SNYDER & URL.

THE Philadelphia Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals during 1876 investigated 815 cases of cruelty, and had 635 horses and mules turned out of harness.

THE P. O. Department will require the transfer of mails in large cities hereafter, to be made in vans covered with iron netting to prevent loss by theft and otherwise.

MR. R. C. Wiley, editor of the Herald, Elizabeth, Pa., called at our office one day last week. He is a pleasant companion, and our latch string hangs on the outer wall.

THE meanest wretch in the world is the employer of the Boston lad who earns $2 a week, and who, being detained at home half a day owing to the inclemency of the weather, had his wages docked sixteen cents.

LET'S all go South. In Florida the flowers are blooming in the gardens and the great luscious oranges are hanging ripe on the trees, while the air is soft as summer and no clouds darken the light blue skies.

FOR RENT.—A Grist Mill, in Addison township, with a good property attached. Possession given the 1st of April. For further information address
J. P. H. WALKER,
Ursina, Pa.

ATTORNEY General Lear has given it as his opinion that there will be no election for Assessors in this State this year at the spring elections which take place on February 20th. The present Assessors, who were elected in 1876 hold their offices until the first Monday of April, 1878.

THE latest swindle is that in which peddlers go around to private houses with nice boxes of dollar tea which they offer at 40 cents, claiming to have bought it at auction. One-fourth of the contents of the boxes it is found is good tea, but the balance is dust and tissue paper.

U. B. APPOINTMENTS.—The United Brethren Conference, which was in session for several days at Altoona, adjourned on Monday a week. The following appointments were made for this county:

Presiding Elder, J. Midsgar.
Somerset, C. Wortman.
Castleman, J. S. Buell.

THE following arithmetical nut is puzzling the brains of New Castle; can any of our readers crack it? Seven men buy a billiard cue, and agree to give in to the man of their number who wins the most games. Each man has to play each of his companions one game (and no more). How many games would they all play?

A WASHINGTON statesman wittily likens the Congressional shuffle to a game of cribbage, to wit:

"Five Supreme Court judges, five Senators and five Representatives for the count, fifteen two, fifteen four, fifteen six, then turn a jack, one for the nob, equals the game, 185. But who turns the jack, Tilden or Hayes?

THOSE two foes of bodily comfort, Rheumatism and the Gout, cause their twinges, if the affected part is daily washed with Glenn's Sulphur Soap, which banishes pain and renders the joints and muscles supple and elastic. Depot Crittenton's, No. 7 Sixth Avenue, N. Y. Hill's Hair & Whisker Dye, black or brown, 50 cents.

THE members of the Somerset County Agricultural Society will meet at the Court House on Wednesday evening, January 31, 1877, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year.
JOSIAH MOWRY,
President.
E. M. SCHROCK,
Secretary.

WE acknowledge the receipt of the New York Tribune Almanac for 1877. It is the very best political hand-book extant. No well regulated politician can possibly get along without it. It presents such a variety of topics, statistics, etc., that we will not attempt to enumerate them. It can be had for the moderate price of 25 cents.

TO THE FARMERS!
Ship your Butter to
W. S. TEMPLE & CO.
They got best prices last season for every farmer who shipped to them, and if you wish high prices this season you will do well to ship to them.

WAGONS.

Having recently accepted the agency for this county of the Studebaker Co., I am selling excellent wagons of all dimensions on special terms of Ten Dollars monthly payments.

Any person wanting a wagon will certainly find it decidedly to their interest to consult me before purchasing elsewhere.

THE most innocent things are becoming engines of destruction. A spiral shirt-stud in California nearly gouged its owners eye out, and a feather bed in Ohio exploded and pinioned its occupants up against the ceiling. Men must now keep away from the kindling wood, and there is no telling when, in a moment of emotional insanity, the seemingly docile saw-horse may rise up and kick the stuffing out of its owner.

