A fine barn owned by Jacob Fox, in North Huntingdon Township, Westmoreland County, was burned to the ground on Saturday night last. It is believed that a vagabond tramp set fire to the building. The loss is stated to be quite heavy, and the insurance was small.

The Republican party took the tax off real estate in Pennsylvania, and it has lightened the popular burden year after year by reducing the debt. But whenever the Democratic party has been in power the debt has increased. Will the horny-handed Pilollet do any better if he is elected, than his Democratic predecessors, seeing that he will have to satisfy a swarm of politicians who have been out of office and hungry for years?

REPUBLICAN meetings were held at Kingwood and Lexington on Saturday last, in accordance with the call issued by the Chairman of the County Committee. Considering the inclemency of the weather the number of persons in attendance was largely in excess of what was expected.

that night.

Samuel Danley, a miller in Indiana county, noticed something in the fore-bay had stopped the water from passing through to the wheel. He went to make an examination, and his distress and horror may be imagined when he pulled out his little son, aged about two years, who had fallen into the race, and was swept down to the wheel. The boy was dead when discovered.

The few light frosts already experienced have served to hasten the ripening of chestnuts, and nutting excursions to the adjacent groves have been inaugurated by the juveniles, who daily resort there to gather these favorites of the nut species. These excursions afford a vast amount of pleasurable excitement to the children, and are an innocent and healthful means of recreation to the little folks.

A man named Dunlap, who was employed as puddler in the rolling mill, at Scottdale, Pa., while sitting upon a barrel at the South West station, on Tuesday last, fell over on the ground and instantly expired. He had always enjoyed good health, and was a sober and industrious workman. A coroner's jury was empannelled at once, and rendered a verdict of death from rupture of the heart.

The whole number of newspapers and periodicles published in the State of Pennsylvania is 707. Of this number seventy-eight are daily, two tri-weekly, two semi-weekly, five hundred and eleven weekly, nineteen semi-monthly, eighty-eight monthly, two bi-monthly, and five quarter-monthly publications. The average circulation is 1,030, or 738,210 copies monthly, making a grand yearly aggregate of 8,738,520.

THE new United Brethren Church, situated on the road leading from David Ankeny's to Metzler's mill, was dedicated on Sunday last. A church train was run over the branch road for the accommodation of those persons wishing to be present. The ground on which the church is built was given to the congregation by Mr. Samuel Metzler. The church is a neat, cozy frame edifice. The number in attendance on Sunday was quite large.

WE would again bring to the notice of our readers the fact that according to the postoffice laws, there is to be collected at letter rates, (six cents per ounce) on all third class matter which may arrive at its destination containing any written matter except the name and address of the party intended to receive it. A great deal of dissatisfaction invariably arises both to the Department and to the receiver in consequence of the neglect of this law. The party to whom addressed is required to make up the deficiency in postage, and if he refuses to do so, then the postmaster is required to return such package to the office from which it was originally sent, in order that suit may be brought against the sender. The fine for such offence is five dollars.

DONATION.—I would greatfully acknowledge a set of good harness made by Lewis Craver, Esq., of Jenner borough. A. and J. Koontz & Co., got up the subscription. I do hereby return my sincere thanks to all who have contributed to this object.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Pittsburgh Leader says the heaviest gas well struck in the oil region opened up on Wednesday. It is impossible to estimate the amount of gas furnished, but there must be some millions of cubic feet each twenty-four hours. The roar can be heard a distance of two miles from the well. It is located on the Charlie Duffey farm, three quarters of a mile north of the famous Burns well, which it probably surpasses in the amount of gas furnished.

MASONIC BANQUET.—The Masonic fraternity of this county held a banquet at the Hill House in this place on Tuesday of last week. Ninety members of the order were present. The banquet was gotten up in the elegant style that characterizes all entertainments of this kind at the Hill House. The entertainment lasted until the "wee sma' hours," and they didn't "go home till morning."

THOSE of our citizens who desire to attend the Pittsburgh Exposition will find it to their interest to arrange it so that they can return Saturday night. By going down to Pittsburgh on Thursday they will be able to put in Friday and Saturday at the Exposition, and return by the express Saturday night, provided their numbers are such as will justify the running of a special on the branch. Round trip tickets are selling at $4, at Mineral Point.

THE Oakland Gazette says that on Thursday morning last the dead body of Mrs. John Edgar, aged fifty-eight years, was found on the public road near the narrows of Deep Creek. Suspicions of foul play were at first entertained but after the matter had been investigated by a coroner's jury, it was found that her death had been caused by apoplexy. Mrs. Edgar was a daughter of the late Rev. Jacob Phillippi, of Somerset county, Pa.

