WHAT IS A YEAR?

What is a year? Tis but a wave Of life's dark rolling stream, Which so quickly gone that we Account it but a dream; Tie but a single earnest throb As tircless now and strong as when It first with life did start.

What is a year ? 'Tis but a turn Of Time's old brazen wheel. Or but a page upon the book Which death must shortly scal: 'Tis but a step upon the road Which we must travel o'er: I few more steps and we shall walk Lise's weary road no more.

What is a year? "Tis but a breath From Time's old nostrils blown : As rushing onward o'er the earth We hear his weary mean. Tis but a bubble on the wave, dew upon the lawn, As tra sient as the mist of morn Beneath the summer's sun.

What is a year? 'Tis but a type Of life's oft-changing scene : Youth's happy morn comes gally on With hills and valleys green: Next summer's prime succeeds the spring With flowers everywhere: Then comes old winter-death and time Must find their level there.

We had a gay, wild time playing together, climbing trees and the old stone wall. But it would take up too much time wall. But it would take up too much time work and threat from the door of the church like a thing of evil, on-buge iron kettles, she had a tea-kettle and two small brass pots in which to boil the sap. It seemed to us that the tea-kettle bordered on the pathetic. Then, too, instead of our round and freably-cut back-log she had only a rotten stick, which had laid on the ground till it was sodden which was indignantly returned. With damp. I think that it was sodden with damp. I think that it was sodden tea-kettle and back-log combined that induced us to extend our hospitality to little Mercy Nesbit, and invite her to little Mercy Nesbit, and invite her seemed to remember the surface of the sape of a desire to bring still tenand two small brass pots in which ten do to the poor girl, or whatever cause, he now felt heartily ashamed of bimself and sent a mea-kettle bordered on the pathetic. Then, too, instead of our round and freably-cut back-log she had only a rotten stick, which had laid on the ground till it was sodden which was indignantly returned.

The heifer seemed to remember this induced us to extend our hospitality to my mother's house where rapidly to my mother's house where they was some foot. He grew pale with and soon understood what movement. The judy of our house proved by the Government. The judy of four Republicans and the foruser rapidly to my mother's house where rapidly to my mother's house where they was seen coming across the meadow with a ten dollar ball the same of the same up stairs and called Lucy to the band, and shour, and then the foruser voted for conviction while the latter was n

Supervisor. Still another fraud by the omission of numbers was proved. Thus by numbering the twentieth man that voted twenty-five, and those who came after him in order, the as showing the whole number of voters, would be five too great; and if this was repeated, the total num-ber might be made to appear much larger than it really was. By these three tricks the poll lists made out by the clerk seemed to contain 196 names in excess of the actual number of voters. When the box was opened the number of ballots in it, including tissue-paper tickets, was found to be more than 200 in excess of the poll for we had by this time crossed the wall and were standing user her.
