

It is announced that hereafter in making appointments for pension agents, the President has determined to select meritorious soldiers. The propriety of this conclusion will be admitted by all.

We don't like to agree with the idea that has lately captivated so many eminent preachers, that there is no hell, but when we look at the conclusive Democracy in the National Congress we are almost tempted to believe.

The Legislature has determined to investigate the riot losses of last summer. A committee will be appointed, and twenty days allowed for the work. The precise scope of the investigation has not yet been agreed upon.

Hon. WILLIAM P. SCELLI, Auditor General, does not enter upon the duties of that office until May next. Meanwhile he sits in the Legislature as a member from Bedford County. How the righteous souls of our Democratic contemporaries would be vexed if it was a Republican politician who was there holding two offices at one time.

The Washington Post the Democratic organ, speaking of the Democratic slogan, says that "with plenty of good intentions in the center, the party brass are in the rear." This is a new reading of the old axiom, rendered necessary by Beecher's abolition of that place, said to be paroxysm with good intentions.

There will be a big fight in Indiana this year over the Legislature, which is to elect a Senator to replace Voorhees, who holds Morrison's seat by appointment only. The Republican leader will be Gen. Ben Harrison, while the Democrats will be headed by Voorhees.

A bill to provide for the purchase of school books out of the district school funds and to prohibit frequent changes thereof—reported to the House—has in its inception, though somewhat difficult to carry out it deems, if made a law.

It properly lies in the right direction—the relief of the indigent from the bother, often not a slight one, of purchasing the necessary books for their children. In this light, it is a meritorious bill, and worthy of enactment into a law.

This Voorhees, who now wants to repudiate a portion of the public debt, was a very hard-money man in 1862. When the Government had no gold to pay its creditors he was in love with yellow metal, and wanted the soldiers paid in it. He was in favor of resumption when resumption was impossible. He tall Sycamore is a lofty fellow. He is such an orator as would delight in his appeals ardent to the passions and not to the judgments of men.

A bill to license engineers of portable and stationary steam engines and steam boilers, has been very properly reported to the House with a negative recommendation. It is entirely too comprehensive in its provisions. Doubtless all and every care should be taken to guard against endangering human life by entrusting steam machinery to incompetent and reckless hands. But to require every mechanic, farmer, or household who uses steam boilers, or machinery in a small way, to employ a skilled and licensed engineer is the height of preposterous folly.

AGAIN a bill has been reported favorably in our State Senate, exempting persons who religiously observe the seventh day as the Sabbath, from the penalties of the Act of 1914.

The bill ought to pass. It is an outrage in the face of our venerated Constitutional declarations securing freedom of conscience, and providing that "no preference shall ever be given by law to any religious establishment of modes of worship" that the Seventh Day Baptists, who keep one day of the week conscientiously, should be persecuted for not conforming to the opinions of their neighbors.

JEPHTHA DAVIS is mentioned as a probable successor of Senator Bruce, of Mississippi, should his disabilities be removed in time. By all means let a general amnesty bill be passed. The Democracy will never be happy until their great leader is back in his old place. When Hill, and Gordon and Butler, Lamar, Williams and a host of lesser rebel lights added by Voorhees, Pendleton and similar copperheads, are shaping and controlling National legislation, why should President Davis be made a martyr? Let an earnest him to come back, and then we may hope that the North will be forgiven, and white-robed peace and concord will once more reign supreme.

The five Senatorial contests of the year have now been decided. The Iowa Legislature is about to re-elect Mr. Allison, which is the only case in which there has been a re-election.

The other States in which Senators have been chosen are California, Ohio, Kentucky, and Maryland. In Kentucky and Maryland Democrats have succeeded Democrats, while in Ohio and California Democrats have been elected in the place of Republicans. Thus two Senators are taken from the Republican side of the chamber and added to the Democratic side. Four Democrats and one Republican succeed two Democrats and three Republicans.

