HAIR AND LEAFS FOR YOURSELF.—Many valuable discoveries and much useful knowledge is kept from the world, because the immense expense in making them known to the people. This is not the case with Hall's Hair Renewer. Simple, although but few years introduced into this country to sale now reaches in every town and village in the U. S. Its popularity is caused by its merits. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorer, Parsons's Asiatic Compound, Ayer's Hair Vigor, and many other preparations of the day are well known by distributing every year, for three years, over 40,000 bottles to the afflicted, free of charge, by Druggists. No such a test of merit was ever given in favor to any other preparation. Could you ask more? Go to your Druggist, G. W. Benford, and get a bottle for 75 cents and try it. Sample bottles 10 cents.

There is a provision in the game laws of our State which allows the informer one-half of the fines collected from violators of the laws, and directs that the other half be paid into the county treasury, to be by him distributed among the several school districts of the county in proportion to the number of taxables they severally contain. There have been several convictions in other counties under these laws, but none as yet in this county, although there provisions have been frequently violated.

It is expected that nearly all the teachers in the county will be in attendance at the coming Teachers' Institute. It is unnecessary for us to speak of the benefit of these annual meetings to the schools of the county, but one thing we have noticed—the real good teachers are rarely ever absent. County Superintendent Whipkey is working earnestly for the success of the coming Institute, and will doubtless make it one that will be both pleasant and profitable to those in attendance.

During the heavy mountain storm, Wednesday night of last week, the east end wall of the new M. E. Church, Morgantown street, was blown four inches out of plumb, necessitating the tearing of it down as far as the second floor, and taking out about twenty thousand bricks. The walls were up to the level, and the brick work almost completed, and this misfortune will not only retard the progress of its completion, but the contractor will sustain a great loss.—Uniontown Standard.

An Allegheny county man, one day last week bought a quarter of a pound of snuff and a box of matches, putting one in each tall pocket of his coat. He went home and sat down rather forcibly on a chair, igniting the matches. In a second of time he had neither coat tail, pocket, chair, or clothing to speak of, and the chair was scorched in a fearful and wonderful manner. The singular part is that the man himself was scarcely warmed at all, but it certain he was scared.

Some persons do not know the law with regard to estrays. For their information we will state that the duty of any one taking up an estray is to place a description of it on the books of the town clerk, and to advertise the same in a newspaper within ten days. A failure to do this lays such persons liable to damages. It is a foolish as well as a dangerous thing to take up property of this kind and hold it for the offering of a reward.

At the long winter evenings come on, how necessary is it that home should be made attractive for the boys. Do not be afraid that they will disarrange or spoil the furniture, and that too, of the best room. Let home be a place to breathe and live in, as well as just to eat and sleep in. Pleasure they crave and will have, and parents are wisely who make home so attractive that the young have no need to enjoyment without the home circle.

Never invite another fellow's girl to go riding with you, as it causes untold heartaches and reckless expense on his part. When you ask her to ride, she always says: "I will see if the ma any other engagement, and then will give you an answer to-morrow." That evening she goes around to the hall, and the fellow goes into executive session with closed doors and pulled down blinds, and the gas is reduced to a minimum; by a strict party vote it is decided that she can't go, and begins to take her out twice in quick order, will be strong—but not kind.

It seems that some people think that an editor jokes about everything. We have said time and again that we would publish no communications unless accompanied by the true name of the party sending them, and yet there is scarcely a week that we do not receive one or two anonymous communications which don't do; the rule was made to be kept, and kept it will be. After you have sent in a communication not properly signed, and waited for a week to see if it is not published, it is useless for you to send your name and sign it, for neglected it is. In all such are thrown into the waste basket immediately upon their receipt.

Miss Wilhelm, an aged maiden lady, residing near the lower Path Valley Presbyterian Church was burned to death one day last week. She and an aged sister resided together, and the one who was burned was sitting up late at night by a large fireplace and whether her clothes took fire from a lamp or the large fire on the hearthstone, is not known. Her sister had retired, and the first she knew of the accident was her appearance at the room door with her clothing in flames. She threw a rug over her, but the fire had taken such hold upon her clothing that the flames could not be extinguished and she died before morning. The deceased was 82 years of age.—Chambersburg Repository.

