LADIES had better call at "Fashion Bazar" at once, before that immense lot of Hamburg Edges and Insertings, which we are selling at cost, (for cash) is gone.
MRS. JAS. B. TREDWELL,
No. 6 Mammoth Block.

ANY of our subscribers, who propose changing their place of residence on the first of next month, should give notice at our office in time, so that the necessary change can be made. Those who receive the HERALD by mail, should state their present postoffice address, as well as that of their new home.

OUR young friend, Paul H. Gaiter, Esq., of Latrobe, was up to see us on Monday. Mr. Gaiter has established himself in the practice of law in that place. He is strict and attentive to his calling, and the citizens of Latrobe and vicinity may feel honored in securing the services of such an eminent attorney.

The above complimentary notice is from the Greensburg Democrat, and the person referred to is none other than our old friend P. H. Gaither. As the Gaiter fits we suppose Paul will put it on.

WE have been informed by a gentleman from Garrett, that Captain Samuel Adams, brother of Capt. M. K. Adams, a gentleman well known to our people, has made arrangements to open a new coal mine in the Buffalo Basin near Garrett. It is expected that the capacity of the new mines will be from one hundred and fifty to one hundred and seventy-five tons a day. It is to be hoped that freights will be so lowered that Capt. Adams and the operators along the Pittsburg division of the B. & O. railroad, may have a bonanza in their black diamonds.

LICENSE FEES.—A bill in which much interest is felt has been introduced in the Senate. It declares that it was and is the act approved the 12th of April, 1875, entitled "An act to repeal an act to permit the voters of this commonwealth to vote every three years on the question of granting licenses to sell intoxicating liquors and to restrain and regulate the sale of the same," that all fees paid for license under the provisions of the act were and are for the use of the State of Pennsylvania, and it is hereby required that every city or county treasurer who has heretofore received or shall hereafter receive any fee or fees for license as aforesaid, shall pay the same into the State Treasury in the manner provided by law.

THE new bill pending in the Legislature for the consolidation of the game laws, prohibits the killing or taking of game and fish as follows:

Squirrels between the 1st of January and the 1st of August; rabbits between the 1st of January and the 1st of November; plover between the 1st of January and the 15th of August; partridges between the 1st of January and the 1st of November; woodcock between the 1st of January and the 4th of July; speckled trout between the 1st of May and the 15th of August; black bass between the 1st of March and the 1st of July, &c. Fishing with nets, seins, fish baskets, and other devices, save hook and line only, is forbidden; hunting or fishing on Sunday is prohibited under a penalty of $25. Suitable penalties are imposed for violation of the law.

A christian convention of ministers and laymen, under the conduct of Messrs. Moody and Sankey, will be held in the Hippodrome, in New York City, on Wednesday and Thursday, March 29th and 30th. Morning and afternoon sessions of three hours will be held; practical topics relating to christian and ministerial work will be discussed, Mr. Moody presiding, and Mr. Sankey conducting the service of song. Each evening the Convention will be suspended and the evangelists will conduct their usual service. Tickets of admission to the Convention will be furnished to delegates on presentation of their credentials at the office of the Committee. The number of lay delegates from each church must not exceed five. Each church is cordially invited to appoint one or more laymen besides their pastor, and every one so accredited will be entitled to a delegate's ticket.

A ROUSE and a Juliet fair, wrapped tightly in and protected from the cold north wind by numerous buffaloes, afghans and blankets, indulged in a sleigh ride one night of last week. Juliet was not a native to the manner born and as they passed along within the dominion where our too stern Cæsar rules, the residences of Aldermen, Members of Council, and other prominent citizens were pointed out to her admiring gaze. Soon the town was left behind and the subject of conversation changed to the one that young people invariably discuss under the same circumstances. Bucephalus dashed on. The young people were squabbling as to whether toll was collectable for crossing a bridge over a small run. The sleigh struck a stone at the foot of Coal Hill and as he gathered his out of the snow he forgot all about toll. The head of Bucephalus was turned homeward, but by the time they reached East street the damsel's fears had been quieted and they concluded to try the Stoystown road. All was lovely and serene until they neared the bridge, when the discussion on tolls was renewed. The youth became so infatuated with his argument that he neglected to look out for drifts. One side of the sleigh suddenly started on a visit to the moon and two young people gathered themselves out of that snow bank, and while the cold north wind dallied through their dishevelled locks, solemnly

Resolved, That hereafter we will neither give nor take any toll that such is on the grab keepers of right, and that we will never give that except on compulsion, while we will reserve or take all we can.

And they never will.