IT is reported that the saloon keepers of Pittsburgh and Allegheny offered Murphy $15,000 to leave the cities. About 27,000 persons have, so far, taken the pledge. The intense anxiety to secure seats at his meetings is shown in the action of some eight or ten ladies, who, attending a meeting of the North Avenue, Allegheny, M. E. Church, one afternoon, took oysters and coffee, cooked their supper, and remained in the building in order to be in time for the temperance meeting in the evening.

KNOW one woman by these presents, that the local editor of the Bedford Gazette claims to be the author of the following lines, which were published in the HERALD a few weeks ago, and not properly credited:

An aged man with careful tread,
Slipped up this morn—lit on his head,
And as he rose we heard him yell,
"Jam the slippery walk to jell."

THE boys, and some who were boys many moons ago, have been having a good time coasting for a week past. On Friday night Squire Dennis and the local were taken over the course on a large sled guided by Hamp Pile and steered by Isaac Miller. The rapidity with which electricity travels can no more be compared with the flight of that sled than can the time made by Jimmy Conklin's horse with that of Dexter. That is the first time. When we do it again, you may——hear of it.

UNDER the new law, the invitation for proposals for carrying mails, are not published in a newspaper, but a printed list of all the routes in Pennsylvania will be found by those interested, in the postoffice of the neighborhood. All the routes in the State are to be given out on March 10, 1877, and proposals will be received until 2 o'clock on the afternoon of February 3d. The contract will be from July 1, 1877, to June 30, 1881. Those interested in the routes of this county can see a copy of the list in any postoffice in the county.

ON Friday last three prisoners from Clearfield county were lodged in the Western Penitentiary who had been convicted of larceny. One gets a year and three months, one a year and two months, and one a year and six months. Huntingdon county also furnishes three convicts, one of whom convicted of perjury, will serve a term of two years and three months, and the other two eighteen months each for larceny and receiving stolen goods. The total number of prisoners in the penitentiary at the present time is 732.

A WOMAN with a bees' nest in her hair would probably be a lively spectacle; but Joaquin Miller tries, in the Independent, to make such a thing romantic, as follows:

If all the world a garden were,
And women were but bowers:
If men were bees that busied there
Through all the summer hours:
Oh! I would hum the garden through,
For honey till it come to you.
Then I should hive within your hair,
Its sun and gold together;
And I should bide in glory there,
Through all the changeful weather.

NOTICE.

Having this day purchased from J. W. Patton, his entire stock of merchandize, I propose continuing the mercantile business by carrying on a general stock, and most respectfully solicit patronage from the people of this town and vicinity, and all others in want of goods. I intend adding from time to time, such goods as will make the stock so complete in all departments that it will be to the interest of those in want of goods to call and see me before purchasing elsewhere.
ED. E. PATTON.
SOMERSET, PA., Dec. 26, 1876.

THE Tribune and Herald, Greensburg, says: We learn that a clerk at a sale not far from town, dated the notes taken for property sold, January, 1876, payable six months after date, and those who bought property at the sale signed them without looking at the date. We understand that the party to whom they are payably, has negotiated them, and that the parties holding them demand payment with six month's interest, as according to the notes they were due last July, instead of next July. Moral: Read every line and figure in any instrument of writing before you sign it.

A NEW method of clearing off large accumulations of snow has lately been tried with marked success on several railroads. Small cups or indentures are made in the snow at uniform distances, which are filled with crude oil; care is taken not to put in too much. The oil is then set on fire and the snow melts rapidly away. If there is any surplus of oil left after the work is done, it is readily extinguish by a few shovels-full of ashes or earth. This plan has not yet been tried generally but it is quite probable that, with proper precaution, it might prove thoroughly practical and unquestionably very economical.

PEOPLE who find it difficult to sleep at night—and there are many such—are informed that an eminent American physician recommends that on retiring, persons afflicted with sleeplessness try the experiment of breathing slowly. This gentleman says that the cause of sleeplessness, in many cases, is hypercæmia or too brain (it makes no difference what that means), but the bottom fact is that slow breathing lessens the supply of blood to the brain, thereby restraining the activity of the mind and permitting the person to sleep. The proposed remedy is easy of sale, and at least worth trying.

