DON'T BE IN A HURRY

This is about the season of the year when...

the folks here are most likely of getting the...

idea of getting a new suit of clothes...

and getting a new hat...

There was no one she cared for...

and she felt the need of a strong...

life to rest upon. At five and twenty...

years she had decided to give herself...

to the man she loved, and she had...

met his wants with truth and...

consistency—she could not promise...

more than she could give, and she...

did not mean to give more than she...

could give, and she did not mean to...

give more than she could give, and...

she did not mean to give more than...

she did not mean to give more than...

she did not mean to give more than...

she did not mean to give more than...

she did not mean to give more than...

she did not mean to give more than...

she did not mean to give more than...

first separation since their marriage...

and looking over the year they had...

passed together, she found that she...

had not made it all within her...

power to make her home a happy one...

"When he returned things would be...

different," it must not be said of...

her that she had been found wanting...

A servant entered, bringing the...

mailing mail; she took it from the...

silver and laid it on the table, and...

then, taking up the morning Herald, she...

glanced at the headlines.

What was it that caused the fair...

face to grow pallid in the morning...

sunlight? What terrible calamity had...

swept the peaceful look from the...

eyes? Only this, found in the...

columns of that pitiless newspaper.

"A wild disaster on the Philadelphia...

Railroad. Cars thrown from the track...

Fifteen killed; many mortally...

wounded." Then followed a list of names...

prominent among which was that of...

John Thordyke.

He was young, and her husband...

was very heavy, because she believed...

the man must bear it without hope...

of amendment.

For one moment only did Marion...

Thordyke remain where her grief had...

led her, but in that moment she...

felt every nerve in her body under...