ANOTHER in-stance of Democratic reform is furnished by the House Committee on Elections. They have decided to give the contested seat from California to the Democratic candidate. To do this they must overcome the certificate of the Democratic Secretary of State of California to the Republican candidate, and the decision of the Supreme Court of California, with a Democratic Chief Justice, and a majority of Democratic Justices, also in favor of the Republican candidate. This is on a par with the Colorado case. Perhaps it is a good way to secure party supremacy, but it looks as if it might bring a risk in it.

A BILL to provide for the erection of a State Hospital for the insane for the counties of Columbia, Indiana, Westmoreland, Fayette and Somerset, has been reported in the House. The Hospital to be specially devoted to the reception, treatment and care of the indigent insane, and giving him precedence in admission over paying patients.

We most sincerely trust that this or a similar bill will be passed. The charge of the indigent insane by the Directors of the poor of the several counties in the State is a vast and crying evil. But limited and inadequate provisions are made for them—generally some on-banister attached to the Poor House—and as a rule few, the Directors do not feel justified in incurring the expense necessary upon the employment of a suitable person to take charge of them, consequently they are not suitably and intelligently cared for, and much misery and suffering is added to their pitiable condition. In such a hospital as is contemplated by this bill, they would be cared for by suitable and skilled attendants and keepers, and every possible thing done to alleviate their wretched condition.

The Standard Oil Company that tries to monopolize the trade in petroleum in this State, is backed by the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in its effort to prevent the producers from the building a pipeline for the conveyance of their crude oil from the wells to the seaboard. There is an immense amount of special pleading put forth to justify this attempt to build up an overshadowing monopoly, but it can be justified only by the high-mighty rule that "might makes right." By the present combinations between the Standard and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company it cost about $1.50 per barrel to transport oil to Philadelphia, when it can be piped to that place for about 10 cents per barrel, and this enormous difference it is proposed to make the producers endure by refusing the permission to build pipeline.

Nothing but purely selfish motives control the parties combining against the producers. Philadelphia is fearful that a portion of the trade will be diverted to Baltimore; Pittsburgh is afraid of having her lucrative refining interests interfered with and the Pennsylvania road doesn't want to lose her monopoly of the carrying trade, and therefore the producers are to be refused the right to get their commodity to market at the cheapest rates. Apart from the self-interest local business interests that may somewhat excuse the members from two interested cities in voting against the pipeline bill, there is no valid excuse for members from other sections of the State doing so. And, not to put too fine a point on it, the rural rover who listens to the blandishments of the advocates of the monopoly, will not be held as Caesar deemed his wife should be, but pure and unspiced.

Nothing but purely selfish motives control the parties combining against the producers. Philadelphia is fearful that a portion of the trade will be diverted to Baltimore; Pittsburgh is afraid of having her lucrative refining interests interfered with and the Pennsylvania road doesn't want to lose her monopoly of the carrying trade, and therefore the producers are to be refused the right to get their commodity to market at the cheapest rates. Apart from the self-interest local business interests that may somewhat excuse the members from two interested cities in voting against the pipeline bill, there is no valid excuse for members from other sections of the State doing so. And, not to put too fine a point on it, the rural rover who listens to the blandishments of the advocates of the monopoly, will not be held as Caesar deemed his wife should be, but pure and unspiced.

Nothing but purely selfish motives control the parties combining against the producers. Philadelphia is fearful that a portion of the trade will be diverted to Baltimore; Pittsburgh is afraid of having her lucrative refining interests interfered with and the Pennsylvania road doesn't want to lose her monopoly of the carrying trade, and therefore the producers are to be refused the right to get their commodity to market at the cheapest rates. Apart from the self-interest local business interests that may somewhat excuse the members from two interested cities in voting against the pipeline bill, there is no valid excuse for members from other sections of the State doing so. And, not to put too fine a point on it, the rural rover who listens to the blandishments of the advocates of the monopoly, will not be held as Caesar deemed his wife should be, but pure and unspiced.

