

ELECTORAL TICKET.

- Electoral ticket listing candidates for various offices including Governor, Senators, and Representatives.

Confederate U. S. Senator and removing the Republican officials by impeachment...

The Democratic politicians of the South are bold, desperate, shrewd, and utterly unscrupulous. They are playing their game to win at all hazards...

Gov. Hendricks' home is at Shelbyville, Ind., where the Republicans carry this year by 98 majority, sweeping every ward. This is a gain of 120 over last year.

The indications are that the Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment in the case of ex-Secretary Belknap, will decide that they have no power to impeach a private citizen...

PARSON BROWNLOW says he should support the nominee of the Cincinnati Convention, and that he is opposed to any man for the Presidency who does not at ever did or ever will look with the least degree of favor upon the late secession war.

The Boston Watchman, a religious paper, thinks: "It is time to turn about and investigate these 'investigations.' The party in power uses witnesses just as a burglar uses a light lantern."

As the result of bringing up Gov. Morton's war record, the Cincinnati Commercial says: "The Confederate Brigadiers all remember with a sigh the little anecdote related in the House by Sam Cox about the negro boy who tickled the hind legs of a mule and was not so handsome afterward, but knew a great deal more."

The opening of the Centennial Exposition appears to have been a grand success. As compared with other international exhibitions this is said to be in many points superior to all that have preceded it.

The most disgraceful contest for a United States Senator ever witnessed in this country, was brought to a close in Connecticut on Wednesday by the nomination of Congressman Barnum over Senator English.

Communications received this morning from West Feliciana parish state that Weber, State Senator, Dula, Parish Judge, and Armistead, ex-member of the House of Representatives, have been driven out of the parish by the Republicans...

NEW YORK LETTER. NEW YORK, May 15, 1876. SPECIE FOR AND AGAINST. Those old fogies who feared that their children would never know a silver quarter by sight, in their forebodings made rain by the little flurry of it from the treasury.

The Democracy of the South have commenced "organizing" for the Presidential campaign. Their motto is "anything to beat the Republicans," and assassination is a ready means of removing a political opponent.

The Amateur Theatrical Society, made up largely of young people connected with Mr. Frothingham's church, has plenty of laurels and substantial success to look back to at the close of its season.

CENTENNIAL LETTER.

PHILADELPHIA, May 10, 1876. EDITOR HERALD.—The long look-out for event has taken place and the exhibition is now open to the public. I think that all the world was there to see the opening. All the city was as if at day-break this morning and the firing of cannon, and the ringing of bells awoke me. Every house in the whole city was profusely decorated with flags...

PHILADELPHIA, May 10.—All day yesterday, last night, and this morning trains arriving here from every direction have been bringing crowds of people to the city from all parts of the globe to witness the opening ceremonies of the Nation's International Exhibition to-day.
