

Republican National Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT: ULYSSES S. GRANT, (Subject to the approval of the Republican National Convention.)

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR SUPREME JUDGE: HENRY GREEN, Northampton County. FOR AUDITOR GENERAL: JOHN A. LEMON, Blair County.

The Democratic State Committee has been called to meet at Pittsburgh on the 18th of March, to fix the time and place for holding the State Convention.

The Republican State Convention of New York that assembled at Utica on Wednesday last week, was a most harmonious affair, and its delegation to Congress casting seventy votes was instructed to cast them for General Grant, and to use its earnest and united efforts to secure his nomination.

The Republicans of Indiana elected their delegates to the Chicago Convention by Congressional districts on Wednesday last. Of the 13 districts, all selected Blaine men except the 4th district which chose two Sherman delegates. The State Convention will select the four delegates at large. It is reported that the State would be solid for Washburne if he was a candidate.

The Republican State Committee of Illinois met at Chicago on the 25th ult., and with them were assembled by invitation, about 600 delegates from all parts of the State. A free interchange of sentiment was had, and although considerable Blaine sentiment was displayed, the preference of the State was shown to largely favor Grant. Washburne was shown also to be a great favorite.

The Little Rock Democrat reports the Hon. Henry M. Cooper, of Arkansas, as saying: "I prefer General Grant for President. I think he is the safest and best man. The Arkansas delegation to Chicago will support General Grant, without a doubt. I see that Senator Dorsey is for him. I know that Governor Clayton is his ardent supporter, and nearly all the prominent Republicans in the State favor his nomination. So that I don't think there is any question that the Arkansas delegation will be solid for him."

There is one thing worthy of attention in the present condition of affairs and that is, that not a single Republican journal, or a prominent Republican advocating the reelection of General Grant, has an unkind or unseemly word to say relative to his principal opponent James G. Blaine; while on the other hand, alleged Blaine journals, and professed friends and self constituted champions of the Senator from Maine, assault General Grant as virulently as if he was the basest of political antagonists. This proves conclusively that the true and real Republicans, anxious for the welfare and success of the party. Of course Senator Blaine is not to be held responsible for the acts of his foolish friends, but their intolerance of the sentiments of others is much more calculated to injure the party and jeopardize its success, than the contrasted efforts of the Democratic force of the party.

The N. Y. Tribune has been making what it calls a canvass of "the County Committee" of this State with the view of showing public sentiment, as between Grant and Blaine for the Presidency. It professes to have received 1493 replies to its circulars, of which 1213 indicate a preference for Blaine and 280 for Grant.

This is not much of a showing out of the immense vote of this State, but it may be very readily granted that among the committed members of the State the Senator from Maine has the enormous number of 1213 friends, for each one of these committees merely speaks for himself and himself alone. It is observable too in looking over the list, that many little towns send in three, four or more replies, showing that they have a most wonderful fecundity in the way of producing committees. That the Tribune should imagine that sensible men would be tickled with these presidential stunts is most amusing, but then every election brings with it a similar amount of trustworthy voting before election day arrives.

Not being satisfied with obtaining signatures to that famous certificate, by false representations, as was shown by the card of Mr. Gebraith which we published last week, it now turns out, that forgery was resorted to, to swell the number of indignant citizens. We write the attention of the highly moral gentlemen who invented this happy method of protecting public virtue, as well as that of the general public, to the card of Messrs. Walter J. Jones and Daniel Shultz, setting forth, that if their names are attached to the original paper, the signatures were forged. It is now in order for the gentlemen who begot the certificate, put it in circulation, and caused it to be published, to step forth into the full-noon-day blaze of publicity which he sought for, and make his little statement. Here at least, there can be no dodging.

A CARD!

Mr. SCULL—We were very much surprised to find our names attached to an article in the Meyerdale Commercial of February 20, 1892, published for the purpose of assuaging your good name, and wish to say to you and to the Republicans of the county that we never signed any such paper, nor authorized our names to be so used, and further if they are attached to it, then they are forged. We know of no man in the community who has a better reputation for truth and veracity than yourself.

With this explanation we are Truly Yours, W. J. JONES, DANIEL SHULTZ.

As we supposed would be the case when we stated that W. H. Wesley admitted to the editor of this paper and others whom we named, that he had packed the late county meeting, the quibble has been resorted to, but he has been literally packed, but he has been literally packed, but he has been literally packed.

