PEACH TREES are just coming in bloom in Wellersburg.

THE martins, those sure harbingers of spring, have put in an appearance.

THE number of persons in attendance at court last week was unusually small.

THE Repository says that money was offered in Cham-ersburg, on the 1st, as low as four per cent.

THE boys are hunting up their fishing tackle and soon the creek will be lined with young Waltons.

ABOUT seven inches of snow fell last winter against eighty five inches in the winter of 1874-75.

Somerset, Pa., March 15, 1876.

ONE day of last week Mr. Henry Pennell, of Shade tp., was thrown from his horse and so seriously injured that for a time his life was disp ired of. At last accounts he was slowly recovering.

GEO. R. PARKER is now receiving and opening his annual Spring Stock, which is large and complete in all lines of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods and Notions. Main Street, opposite the Barnet House.

EVERY family in the country desiring health, comfort and economy, should at once order 40 pounds of Cork Shavings (for beds) from Armstrong Bro.'s & Co., of Pittsburgh. See their advertisement.

BRIGHTER days are coming—just think of it. Blue-birds dandelions, caravans, scissor-grinders, violets and hand-organs, will soon sing, shine, show, sharpen, scent, and shriek that Spring has come. Strange but true.

THEY kept Easter well in the Independent office at Meyersdale. So well in fact, that they all with one accord, from the editor to the devil, declare that they do not want to see an egg or even hear a hen cackle for the next six months.

ON Saturday last Mr. Joseph Kelm, of Salisbury, while attempting to cross the railroad at Mineral Point was struck by an engine and rolled into the ditch along side the road. He was bruised considerably about the head and shoulder but escaped whithout any serious injuries.

G. R. PARKER.

A SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—A little daughter of Solomon Mc Lucas, of Ayr township, known as the "Corner," was burned to death, on Sabbath last, April 2d.—The poor unfortunate was but two years of age, and in her childish simplicity was amusing herself by throwing shavings on the fire in an open fire place. Her clothing becoming ignited brought about the above unfortunate result.—Fulton Democrat.

AN individual who stopped over Sunday night at the Logan House, Altoona, put a roll of greenbacks amounting to $130 under his pillow. The next morning he forgot his money until he had been down stairs for some time, and in the meantime the sheets of the bed he had occupied been sent to the wash house. A rigorous search of the bed failed to show up the money, and he promptly accused the chambermaid of having appropriated the entire sum. This she indignantly denied, and finally some person suggested that perhaps it would be found in the sheets. They were taken out of the basket, and a little shaking brought out the entire roll, which had been gathered up unpreceived when they were removed from the bed. Then the guest apologized all around.

GOOD INK.—There is not an ink made in the world that is free from defects, but some makes are superior to others. There is not an article of common use over which scientific experiment has brooded with so little success as this fluid, found in all the habitations of man throughout the civilized world. The reason that science cannot produce a perfect writing medium is in the fact that chemicals are necessary in its preparation and their presence in the ink renders it subject to atmospheric influence, so that it thickens, or moulds, or pales, and becomes a fruitful cause for bad humor and bad words even among refined people. As a general rule persons bestow little or no care upon the article when it is taken home. They leave it remain where last used, sometimes in a cold place, at other times in a hot place, thus hastening its ruin. Find the best place in your house for ink—a dark cupboard with a uniform temperature, for instance—and keep it there all the year round.

A SEARCHER of ancient records has exhumed the following weather Statictics, for Germany! In 1241 the trees bloomed in March, and in May cherries were ripe. In 1289 there was no winter, and young girls wore wreathes of violets at Christmas. In December, 1538, the gardens were green and in full bloom the following month. The years 1572, 1588, 1607, 1609 and 1617 were similarly abnormal. There was neither snow nor frost in 1652. The trees bloomed in February 1722. The year 1807 was extremely mild, as also 1834 and 1846.

AUDITING BOROUGH AND TOWNSHIP ACCOUNTS.—March 31st Governor Hartranft approved a bill which provides "that the time for the auditors of the several townships and boroughs within this commonwealth to meet annually shall be and is hereby changed from the first Monday of June annually, as provided in the act of of which this is a supplement, to the second Monday of April annually, except so far as said auditing relates to the accounts of school directors." As we receive this information directly from Representative Billingsley, it may be relied upon as correct. The district auditors of our county should not fail to act in accordance with its provisions.—Washington Review and Examiner.

Worth its Weight in Gold.

