

MANY THINGS.

The apple crop is heavy. Oysters "on" all right now. The fair commences to day. Green corn is "growing old."

THE FAITHFUL LOVERS.

Old Ludwig Leibhart was a brewer in the good city of Hamburg. He was round as one of his own ale-casks; stolid, good-natured and obstinate.

How Jones got Battered Up.

Just before noon yesterday, says the Detroit Free Press, Mr. Jones sat on an empty barrel standing in front of a liquor store on Michigan avenue.

In English Courts.

A recent English case of extreme cruelty, passing under the guise of justice, has been much commented on in the papers on both sides of the Atlantic.

How the French Bring a Drowned Man to Life.

The author of "The French at Home" says that in his walk, one morning, he saw a man pulled out of the water, apparently drowned.

New Advertisements.

JOHN F. BLYMYER, DEALER. Hardware, Iron, Nails, Glass, Paints, OILS, &C., &C. THE NEW FIRM OF PATTON & HURST. No. 4, Baer's Block.

THE FAITHFUL LOVERS.

Behold him, then, housed in a little room, up over the sky in the fore part of the house.

How Jones got Battered Up.

"You boys! serve killing!" "I'm a thing in here—help me out!" roared Jones.

In English Courts.

"I am so sorry, monsieur, I did not think what a selfish thing I was doing. Let me bear your violin again. Indeed—I have missed it!"

How the French Bring a Drowned Man to Life.

"I am so sorry, monsieur, I did not think what a selfish thing I was doing. Let me bear your violin again. Indeed—I have missed it!"

Through Workmen.

Says an exchange: "There is no more honorable position in life than that of a good craftsman in a successful occupation."

URLING, FOLLANSBEE & CO. C. & G. Holderbaum. Merchant Tailors. A Large and Complete Assortment of Goods for Fall and Winter Wear.

New Firm! NEW GOODS! LOW PRICES! HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE, CARPETS, OIL CLOTHS, &C.

A Jamaica boy, who was lit in the stomach with a ball, retained breath enough to observe, "It's lucky I found the Sunday School," and then curled up for the rest of the season.

Living this isolated, unnatural sort of life, Otto had become almost morose. He was a young man of twenty, and his fellow-lodgers were men.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

She had her mind made up for two or three days that the boy needed some castor oil, but she knew that she must approach him gently.

An old farmer, about the time that the temperance reform was beginning to exert a powerful influence in the country, said to his hired man:

A colored child had fallen from a second story window, the other day, and his mother in relating the occurrence at a grocery store said: "Dare dat child was a comin' down feet first, with every chance ob her being killed."

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

An operator sits at a table in a room darkened by curtains. On his desk stands a little instrument named the "reflecting galvanometer."

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

W. F. ALTFATHER & CO. SOMERSET, PA. MARCH 24, 1875.

The Pennsylvania railroad company employs a number of forlorn who duties are to visit the many stations, properties on their lines for the purpose of keeping the floral decorations in and around the stations.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

W. F. ALTFATHER & CO. SOMERSET, PA. MARCH 24, 1875.

The Pennsylvania railroad company employs a number of forlorn who duties are to visit the many stations, properties on their lines for the purpose of keeping the floral decorations in and around the stations.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

W. F. ALTFATHER & CO. SOMERSET, PA. MARCH 24, 1875.

The Pennsylvania railroad company employs a number of forlorn who duties are to visit the many stations, properties on their lines for the purpose of keeping the floral decorations in and around the stations.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

W. F. ALTFATHER & CO. SOMERSET, PA. MARCH 24, 1875.

The Pennsylvania railroad company employs a number of forlorn who duties are to visit the many stations, properties on their lines for the purpose of keeping the floral decorations in and around the stations.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

W. F. ALTFATHER & CO. SOMERSET, PA. MARCH 24, 1875.

The Pennsylvania railroad company employs a number of forlorn who duties are to visit the many stations, properties on their lines for the purpose of keeping the floral decorations in and around the stations.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

W. F. ALTFATHER & CO. SOMERSET, PA. MARCH 24, 1875.

The Pennsylvania railroad company employs a number of forlorn who duties are to visit the many stations, properties on their lines for the purpose of keeping the floral decorations in and around the stations.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

W. F. ALTFATHER & CO. SOMERSET, PA. MARCH 24, 1875.

The Pennsylvania railroad company employs a number of forlorn who duties are to visit the many stations, properties on their lines for the purpose of keeping the floral decorations in and around the stations.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

W. F. ALTFATHER & CO. SOMERSET, PA. MARCH 24, 1875.

The Pennsylvania railroad company employs a number of forlorn who duties are to visit the many stations, properties on their lines for the purpose of keeping the floral decorations in and around the stations.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

When he was convinced that the man in the barrel was not a vagrant or a beggar, he set about helping him out. He tried to lift him by the arms, but Jones yelled for mercy.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

Every fox praises his own tail. Go after two wolves and you will not get an cat one.

W. F. ALTFATHER & CO. SOMERSET, PA. MARCH 24, 1875.

Advertisement for Buckinghams' Dye. As our Keweenaw in many cases requires too long a time, and too much care, to restore gray or faded whiskers, we have prepared this result. It is easily applied, produces color which will neither rub nor wash off. Sold by all Druggists. Price Fifty Cents. Manufactured by R. P. HALL & CO., NASHUA, N. H.