The Republican State Convention of New York that assembled at Utica on Wednesday last week, was a most harmonious affair, and its delegation to Congress casting seventy votes was instructed to cast them for General Grant, and to use its earnest and united efforts to secure his nomination.

The Republicans of Indiana elected their delegates to the Chicago Convention by Congressional districts on Wednesday last.

The Little Rock Democrat reports the Hon. Henry M. Cooper, of Arkansas, as saying: "I prefer General Grant for President. I think he is the safest and best man. The Arkansas delegation to Chicago will support General Grant, without a doubt. I see that Senator Dorsey is for him. I know that Governor Clayton is his ardent supporter, and nearly all the prominent Republicans in the State favor his nomination. So that I don't think there is any question that the Arkansas delegation will be solid for him."

There is one thing worthy of attention in the present condition of affairs and that is, that not a single Republican journal, or a prominent Republican advocating the reelection of General Grant, has an unkind or unseemly word to say relative to his principal opponent James G. Blaine; while on the other hand, alleged Blaine journals, and professed friends and self constituted champions of the Senator from Maine, assault General Grant as virulently as if he was the basest of political antagonists.

The N. Y. Tribune has been making what it calls a canvass of "the County Committee" of this State with the view of showing public sentiment, as between Grant and Blaine for the Presidency. It professes to have received 1493 replies to its circulars, of which 1213 indicate a preference for Blaine and 280 for Grant.

This is not much of a showing out of the immense vote of this State, but it may be very readily granted that among the committed members of the State the Senator from Maine has the enormous number of 1213 friends, for each one of these committees merely speaks for himself and himself alone.

That the Tribune should imagine that sensible men would be tickled with these presidential stunts is most amusing, but then every election brings with it a similar amount of trustworthy voting before election day arrives.

Not being satisfied with obtaining signatures to that famous certificate, by false representations, as was shown by the card of Mr. Gebraith which we published last week, it now turns out, that forgery was resorted to, to swell the number of indignant citizens. We write the attention of the highly moral gentlemen who invented this happy method of protecting public virtue, as well as that of the general public, to the card of Messrs. Walter J. Jones and Daniel Shultz, setting forth, that if their names are attached to the original paper, the signatures were forged.

present the fact that he loaned himself to the attempt to bring disgrace upon our gray hairs. Hereafter "when in the mood he may unloosed" "W. H. Wesley" be in short "kiss and make friends" The abjectness of our shame knows no limits.

The Boston Advertiser says "if the sentiment of Massachusetts is fairly represented at Chicago it will be Grant."

HON. SAMUEL BUTLER, State Treasurer-elect, has rented his farm in Chester county and will remove to Harrisburg in the spring.

GENERAL STEWART L. WOODFORD, of New York, is named in connection with the Vice Presidency on the Republican ticket.

GENERAL LONGSTREET says General Grant is the only person who, as a Presidential candidate, could carry Louisiana, North Carolina and Georgia.

It is now given out in Washington that Tilden is not only a candidate for re-nomination, but that he will fight for it. This means a smash-up of some kind.

SENATOR BAYARD, of Delaware, appears to be pretty much squelched as a Democratic candidate for the Presidency by the republication of his copperhead record during the struggle for the preservation of the Union.

The girl said: "Mother, if I cannot get married, can I have a piece of bread and butter?" The Democratic party tried to steal the whole State of Maine; having failed in that, they propose to steal a little bread and butter up in Minnesota.

Mr. F. J. KOOSER evidently "bit off more than he can chew." His malice is fairly well intended, if it could only reach the mark. His attempt to excite sympathy by whimpering from beneath the coat tails of that formidable warrior, General Koozitz, is perhaps a success. His futile effort to create the impression that we insulted the Republican party of the county, when in behalf of its integrity, present and to come, we exposed and denounced the efforts of a few irresponsible meddlers in this town, to pack its meeting, is but a rebash of a twice told lie, and the innuendo, that having some other object to subvert, were not angered because, other persons were not selected as delegates, but proves his utter insincerity and lack of ordinary sagacity, when the fact is known that we personally solicited both himself and Col. Edie to stand as delegates.

