

STATE TICKET
GOVERNOR: HENRY M. HOYT
LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR: CHARLES W. STONE
SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS: AARON K. DUNKEL

COUNTY TICKET
CONGRESS: JACOB M. CAMPBELL
SENATE: ENOCH D. YUTZY
ASSEMBLY: ANDREW J. COLBORN

Our editorial friend, Mr. Edgar King, of the Blair County Radical, who was elected to fill a vacancy in the House, has been nominated by the Republicans of Blair County.

Mr. Henry Watterson, editor of the great Southern Democratic organ, the Louisville Courier-Journal, in a speech made at Dayton a few days ago, openly advocated placing rebel soldiers on the pension roll.

General Sherman evidently disapproves the drift of events, and in the following letter written in reply to an invitation to attend a meeting of the "Society of the Army of the Potomac," sounds a note of warning to his old comrades, and soldiers of the Union Army.

The Secretary of War, upon the request of Gov. Hartranft, has ordered the shipment of a quantity of arms to be distributed to the National Guard of the State, which is being organized, drilled and equipped as a preliminary measure against any riotous demonstration in the large cities, or in the mining districts.

Hereafter the Legislature of Pennsylvania will meet biennially. The new Constitution provided for annual sessions until the year 1878 inclusive, the object being to have all the general laws passed which became necessary under the provisions of that instrument.

The tremendous fraud disclosures that we were promised on the appointment of the Potter committee, do not pan out so well as the rampant Democrats anticipated.

Of the nineteen Democrats who voted to kill Wood's law tariff bill, none were from this State. For so much we are thankful, but what a sorry figure those nineteen men cut in a party controlling the House, and aspiring to rule the nation.

Col. M. S. QUAY, late Secretary of the Commonwealth has been selected as Chairman of the Republican State Committee.

Hon. JOHN REILLY former Democratic Congressman from this district is spoken of as a candidate for re-nomination by his friends in Blair County.

The Republican gains in the recent Indiana elections are said to be large enough to insure a Republican Legislature, and the consequent election of a U. S. Senator in place of that Democratic nuisance Dan Voorhees.

About one quarter of a million dollars per day is being invested in the Government four per cent. loan, and yet with money seeking investment at this rate, demagogues are continually crying for a further issue of greenbacks.

Three attempts have now been made on the life of the Emperor William of Germany. Once shortly after he ascended the throne, and two recently by Hoedel and Nobeling.

The "Nationals" of Blair County have nominated Hon. Samuel Calvin (Rep.) for Congress, and have also placed a full county ticket in the field, principally selected from the Republican ranks.

Our editorial friend, Mr. Edgar King, of the Blair County Radical, who was elected to fill a vacancy in the House, has been nominated by the Republicans of Blair County.

Mr. Henry Watterson, editor of the great Southern Democratic organ, the Louisville Courier-Journal, in a speech made at Dayton a few days ago, openly advocated placing rebel soldiers on the pension roll.

General Sherman evidently disapproves the drift of events, and in the following letter written in reply to an invitation to attend a meeting of the "Society of the Army of the Potomac," sounds a note of warning to his old comrades, and soldiers of the Union Army.

The investigation "Disturb the President's title! Bless you, no. Never had the slightest idea of it."

There has been no such exhibition of perfect innocence since the grocer chased John Chalmers "Ob," says John, "you no likes lead un?"

The signal defeat of Fernando Wood's low tariff bill—gotten up in the interest of foreign manufacturers and New York importers—in a Democratic House, shows how little the people of this country are disposed to favor any Free Trade tinkering with our present tariff laws.

Some politicians are trying to ridicule the practice, and bring it into discredit by saying it were better to bestow upon the living the money the flowers cost, etc., but for me, I hope that our country may perish when she ceases to honor her noble dead, and that individuals who hold such sentiments may sink into the profanity oblivion they wish for.

How it did stir up one's soul to hear the drums beat and the flag fly, as they preceded the turn and smoke blackened battle flags, and the great flag with stars and stripes, with its bitter, unyielding arrow, until one saw the wagon loads of flowers, and then all at once a sort of sobbing halm fell like a dew, and one felt that at least we could thus prove our remembrance, and offer tribute to the hero's memory.

Philadelphia is noted for her charities. It needs but a want to be felt, to be remedied as nearly as possible immediately.

Mr. Henry Watterson, editor of the great Southern Democratic organ, the Louisville Courier-Journal, in a speech made at Dayton a few days ago, openly advocated placing rebel soldiers on the pension roll.