False Impression.

It is generally supposed by a certain class of citizens, who are not practical or experienced, that Dyspepsia can not invariably be cured, but we are pleased to say that GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER has never, to our knowledge, failed to cure Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint in all its forms, such as Sour Stomach, Costiveness, Sick Headache, palpitation of the Heart, low spirits, &c., &c. Out of 30 000 dozen bottles sold last year, not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters received from druggists of wonderful cures. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sample Bottles 10 cents. Regular Size 75 cents. For sale by G. W. BENFORD.

"BOYS," chimed in Kettle-Belly Brown, "when I was on the arctic expedition with Dr. Hayes, I saw some darkies cold weather." Everybody bent to listen, for they knew that a master hand was at the keys. "They all froze to death but me, and I kept right on to the North Pole. Here is a chip I cut out of it just to show I was there. Anybody who has ever seen the Pole will recognize it. I see you all recognize it. I liked that country." "What made you leave it, then?" asked somebody. "The whisky froze up and I had to come further south," and the tears welled up as he recollected how much he had missed during his ten long years in the Arctic regions.

WORDS OF WARNING.

During the present year as in the past, the grave will claim over thousands, simply because they neglect the means which would restore them to health. Meet the fell destroyer at the threshold, and dispute his invasion by that more than wonderful medicine, Dr. Morris' Syrup of Tar Wild Cherry and Horehound. Thereby an cough or cold, case of asthma, bronchitis, blood spitting, weak lungs, croup or whooping cough which will not yield more readily to this great botanical remedy than any other medicine. If you would avoid disappointment, and be speedily cured, ask your druggist for Dr. Morris' Syrup of Tar, Wild Cherry and Horehound. Trial size, 10 cents. Regular sizes, 50 cents and $1.

For sale by G. W. Benford.

Also Agents for Prof. Parker's Pleasant Worm Syrup, which never fails. Pleasant to take, and requires no physic. Price 25 cents.

"WHAT is a 'cold deck' and a 'bob-tail flush?'" a young lady, the light of a Main Street home, asked the other evening, looking up from a newspaper she was reading. "Why," said her elder brother, "a cold deck——," and it was worth fifteen cents to a student of human nature to note how suddenly he checked himself, and what a variety of conflicting emotions played over his face as he bent over his book, and pretended not to see the sharp glance of suspicious inquiry which the father shot at him over his spectacles, while the silence was so profound and awful that the other members of the family looked up and gazed around in dumb amazement. An excess of knowledge is often times a burden. What does a man want to make himself a walking encyclopedia for.

REPUBLICAN MEETING.

The regural annual meeting of the Republican party was held in the Court House, at Somerset, on Tuesday evening, ing, January 23, 1877. The meeting was called to order by the chairman, E. M. Schrock, and the following officers were elected to preside for the evening: President, Wm. Reel; Vice Presidents, John Faidley, William Zimmerman; Secretaries, William Flick and S. U. Trent. On motion of John I. Scull, Esq., seconded by Hon W. H. Koontz, J. G. Ogle, Esq., was by acclamation elected County Chairman for the ensuing year. On motion of Col. Scull, Hon. E. D. Yutzy and Hon. E. J. Meyers, were elected delegates to the State Convention. On motion of Hon. W. H. Koontz, Hon. A. S. Will, was elected Senatorial Delegate. There being no further business, on motion J. L. Pugh, Esq., the meeting adjourned sine die.

AN exchange paper says: It seems now to be pretty well settled that our public waters, properly stocked with the right varieties of fish, will yield as much food as an acre of cultivated land. In Canada after a thorough stocking of the public water, and the time for attaining the requisite growth having passed, the sales of fish have increased over $1,000,000 a year. New York, by a judicious stocking of her waters with salmon, trout and shad has succeeded in reducing the prices of the latter from eighteen to three cents a pound, while waters before entirely barren of the two former varieties are now finely stocked. Wisconsin last year appropriated $10,000 to the development of fish culture, and the Commissioner of that State is now hatching 10,000,000 salmon and witefish. Several other Western States had appropriated from $5,000 to $20,000 for the same purpose.