The free trade gentlemen who were urging the reduction in the duty of steel rails on the pretence that the railways of the country demanded it, are shocked to see the representatives of twenty or more companies operating lines aggregating more than fifteen thousand miles in length, protesting against the reduction and declaring that it will injure not only the steel industry but railway interests also.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says that George C. Eisenmayer, of St. Clair county, Ill., a prominent German, writes as follows to a friend in that city: "I am in favor of General Grant, for the following reasons: First, the rebels fear him; second, the negroes revere him; third, Republicans trust and have faith in him, and honest Democrats respect him; fourth, he is the best and most favorably known man on this universal globe, and last but not least, we can elect him and securely see him."

New applications for pensions are pouring into the Interior Department at the rate of 7,000 per month. Where they come from is a mystery. Some 250,000 pensioners are now on the rolls and over 200,000 claims are pending, and these numbers indicate that nearly one-half the men enlisted in the Union Army were either killed, wounded or disabled by disease while in the service. It is certainly an extraordinary fact that, after a lapse of sixteen years, some 333 persons should daily discover that they are entitled to relief from the government.

right to the seat he now holds in that body, and protesting against his expulsion. The Democracy of the Legislature have passed resolutions in favor of setting Spofford, the contractor of Kellogg. Both acts, that of the majority which passed the resolutions in favor of Spofford, and that of the minority, memorializing in favor of Kellogg, were proper of themselves, being the exercise of a privilege to which every citizen is entitled. It was the resort to the right of petition, which cannot be denied to any man; but the Democratic majority of the Louisiana Legislature perverted the exercise of this right on the part of the four Republican members of that body as a disrespect, a contempt which rendered them worthy of expulsion and they have accordingly been expelled. This is the last display of Democratic intolerance, the statement of which is all that is necessary.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Gen. Grant's Welcome in Mexico.

A dispatch from the City of Mexico says: At the reception of Gen. Grant on the night of February 21, 1892, the city was illuminated with Chinese lanterns and decorated with American flags. The moment the carriage started a magnificent arch was visible, illuminated with Bengal lights, on which appeared the words "Welcome." A column of the band of the Mexican army, with a band playing appropriate military airs, and five hundred royal dragons, with lighted torches, illuminated the line of the procession to the Mineral College. After the passage of Gen. Grant an immense procession of citizens, headed by the Mayor of Mexico, followed the general's apartments, paying him honors. At the house adjacent to General Grant he was received by the Governor of the State and City Council, who welcomed him as the guest of the city.

The girl said: "Mother, if I cannot get married, can I have a piece of bread and butter?" The Democratic party tried to steal the whole State of Maine; having failed in that, they propose to steal a little bread and butter up in Minnesota.

Mr. F. J. KOOSER evidently "bit off more than he can chew." His malice is fairly well intended, if it could only reach the mark. His attempt to excite sympathy by whimpering from beneath the coat tails of that formidable warrior, General Koozitz, is perhaps a success. His futile effort to create the impression that we insulted the Republican party of the county, when in behalf of its integrity, present and to come, we exposed and denounced the efforts of a few irresponsible meddlers in this town, to pack its meeting, is but a rebash of a twice told lie, and the innuendo, that having some other object to subvert, were not angered because, other persons were not selected as delegates, but proves his utter insincerity and lack of ordinary sagacity, when the fact is known that we personally solicited both himself and Col. Edie to stand as delegates.

The free trade gentlemen who were urging the reduction in the duty of steel rails on the pretence that the railways of the country demanded it, are shocked to see the representatives of twenty or more companies operating lines aggregating more than fifteen thousand miles in length, protesting against the reduction and declaring that it will injure not only the steel industry but railway interests also.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says that George C. Eisenmayer, of St. Clair county, Ill., a prominent German, writes as follows to a friend in that city: "I am in favor of General Grant, for the following reasons: First, the rebels fear him; second, the negroes revere him; third, Republicans trust and have faith in him, and honest Democrats respect him; fourth, he is the best and most favorably known man on this universal globe, and last but not least, we can elect him and securely see him."

New applications for pensions are pouring into the Interior Department at the rate of 7,000 per month. Where they come from is a mystery. Some 250,000 pensioners are now on the rolls and over 200,000 claims are pending, and these numbers indicate that nearly one-half the men enlisted in the Union Army were either killed, wounded or disabled by disease while in the service. It is certainly an extraordinary fact that, after a lapse of sixteen years, some 333 persons should daily discover that they are entitled to relief from the government.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says that George C. Eisenmayer, of St. Clair county, Ill., a prominent German, writes as follows to a friend in that city: "I am in favor of General Grant, for the following reasons: First, the rebels fear him; second, the negroes revere him; third, Republicans trust and have faith in him, and honest Democrats respect him; fourth, he is the best and most favorably known man on this universal globe, and last but not least, we can elect him and securely see him."