General Sherman evidently disapproves the drift of events, and in the following letter written in reply to an invitation to attend a meeting of the "Society of the Army of the Potomac," sounds a note of warning to his old comrades, and soldiers of the Union Army.

Of the nineteen Democrats who voted to kill Wood's law tariff bill, none were from this State. For so much we are thankful, but what a sorry figure those nineteen men cut in a party controlling the House, and aspiring to rule the nation.

DEAR HENRY—Decorations day, when we are to do the honors, the rain fell, and the day was rendered as disagreeable as bad weather could make it.

Mrs. Bladen has written for the press for many years and her name is a household word in the city, and not to be unknown to the proprietors of the paper I can say that nearly one-half of the subscribers for that paper take it for the sake of her articles.

Mrs. E. E. Benedict is in her writing the direct opposite of Mrs. Bladen. Her style of writing is marked by grace and softness and finish, while it carries its own quiet force.

Some politicians are trying to ridicule the practice, and bring it into discredit by saying it were better to bestow upon the living the money the flowers cost, etc., but for me, I hope that our country may perish when she ceases to honor her noble dead, and that individuals who hold such sentiments may sink into the profanity oblivion they wish for.

Philadelphia is noted for her charities. It needs but a want to be felt, to be remedied as nearly as possible immediately.

Mr. Henry Watterson, editor of the great Southern Democratic organ, the Louisville Courier-Journal, in a speech made at Dayton a few days ago, openly advocated placing rebel soldiers on the pension roll.

General Sherman evidently disapproves the drift of events, and in the following letter written in reply to an invitation to attend a meeting of the "Society of the Army of the Potomac," sounds a note of warning to his old comrades, and soldiers of the Union Army.

Of the nineteen Democrats who voted to kill Wood's law tariff bill, none were from this State. For so much we are thankful, but what a sorry figure those nineteen men cut in a party controlling the House, and aspiring to rule the nation.

Of the nineteen Democrats who voted to kill Wood's law tariff bill, none were from this State. For so much we are thankful, but what a sorry figure those nineteen men cut in a party controlling the House, and aspiring to rule the nation.

PARIS, May 26, 1918. I had intended to give special attention in this correspondence, to the displays made by the United States and Canada in the International Exhibition, to compare them with the exhibits of other countries, and to compare all, as far as possible, with the exposition in Philadelphia, two years ago.

The burglers then opened the side door and brought in a value full of tools and a pick-axe and spike hammer, which had been stolen from the Northern Central Railway Company.

The burglers inside were not just getting ready to explode another charge of powder in the stout old safe.

At present the magnificent East Indian Pavilion, and the collection of the Prince of Wales, are the great attractions of the Exhibition.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A Boise City dispatch states that sixty Banook Indians, last Friday, robbed Kingfisher Station, on the Overland road, and carried off $10,000.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A Boise City dispatch states that sixty Banook Indians, last Friday, robbed Kingfisher Station, on the Overland road, and carried off $10,000.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A Boise City dispatch states that sixty Banook Indians, last Friday, robbed Kingfisher Station, on the Overland road, and carried off $10,000.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A Boise City dispatch states that sixty Banook Indians, last Friday, robbed Kingfisher Station, on the Overland road, and carried off $10,000.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A Boise City dispatch states that sixty Banook Indians, last Friday, robbed Kingfisher Station, on the Overland road, and carried off $10,000.

face, which stunned him. They then tore open the pillow-case and made a gag, which they knotted into his mouth and tied firmly around his head. He was then handcuffed, and told that if he moved that he would be shot dead.

The burglers then opened the side door and brought in a value full of tools and a pick-axe and spike hammer, which had been stolen from the Northern Central Railway Company.

The burglers inside were not just getting ready to explode another charge of powder in the stout old safe.

At present the magnificent East Indian Pavilion, and the collection of the Prince of Wales, are the great attractions of the Exhibition.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A Boise City dispatch states that sixty Banook Indians, last Friday, robbed Kingfisher Station, on the Overland road, and carried off $10,000.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A Boise City dispatch states that sixty Banook Indians, last Friday, robbed Kingfisher Station, on the Overland road, and carried off $10,000.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A Boise City dispatch states that sixty Banook Indians, last Friday, robbed Kingfisher Station, on the Overland road, and carried off $10,000.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A Boise City dispatch states that sixty Banook Indians, last Friday, robbed Kingfisher Station, on the Overland road, and carried off $10,000.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A Boise City dispatch states that sixty Banook Indians, last Friday, robbed Kingfisher Station, on the Overland road, and carried off $10,000.

face, which stunned him. They then tore open the pillow-case and made a gag, which they knotted into his mouth and tied firmly around his head. He was then handcuffed, and told that if he moved that he would be shot dead.