THE McKeesport Times gives the particulars of an accident which happened at that place on last Saturday evening, and which resulted fatally. A young man by the name of James Hickman residing a short distance out of town, started in his sleigh having with him a young lady to attend church in McKeesport, and as they were about to cross the railroad track tailing either to see or hear an approaching train until they were close enough for the horse to almost touch the train which frightened the animal, and he suddenly turned, upsetting the sleigh throwing Mr. Hickman out, who slid down the icy bank directly under the wheels of the tender, and before the train could be stopped his right leg and arm and side were fearfully crushed and mangled. The unfortunate young man was removed to the baggage room of the station, and a physician summoned, but his injuries were of such a nature that he soon breathed his last. This is the second fatal accident that has happened at the same crossing within little more than a year.

A YOUNG lady named Millie Langham died very suddenly under rather mysterious circumstances at the residence of her sister, in Duncansville, Blair county, on Thursday night last. She was in the best of health and spirits when she left the house of a neighboring family, in which she was employed as a domestic, on the evening previous, but shortly after reaching her sister's abode she began to vomit terribly and exhibited other alarming symptoms of severe illness. As she absolutely refused, however, to have a physician called in, and further declared that she would soon be well enough, her friends put her to bed and took no further thought of her seemingly until about four o'clock on Friday morning, when her lifeless remains were found cold and prostrate upon the floor of her bed chamber. Much comment was of course elicited in the neighborhood by her strange and sudden death, but she was buried nevertheless on the second day after without any effort being made to fathom the mystery, and without even the coroner being notified of the circumstances. Justice indeed demands, as the Hollidaysburg Standard very properly remarks, a rigid inquiry into all the facts connected with this sad affair.

ANOTHER.—From the Saltsburg Press, of Indiana County, we glean the following:

"On Tuesday morning, 17th inst. about 7 o'clock, Mattie Becket, a little girl about eleven years of age, was the victim of a burning accident at Homewood, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, which resulted in her death. It appears that her parents allowed her to go to the house of a neighbor to watch some children, and while playing near the grate her clothes took fire. She immediately ran out of the doorway and started for home as fast as she could go, the flames at the same time enveloping her entire body. When she landed at her father's residence, Mr. Becket ran to the door and seeing the condition of his child, extinguished the flames as quickly as possible, but not until nearly all her clothing had been consumed. The little sufferer was attended by a physician who said he could do nothing for her. She lingered in great agony until the evening of the day above mentioned." If the publication of items of this kind would have a tendency to put people on their guard, our object would be easily accomplished, but we do not see that warnings of "mortals" amount to very much.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

CIVIL LIST.

Cornelius Berkley vs. John H. Boyts, et al, lease. Jury returned a verdict for defendants.

C. K. Grove vs. Daniel Flick, assumpsit. Jury return a verdict for the defendant.

Jas. Brown & Son vs. R. J. Ickler & Co. Jury returned a verdict for plaintiff for $546 08.

CRIMINAL LIST.

Com. vs. Thomas Riley, surety of the peace, on information of Samuel Adams. Each party sentenced to pay one half the costs.

Com. vs. Samuel Adams, assault and battery, on information of Thomas Riley. Verdict not guilty, and defendant to pay two-thirds and prosecutor one-third of the costs.

Com. vs. Eli Ogline, surety of the peace, on information of E. R. Shaffer. Each party to pay their own witnesses and one half of the docket costs.

Com. vs. Isaac Hugus, nuisance, on information of Wm. Gilbert. The nuisance charged was allowing the cellar on the lot on the corner of Union and Main Cross streets to remain open, to the danger of the good people of this Commonwealth. Verdict guilty.

