The Chastity of Couscek Wemen

These Cossacks have some very curious customs. They are all comparatively young men, and nearly all married of course to young wives. It often happens, as in the present instance, that they are away from home during the war for one, or for even three or four years, and the natural result is that many of the wives left behind do not prove to be Lucretian. The Cossacks are quite aware of this, and many of them upon starting home, buy a white searf or a handkerchief, which they take with them.

Upon entering their villages, the whole population-women, girls, old men and children come out to meet them, including, of course, the wives of the returning wanderers. Now, to account with the hasbaud, who is