Nothing but purely selfish motives control the parties combining against the producers. Philadelphia is fearful that a portion of the trade will be diverted to Baltimore; Pittsburgh is afraid of having her lucrative refining interests interfered with and the Pennsylvania road doesn't want to lose her monopoly of the carrying trade, and therefore the producers are to be refused the right to get their commodity to market at the cheapest rates. Apart from the self-interest local business interests that may somewhat excuse the members from two interested cities in voting against the pipeline bill, there is no valid excuse for members from other sections of the State doing so. And, not to put too fine a point on it, the rural rover who listens to the blandishments of the advocates of the monopoly, will not be held as Caesar deemed his wife should be, but pure and unspiced.

Nothing but purely selfish motives control the parties combining against the producers. Philadelphia is fearful that a portion of the trade will be diverted to Baltimore; Pittsburgh is afraid of having her lucrative refining interests interfered with and the Pennsylvania road doesn't want to lose her monopoly of the carrying trade, and therefore the producers are to be refused the right to get their commodity to market at the cheapest rates. Apart from the self-interest local business interests that may somewhat excuse the members from two interested cities in voting against the pipeline bill, there is no valid excuse for members from other sections of the State doing so. And, not to put too fine a point on it, the rural rover who listens to the blandishments of the advocates of the monopoly, will not be held as Caesar deemed his wife should be, but pure and unspiced.

Nothing but purely selfish motives control the parties combining against the producers. Philadelphia is fearful that a portion of the trade will be diverted to Baltimore; Pittsburgh is afraid of having her lucrative refining interests interfered with and the Pennsylvania road doesn't want to lose her monopoly of the carrying trade, and therefore the producers are to be refused the right to get their commodity to market at the cheapest rates. Apart from the self-interest local business interests that may somewhat excuse the members from two interested cities in voting against the pipeline bill, there is no valid excuse for members from other sections of the State doing so. And, not to put too fine a point on it, the rural rover who listens to the blandishments of the advocates of the monopoly, will not be held as Caesar deemed his wife should be, but pure and unspiced.

Nothing but purely selfish motives control the parties combining against the producers. Philadelphia is fearful that a portion of the trade will be diverted to Baltimore; Pittsburgh is afraid of having her lucrative refining interests interfered with and the Pennsylvania road doesn't want to lose her monopoly of the carrying trade, and therefore the producers are to be refused the right to get their commodity to market at the cheapest rates. Apart from the self-interest local business interests that may somewhat excuse the members from two interested cities in voting against the pipeline bill, there is no valid excuse for members from other sections of the State doing so. And, not to put too fine a point on it, the rural rover who listens to the blandishments of the advocates of the monopoly, will not be held as Caesar deemed his wife should be, but pure and unspiced.

THE list of officers within his control and say truly that there was not in any one of them an incumbent who had ever dreamed of voting the Republican ticket. Crumpled soldiers, beggars and cripples had all been introduced into the House, and quite a large number of them have been accepted by committee. The burden was taken from the committee having it in charge, and it is now upon the calendar. The case of the Hon. O. F. Bullard, member from Delaware county, seems to give the House a great deal of trouble, and has excited much discussion three several times during the past week. The Hon. F. B. is, as you are doubtless aware, was taken in the jail of Media, Delaware county, under a charge of unbending the funds of a building association of which he was treasurer, when the Legislature met.

He claimed to be privileged to take his seat in the House. He asked to be allowed to come before the Judiciary Committee of the House and argue his case, which the House granted, and now it doesn't know what to do with the elephants that it has named. There is no further use for him, but for some reason do not seem to be in a hurry to report upon his case, so he remains in the nominal custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms, occupying his old seat, and looks as big as a red-tailed porpoise.

The leading topic here now and the one exciting the most interest is the Oil Pipe Bill. The oil business has become the most important in the State, the annual receipts therefrom being over $30,000,000 and exceeding in value the entire amount of the bonds of the State, $25,000,000. For many years there has been numerous individual shippers and refiners, thus affording producers of petroleum a free and open market. But a dire change has been wrought in this respect. The Standard Oil Company, originally a Cleveland concern, has by means of rebates and drawbacks granted by Railroads and printing at public expense a mass of corrupt material which nobody believed or read.—Cleveland Leader (Rep.)

