

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

STATE TREASURER, SAMUEL BUTLER, OF CHESTER.

EVERY one will be glad to know that the Mrs. Sartoris' whose death was telegraphed from London last week, was not Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris, but her mother-in-law, who died a few days since.

The Democracy of Cambria county appear to have a serious time in nominating a ticket. They have had two conventions, both of which, in point of harmony, resembled the famous fight of the Killenny cats. At the late convention, held on Monday, they seemed to have had better luck than at the first one; at that time they were unable to nominate one candidate for sheriff, on Monday they succeeded in putting two candidates in the field.

GENERAL EWING the Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio, went up among the iron mills, the other day, to tell the idle workmen how much the Republican party had opposed and wronged them. He found all the mills running day and night; every man at work at good wages, and not a single one with whom spare time enough to listen to his speech.

The general was disgusted at the prosperity apparent on all hands and denounced it as a Republican trick, to deceive the people and defeat his election.

The War department has selected the military barracks at Carlisle in this State, as the place to try a system for the civilization of the Indians. The barracks are large, handsome and convenient buildings, with fine surroundings, and it is proposed to bring there a number of young Indian boys and girls. The girls will be taught, not only the rudiments of education, but how to cook and sew, and how to be neat and tidy in their persons and apparel, while the boys will be instructed how to read and write, and to maintain themselves by manual labor as farmers and mechanics. When graduated they will be ready to carry civilization back into the wilderness, and it is hoped that it will be found cheaper to make good Indians than to kill had ones. The experiment will attract attention throughout the world.

It is boasted by Bourbon Democrats that the principles of their party are immutable—the same everywhere. It is becoming painfully evident that the morality of the party is also of the same stripe throughout the land. Thus in the Louisiana investigation it was made as clear as noonday, that, in the South, perjury and bribery are esteemed Democratic virtues, and now, before Senator Wallace's committee investigating late elections in Rhode Island, comes a prominent Democrat and swears that he is in the habit of buying votes and he has no doubt the Republicans do likewise. But as he could not name the same ideas of morality pervade the Democracy in Louisiana and Rhode Island.

WHEN the negro exodus began, we were assured that the deluded people would quickly return to whence they came, as soon as they discovered that the State of Kansas did not endow settlers with forty acres of land and a mule apiece. But the prophecy has been falsified. Governor St. John says that no instance of a colored immigrant returning to the South after reaching Kansas has come under his notice, and he adds that the newcomers are decent, hardworking people, and not the shiftless loafers they had been painted. Another southern falsehood nullified.

WHEN the negro exodus began, we were assured that the deluded people would quickly return to whence they came, as soon as they discovered that the State of Kansas did not endow settlers with forty acres of land and a mule apiece. But the prophecy has been falsified. Governor St. John says that no instance of a colored immigrant returning to the South after reaching Kansas has come under his notice, and he adds that the newcomers are decent, hardworking people, and not the shiftless loafers they had been painted. Another southern falsehood nullified.

WHEN the negro exodus began, we were assured that the deluded people would quickly return to whence they came, as soon as they discovered that the State of Kansas did not endow settlers with forty acres of land and a mule apiece. But the prophecy has been falsified. Governor St. John says that no instance of a colored immigrant returning to the South after reaching Kansas has come under his notice, and he adds that the newcomers are decent, hardworking people, and not the shiftless loafers they had been painted. Another southern falsehood nullified.

WHEN the negro exodus began, we were assured that the deluded people would quickly return to whence they came, as soon as they discovered that the State of Kansas did not endow settlers with forty acres of land and a mule apiece. But the prophecy has been falsified. Governor St. John says that no instance of a colored immigrant returning to the South after reaching Kansas has come under his notice, and he adds that the newcomers are decent, hardworking people, and not the shiftless loafers they had been painted. Another southern falsehood nullified.

WHEN the negro exodus began, we were assured that the deluded people would quickly return to whence they came, as soon as they discovered that the State of Kansas did not endow settlers with forty acres of land and a mule apiece. But the prophecy has been falsified. Governor St. John says that no instance of a colored immigrant returning to the South after reaching Kansas has come under his notice, and he adds that the newcomers are decent, hardworking people, and not the shiftless loafers they had been painted. Another southern falsehood nullified.

WHEN the negro exodus began, we were assured that the deluded people would quickly return to whence they came, as soon as they discovered that the State of Kansas did not endow settlers with forty acres of land and a mule apiece. But the prophecy has been falsified. Governor St. John says that no instance of a colored immigrant returning to the South after reaching Kansas has come under his notice, and he adds that the newcomers are decent, hardworking people, and not the shiftless loafers they had been painted. Another southern falsehood nullified.

WHEN the negro exodus began, we were assured that the deluded people would quickly return to whence they came, as soon as they discovered that the State of Kansas did not endow settlers with forty acres of land and a mule apiece. But the prophecy has been falsified. Governor St. John says that no instance of a colored immigrant returning to the South after reaching Kansas has come under his notice, and he adds that the newcomers are decent, hardworking people, and not the shiftless loafers they had been painted. Another southern falsehood nullified.