New applications for pensions are pouring into the Interior Department at the rate of 7,000 per month. Where they come from is a mystery. Some 250,000 pensioners are now on the rolls and over 200,000 claims are pending, and these numbers indicate that nearly one-half the men enlisted in the Union Army were either killed, wounded or disabled by disease while in the service. It is certainly an extraordinary fact that, after a lapse of sixteen years, some 333 persons should daily discover that they are entitled to relief from the government.

right to the seat he now holds in that body, and protesting against his expulsion. The Democracy of the Legislature have passed resolutions in favor of setting Spofford, the contractor of Kellogg. Both acts, that of the majority which passed the resolutions in favor of Spofford, and that of the minority, memorializing in favor of Kellogg, were proper of themselves, being the exercise of a privilege to which every citizen is entitled. It was the resort to the right of petition, which cannot be denied to any man; but the Democratic majority of the Louisiana Legislature perverted the exercise of this right on the part of the four Republican members of that body as a disrespect, a contempt which rendered them worthy of expulsion and they have accordingly been expelled. This is the last display of Democratic intolerance, the statement of which is all that is necessary.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Gen. Grant's Welcome in Mexico.

A dispatch from the City of Mexico says: At the reception of Gen. Grant on the night of February 21, 1892, the city was illuminated with Chinese lanterns and decorated with American flags. The moment the carriage started a magnificent arch was visible, illuminated with Bengal lights, on which appeared the words "Welcome." A column of the band of the Mexican army, with a band playing appropriate military airs, and five hundred royal dragons, with lighted torches, illuminated the line of the procession to the Mineral College. After the passage of Gen. Grant an immense procession of citizens, headed by the Mayor of Mexico, followed the general's apartments, paying him honors. At the house adjacent to General Grant he was received by the Governor of the State and City Council, who welcomed him as the guest of the city.

The girl said: "Mother, if I cannot get married, can I have a piece of bread and butter?" The Democratic party tried to steal the whole State of Maine; having failed in that, they propose to steal a little bread and butter up in Minnesota.

Mr. F. J. KOOSER evidently "bit off more than he can chew." His malice is fairly well intended, if it could only reach the mark. His attempt to excite sympathy by whimpering from beneath the coat tails of that formidable warrior, General Koozitz, is perhaps a success. His futile effort to create the impression that we insulted the Republican party of the county, when in behalf of its integrity, present and to come, we exposed and denounced the efforts of a few irresponsible meddlers in this town, to pack its meeting, is but a rebash of a twice told lie, and the innuendo, that having some other object to subvert, were not angered because, other persons were not selected as delegates, but proves his utter insincerity and lack of ordinary sagacity, when the fact is known that we personally solicited both himself and Col. Edie to stand as delegates.

The free trade gentlemen who were urging the reduction in the duty of steel rails on the pretence that the railways of the country demanded it, are shocked to see the representatives of twenty or more companies operating lines aggregating more than fifteen thousand miles in length, protesting against the reduction and declaring that it will injure not only the steel industry but railway interests also.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says that George C. Eisenmayer, of St. Clair county, Ill., a prominent German, writes as follows to a friend in that city: "I am in favor of General Grant, for the following reasons: First, the rebels fear him; second, the negroes revere him; third, Republicans trust and have faith in him, and honest Democrats respect him; fourth, he is the best and most favorably known man on this universal globe, and last but not least, we can elect him and securely see him."

New applications for pensions are pouring into the Interior Department at the rate of 7,000 per month. Where they come from is a mystery. Some 250,000 pensioners are now on the rolls and over 200,000 claims are pending, and these numbers indicate that nearly one-half the men enlisted in the Union Army were either killed, wounded or disabled by disease while in the service. It is certainly an extraordinary fact that, after a lapse of sixteen years, some 333 persons should daily discover that they are entitled to relief from the government.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says that George C. Eisenmayer, of St. Clair county, Ill., a prominent German, writes as follows to a friend in that city: "I am in favor of General Grant, for the following reasons: First, the rebels fear him; second, the negroes revere him; third, Republicans trust and have faith in him, and honest Democrats respect him; fourth, he is the best and most favorably known man on this universal globe, and last but not least, we can elect him and securely see him."