WASHINGTON, January 25.—The crowd was so great, and the occasion of the celebration of a solemn mass of requiem for the late Victor Emmanuel that hundreds were unable to enter. The sanctuary was heavily draped, and on the catafalque many flowers were tastefully displayed.

Twenty-five towns on either side of the centre aisle were draped. The front row on the right side was decorated with the American colors, and occupied by President Hayes and family.

The Catholic Church in the city, the deacon, subdeacon and master of ceremonies, Rev. Father Campagna, pastor of the church, and the Rev. Simon, belonging to the Order of Jesuits, and the celebrant of the mass, Rev. Father McEran. Fourteen societies assisted.

After the mass the customary prayers and benedictions were chanted by the priest, and the solemn requiem service was brought to a close. A Millionaire's Priest. By provisions of a will of his mother, died on Wednesday, Father Denney, the priest of the Roman Catholic Church of St. Ignace, attached to the Loyola College of the Society of Jesus in this city, is worth a million. His mother, Mrs. Elizabeth F. Denney, his mother, was one of the oldest and wealthiest residents of Pittsburgh. His estate was chiefly property located in Pittsburgh and other parts of Pennsylvania and in the States of New York and Illinois, and in the District of Columbia, which was purchased by her father, a great many years ago, and multiplied in value during half a century since. The property was valued before the panic at $10,000,000, but in present market value would not be over $5,000,000. At some time, great a week ago, and Father Denney, her son, was summoned to her bedside. She died peacefully a few days ago, surrounded by a large circle of relatives and friends. By her will her property left entirely to her children. No charitable bequests were made; but during her lifetime Mr. Denney gave at least $1,000,000 to different charitable institutions. The heirs named in the will were Rev. Father Denney, S. J. of St. Ignace; Mrs. Wm. C. Denney, Miss Madeline Denney, Mrs. James O. H. Denney and Mrs. Hon. Robert McKnight, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Wm. H. Paxton, of New York; and Mrs. Captain Robinson, of Yorkers, New York.

Nothing but purely selfish motives control the parties combining against the producers. Philadelphia is fearful that a portion of the trade will be diverted to Baltimore; Pittsburgh is afraid of having her lucrative refining interests interfered with and the Pennsylvania road doesn't want to lose her monopoly of the carrying trade, and therefore the producers are to be refused the right to get their commodity to market at the cheapest rates. Apart from the self-interest local business interests that may somewhat excuse the members from two interested cities in voting against the pipeline bill, there is no valid excuse for members from other sections of the State doing so. And, not to put too fine a point on it, the rural rover who listens to the blandishments of the advocates of the monopoly, will not be held as Caesar deemed his wife should be, but pure and unspiced.

Nothing but purely selfish motives control the parties combining against the producers. Philadelphia is fearful that a portion of the trade will be diverted to Baltimore; Pittsburgh is afraid of having her lucrative refining interests interfered with and the Pennsylvania road doesn't want to lose her monopoly of the carrying trade, and therefore the producers are to be refused the right to get their commodity to market at the cheapest rates. Apart from the self-interest local business interests that may somewhat excuse the members from two interested cities in voting against the pipeline bill, there is no valid excuse for members from other sections of the State doing so. And, not to put too fine a point on it, the rural rover who listens to the blandishments of the advocates of the monopoly, will not be held as Caesar deemed his wife should be, but pure and unspiced.

Nothing but purely selfish motives control the parties combining against the producers. Philadelphia is fearful that a portion of the trade will be diverted to Baltimore; Pittsburgh is afraid of having her lucrative refining interests interfered with and the Pennsylvania road doesn't want to lose her monopoly of the carrying trade, and therefore the producers are to be refused the right to get their commodity to market at the cheapest rates. Apart from the self-interest local business interests that may somewhat excuse the members from two interested cities in voting against the pipeline bill, there is no valid excuse for members from other sections of the State doing so. And, not to put too fine a point on it, the rural rover who listens to the blandishments of the advocates of the monopoly, will not be held as Caesar deemed his wife should be, but pure and unspiced.