WHEN the negro exodus began, we were assured that the deluded people would quickly return to whence they came, as soon as they discovered that the State of Kansas did not endow settlers with forty acres of land and a mule apiece. But the prophecy has been falsified. Governor St. John says that no instance of a colored immigrant returning to the South after reaching Kansas has come under his notice, and he adds that the newcomers are decent, hardworking people, and not the shiftless loafers they had been painted. Another southern falsehood nullified.

WHEN the negro exodus began, we were assured that the deluded people would quickly return to whence they came, as soon as they discovered that the State of Kansas did not endow settlers with forty acres of land and a mule apiece. But the prophecy has been falsified. Governor St. John says that no instance of a colored immigrant returning to the South after reaching Kansas has come under his notice, and he adds that the newcomers are decent, hardworking people, and not the shiftless loafers they had been painted. Another southern falsehood nullified.

WHEN the negro exodus began, we were assured that the deluded people would quickly return to whence they came, as soon as they discovered that the State of Kansas did not endow settlers with forty acres of land and a mule apiece. But the prophecy has been falsified. Governor St. John says that no instance of a colored immigrant returning to the South after reaching Kansas has come under his notice, and he adds that the newcomers are decent, hardworking people, and not the shiftless loafers they had been painted. Another southern falsehood nullified.

WHEN the negro exodus began, we were assured that the deluded people would quickly return to whence they came, as soon as they discovered that the State of Kansas did not endow settlers with forty acres of land and a mule apiece. But the prophecy has been falsified. Governor St. John says that no instance of a colored immigrant returning to the South after reaching Kansas has come under his notice, and he adds that the newcomers are decent, hardworking people, and not the shiftless loafers they had been painted. Another southern falsehood nullified.

WHEN the negro exodus began, we were assured that the deluded people would quickly return to whence they came, as soon as they discovered that the State of Kansas did not endow settlers with forty acres of land and a mule apiece. But the prophecy has been falsified. Governor St. John says that no instance of a colored immigrant returning to the South after reaching Kansas has come under his notice, and he adds that the newcomers are decent, hardworking people, and not the shiftless loafers they had been painted. Another southern falsehood nullified.

WHEN the negro exodus began, we were assured that the deluded people would quickly return to whence they came, as soon as they discovered that the State of Kansas did not endow settlers with forty acres of land and a mule apiece. But the prophecy has been falsified. Governor St. John says that no instance of a colored immigrant returning to the South after reaching Kansas has come under his notice, and he adds that the newcomers are decent, hardworking people, and not the shiftless loafers they had been painted. Another southern falsehood nullified.

WHEN the negro exodus began, we were assured that the deluded people would quickly return to whence they came, as soon as they discovered that the State of Kansas did not endow settlers with forty acres of land and a mule apiece. But the prophecy has been falsified. Governor St. John says that no instance of a colored immigrant returning to the South after reaching Kansas has come under his notice, and he adds that the newcomers are decent, hardworking people, and not the shiftless loafers they had been painted. Another southern falsehood nullified.

The independent of Yazoo county, Mississippi, fully understand that if they submit to being bulldozed, they will soon be reduced to the same condition of serfdom in which the negroes are now held. The assassination of Dixon, had, instead of intimidating them, apparently only served them to stand up for their rights. Accordingly on Wednesday last, they met in convention, and placed a full ticket in the field in opposition to the regular Democrat, and resolved to support it all hard. If they do not rally all the decent element in the community to their support and beat the murderers' ticket, then we will conclude that all manhood has fled the South.

JOHN RUSSELL YOUNG, the correspondent of the New York Herald, who is traveling with General Grant, writes that paper that the Chinese Viceroy at Peking, having expressed his pleasure over the rumor that General Grant would be again nominated for President, the General said, in reply: "Your excellency is very kind; but there could be no wish more distasteful to me than what you express. I have held the office of President as long as it has ever been held by any man. There are others who have risen to a great distinction at home, and who have earned the honor, who are worthy, and to them it belongs, not to me. I have no claims to the office. It is a place distasteful to me—a place of hardship and responsibilities. When I was a younger man, these hardships were severe, and never agreeable. They would be worse now."

JACKSON, MISS., August 20.—Yesterday at Yazoo City a difficulty occurred between James Barksdale, the Democratic candidate for Governor, and Henry M. Dixon, the Republican candidate for Governor. At the same time advanced to the middle of the street, armed with a double-barreled shot gun. Dixon halted and immediately placed his hand on a pistol, drawing it. Barksdale, seeing this, advanced to the other side of the street, and fired a shot which struck Dixon in the chest. Dixon fell, and was carried to a hospital. Barksdale fled.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

The following persons represent the State of Mississippi in Congress: SENATORS, L. Q. C. Lamar, Blanche K. Bruce, REPRESENTATIVES, H. L. Malden, O. R. Singleton, H. H. Manning, C. E. Chalmers, H. D. Money, J. R. Haldeman.