Donavin's Original Tennesseans gave one of their pleasing entertainments in the Court-house on Wednesday evening last. Though it had rained all afternoon and evening, the house was comfortably filled, at an early hour, by an exceedingly appreciative audience. It has been our pleasure to hear this celebrated troupe on several former occasions, and every time we have liked them better. Since their last visit to this place, in June, several new voices have been added, and most excellent voices they are. All present were delighted with the evening's entertainment, and we know that a warm welcome awaits the Tennesseans at any time they may revisit our town.

The narrowest railroad in the world is between North Billerics and Bedford, Massachusetts, a distance of eight and a-half miles. The track is ten inches wide. The engine and cars are proportionate to the width of the track. The passenger cars have an aisle in them, and a seat on each side, instead of two seats as in a full-grown car. There are thirty seats in each car. The trains run twenty miles an hour. The grade on the road is one hundred and thirty feet per mile. The trains consist of two passenger cars and two freight cars and an engine. The carsand engine have air-breaks and all modern improvements. Ordinary cars weigh four times as much as these little coaches. The cost of the road was $4,500 per mile and the running expense was about one-fourth that of ordinary trains.—Ex.

INCENDIARY FIRE.—On last Saturday night, between 9 and 10 o'clock, the barn of Harrison Gohn, situated about three miles north-west of Somerset, was consumed by fire, together with nearly all its contents. Eight horses, a large number of cattle, a new buggy, a threshing machine and other valuable agricultural implements, and several hundred bushels of grain were destroyed. Much hay was also burned. Three cows were rescued from the flames, but one of them was blinded and had to be killed. Mr. Gohn and his wife were visiting a sick neighbor at the time of the occurrence. It is strongly suspected that a spiteful neighbor set fire to the building. We understand there was an insurance of $800 on the barn, but beyond that sum the loss will be more than $2,000.

A VALUABLE MEDICAL TREATISE.—The edition of 1878 of the sterling Medical Almanac known as Hostetter's Almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the United States and British America, and indeed in every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere. It combines with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading and the calendary astronomical calculations, chronological, lunar, etc., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1878 in the English, German, French, Welch, Norwegian Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages will in all probability be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two-cent stamp will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

A lecture on "Character" will be delivered in the Methodist church on Saturday evening next, by Dr. Endsley of Johnstown. Mr. Endsley is well and favorably known by most of our citizens, and we hope that all will avail themselves of this opportunity of hearing him lecture. He delivered a lecture in Johnstown some four weeks ago and the papers of that place all speak very highly of it. The Tribune in speaking of it says:

"The Lecture abounded with advanced ideas in matters referring to social, political and scientific questions, and deprecated a blind adherence to notions and customs of a dead past."

The Tribune is the livest of all New-York papers in its bids for country support. It has just enlarged its Weekly and Semi-Weekly editions to sixteen pages each, and put them in a more convenient form for binding. It has put in an entirely new invention, a press of American manufacture, that prints on both sides and folds ready for mailing this sixteen page paper at the rate of 18,000 an hour. It announces a noble list of special contributors for its Weekly, including Bayard Taylor, the Rev. John Hall, D. D., Solon Robinson and Gail Hamilton. And it offers any subscriber the great $12 Webster's Unabridged Dictionary if he renews his subscription for five years, or divides it with three new subscribers. Altogether this looks like lively work ahead. See its prospectus.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1878.—The success of this sterling periodical is owing to the fact that it enables one, with a small outlay of time and money, to keep pace with the best thought and literature of the day. Hence its importance to every American reader.

The ablest living contributors to periodical literature are presented in its pages, some of whose names will be found in the prospectus in another column.