THE Pittsburgh Evening Telegraph has this to say about the Trans-Allegheny Canal:

Representative Hopkins intends to introduce into the House and have referred to the Committee on Commerce, a memorial which he received yesterday, from Pittsburgh, relating to the "Youghiogheny water route to the Atlantic sea-board, and Youghiogheny river improvement, which bears "signatures authorized" of J. K. Moorehead, N. J. Bigley, Thomas Moore and C. A. Dravo. The memorial is addressed: To the Honorable the Committee on commerce of the House of Representatives." Representative Hopkins informs me that it is similar to the document which was laid before the senate Committee Committee during the last session but was never formally presented to Congress. It will now be presented in the proper way, and a determined effort will be made to induce the Commerce Committee to recommend the Appropriation Committee the addition of a clause in the River and Harbor Appropriation bill, providing for the appropriation required to begin the improvements in question.

In conclusion, the memorialists say: "The survey of this water route from Pittsburgh to Cumberland, Maryland, is conclusive as to its practicability, and also the cheapness in comparison with other routes now receiving Government aid as national routes. Nor is it as a through route alone in which its great importance consists. The valley of the Youghiogheny contains the largest as well as the richest basin of gas and coke coal in the country, and has, in addition, immense fields of iron and other ores and ship building timber."

REPORT of Friedensburg school for the month ending January 24, 1877:

Whole number in attendance—males 28, females 28, total 56.

Average attendance—males 24, females 23, total 47.

Per cent. of attendance—males 86, females 82, total 84.

The following pupils were present every day: Harry Bender, John Bender, Warren Stahl, George Barnhart, Lillie Bender, Minnie Snyder, Emma Stahl.

AT a recent temperance meeting in the East End, Pittsburgh, a reformed drunkard arose, according to custom, to make a few encouraging remarks to the still benighted brethren who had not yet pledged themselves to abstain from the flowing bowl. The gentleman possessed a remarkable nose—remarkable for being bulbous and of a brilliant crimson, and it attracted considerable attention as he stepped to the front and stated: "Ladies and gentlemen, I am not here to make a speech. I am not much of speaker; in fact I never made a speech in my life. I have, however, been a hard drinker, which you will probably infer after a casual glance at my nose; but." Here the audience began to titter, whereupon the speaker, feeling the organ in question, tenderly resumed: "But I assure you, ladies and gentlemen, although it may strike you as being very funny, it is no laughing matter. To bring my nose to this state of blooming perfection has cost me, at the least calculation, $10,000." Hereupon there was a perfect howl, and the new recruit stepped down and gave place to the next speaker.

ROAD VIEWS.—The following petitions were handed into court for views and reviews on roads and township lines viz.:—Petition of citizens of Quemahoning and Shade township, for reviewers to re-view the change of township line between Shade and Quemahoning township. The Court appointed J. H. Fritz, surveyor, and Geo. Spangler and Urias Trent, reviewers.

A petition of citizens of Jefferson township, praying for a public road leading from a point on a public road near Jacob Shaulis' to a point on a public road near Cyrus Hemminger's in Jefferson township. The Court appointed J. R. Scott, surveyor, and John Commons and Peter Whipkey, viewers.

A petition of sundry citizens for a road in Stonycreek township leading from a point on the public road from Henry Dubstadt's sawmill to the Bedford and Greensburg turnpike. The Court appointed Jos. Cable, surveyor, Benj. Bowman and F. R. Ranken, viewers.

A petition of citizens of Greenville and Summit townships for a road leading from a point on a public road from Geo. Werner's sawmill to Sandpatch station near the Keystone sawmill in Greenville township at a point on the public road leading from Meyersdale to Sandpatch tunnel at or near the lime kiln at Keystone Junction. The Court appointed J. C. Youtzy, surveyor, and Samuel Boger and David Dickey, viewers, as prayed for.

THE Johnstown Tribune has this to say of the new Marriage License Bill:

There is a bill pending in the State Legislature which requires that all persons who design contracting a matrimonial alliance shall first take out a marriage license, and that after the ceremony is performed the certificate shall be entered of record in the office of the Recorder of the county in which the nuptial contract was entered into. The principal reason why a law of this kind should be placed on the statute books is that ministers and justices are so frequently imposed upon by persons under age, who in many instances, falsely assure them that parents or guardians are willing that the marriage should take place, when the fact subsequently appears that such was not the case, and hence the individual who officiates at one of these contracts is liable to the penalty—which amounts to about $123. The old law which reads that a clergyman or Squire who presumes to marry any party under age without proper consent shall pay $33 in Pennsylvania currency, may be a very good one, but from the very fact that only in rare instances is it invoked it has become almost a dead letter.