Undoubtedly the greatest modern discovery in medicine is DACOSTA'S RADICAL CURE for Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Costiveness, Biliousness, Loss of Appetite, distress after eating, and all disorders caused by indigestion or a deranged liver. Its results are astonishing, and sure relief is guaranteed in every case where it is faithfully used. It tones up the stomach, regulates the liver, restores the natural appetite, strengthens the delicate, and expells all morbid humors from the system. Typhoid and Bilious fever might in almost every case be prevented by its timely use. Trial size 25 cents. A very few doses will relieve, and a little perseverance cure you.

Sold by G. W. BENFORD & Co., Somerset Pa.

Wonderful Success!

It is reported that BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP has, since its introduction in the United States, reached the immense sale of 40,000 dozen per year. Over 6,000 Druggists have ordered this MEDICINE direct from the Factory, at Woodbury, N. J., and not one have reported a single failure, but every letter speaks of its astonishing success in curing severe Coughs, Colds settled on the breast, Consumption or any disease of Throat and Lungs. We advise any person that has any predisposition to weak Lungs, to go to their Druggists, G. W. Benford & Co., and get this Medicine, or inquire about it. Regular size, 75 cents; sample bottle, 10 cents. Two doses will relieve any case. Don't neglect your cough.

Dragging out Existence.

The nervous, weakly invalid does not enjoy life, but merely "drags out existence," as the phrase is. Unfitted for the active pursuits of life, and incapable of partaking of its pleasures, to which health alone can give a zest; disinclined to social intercourse, and a prey to melancholly, valetudinarian is indeed an object of pity. Yes there is nothing in all this that cannot be remedied by that genial alterative tonic and nervine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which supplies deficient stamina, braces the nervous system, and overcomes those bodily irregularities to which nervous weakness is most frequently attributable. Diseases of the kidney and bladder, imperfect digestion, and uterine troubles are fertile sources of debility. Their eradication, however, becomes a matter of certainty when Hostetters Stomach Bitters are systematically used for that purpose. The Bitters likewise annihilate and prevent fever and ague and other debilitating febrile complaints af a malarial nature.

DUCK HUNTERS.—On Friday last Capt. Charles Harrison and Mr. Park Dayton, thinking that a canvas back or two would be rather "toothsome," brought down their guns, put a fiery, untamed steed between the shafts of the Captain's buggy and started for the dam, places where ducks do congregate. Charlie seized the reins and Park walked along the pavement singing:

There was a little man
Who had a little gun,
And his bullets were made of lead, lead, lead.
He went to the lake
To shoot a little duck,
And shot it through the head, head, head.

Whether Park's voice was so discordant or whether it was from some other cause, the horse started down Turkeyfoot street at a rapid gate and brought up against the lamp post on the corner of Turkeyfoot and South streets. The lamp post and buggy were both badly wrecked, but the Captain fortunately escaped without injury, and now both young men say that ducks are fishy at this time of the year, anyhow.

WHERE DOES THE MONEY GO?—Sir: In an article in the Meyersdale Independent headed "Commissioners vs. Commissioners," the editor of that journal wishes to know "where the money goes?"

To enlighten the worthy gentleman I have taken pains to asertain where a portion of it has gone at least.

Brothersvalley township, paid county taxes into the treasury for the year 1875,	$1,736 34
And has received out of the treasury during the same time, for bridges, &c.,	$0,000 00
Summit township and Meyersdale borough combined have received out of the treasury during the same time,	$2,695 00
Paid into the treasury, county taxes during the same time,	$ 656 88
	$2,633 12

"That's the way the money goes."

Brothersvalley tp. has not been selected as being the only township that received no money out of the treasury in 1875, but simply as a parallel, as the comparison will hold good all over the county, with a few exceptions.

It will thus be seen that Summit township and Meyersdale borough, with all their boasted wealth, draw out of the county treasury nearly five times what they put in, which of course has to be made up by their poor neighbors.

"There's where the money goes."

An Act

To enable Assignees, for the benefit of Creditors, to make sales of Real Estate encumbered by liens.

