NEW-YORE, June 1, 1878.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.
Brooklyn made its 49th annual parade on Wednesday last. 50,000 children, in white frocks with pink and blue sashes,—for boys den't count in processions—led by martial music and waving banners, are a pretty sight, although a theatrical one and waving banners, are a pretty sight, although a theatrical one and the city torus out on the holiday to see it. The City Hall and public buildings were dressed with flags, and the houses on that at there was danger of the route bung out their colors to do bone to the occasion.

The sunnature of the leaders of the same to be successed to be the same to the nomination in large large and that excites no especial comment.

The sunnature of the leaders of the various communistic societies of the this time, and is no more a matter of this time, and that they were driven to deeds of desperation by sheer desting. (O, I don't manage it at all," says Jack; "I just take the money home to the old woman on Saturday night, and she takes every cent I make to live, and I get double the pay."

There is not enough that is sacred about the experience with this country and Europe have published various account of Mr. Stanley, none of which are correct, if the amount is double the pay."

There is not enough that is sacred about the experience with this country and the geography is that of Judes, and Democrat, we were curious to learn with such horror as we feel over the black history of English prisons and bedlams a bundred years ago.

There are hotels and hotels in New York. There are hotels where the rule is to extract the largest amount of money from the victim, and give the feast possible accommodation; you can still fool away four and five.