REMOVED.—The Cheapside Grocery of C. B. Colborn & Co., to Baer's Block, Room No. 2. C. B. Colborn & Co. having purchased the entire stock of W. F. Altfather & Co., and having consolidated the same with their former stock, gives them the largest and best assorted stock of groceries in the town. They will be pleased to supply their former customers, and the public generally, with cheap and fresh groceries of every kind and description, and at the very lowest prices.

Potatoes, corn, oats, buckwheat, rye eggs, butter, etc., at the lowest market prices, taken in exchange for goods.

WE had on trial at our office on Saturday last a small horizontal slide valve engine, constructed by Mr. Emanuel Hause. This beautiful little piece of machinery measured about eighteen inches in length and has about one half horse power. It was constructed of black tin. Mr. Hause's object in building this piece of machinery was to demonstrate the practicability of a new sliding valve which he has invented. The valve and all other parts of the engine worked to the entire satisfaction of the inventor. We understand that Mr. Hause intends to have the valve patented as soon as he can construct a suitable model to send to the Patent Office.

The Lebanon Standard says: A corps of engineers commenced on Monday to make the final survey of the proposed route of the People's Freight Railway, from Burnt Cabins, Fulton county, west of the Tuscarora range of mountains in the western line of the State. The survey will be pushed forward as soon as possible. Chief Engineer McConaughy is at present in West Virginia attending to the affairs of the road since its consolidation with other western lines. A meeting of the Local Committee will shortly be held in Reading, at the call of the President and Secretary.

Undoubtedly the greatest modern discovery in medicine is DACOSTA'S RADICAL CURE for Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Costiveness, Billiousness, Loss of Appetite, distress after eating, and all disorders caused by indigestion or a deranged liver. Its results are astonishing and sure relief is guaranteed in every case where it is faithfully used. It tones up the stomach, regulates the liver, restores the natural appetite, strengthens the delicate, and expells all morbid humors from the system. Typhoid and Billous fever might in almost every case be prevented by its timely use. Trial size 25 cents. A very few doses will relieve, and a little perseverance cure you.

Now is the time of year for Pneumonia, Lung Fever, Coughs, Colds, and fatal results of predisposition to Consumption and other Throat and Lung Diseases.—BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP has been used in this neighborhood for the past two or three years without a single failure to cure. If you have not used this medicine yourself, go to your Druggists, G. W. Benford & Co., and ask him of its wonderful success among his customers. Two doses will relieve the worst case. If you have no faith in any medicine, just buy a Sample Bottle of Boschee's German Syrup for 10 cents and try it. Regular size Bottle 75 cents. Don't neglect a cough to save 75 cents.

A SIMPLE means of temporarily changing the colors of natural flowers by immersing the stems in liquid ammonia is mentioned as having been discovered in Italy by Professor Gabba, who in this way has succeeded in changing blue, violet, and purple flowers to green, and white ones to yellow. The natural color returns in a few hours. Another interesting process of which flowers also form the subject was recently brought to the notice of the Society of Arts in London. It is a method for coating natural flowers, as well as leaves, with silver, by the application of electro metallurgy; in other words, simply electroplating them. The most delicate ornaments can thus be obtained, preserving with exquisite detail the outline and form of each leaf and petal.

MASONIC MEETING AND BANQUET.—On the occasion of an official visit of R. W. Grand Master Alfred R. Potter to Lodge No. 358, A. Y. M., of this place, which occurred on Tuesday of last week, he was received by an assemblage of one hundred members of the fraternity, including visitors, many of whom are distinguished members of the Order. After spending some time in the Lodge-room in a social meeting long to be remembered by all present, an invitation was extended to the assembled members by the W. M. of Somerset Lodge, George W. Kimmel, Esq., to repair to Hill's Hotel and partake of a banquet prepared specially for the occasion. R. W. Grand Master Potter highly complimentated the host and hostess of the Hill House on the magnificent entertainment, to which compliments all the guests said amen. Dr. C. N. Hickok, Esq., of Bedford, Grand Rep, to the G. L. of the United States, Hon. E. D. Yutzy and Maj. W. A. Miller, of Ursina, and others joined in making the evening interesting and pleasant to all. Many guests not members of the Order partook of the repast.

