CHECKER company, who recently been re-visited by a young man, who represents the matter in that paper. It is a magazine. He exhibits copies of two or three numbers, which he offers as premiums, also soliciting the furnishing of a check book. He offers any sum he can get, asking from 25 cents to $2, according to the apparent circumstances of those who deal with him, and promises to forward the check book and the first number of the magazine in a few days. As this velocity possibly try his game in this vicinity, we feel it our duty to warn our friends, and give him a reception befitting his occupation.

A Somerset county man displayed a cow at the fair held there last week, that he made of double distilled extract of lactose. The matter is put under a microscope and found to be pure. It is worth about a dime per gallon.
