will be nominated in his place. It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

It is now almost certain that Allen will be largely beaten if he remains on the ticket, and his friends hope to save his prestige by withdrawing him and holding him in reserve as a presidential candidate.

In the hands of these sharks, but that doesn't disturb the serenity of Duncan, Sherman, or the Company. Mr. Duncan has the grandest place on Staten Island, his magnificent mansion stands in the center of forty acres, and is surrounded by a park of silver plate and furniture enough to buy a county in the West. The richest conservators, the most delightful grounds, an array of servants, horses and carriages without number, all these things Mr. Duncan has as liberally as the wind. He is always engaged, and always will. If you should suggest to him that this place ought to be turned over to the benefit of his creditors Mr. Duncan would laugh in your face. That isn't the way they do it. He has an income of $100,000 a year, and keeps up the establishment in the same hospitable manner that has always distinguished it.

How did they fall? Easy enough. Their own money safety put away, they took the lead of the other people who placed it in their hands and speculated with it. Their speculations resulted adversely, and they went under. And would you believe it, there is but one newspaper in New York that has dared to characterize this thing as a villainy—only one. On the contrary, they all expressed sympathy for the firm! There is little temptation to an honest life when the roge gets all the sympathy. If swindled depositors would occasionally hang a scoundrelly banker, it would have an excellent moral effect on this business.

JOHN MORRISSEY. The pugilist, gambler and leader of Democracy, don't propose to be killed as easily as Kelly and the other Tammanyites would wish. The fact is, John is stronger than Tammany. He has an immense following of the lower classes of Irish and Americans, and he can control the city better than any man in the city. With this strength at his back, John objects to being counted out as a man of no account. He wants his say in matters; he wants his share of the office, he wants to be known as Treasurer in short, the short-haired John wants to be a leader of Democracy. So when Tammany struck him, he struck back, and Tammany was astonished at the force of the blow. As the Democracy are very likely to carry next year, it is possible that the Republicans may be ousted from the city at the next election. I say remote, for somehow the many factions of the Democracy have a trick of coming together when the spoils are in danger. But let us hope that the present crop is harvested and marketed. By that time they believe the stocks on hand will be exhausted and that exchanges must commence again. They are encouraged somewhat by the reports from the country. Despite the terrible ratios, the average production will be good, and there will be a fair European demand for it. So buoyed up by hope, they are all taking in by reducing their expenses and holding on to the good times, and waiting for the good times to come again. Heaven send that they may not be too long in coming, for a most terrible experience the business of the country has gone through for three long, dreary years.

THE BECHER-THILTON CASE. Thilton is going for Beecher, but the Democratic announcement makes no sensation. The public here has lost all interest in the sorrows of Theodore, and I doubt if anything can galvanize the corpse into life. Whenever the name of either of the parties is mentioned in the country, the Democrats don't stop to discuss. Consequently the trial ever takes place it will be of very short duration. It was the interest the public took in it that prolonged it so before. Let us hope we have heard the last of it.

A Terrible Mining Accident. SCANTON, August 14.—The Mount Pleasant mine near this city, was the scene of a thrilling accident this morning, by which two young men were instantly killed and another seriously injured. The death is momentarily expected. The accident occurred in a shaft about 1,200 feet deep, and was caused by a fall of rock from a ledge of 33 degrees, through which coal is hoisted up from the operating vein which the Company is attempting to reach. Shortly after 10 o'clock last night a party of six miners started to work down the shaft. When about half way down the men at the head hoist proceeded to lower empty cars for miners, according to custom. As the workmen had just pushed the first car from the shaft, the grapping hook became detached, and the car dashed down the steep slope with lightning-like rapidity, overturning David Owens, Evan Davis and Thomas Sterritt, and killing them. The bodies were found in the gloomy passage of the mine. The bodies were found in the gloomy passage of the mine. The bodies were found in the gloomy passage of the mine.

Death of Samuel Cheyne. One of the saddest duties we have been called upon to perform for many a day is the burying of the death of Hon. Samuel Henry Cheyne, which occurred at the upper end of Woodvale, at 4:36 o'clock this morning. The deceased had taken passage on the Pittsburgh express, at Philadelphia, the previous evening, and had his railroad pass marked off for Johnston. The body was found lying between the north and south tracks of the railroad, just a short distance west of the upper Woodvale crossing, at 3:13 this morning. Mr. W. Chappie, conductor of the third section of the Express freight east, noticed the form of a dead man between the two tracks, and at once stopping the train, the deceased was lying with his head to the west, and his left arm resting in the flange on the south side of the north track. His watch had been jerked from his pocket, and was stepped at 4:36, so that less than a minute after the train passed East Conemaugh the accident occurred.

