ESTABLISHED, 1827.

VOL. XXV. NO. 49. SOMERSET, PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 15, 1877.

THOU KNOWEST. BY PHORSE CARY.

Lord, with what body do they come Who in corruption here are sown.
When, with bumiliation done,
They wour the likeness of thine own?

Lord, of what manner didst Thou make The fruits upon life's healing tree ? Where flows the water we may take And thirst not through eterativ?

Where lie the beds of lilles prest.

By virgins whiter than their snow? What can we liken to the rost, Thy well-beloved yet shall know?

How shall we speak our joy that slay

Lo! we are sick and sad no more

What will our depths of rapture be When heart and soul are satisfied?

And all eternity is ours?

What anthems shall they raise to Thee, The host upon the other side

How will life seem when fear, nor dread. Nor mortal weakness claims our powers : When sin is crushed, and death is dead,

When, with our Lover and our Spouse,

How can we take in faith Thy hand,

We cannot ree nor know to-day,

We shall as angels be above.

And plight no troths and breathe no vows,

And walk the way that we must tread? How can we trust and understand

E'en though He slay me, will I trust! Swift to the dead we hasten now,

Yet quick and dead and Thine, and Thou-Thou knowest all we do not know!