HORROR OF HORRORS.—The most brutal experience with burglars, is described in a Busville, Pa., letter, and in substance is about as follows: For many years past an old German, named Bellman, lived there, and every morning regularly, he was in the habit of walking to the village to purchase a quart of beer. The other morning he did not make his appearance, which excited such general remark that some of the villagers went to his house in the hollow to see what was the matter. The window curtain was drawn, and nothing could be seen from the outside. Entering the house, they found the old German bound down in a chair with a bed cord and gagged. The room smelt strongly of smoke and kerosene, and burned remnants of paper, rags and straw were strewed about the floor. Under the old man's chair the floor was burned nearly through, and the legs and bottom of the chair were badly charred, showing that a fire had been built beneath it. What clothing the German had on was saturated with kerosene. He was at once released. When he broke forth in a storm of the most heart-spoken lamentations. He had been broken in upon in the night-time by the masked marauders, who saturated his clothing and bed with kerosene, and threatened to burn him up if he did not reveal the whereabouts of all his money. The old man refused to do it at first, but upon seeing the flames curling about him he yielded, his courage forsook him, and he called out to his despoilers to put out the fire and he would tell them where they might find his money. They made him swear on the Bible, that he would give up every living plake, however before they extinguished the flames. They then followed his directions, and in different places, in chinks and under boards, they searched until they got about two thousand dollars. They accepted Bellman's declaration that he had no more, after prosecuting further search on their own account, but they left behind them over eight thousand dollars, which was hidden under a flat stone in an outbuilding. After turning things upsy turvy, they again gagged and bound the old man and secured him in the chair, where he was found in the morning.

COOK & BEERITS.
March 8, 1876.

A Word to the Shoe Trade.

The prices of Boots and Shoes are tumbling down in common with other manufactured articles, and wholesale dealers who buy for cash, are taking advantage of this, by laying in their stock at low figures. The house of J. H. Boreland & Co., of Pittsburgh, buying exclusively for cash, as they do, obtain goods lower than other houses, and sell lower to cash customers. The firm also manufacture largely themselves, having extensive factories at Lynn, and other points in the East, with facilities that cannot be surpassed, they are now offering the most extraordinary inducements to cash buyers. Call at their house Nos. 53 and 55 Wood Street, and examine goods and prices. See card in this paper.

Hope for the Despondent.

If you have been coughing all winter and begin to despair of recovery, or if you have taken a recent cold, go at once to the Drug store of Geo. W. Benford & Co., and get a bottle of DR. MORRIS' SYRUP OF TAR, WILD CHERRY AND HOREHOUND. Take it and be well. No other medicine acts so promptly and effectually in Coughs, Colds, and all diseases of the throat, lungs and chest, leading to Consumption. Hundreds who once thought they had that dread disease have been restored to health by the use of this almost magic remedy. It is also the best known specific for Croup, and never fails in Whooping Cough. Trial size 10 cents, large size 50 cents per bottle.

Sensible Advice.

You are asked every day through the columns of newspapers and by your Druggists to use something for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint that you know nothing about, you get discouraged spending money with but little success. Now to give you satisfactory proof that GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER will cure you of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint with all its effects, such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Water-brash, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, &c., we ask you to go to your Druggists G. W. Benford & Co. and get a sample bottle of GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER for 10 cents and try it, or a Regular Size for 75 cents; two doses will relieve you.

Prompt Reinforcement.

When the physical energies are overtasked or flag through weakness or disease, they need prompt reinforcement. Renewed vigor is most speedily supplied through the medium of a tonic stimulant, and among medicinal resources of that class, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters assuredly deserve a prominent place. Weakness, whether constitutional or arising from disease or over fatigue, cannot be better compensated for than by a resort to this prime strengthening cordial. The enfeebled invalid, the convalescent and the aged and infirm find that it is an unfailing source of vigor and comfort. Its combined tonic and alterative properties also constitute it an invaluable remedy for indigestion, weakness of the organs of urination, constipation, torpidity of the liver, and many other irregularities and disabilities, and render it an invaluable protection against malaria, as well as disorders of the stomach and bowels.

Church Notes.

Rev. J. A. Grimm, of the Evangelical Association, has been re-appointed Presiding Elder of this district. Rev. Grimm is deservedly very popular in this district, not only with the members of the Evangelical Association, but with all whom he is brought in contact.

At the recent session of the M. E. Conference, at Canton, Ohio, the following appointments were made for this county:

Presiding Elder, A. J. Endsley.
Smithfield, C. W. Smith.
Somerset, J. B. Taylor.
Meyersdale, P. L. Castle.
Confluence, O. A. Emerson.
Addison, N. Lucrock.

Rev. W. A. Stewart, for a long time just out of the Methodist Church at this place, has been assigned by the Conference, to Brownsville, Fayette County.

Rev. A. C. Johnson has been assigned to the Homer, Indiana County, circuit.