LAY UP FOR WINTER.—The present is opportune for suggesting to our mechanics and laboring men the wisdom of laying up something for winter, which promises to be severe and dull. The dull times during the summer has not admit of an easy adherence to the saving principle, however necessary, and in order to do so some sacrifice is required, but voluntary sacrifice in summer seems much better than enforced sacrifice in winter. A few pennies sared here and there will fill up many crevices next winter, and rob the storm of much of their effect upon our spirit and personal needs. There are little mouths to look after, and there is a wife whom the husband has promised to support. These have a pressing claim upon the means and economy of the workingman, who should hesitate to spend a single ten cents while there is danger of future need.

On the October outlook for business the New York Bulletin says:

With the incoming of October the autumn is sufficiently advanced to enable the observer to form some judgment as to the drift and extent of the fall trade, concerning which there are so many diverse opinions. Without entering into minute details—which would only be a repetition of facts we have been recording from day to day during the past month—it need only be said, that while trade for September was probably not up to the anticipations of the people who are accustomed to indulge in sanguine hopes without duly considering whether they are warranted by the surrounding conditions, but little is risked in saying that in many of the leading branches the sales in the aggregate have been quite up to those of previous seasons, when there was less croaking. In all the others have not done as faverably as was expected it is well to bear in mind that the autumn is not half over yet, and that with a continuance of the present delightful weather, considerable accessions to the large number of country buyers now here are certain.

ABOUT STEEL PENS.—Few persons doubtless are aware of the fact that the original inventor of Steel Pens is still living. Sir Josiah Mason, now the great pen manufacturer of Birmingham, England, enjoys that distinction. He is now very old, being above eighty. It is in his great factory that several of the most popular kinds of the widely famed Spencerian Double Elastic Steel Pens are made, the models being supplied by the proprietors of the pens, Messrs. Ivison, Blakeman, Taylor & Co., the Educational Publishers of New York. The Spencerian Pens have attained their great popularity from a variety of reasons, all of which will be apparent to any one who may try them. Of one number alone more than six millions were sold last year. We use them in our office, and are so well pleased with them that we have no hesitation in saying that they are, in our opinion, superior to any other article of the kind with which we are acquainted. Their chief characteristics seem to be flexibility, elasticity, durability and evenness of point, and a nearer approximation to the real quill action than has been heretofore attained in a steel pen. The Spencerian are comprised in fifteen numbers, all differing in flexibility and fineness of point, and for the convenience of those who wish to try them Messrs. Ivison, Blakeman, Taylor & Co., 138 and 140 Grand Street, New York, will send by mail a sample card, securely enclosed, containing one each of the different numbers, on receipt of Twenty-five cents.

SAVANNAH, GA., Oct. 6.

Dear Herald—Savannah is a city with a population of about thirty thousand souls. It is situated on a perfect level, and surrounded on all sides by a beautiful plain. The soil is of a sandy nature, and the crops are principally cotton and rice. The weather at present is mild and warm. This morning we had rain, but no such rain as we are accustomed to have in Somerset this time of year, but is more like the rains we have in July and August. The people here know nothing of snow and cold rains. At present cabbage, beans and other vegetables are being planted for the market. The people here do not fully accept the results of the war. They do not appear to have the same regard for their fellow man as our northern people do.

I left Baltimore on the first of October on the Sangosca. Sailing along the coast I had an opportunity to see many of the forts which played such a prominent part in the late war. While on board the vessel I became acquainted with a gentleman from Florida, who was my bunk mate. We got into a conversation on the late war. He asked me whether I had been in the late war. When I told him that I had been and that I still felt the effects of it, he asked if I had ever heard of the Andersonville prison and of the manner in which our poor soldiers had been treated there. To this I replied that I had to my sorrow. At this he spoke up and told me that he was a captain at that prison. I said he "must have enjoyed starving our men while there." He replied: "Oh, no, but I took a fancy in robbing them." He showed me an elegant gold watch, which he told me one of the guards had stolen from a Yankee, and which he had bought from the guard for $3. To my question as to why he did not prevent this stealing, he only said that those times were over. There are very few Northern men in Savannah, but there are a large number of them in business in Augusta.

The manner of raising rice is pretty much the same as raising wheat in Somerset county; and it is threshed in much the same manner as you do wheat. Rice is selling at from 8 to 10 cents per quart, and cotton at from 8 to 13 cents per pound. The cotton market is dull just at present, but they tell me the winter trade will soon commence. The summer is always the dullest season of the year for the South. I leave Savannah for Augusta on Friday, and from thence I go to Madison, where I expect to spend the winter.

Respectfully,
D. G. LIST.