WHEREAS, It frequently occurs in assignments for the benefit of creditors where the assignor is the owner of a number of tracts of land encumbered to such an extent that it is impossible to ascertain definitely whether a sufficient amount can be realized to discharge all the liens whereby the titles made by the assignees are rendered as doubtful, and the assignees are thereby unable to make advantageous sales of said real estate; therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That in all assignments for the benefit of creditors it shall and may be lawful for the several courts of common pleas of this Commonwealth, upon application of the assignees of insolvent debtors, setting forth that the personal estate is insufficient for the payment of the debts, and the real estate encumbered with liens to such an extent as to render it difficult to determine whether the same can be sold for enough to pay all the liens as aforesaid, to grant an order, where the said court shall deem it for the manifest interest of all parties, authorizing and empowering the said assignees to make public sale of such real estate, or so much thereof as shall be deemed necessary, at such place and upon such terms as the said court shall direct; of which sale notice shall be given twenty days prior thereto by hand-bills and publication in at least two newspapers in the county where the said lands are situated, should two newspapers be published in said county, one of which may be German, if such be published in the county; which sale or sales, after being confirmed by said court, shall discharge all liens against the real estate so sold, excepting that where the lien of a mortgage upon real estate is or shall be prior to all other liens upon the same property, except other mortgages, ground rents and the purchase money due the Commonwealth; the lien of such mortgages shall not be destroyed or in any way affected by any sale made by virtue or authority of any sale made under the provisions of this act, and the proceeds arising therefrom shall be appropriated to liens extinguished by virtue of such sale according to their priority: Provided, before said sale is authorized the assignee or assignees shall file a bond, with two approved sureties in double the estimated value of said real estate, conditioned for a faithful appropriation of the proceeds thereof: And provided further, That the court shall require such proof of notice of such intended application to have been given to the lien creditors or their attorneys as said court shall deem sufficient to give said lien creditors an opportunity to be heard touching said order of sale.

SECTION 2. Whenever said court shall grant an order of sale as aforesaid, said court may order a stay of execution on all liens that may be divested by such sale by the assignee until said order shall be expended or revoke: Provided, That it shall be lawful for said court to extend any order of sale, granted as aforesaid, or to award an alias or pluries order of sale.

SECTION 3 Whenever any such assignee shall make sale, either public or private, of any real estate, assigned under the deed of assignment, and the assignor or any person should refuse to surrender possession of the real estate so sold to the purchaser at said sale, it shall thereupon be lawful for said purchaser, after having fully complied with the terms of said sale, to file a petition in the court of common pleas of the proper county setting forth the facts, and the said court shall thereupon direct notice of the filing of such petition, to be served upon the person in possession, and requiring him or her to show cause, within ten days from the time of service of such notice, why possession should not be surrendered to such purchaser. The court shall, upon the filing of such petition and answer, or if no answer be filed then upon the expiration of the ten days aforesaid, hear and determine whether or not the purchaser is entitled to possession, and if so make an order directing the sheriff to deliver to said purchaser possession of the premises: Provided, That the liens of mechanics and material men shall not in any way be invalidated or impaired by any of the provisions of this act, but the same shall in all cases be entitled to receive out of the proceeds of sale whatever sum they may be legally entitled to, according to right and priority of lien.

Speaker of the House of Representatives.
JOHN LATTA,
President of the Senate.

Addison Items.

We are deeply pained to announce, and we know that many readers of the HERALD will be distressed to learn, that our old and kind hearted friend Matthew E. Spear, keeper of the Petersburg toll-gate (on the old National road) is suffering from that frightful disease cancer, in the mouth. It was long hoped, almost against hope, that it would prove to be only a troublesome ulcer, but there is no longer any room for doubt. The families of three of the Spear bothers are undergoing the saddest and most hopeless of afflictions. They have the satisfaction of knowing, however, that they have the respect, sympathy, and earnest good-wishes of all their acquaintances.

Jacob Firestone, an old resident of Turkeyfoot and Addison, died lately leaving a family in want and the majority of them totally unfitted to fight the bitter battle of life. We hope and believe that it is only necessary to let the charitable and religious portion of our people, especially of the adjoining region, know that there is want and suffering among us to have it relieved. Nor will they stop to ask "the cause that made them poor or why they help demand." But in imitation of the Master, first to relieve suffering then gently say "Go thou and sin no more."

By some oversight the death of one of our oldest neighbors was overlooked by the localist of this section.

Mrs. Rebecca Mitchell, relict of John A. Mitchell, one of the best known and most respected men of Addison, died at the house of her son Alfred, at Listons, on Wednesday 5th inst., and was buried at Petersburg on Saturday the 7th.

Can you inform us Mr. Local Editor, when Billy Barlow of happy memory, (not he, of the one hoss and shoe notoriety; but the one famous for the old and excellent knife that bore his honored name) died; or in what year the manufacture of the famous Barlow knife began.