M. D. Lichtliter has been assigned to the Wesley Chapel.

A. H. Norcross has been appointed to expound the gospel to the people of Cadiz, Ohio.

The Lutheran congregation of this place have commenced work on the audience room of their church. They have a fine lot of stone on hand for steps in front of the church. The bell, which was damaged the time the church was struck by lightning is to be replaced by one five hundred pounds heavier.

The bell for the Presbyterian Church arrived on Thursday last. It was cast at the McShane Bell Foundry, of Baltimore, Md., and bears the inscription: "Presented by the ladies of the congregation as a memorial of the fire of 1872, which destroyed this church, and of the Centennial year of 1876, in which it was rebuilt." The bell weighs one thousand pounds. McShane & Co., it will be remembered by readers of the HERALD, are the gentlemen who are casting the chime of bells for the centennial buildings.

THE UNION MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

The fine old corporation whose name appears at the head of this article commends itself to the public on several excellent grounds. By its long and highly honorable career, not less than by its superb financial standing and praiseworthy policy toward its patrons, its name is and has been for years past, the synonym for whatever of good inheres in the life insurance profession. For twenty-six years it has been before the people—the most of the time as a representative company—and during all of that period it has been able to successfully challenge public scrutiny and favorably compare its records with any other institution of similar age.

It has a membership at the present time of more than, twenty-one thousand, and gross assets of more than nine million dollars, invested in a most substantial and profitable manner. During the year 1874 the company increased its assets by $1,046,890 84, and received in premiums from new business $488,229 43, which was an increase over the new business of 1873 of $162,767 10. The gross premiums received during 1873 aggregated $1,670,295 18, and during 1874, $1,850,161, 00, a gain of $179,955 87. The interest receipts during the latter year amounted to $556,538 74, and the death losses to $450,681 00 showing an excess of interest receipts over death losses to the amount of $104,907 74, or, to put the matter still stronger perhaps, for every one hundred dollars which the company paid for death losses, it received as interest on its investments $123 28. The instances are rare indeed where such a splendid exhibit in this inner particular can be made. Only the few companies, and those among the oldest and staunchest in the land, are able to make their interest returns even keep pace with their death losses. The great majority of the companies are compelled to draw upon still other sources of profit than interest receipts in order to meet these claims. It is the ambition of every company from its earliest days to realize this point of strength and progress, but the Union Mutual, as we have shown, not only enjoys this measure of success, but has gone a long way beyond it, being able to contribute a large percentage of its interest earnings, after satisfying death claims out of them, to the increasing of its assets, and the enhancing of dividends to policy-holders. For some years past, the profits from this source have materially aided in the development of the very profitable surplus which the company now possesses, and it needs no argument to show that such a condition of affairs is in the line of the highest welfare of both the policy holders and the company.

By the last Massachusetts Insurance Report it appears that the Union Mutual's ratio of assets to liabilities at the beginning of the present year was 105.59 per cent against 111.95 per cent. the corresponding date of 1874, and that the surplus over all liabilities reached the creditable sum of $1,106,730 against $801,890 on January 1st, 1874. It also appears in the same official record that the average rate of interest realized by the company during 1874 was 8.46 per cent—the highest rate obtained by any company out of the large number reporting to the Massachusetts insurance department,—and that the net gain in the number of policies in force on January 1st of the present year over the number of one year previous, reached 2,950—a showing which was equalled by only one other company in the country.—United States Review, a leading Insurance Journal.

The above Company on the 19th of February, 1875, organized what is known as the Somerset County Local Board of Directors, whose duty it is to watch the interests of the Company and to loan in the county, all monies collected as premiums. One loan of $1,500 was made last fall and an other of $3,500 will be effected on April 1st. Those wishing insurance would consult their own interest by examining the records of the Union Mutual. No other company not working under the laws of Massachusetts can give you a strictly Non-Forfeiting Policy.

The members of the Board are A. H. Coffroth, John Hill, Herman L. Baer, Oliver Knepper, J. O. Meyers, W. H. Meyers, M. D., A. F. John, A. E. Fyan, and J. M. Hay. E. V. Goodchild is the special agent for the county.

WE are sorry for John H. Uhl, Esq., and regret exceedingly that he didn't have better luck. Why did you allow yourself to be put on that electoral ticket for anyhow? Take it easy until November, and then you can join that innumerable caravan that mooves toward the head waters of Salt River.

Berlin Items.

The concert given by the schools of our town on last Friday evening, taken as a whole, was a success. The exercises consisted, as is usual on such occasions, in orations, declamations and dialogues. Reading and spelling, two of the most important branches taught in our common schools, were entirely overlooked. We have no desire, however, to enter into any detailed account of the performances, but in our humble judgment the object of the exhibition, which we prefer to call it, could have been equally as well attained, if some of the nonsensical and positively silly declamations, had been left out. While We like fun as well as anybody else, but we doubt whether school exhibitions are the proper place to retail it, unless it is of the most innocent character. It is but justice to say that the younger performers acquitted themselves admirably, both as regards preparation, and their deportment while on the stage. The music was furnished by the string band, and was very good, and appropriate to the occasion.