It has always stood at the head of its class, both in the quality and quantity of its reading furnished; and in fact it affords, of itself, so thorough and complete a compendium of what is of immediate interest of permanent value in the literary world as to render it an invaluable economizer of time, labor and money. In the multitude of periodicals of the present time,—quarterlies, monthlies, and weeklies,—such a publication has become almost a necessity to every person or family desiring to keep well informed in the best literature of the day.

For 1878 an extra offer is made to all new subscribers; and reduced clubbing rates with other periodicals are also given by which a subscriber may at remarkably small cost obtain the cream of both home and foreign literature. Those selecting their periodicals for the new year, would do well to examine the prospectus. In no other way that we know of can a subscriber be put in possession of the best which the current literature of the world affords, so cheaply or conveniently.

The hall of a light skiff of snow last week brought out the little sleds of all kinds, from the hickory jumper and flat board to the neat, light iron sled. Large numbers of little folks could be seen at most any time of the day enjoying the coasting. They would heatride their sleds on Main street, in front of where the old "Glade House" used to be, dig their heels into the snow, and away they would go down the hill, eyes flashing, hair streaming and screaming with delight. Every now and then some venturesome youngster would take a "belly grinder." Lying on his stomach, with his head several inches in advance of the front of the sled, ready to arise any pounding step or knock electricity from a telegraph pole; "clear the way" screaming, laughing, sliding, he would go whizzing past his comrades to the foot of the hill. Then their ruddy, happy, mouth-gagging faces, as they climbed the hill, hauling out another sleide, or stopping a heedless companion in the snow. How their merry shouts rang out on the cold, still air, making the old folks sigh and wish that they could live life over. Then there is another set of coasters. After night drops her sable mantle and the moon peeps out from the snow clouds, they may be seen wending their way to the hills, wrapped in heavy jackets and furs, with their sweet, shy faces peeping out from beneath the tightest and cosiest of hoods, painted and dyed with a color art could not give, but of which Jack Frost is so generous. By their side trudge happy fellows who look only too happy for the opportunity to draw their fair burdens to the top of the hill.

Communicated.

TO ALL CONCERNED.—C. C. Musselman received a very interesting letter from Messrs. Whitman & Burrell, Little Falls, New York, who propose to come among us with some of the best butter and cheese makers in the United States and establish factories, if they get sufficient encouragement. And as it concerns every dairyman in Somerset county, it is considered best to have it published, so that all can think and act upon the matter.

"Mr. C. C. Musselman, Somerset, Pa. Dear Sir: Messrs. Harvey & Co. have been talking and writing to us about starting some cheese and butter factories in your section of the State of Pennsylvania, and have given us your name with several others. They advise us to write to you about this matter. Can we contract for the milk for three or five years from say 3,000 cows at a fair price? If so, please give us your idea as to what the price would be for the milk delivered at the factories, twice a day from April 1st, to Oct. 15th, we to pay cash every two weeks for same, and begin to pay in thirty days after the factories commenced making. We think we would prefer to charge so much per pound for making the butter or cheese, or both. But we are advised that your farmers would prefer to sell their milk for cash. Our idea would be to locate several factories centrally, where we could have the milk from about 700 cows to each factory and not have any milk drawn over three miles. Could that be done? We are told that it takes with you about 28 pounds of milk to make one pound of butter, and that milk has netted your farmers about ½ cents per pound this season. Is this correct?

"Now if you will write us fully as to locations, whether we could get where there is cold water, and where we would be in the centre of a large number of farmers, and also what the milk would cost us for each 10½ lbs. (which is equal to 1-lb. of cheese,) or by the pound for three or five years; or, if they will not contract for the milk at a sale figure, then whether they would pay 2½ cents per lb. on the cheese made, and 3 cents per lb. on the butter, we to furnish the factories and all the apparatus and materials for running the factories, making and boxing the cheese, or putting the butter into tubs, &c. We will, if we can get the milk from 3,000 to 5,000 cows pledged for three to five years, put up the factories and take some of the best butter and cheese makers in the United States down into your county. We think with Mr. Harvey that we could do you great good. Please write very fully and explicitly. Yours very respectfully, Whitman & Burrell."