The burglers then opened the side door and brought in a value full of tools and a pick-axe and spike hammer, which had been stolen from the Northern Central Railway Company.

The burglers inside were not just getting ready to explode another charge of powder in the stout old safe.

At present the magnificent East Indian Pavilion, and the collection of the Prince of Wales, are the great attractions of the Exhibition.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A Boise City dispatch states that sixty Banook Indians, last Friday, robbed Kingfisher Station, on the Overland road, and carried off $10,000.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A Boise City dispatch states that sixty Banook Indians, last Friday, robbed Kingfisher Station, on the Overland road, and carried off $10,000.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A Boise City dispatch states that sixty Banook Indians, last Friday, robbed Kingfisher Station, on the Overland road, and carried off $10,000.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A Boise City dispatch states that sixty Banook Indians, last Friday, robbed Kingfisher Station, on the Overland road, and carried off $10,000.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—A Boise City dispatch states that sixty Banook Indians, last Friday, robbed Kingfisher Station, on the Overland road, and carried off $10,000.

TERRIBLE LOSS OF LIFE. A FIRE DAMP EXPLOSION IN ENGLAND BY WHICH OVER 200 PEOPLE WERE KILLED.

LONDON, June 7.—An explosion of fire-damp occurred at the Wood Pit colliery in Wigan to-day, causing, it is feared, serious loss of life. Two hundred miners are buried in the ruins.

LONDON, June 7.—The explosion in the coal pit at Haydock to-day, which shook the earth for miles around, the first explorer descended the shaft five minutes after the explosion and others followed. Ten men were rescued alive and were sent to the surface, where one died almost immediately and the other suffered much.

RICHMOND, Va., June 1.—Two tramps met with a deserved fate at the hands of a plucky widow, whom they attempted to rob, near Tazewell Court House, in this State, last night. For several days past Mrs. W. had been a young widow living a few miles from this place.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—At six o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the five story building of Colgate & Co.'s extensive soap factory at York and Hudson streets.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—At six o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the five story building of Colgate & Co.'s extensive soap factory at York and Hudson streets.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—At six o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the five story building of Colgate & Co.'s extensive soap factory at York and Hudson streets.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—At six o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the five story building of Colgate & Co.'s extensive soap factory at York and Hudson streets.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—At six o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the five story building of Colgate & Co.'s extensive soap factory at York and Hudson streets.

The excitement in Germany. LONDON, June 5.—A Berlin dispatch to the Times says that his of the Congress has become a matter of indifference, and even the Grosskurier's 'slammy' is hardly spoken of in presence of the attempted assassination of the Emperor.

A dispatch from Paris says a private source from Germany explains that though the Socialists are afraid there is not a kinder heart or more affable man in all Europe than the Emperor William, or more mindful of the sufferings of his subjects, they regard him as the chief promoter of the present peace program.

LONDON, June 5.—A Berlin dispatch to the Times says that his of the Congress has become a matter of indifference, and even the Grosskurier's 'slammy' is hardly spoken of in presence of the attempted assassination of the Emperor.

A dispatch from Paris says a private source from Germany explains that though the Socialists are afraid there is not a kinder heart or more affable man in all Europe than the Emperor William, or more mindful of the sufferings of his subjects, they regard him as the chief promoter of the present peace program.

LONDON, June 5.—A Berlin dispatch to the Times says that his of the Congress has become a matter of indifference, and even the Grosskurier's 'slammy' is hardly spoken of in presence of the attempted assassination of the Emperor.

A dispatch from Paris says a private source from Germany explains that though the Socialists are afraid there is not a kinder heart or more affable man in all Europe than the Emperor William, or more mindful of the sufferings of his subjects, they regard him as the chief promoter of the present peace program.

LONDON, June 5.—A Berlin dispatch to the Times says that his of the Congress has become a matter of indifference, and even the Grosskurier's 'slammy' is hardly spoken of in presence of the attempted assassination of the Emperor.

A dispatch from Paris says a private source from Germany explains that though the Socialists are afraid there is not a kinder heart or more affable man in all Europe than the Emperor William, or more mindful of the sufferings of his subjects, they regard him as the chief promoter of the present peace program.

LONDON, June 5.—A Berlin dispatch to the Times says that his of the Congress has become a matter of indifference, and even the Grosskurier's 'slammy' is hardly spoken of in presence of the attempted assassination of the Emperor.