Mr. Direly under whose management our schools made fair progress this winter, is a gentleman and a teacher of considerable experience. We understand he leaves town in a few days to take charge of a Soldiers' Orphan school in the eastern part of the State.

Mr. Price, from Dauphin County, who has been in our midst the past winter superintending his coal mines, has bought the Brallier Tavern Stand. He intends to refit it and open a boarding house of the first order. We rejoice that the house has fallen into the hands of a perfect gentleman, who has the means and business qualifications to make it a success. Mr. Price's business transactions and gentlemanly dealings with everybody, has won him a reputation of which he can justly be proud. Old Dauphin, can't you send us more like him?

School closed March 15th. The attendance during the latter part of the term was rather irregular, owing to several causes; quite a number we did not enroll; this is the case in about all the schools of somerset county at the closing up of a school, attendance irregular—parents and child en get curious.

I am truthfully aware that I never received better treatment at the hands of any community, and I have taught at many different points in the county, than I did from the citizens of Confluence. In return for their kindness and hospitality shown toward me while teaching among them as a teacher. May they always be blessed with good teachers and flourishing schools and a realization of their brightest hopes for the future. "Josh Billings" says "if their is any person on the top of the ground that he would take his hat off to, it is the common school teacher." Confluence is full of Josh Billings.—May God bless them for their respect and generosity.

TO THE CHILDREN.—You have proved yourselves worthy of our regard in the strict attention you have paid to your duties as students. You have evinced a desire for improvement that entitles you to our consideration; and the speed of your advancement has been commensurate with the efforts you have made. But there are other reasons why we deem you worthy. We have reason to believe you are dutiful to your parents. You have ever acted kind to your school-mates and shown in all things a determination to win the approbation of your teachers.

Children you go to school that you may grow wiser and better. You do not go simply to learn how to read and write and to recite lessons; for he who learns much without becoming more pious and humble makes bad use of his learning; you should also learn to be obedient, faithful kind, and true; and you should be willing to study, because it will strengthen and improve your minds, and make you more useful and happy. Remember, that children who do not obey their teachers and parents will not very likely do anything that is good, and grow up and not respect the rulers, nor the laws of their country or of God. Children I hope that you will choose the path of obedience and of goodness, and you will find it in the end to be a path of pleasantness and peace. But there is another teacher, children, higher and better than the teachers who taught your school, and can do more for you than all others. Over eighteen hundred years ago he was a teacher upon this earth. You miss go unto him and be his disciples.

I. J. MILLER,
ANNIE VANBORN,
Teachers.

Marsh Again.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—C. P. Marsh was again before the sub-committee of the Judiciary Committee this morning. His attention was called to the article in the New York Tribune of March, 1872, in relation to the post-tradership at Fort Sill, stating that Evans had paid Marsh $12,000 a year for the place, etc. Marsh said he called Gen. Belknap's attention to the article, and asked who could have written or in-prced it, when Belknap replied that he supposed it was the work of Gen Hazen. Marsh explained the reason why he went to Montreal after giving his testimony before the Committee on Expenditures in the War Department. He apprehended when he read the debate in the House which appeared on the morning of the day he left New York, that he might be indicted for a criminal offense; and hence his anxiety to get out of the way of arrest.

Flood in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, March 24.—This section has been visited by a heavy rain, which proves very disasterous to all railroads. The Arkansas river is rising rapidly. The Ouachita, Saline and White are out of their banks, and flooding the country. The Iron Mountain Railroad is badly damaged in several places. A southern bound train this morning ran into a washout six miles south of Malvern, ditching the engine, baggage, mail, express and one passenger car, injuring Thos. Elliot, mail agent, and Wm. Casseler, express messenger. North of Little Rock two washouts are reported. The Hot Springs Railroad is badly damaged, and trains will be detained a few days. Texas trains are all delayed.

Goods for the Centennial.

PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—Yesterday afternoon the steamer Labrador arrived here from France, bringing a cargo composed entirely of works of art, for the French department of Centennial Exposition. The Labrador is probably the largest vessel that ever entered this port. The steamer Donati, from Rio de Janeiro, bringing goods for exhibition in the Brazilian department, also arrived yesterday afternoon.

Shot Dead for Turning State's Evidence.

ALBANY, March 22.—Conroy one the Utica masked burglars who had turned State's evidence was shot dead yesterday, during a parley between the officers who had him in charge and a party of men who claimed him, asserting they were officers, but who are supposed to have belonged to the gang of burglars.