New applications for pensions are pouring into the Interior Department at the rate of 7,000 per month. Where they come from is a mystery. Some 250,000 pensioners are now on the rolls and over 200,000 claims are pending, and these numbers indicate that nearly one-half the men enlisted in the Union Army were either killed, wounded or disabled by disease while in the service. It is certainly an extraordinary fact that, after a lapse of sixteen years, some 333 persons should daily discover that they are entitled to relief from the government.

right to the seat he now holds in that body, and protesting against his expulsion. The Democracy of the Legislature have passed resolutions in favor of setting Spofford, the contractor of Kellogg. Both acts, that of the majority which passed the resolutions in favor of Spofford, and that of the minority, memorializing in favor of Kellogg, were proper of themselves, being the exercise of a privilege to which every citizen is entitled. It was the resort to the right of petition, which cannot be denied to any man; but the Democratic majority of the Louisiana Legislature perverted the exercise of this right on the part of the four Republican members of that body as a disrespect, a contempt which rendered them worthy of expulsion and they have accordingly been expelled. This is the last display of Democratic intolerance, the statement of which is all that is necessary.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Gen. Grant's Welcome in Mexico.

A dispatch from the City of Mexico says: At the reception of Gen. Grant on the night of February 21, 1892, the city was illuminated with Chinese lanterns and decorated with American flags. The moment the carriage started a magnificent arch was visible, illuminated with Bengal lights, on which appeared the words "Welcome." A column of the band of the Mexican army, with a band playing appropriate military airs, and five hundred royal dragons, with lighted torches, illuminated the line of the procession to the Mineral College. After the passage of Gen. Grant an immense procession of citizens, headed by the Mayor of Mexico, followed the general's apartments, paying him honors. At the house adjacent to General Grant he was received by the Governor of the State and City Council, who welcomed him as the guest of the city.

The girl said: "Mother, if I cannot get married, can I have a piece of bread and butter?" The Democratic party tried to steal the whole State of Maine; having failed in that, they propose to steal a little bread and butter up in Minnesota.

Mr. F. J. KOOSER evidently "bit off more than he can chew." His malice is fairly well intended, if it could only reach the mark. His attempt to excite sympathy by whimpering from beneath the coat tails of that formidable warrior, General Koozitz, is perhaps a success. His futile effort to create the impression that we insulted the Republican party of the county, when in behalf of its integrity, present and to come, we exposed and denounced the efforts of a few irresponsible meddlers in this town, to pack its meeting, is but a rebash of a twice told lie, and the innuendo, that having some other object to subvert, were not angered because, other persons were not selected as delegates, but proves his utter insincerity and lack of ordinary sagacity, when the fact is known that we personally solicited both himself and Col. Edie to stand as delegates.

The free trade gentlemen who were urging the reduction in the duty of steel rails on the pretence that the railways of the country demanded it, are shocked to see the representatives of twenty or more companies operating lines aggregating more than fifteen thousand miles in length, protesting against the reduction and declaring that it will injure not only the steel industry but railway interests also.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says that George C. Eisenmayer, of St. Clair county, Ill., a prominent German, writes as follows to a friend in that city: "I am in favor of General Grant, for the following reasons: First, the rebels fear him; second, the negroes revere him; third, Republicans trust and have faith in him, and honest Democrats respect him; fourth, he is the best and most favorably known man on this universal globe, and last but not least, we can elect him and securely see him."

New applications for pensions are pouring into the Interior Department at the rate of 7,000 per month. Where they come from is a mystery. Some 250,000 pensioners are now on the rolls and over 200,000 claims are pending, and these numbers indicate that nearly one-half the men enlisted in the Union Army were either killed, wounded or disabled by disease while in the service. It is certainly an extraordinary fact that, after a lapse of sixteen years, some 333 persons should daily discover that they are entitled to relief from the government.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says that George C. Eisenmayer, of St. Clair county, Ill., a prominent German, writes as follows to a friend in that city: "I am in favor of General Grant, for the following reasons: First, the rebels fear him; second, the negroes revere him; third, Republicans trust and have faith in him, and honest Democrats respect him; fourth, he is the best and most favorably known man on this universal globe, and last but not least, we can elect him and securely see him."