These are, presumably, all men of influence in their State. They ought to be men of character, courage, and honorable feelings. They cannot help but know what is going on in many counties of their State. Several of the most influential journals of the State have repeatedly urged them to speak out. Not a man jacked them has opened his mouth. Now, then, gentlemen, if you do not speak out against lawlessness, violence, and assassination, resign your seats in Congress. You cannot face your fellow men in December if you remain silent. Your very presence in either House would be disgraceful to your own State. You could not meet our voters on the floor without feeling the contempt and disgust of the honorable and manly members of your own party. Your silence makes you the partisan and accomplices of assassins, and you would so grossly misrepresent your State in Congress that your recent seats would do more harm for it in the National Legislature than your contemptible presence. Speak out, or resign. Your present position is untenable.—N. Y. Herald.

JACKSON, MISS., August 20.—Yesterday at Yazoo City a difficulty occurred between James Barksdale, the Democratic candidate for Governor, and Henry M. Dixon, the Republican candidate for Governor. At the same time advanced to the middle of the street, armed with a double-barreled shot gun. Dixon halted and immediately placed his hand on a pistol, drawing it. Barksdale, seeing this, advanced to the other side of the street, and fired a shot which struck Dixon in the chest. Dixon fell, and was carried to a hospital. Barksdale fled.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

The system has a plan for dealing with every man who tries to organize an opposition to Democratic ascendancy in this Federal territory of State. Socialists and assassins are not only men, and diabolical stories are circulated to destroy his good name. Every form of social and business pressure is brought to bear to force him to retire. If he still holds out, he is shot down with bullets, and his body is left to rot on the roadside. He is always at home at nights, and goes well-armed during the day, and is known to be "prompt in defending himself, he will probably escape bodily harm; but he will soon be waited upon by a large number of men, armed with a pistol, and he will find it prudent to make up his mind, as Dixon did, to withdraw from the canvass for the sake of peace and harmony. He knows that if he should refuse to retire, he would not be met with a firing. He would be faster among the Six or the Bash-Bazouks than among his own neighbors and relatives. This is the system which keeps the South solid, and will make it a compact force in the Presidential election next year.—Tribune.

JACKSON, MISS., August 20.—Yesterday at Yazoo City a difficulty occurred between James Barksdale, the Democratic candidate for Governor, and Henry M. Dixon, the Republican candidate for Governor. At the same time advanced to the middle of the street, armed with a double-barreled shot gun. Dixon halted and immediately placed his hand on a pistol, drawing it. Barksdale, seeing this, advanced to the other side of the street, and fired a shot which struck Dixon in the chest. Dixon fell, and was carried to a hospital. Barksdale fled.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

After the war closed Congress passed a law authorizing the War Department to cause headstones to be erected over every dead soldier that fell in the war of the rebellion. In the South this has been done by the Quartermaster's department. Besides, the bodies have been gathered together from the different battle fields and hospitals at central points throughout the country and cemeteries established under the control of the National Government, with a superintendent selected from the disabled veterans. A salary of $50 to $75 a month, according to the size and grade of cemetery. There are some fifty of these National cemeteries established. They are laid out nicely and enclosed with strong fences and are inspected from time to time by a United States official, to see that those in charge keep everything in a neat and orderly condition. At the entrance of each cemetery has been erected a comfortable house for the superintendent and family who are required to be always in the cemetery, to receive the bodies that are coming in from the field. Each superintendent has a book in which is kept the name, rank, company and regiment of each soldier buried there as far as known. No body is allowed to be buried there, unless the order of the Secretary of War, which has been given by the proper person entitled to receive the bodies. The Government has made no appropriation which authorizes the Quartermaster department to remove bodies at the expense of the United States friends, but extends the courtesy of its power to those who desire to do so. A great many of the remains have been removed but thousands remain there sleeping under the American flag for which they sacrificed their lives for the Union right. The graves of old soldiers are to be over them at twilight (sunrise) each day and lowered at sunset. All the graves are marked with nice tombstones. Those that are known have their names inscribed on the marble slabs with their rank, company and regiment, and the others have the solitary line, "Unknown."

JACKSON, MISS., August 20.—Yesterday at Yazoo City a difficulty occurred between James Barksdale, the Democratic candidate for Governor, and Henry M. Dixon, the Republican candidate for Governor. At the same time advanced to the middle of the street, armed with a double-barreled shot gun. Dixon halted and immediately placed his hand on a pistol, drawing it. Barksdale, seeing this, advanced to the other side of the street, and fired a shot which struck Dixon in the chest. Dixon fell, and was carried to a hospital. Barksdale fled.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H. M. Dixon, at Yazoo City, has been received by his brother, G. P. Dixon, a clerk in the Treasury Department. The mother of the murdered man, who also resides in this city, has recently written him a letter to keep out of politics, as it only involved him in constant trouble, and to be content with his business and lands.

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Confirmation of the report of the assassination of Capt. H.