Cheese and Butter Factories are nothing new; there are hundreds all over the country—about one thousand in the State of New York alone, where the standard of butter and cheese has always been high, with advantages no greater than ours. Cheese and butter sell for about the same price in this county, yet it is estimated that the milk it takes to make one pound of butter will make three pounds of cheese. Farmers, the matter is before you, think over it and let us hear from you. How many suitable locations can you find, and where? In order to confer upon this matter, there will be a meeting held in the Court-house on Tuesday, the 8th day of January, (during our special Court). Let all written communications be addressed to C. C. Musselman, Somerset, Pa.

LECTURES.

Rev. N B Critchfield, Ex-Co. Supt. of this county, Prof. Z C Rush, of Mt. Pleasant, and Prof. J A Brush, A. M., of Mt. Union College, Ohio, will be with us. Others have been solicited and promise us their assistance. Every effort has been made to have such exercises and instruction as will be interesting and profitable to all, and from the assurance given at the examinations it is expected that all the teachers will attend.

The encouragement given to this and similar educational meetings, is acknowledged to be an index of the professional zeal and spirit of the teacher.

Come prepared to join in the discussions; bring practical questions for the "Query Box," and thus lend your assistance to make the Institute a success.

Former teachers, Directors and all others, who feel interested in the cause of education, are cordially invited.

A list of attendance will be published.

A WEEK OF PRAYER.—The United States Evangelical Alliance has adopted and recommended to the churches a programme of topics for the week of prayer commencing January 6.

Sunday, January 6.—Sermons: Christian union perfected.

Monday, January 7.—Remembrance of personal and private mercies; prayer for the divine blessing on past privileges, and for a humble and contrite spirit.

Tuesday, January 8.—For the Church of Christ in all lands: Its deliverance from error; for the increase of faith and holiness, and in power as a witness for the Lord Jesus Christ; for the grace and guidance of the Holy Spirit.

Wednesday, January 9.—Prayer for Christian families—for sick and afflicted members; for children at school, and for youth in our colleges and seminaries of learning, for young men entering upon the active business of life, and for those abroad; for our sons and daughters openly confessing Christ.

Thursday, January 10.—For Nations; for rulers, magistrates and statesmen; for all benevolent and philanthropic institutions, for religious liberty, and for the opening of doors, "wide and effectual," for the publishing of the gospel; for the reign of righteousness and peace, and for the Army and Navy.

Friday, January 11.—For Christian missions to the Jews and Gentiles; for Sunday schools, and for the Divine blessing on all Christian efforts to spread the glad tidings of the gospel of salvation.

Saturday, January 12.—Prayer for the circulation of the Bible; for the observance of the Sabbath; for the revival of intemperance; for the rescue of the fallen; for the safety of those who travel by land or by water.

Sunday, January 13.—Christian life.

SAFE—SPEEDY SURE.—The rapidity and certainty with which Dr. Morris' Syrup of Tar, Wild Cherry and Horehound cures diseases of the respiratory organs and its reliability as a remedy for consumption long ago secured for it a foremost rank among medicines of its class. It is in fact THE recognized specific for throat and bronchial disorders. It promptly checks a cough, no matter of how long standing, and affords great relief in cases of asthma. It should not be mistaken for a mere palliation, since it not only affords immediate relief, but also removes all traces of the malady. It is a specific for croup.

A CHRISTMAS ANTHEM.—This is the title of a newanthem composed by our young and talened musical friend Irvin J. Heffley. It is a heavy chorus for mixed voices, interspersed with some beautiful instrumental interludes and flourishes, and of such grade that it can be rendered by ordinary singers. Proof sheets have been sent to eminent musicians, who pronounce it a composition of rare merit, evincing more than ordinary musical talent in the author. This piece will be rendered at a number of places during the coming Christmas, and it is destined to become popular wherever it may be heard. It may be obtained from the publisher, Mr. Heffley, at 10 cents per copy, or $1.00 per dozen.