New applications for pensions are pouring into the Interior Department at the rate of 7,000 per month. Where they come from is a mystery. Some 250,000 pensioners are now on the rolls and over 200,000 claims are pending, and these numbers indicate that nearly one-half the men enlisted in the Union Army were either killed, wounded or disabled by disease while in the service. It is certainly an extraordinary fact that, after a lapse of sixteen years, some 333 persons should daily discover that they are entitled to relief from the government.

right to the seat he now holds in that body, and protesting against his expulsion. The Democracy of the Legislature have passed resolutions in favor of setting Spofford, the contractor of Kellogg. Both acts, that of the majority which passed the resolutions in favor of Spofford, and that of the minority, memorializing in favor of Kellogg, were proper of themselves, being the exercise of a privilege to which every citizen is entitled. It was the resort to the right of petition, which cannot be denied to any man; but the Democratic majority of the Louisiana Legislature perverted the exercise of this right on the part of the four Republican members of that body as a disrespect, a contempt which rendered them worthy of expulsion and they have accordingly been expelled. This is the last display of Democratic intolerance, the statement of which is all that is necessary.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Gen. Grant's Welcome in Mexico.

A dispatch from the City of Mexico says: At the reception of Gen. Grant on the night of February 21, 1892, the city was illuminated with Chinese lanterns and decorated with American flags. The moment the carriage started a magnificent arch was visible, illuminated with Bengal lights, on which appeared the words "Welcome." A column of the band of the Mexican army, with a band playing appropriate military airs, and five hundred royal dragons, with lighted torches, illuminated the line of the procession to the Mineral College. After the passage of Gen. Grant an immense procession of citizens, headed by the Mayor of Mexico, followed the general's apartments, paying him honors. At the house adjacent to General Grant he was received by the Governor of the State and City Council, who welcomed him as the guest of the city.

The girl said: "Mother, if I cannot get married, can I have a piece of bread and butter?" The Democratic party tried to steal the whole State of Maine; having failed in that, they propose to steal a little bread and butter up in Minnesota.

Mr. F. J. KOOSER evidently "bit off more than he can chew." His malice is fairly well intended, if it could only reach the mark. His attempt to excite sympathy by whimpering from beneath the coat tails of that formidable warrior, General Koozitz, is perhaps a success. His futile effort to create the impression that we insulted the Republican party of the county, when in behalf of its integrity, present and to come, we exposed and denounced the efforts of a few irresponsible meddlers in this town, to pack its meeting, is but a rebash of a twice told lie, and the innuendo, that having some other object to subvert, were not angered because, other persons were not selected as delegates, but proves his utter insincerity and lack of ordinary sagacity, when the fact is known that we personally solicited both himself and Col. Edie to stand as delegates.

The free trade gentlemen who were urging the reduction in the duty of steel rails on the pretence that the railways of the country demanded it, are shocked to see the representatives of twenty or more companies operating lines aggregating more than fifteen thousand miles in length, protesting against the reduction and declaring that it will injure not only the steel industry but railway interests also.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says that George C. Eisenmayer, of St. Clair county, Ill., a prominent German, writes as follows to a friend in that city: "I am in favor of General Grant, for the following reasons: First, the rebels fear him; second, the negroes revere him; third, Republicans trust and have faith in him, and honest Democrats respect him; fourth, he is the best and most favorably known man on this universal globe, and last but not least, we can elect him and securely see him."

New applications for pensions are pouring into the Interior Department at the rate of 7,000 per month. Where they come from is a mystery. Some 250,000 pensioners are now on the rolls and over 200,000 claims are pending, and these numbers indicate that nearly one-half the men enlisted in the Union Army were either killed, wounded or disabled by disease while in the service. It is certainly an extraordinary fact that, after a lapse of sixteen years, some 333 persons should daily discover that they are entitled to relief from the government.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says that George C. Eisenmayer, of St. Clair county, Ill., a prominent German, writes as follows to a friend in that city: "I am in favor of General Grant, for the following reasons: First, the rebels fear him; second, the negroes revere him; third, Republicans trust and have faith in him, and honest Democrats respect him; fourth, he is the best and most favorably known man on this universal globe, and last but not least, we can elect him and securely see him."