A Barlow knife with wonderfully well-worn blade and other marks of hard service, was dug up in the clay and passed through the mud mill, of Black's pottery, and is now in possession of our antequarian friend Gen. Ross, who has had it cleaned and carefully cared for.

It bears the old Barlow stamp on the blade still plainly visible, as is also the date of 1760. Now was this knife made and used in that epoch or was the date continued on for years. Everything about this particular specimen bears the genuine marks of antiquity. The handle is the rough bone rarely if ever seen now. Its condition and appearance leave little doubt on our mind that this knife was in actual use by some hardy frontiersman, and a valuable piece of property

"In good old colony times,
When they lived under a King."

Rumors are rife, of dire disease. Dismal doubts assail the timid while even the bolder spirits dread the approach of fierce contagion—more on account of the children than their own. Our friend Dr. Mitchell is quite busy, but we are satisfied it is only the concomitants of changeful weather and the cold damps of spring. Little Emma, daughter of A. J. Colborn, who was supposed to have scarlet fever, is improving, we are pleased to learn.

Dr. Hartzell in closing out a portion of his spring trade up to the past week, has shipped to the east:

Over $20,000 worth of ginseng, upwards of 2000 lbs of beeswax, and nearly $4,000 worth of furs and skins.

These valuable articles have all been gathered in the mountains of West Virginia, where the majority of visitors and tourists find nothing but discomfort and annoyance. See nothing but the oddities and want of style of the inhabitants. Industry and enterprise not only secure fortune but make fast friends and useful acquaintance out of the men who excite only laughter in the would-be-fashionables who stray to that romantic but uncultivated region.

AN APRIL JOKE.—On the 1st of April two funny fellows in Confluence concluded to play a trick on Dr. F. So James in a great hurry ran for the Dr. telling him Jot was very sick, was cramped or something. Off hastened the Dr. not waiting for his mututinal coffee, and was soon beside the seeming sick man's couch inquiring anxiously how he felt.

Never better in my life, said he, jumping up and laughing.

Full price of a regular sick call, says the Dr. and my medicine saved.

And then: Well he didn't laugh so loud, that's all.

One must go away from home to hear the news. The truth of the old adage was again demonstrated by learning during a short absence from home that we were soon to lose an enterprising citizen and your goodly borough gain one, in the person of W. W. Hartzell. Wilson, so rumor says, is about to locate in Somerset and go into the hay business, extensively. He has purchased the necessary machinery for bailing, pressing and cutting and will operate in and around Somerset, Berlin and Mineral Point. We regret that the facilities were not offered by our section of country, for it will be very beneficial to the farmer and laborer and put large sums of money into general circulation. Hay culture has never attracted the attention it deserved from our people. In this portion of the county but little more is raised than is needed for home consumption. We believe this enterprise will greatly benefit the county but would prefer to see it started here. But we do not begrudge it for "What goes to freends is not a' thegither lost."

The lumber business which forms the largest item in the productions of most localities, is diverted toward the railroad, and we are consequently almost entirely ignorant of its figures and facts. The Liston woollen factory and the foundry are the only real live, paying enterprises in a manufacturing way that we can boast of. Of both of them we can boast as doing excellent work, in their lines, of increased productiveness and profit, and being real substantial blessings to the community. While the foundry was closed our town seemed quite dead, and "Bryner, the venerable" was like a fish out of water. He took a holiday by mauling rails and building lime kilns. If the foundry had not started last Monday he would have gone to hard work.

Speaking of the foundry reminds us of another piece of news we learned away from home. And that was, that Judson, the indefatigable, the pushing, and industrious, not satisfied with doing two men's work thought he might as well work for three while he was at it. One day last week while grinding some piece of iron smooth, the immense stone on which he was working, bursted as is their frequent wont, and tried to kill him by hurling against his breast and shoulder a chunk weighing 140 lbs, which but for a merciful providence would have crushed him.

While we sympathize fully in his efforts to get to work and fill large orders for his plows, and other wares, we would seriously advise him "to be good to himself," to spare himself now, even if he had to take a partner and share the proceeds, better that, than work himself to death to build up a trade, that, however, gratifying to him cannot compensate for loss of life or health. His plow trade alone will soon engage one man's entire attention. We unhesitatingly pronounce it the most promising and best paying business of which we have any knowledge. One that any man can justly pride himself on building up and one that can be indefinitely increased. But:

"Says me owld uncle Dan, both quiet and stiddy, What's all the world to a man when his wife is a widdy."