Whisky Frauds. PHILADELPHIA, August 14.—At an early hour this morning a heavy seizure of whisky was made by a detective of the Internal Revenue Department. The stuff consisted of fifty-two barrels of wine, containing 3,435 gallons, and were taken as the property of F. Bergenthal & Co., of Philadelphia. The goods were discovered in parties in this city, upon whom no suspicion rests, and while the spirits are believed to be "straight," yet it being the property of parties who were implicated in frauds in the West in the first district of Wisconsin, the goods were seized and sent to the law for the property of distillers detected in fraud.

Attempt at Insurrection. AUGUSTA, Ga., August 13.—Much excitement exists to-day in Washington and Jefferson counties on account of a reported attempt by the negroes at insurrection. Eighty arrests were made, and the white military companies in those counties were ordered by the Governor to report to the Sheriff. The prisoners were all lodged in the jail without resistance. The alleged plot contemplated a massacre of the whites on the 20th inst. It is now thought that there will be no further trouble.

The Illinois Kuklux. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., August 13.—Nothing further has been received by the State authorities from the Franklin county Kuklux. The action of the authorities of this county has stimulated the Williamson and Jackson authorities, who are organizing the militia of their counties, to be supplied with arms by the State, which the Governor has promised to send them.

Hobby of Pittsburgh. PITTSBURGH, August 13.—The wholesale goods store of S. Oppenheimer & Bro., on Fifth avenue, in this city, was robbed yesterday of about $3,000 worth of silk handkerchiefs, lace, and other goods between ten and eleven o'clock in the evening, while the street was crowded with pedestrians.

A Horrible Tragedy. ST. LOUIS, August 17.—A horrible tragedy occurred yesterday at Troy, twenty-four miles south of Sparta, in Randolph county, in which a man named Gault killed his cousin, James Dugan, discharging both barrels of a shotgun at him and completely maiming his body. The parties are very young men, and coal miners.

Mercantile Suspension. BALTIMORE, August 18.—Graham Brothers & Co., wholesale grocers and commission merchants, No. 52 South Howard street, suspended yesterday. The liabilities were stated at $50,000, and assets were valued at Baltimore county property, deemed sufficient to cover that amount. The firm has asked an extension from their creditors, who are New York and Baltimore parties.

Murder Near Indianapolis. INDIANAPOLIS, August 18.—About seven o'clock this evening at Cumberland, a small town on the Pan Handle Railroad, ten miles east of this city, during an altercation about a trade, Louis Veach shot and killed his brother-in-law, Melvin Murray, with a shot gun. The murderer fled, but was shortly captured and is now in custody.

Miscellaneous. THE YOUNG LADIES' INSTITUTE, GRANVILLE, Ohio. Begins its 44th year, September 21, at its regular sessions. The institute is a non-sectarian, non-political, and non-partisan organization, and is open to all young ladies of good character. The institute is held at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Smith, on Main street, Granville, Ohio. The institute is held at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Smith, on Main street, Granville, Ohio.

Galvanized Iron Cornices. Window and Door Heads, Plank, Turps, Chimney Caps, and all kinds of Galvanized Iron Ornamental Work. Tin Roofing, Spouting, and all kinds of Job Work. Promptly attended to.

No. 158 Federal St., Allegheny City, Pa.

One of the saddest duties we have been called upon to perform for many a day is the burying of the death of Hon. Samuel Henry Cheyne, which occurred at the upper end of Woodvale, at 4:36 o'clock this morning. The deceased had taken passage on the Pittsburgh express, at Philadelphia, the previous evening, and had his railroad pass marked off for Johnston. The body was found lying between the north and south tracks of the railroad, just a short distance west of the upper Woodvale crossing, at 3:13 this morning. Mr. W. Chappie, conductor of the third section of the Express freight east, noticed the form of a dead man between the two tracks, and at once stopping the train, the deceased was lying with his head to the west, and his left arm resting in the flange on the south side of the north track. His watch had been jerked from his pocket, and was stepped at 4:36, so that less than a minute after the train passed East Conemaugh the accident occurred.