In some communities competent authorities can be found to bind together boys and girls who have scarcely ended their days of adolescence, and no inquiry is made as to whether proper permission has been first given by those who have legal control of such minors. The parents dislike giving greater notoriety to such marriages, and are constrained to make the best of what may be considered a bad bargain, in preference to bringing an action for the penalty.

It is contended that the act now before the Legislature will, if it becomes a law, prevent all this, and it is further urged that numerous cases of bigamy will thus be prevented, from the fact that in the first place no marriage can be entered into without a license is previously procured, and the authority issuing such permit will be compelled, under severe penalty for non-compliance, to ascertain whether the parties to the contract come within the scope of the law; and, secondly, that the fact of the bond of union being entered on the record books of the county will prevent many persons from contracting a second marriage, while both parties to the original contract are still living. The person issuing the certificate, or license, will have access to such books, and it is made a part of his duty to see that no impediment of the kind exists. It is believed by many that a law of the kind is an absolute necessity, considering the growing evil of hasty marriages being entered into by minors, who do not ask permission from their guardians, and who soon tire of their bargain. They will not take time to repent, and if a divorce court will not sever the bands, they take the matter into their own hands by forming new alliances. There are many instances of the kind to record just here in our own community.

MARRIED.

SHAFFER—WALTER.—At the house of Jacob Walter, Dec. 14th, by Rev. J. N. Unruh, Mr. Franklin E. Shaffer to Miss Louisa Walter.

ZIMMERMAN—BERKEYBILE.—At the Lutheran parsonage, Hooversville, Pa., on January 25, 1877, by Rev. J. H. Waltericb, Mr. Philip Zimmerman to Miss Mary E. Berkeybile, both of Somerset Co., Pa.

STUFFT—BOSH.—On the evening of January 25, 1877, in the Lutheran church, Stoystown, by Rev J. J. Welch, Mr. Jerome Stufft to Miss Anna Bosh, both of Somerset Co., Pa.

DIED.

ROSS.—January 20, 1877, in Shanksville, Harry F., only child of Albert and Susan Ross, aged 11 months and 18 days.

Harry was a lovely child, and his unexpected death cannot but impress us with the uncertainties of Providence, when we remember that Harry's great great grandmother is still living to-day. Surely God's ways are not man's ways. Thy will be done.

BOWMAN.—Jacob D. Bowman, of Jenner township, departed this life on Monday evening, November 27, 1876, aged 61 years, 2 months and 27 days. Interred in the cemetery of the Calvary Reformed church.

BENDER.—At the home of his parents in Stoystown, Jan. 24, 1877, Charles R., son of John and Elizabeth Bender, aged 20 years, 1 month and 28 days.

RINGER.—On the 19th inst., Annie Etta, daughter of Alfred and Mary Ringer, of Elklick township, aged 4 years, 2 months and 11 days.

PILE.—On the 23 inst., Emma Laura, daughter of George and Phoebe Pile, aged 8 years, 3 months and 23 days. Interred in Beams cemetery.

GERHARDT.—On the second of Nov., in Lower Turkeyfoot, Phebe Gerhardt, aged 9 years.

STRUCKHOFF.—On the 28th of Dec., near Kingwood, Garret Struckhoff aged 74 years.

HOOVER.—On the 20th of Jany., at Milford Station, Jennie Hoover, aged 9 years.

HOOVER.—On the 1st of Jany., at Milford Station, Jacob Hoover, aged 15 years.

SHULTZ.—On the 24th of Oct., in Centerville, Emma N. Shultz, aged 20 years.

BAKER.—On the 3rd of Jany., at Milford Station, Harriet Baker aged 3 years.
