Two Children Poisoned. SPRINGFIELD, MASS., September 4. —Lizzie Shepherd, a mulatto woman, is in custody charged with killing the little son of J. W. Smith, by giving him arsenic. After the death of the child she was employed in the family of Mr. D. Farrell, where she gave a little boy, six years old, a glass of milk. The child was taken sick, but prompt treatment saved his life. The contents of the stomach of the Smith child having been analyzed, arsenic was found to be the cause of death. The murderer is a large, active, bright looking woman, but at times, when taken unawares, a demonic, light shines in her eye. She claims to be a prophet, and had predicted a death in the Smith family.

Ham was from Kentucky, and one theory is that the homicide was the result of an old feud.