Whisky Frauds. PHILADELPHIA, August 14.—At an early hour this morning a heavy seizure of whisky was made by a detective of the Internal Revenue Department. The stuff consisted of fifty-two barrels of wine, containing 3,435 gallons, and were taken as the property of F. Bergenthal & Co., of Philadelphia. The goods were discovered in parties in this city, upon whom no suspicion rests, and while the spirits are believed to be "straight," yet it being the property of parties who were implicated in frauds in the West in the first district of Wisconsin, the goods were seized and sent to the law for the property of distillers detected in fraud.

Attempt at Insurrection. AUGUSTA, Ga., August 13.—Much excitement exists to-day in Washington and Jefferson counties on account of a reported attempt by the negroes at insurrection. Eighty arrests were made, and the white military companies in those counties were ordered by the Governor to report to the Sheriff. The prisoners were all lodged in the jail without resistance. The alleged plot contemplated a massacre of the whites on the 20th inst. It is now thought that there will be no further trouble.

The Illinois Kuklux. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., August 13.—Nothing further has been received by the State authorities from the Franklin county Kuklux. The action of the authorities of this county has stimulated the Williamson and Jackson authorities, who are organizing the militia of their counties, to be supplied with arms by the State, which the Governor has promised to send them.

Hobby of Pittsburgh. PITTSBURGH, August 13.—The wholesale goods store of S. Oppenheimer & Bro., on Fifth avenue, in this city, was robbed yesterday of about $3,000 worth of silk handkerchiefs, lace, and other goods between ten and eleven o'clock in the evening, while the street was crowded with pedestrians.

A Horrible Tragedy. ST. LOUIS, August 17.—A horrible tragedy occurred yesterday at Troy, twenty-four miles south of Sparta, in Randolph county, in which a man named Gault killed his cousin, James Dugan, discharging both barrels of a shotgun at him and completely maiming his body. The parties are very young men, and coal miners.

Mercantile Suspension. BALTIMORE, August 18.—Graham Brothers & Co., wholesale grocers and commission merchants, No. 52 South Howard street, suspended yesterday. The liabilities were stated at $50,000, and assets were valued at Baltimore county property, deemed sufficient to cover that amount. The firm has asked an extension from their creditors, who are New York and Baltimore parties.

Murder Near Indianapolis. INDIANAPOLIS, August 18.—About seven o'clock this evening at Cumberland, a small town on the Pan Handle Railroad, ten miles east of this city, during an altercation about a trade, Louis Veach shot and killed his brother-in-law, Melvin Murray, with a shot gun. The murderer fled, but was shortly captured and is now in custody.

Miscellaneous. THE YOUNG LADIES' INSTITUTE, GRANVILLE, Ohio. Begins its 44th year, September 21, at its regular sessions. The institute is a non-sectarian, non-political, and non-partisan organization, and is open to all young ladies of good character. The institute is held at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Smith, on Main street, Granville, Ohio. The institute is held at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Smith, on Main street, Granville, Ohio.

Galvanized Iron Cornices. Window and Door Heads, Plank, Turps, Chimney Caps, and all kinds of Galvanized Iron Ornamental Work. Tin Roofing, Spouting, and all kinds of Job Work. Promptly attended to.

No. 158 Federal St., Allegheny City, Pa.

One of the saddest duties we have been called upon to perform for many a day is the burying of the death of Hon. Samuel Henry Cheyne, which occurred at the upper end of Woodvale, at 4:36 o'clock this morning. The deceased had taken passage on the Pittsburgh express, at Philadelphia, the previous evening, and had his railroad pass marked off for Johnston. The body was found lying between the north and south tracks of the railroad, just a short distance west of the upper Woodvale crossing, at 3:13 this morning. Mr. W. Chappie, conductor of the third section of the Express freight east, noticed the form of a dead man between the two tracks, and at once stopping the train, the deceased was lying with his head to the west, and his left arm resting in the flange on the south side of the north track. His watch had been jerked from his pocket, and was stepped at 4:36, so that less than a minute after the train passed East Conemaugh the accident occurred.

Whisky Frauds. PHILADELPHIA, August 14.—At an early hour this morning a heavy seizure of whisky was made by a detective of the