Nothing but purely selfish motives control the parties combining against the producers. Philadelphia is fearful that a portion of the trade will be diverted to Baltimore; Pittsburgh is afraid of having her lucrative refining interests interfered with and the Pennsylvania road doesn't want to lose her monopoly of the carrying trade, and therefore the producers are to be refused the right to get their commodity to market at the cheapest rates. Apart from the self-interest local business interests that may somewhat excuse the members from two interested cities in voting against the pipeline bill, there is no valid excuse for members from other sections of the State doing so. And, not to put too fine a point on it, the rural rover who listens to the blandishments of the advocates of the monopoly, will not be held as Caesar deemed his wife should be, but pure and unspiced.

Nothing but purely selfish motives control the parties combining against the producers. Philadelphia is fearful that a portion of the trade will be diverted to Baltimore; Pittsburgh is afraid of having her lucrative refining interests interfered with and the Pennsylvania road doesn't want to lose her monopoly of the carrying trade, and therefore the producers are to be refused the right to get their commodity to market at the cheapest rates. Apart from the self-interest local business interests that may somewhat excuse the members from two interested cities in voting against the pipeline bill, there is no valid excuse for members from other sections of the State doing so. And, not to put too fine a point on it, the rural rover who listens to the blandishments of the advocates of the monopoly, will not be held as Caesar deemed his wife should be, but pure and unspiced.

OUR HARRIENBURG LETTER.

HARRIENBURG, Jan. 26, 1917. Legislation has progressed rapidly within the last two weeks, and nearly about 200 bills have been introduced into the House, and quite a large number of them have been accepted by committee. The burden was taken from the committee having it in charge, and it is now upon the calendar. The case of the Hon. O. F. Bullard, member from Delaware county, seems to give the House a great deal of trouble, and has excited much discussion three several times during the past week.

THE Spanish Minister at Washington Aristobulo Sanchez Thore at the Brilliance of His Pate in Honor of the Wedding.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

Nuptials of the Young King of Spain.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The marriage of King Alfonso to his cousin, the Princess Mercedes, third daughter of the Duke de Montpensier, was celebrated at Atocha Church today with great splendor. His Majesty left the royal palace at 10:30 in the morning, attended by the King and Queen. He went in state to the church to await the coming of the Princess, who, with the Duke and Duchess de Montpensier, arrived at 11. The marriage ceremony, with high mass, was presided over by the Archbishop of Toledo, assisted until nearly 4.

NEW ORLEANS, January 26.

Sheriff Houston, in attempting to arrest the Returning Board, in the Custom House today, was himself arrested by a United States Marshal, and an affidavit sworn out against him by a United States Commissioner for threatening to break open the doors of offices in the Custom House. He was discharged to appear on Monday. United States marshals from the cutter Dick paraded the corridors of the Custom House as a special posse for the United States Marshal. United States District Attorney Lucy advised that the Sheriff of the parish of Orleans could not serve any process of the State Courts in the Custom House, as it was Federal property. The Sheriff, acting under the direction of Attorney General Ogden, had a conference with Marshal Wharton, and they agreed to submit the case, by telegraph, to Washington for settlement. Attorney General Devenus was then telegraphed to inform the United States Commissioner of the State Courts.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

Suleiman Pasha Heard From at Last—Three Days' Fighting With Jourko. Loss 12,000 Men.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

RUSSIA'S PEACE TERMS.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory known as Old Servia, which they intend to claim as their compensation.

PROBABILITIES THAT THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT WILL INTERFERE IF THE RUSSIAN OCCUPY CONSTANTINOPLE—THE LATE VICTORY WON BY GENERAL GURKO OVER SERIMAN PASHA COMPLETE.

DISPATCHES from Vienna says that Russia has taken the fate of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro into her own hands, and none of them will be represented in the negotiations with Turkey. This is causing much ill-feeling at Bucharest, while the Servians are bending their energies to occupying, before a cessation of hostilities is ordered, as much as possible of the territory