New applications for pensions are pouring into the Interior Department at the rate of 7,000 per month. Where they come from is a mystery. Some 250,000 pensioners are now on the rolls and over 200,000 claims are pending, and these numbers indicate that nearly one-half the men enlisted in the Union Army were either killed, wounded or disabled by disease while in the service. It is certainly an extraordinary fact that, after a lapse of sixteen years, some 333 persons should daily discover that they are entitled to relief from the government.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS N.W. ADVERTISEMENTS

To HORSEMEN AND Persons Interested in STOCK. Your attention is called to the celebrated HECKERMAN'S Horse & Cattle Powder.

Prepared only by M. P. HECKERMAN, BEDFORD, PA. FOR SALE BY G. W. Bedford & C. N. Boyd, Somerset, Penna., and C. B. Moore, New Lexington, Penna.

C. N. BOYD DRUGGIST MAMMOTH BLOCK, SOMERSET, PA.

Shooting Accident.

Brownsville, Pa., Feb. 26—A quarrel took place here this afternoon about half past five o'clock, in which Will Elden shot Kennedy Honeoy. The affair happened in the old iron works owned by Captain Adam Johnson. The quarrel arose over some money owed and drunk. It appears that Honeoy had attempted to use his revolver on George Duran, when the latter caught him (Honeoy) around the waist and arms. While they were scuffling the revolver was fired, the ball taking effect in Honeoy's head. It hit him about an inch above the left eye, penetrating his brain two inches. Honeoy had been arrested and committed to jail at Uniontown to await developments in the case of the shooting of Honeoy. It is understood that they had some words.

An Atrocious Murder.

New York, Feb. 22—The startling discovery was made yesterday morning in Paterson, N. J., that an atrocious murder had been committed in that city on Thursday night. The body of Mrs. Harriet Hink was discovered lying on the bed in a room in the very heart of the city, and the muzzle of a gun was pointed to a horrible wound on the side of the head. Naturally, it was at first thought to be a case of suicide, but subsequent developments dispelled that theory entirely, and there seemed to be no reason to doubt that Mrs. Hink was assaulted then murdered and robbed of her jewelry and money. The murderer made good his escape and the body lay all day on Friday in the room where it was found. The body was taken to the morgue, and just over the summer from the effects of which he died at 7 o'clock last evening. Fields was promptly arrested.

Starvation of a Miner.

Cincinnati, Feb. 25—The Gazette's special from New Albany, Ind., says: "John E. Filly, aged 74, made himself yesterday on the floor of his house, in Spencer township, Harrison county, terribly gnawed by rats. It appeared that he had been dead a week. There was no food in the house, and nothing to prepare food with. He was refused credit for three weeks ago, and it is supposed he died of starvation, though he had money hid away, and owned a good farm of 100 acres. He lived alone and was a widower."

Wife Murderer Hanged.

Little Rock, Feb. 27—James Howard was hanged at Ozark, Franklin county, today. In January, 1879, Howard's wife was dancing with a man of the name of Pease. He seized her by the hair and dragged her from the room to his home, where he further maltreated her until she died from the effects of her injuries.

Search for a Murderer.

Pittsburg, Feb. 25—The detectives have been scouring the city and surrounding country since yesterday afternoon for the perpetrator of the murder of Wm. Pease, who was killed yesterday. The name of the fugitive is Wm. Kelly, an Irishman, as published in these dispatches yesterday. Kelly peddled butcher knives and flat-irons and the murder was committed with one of the knives. After he had hung the blade into the victim's body he coolly wiped the blood from it, and wrapping the weapon in paper walked away. We understand that Kelly has since been captured near Ohio Pyle Falls.

Fatality Shot.

Reading, Feb. 23—Three young men entered the lager beer saloon of Charles Gehring, of this city, and demanded drinks, late on Saturday night. They undertook to leave with the hat of one of the party, and they then began destroying his furniture and stoning him. Gehring then seized a gun and shot one of the party, named Henry Trump, in the head. The shot took effect in his eye, face and neck. He was carried home in a dying condition. To-day the saloon-keeper gave himself up.

Verdict.

Montpelier, Vt., Feb. 25—The Republican State Convention met today and adopted resolutions presenting the name of George F. Edmunds as a suitable person to be made the candidate of the Republican party for the next President.

Shooting Accident.

Brownsville, Pa., Feb. 26—A quarrel took place here this afternoon about half past five o'clock, in which Will Elden shot Kennedy Honeoy. The affair happened in the old iron works owned by Captain Adam Johnson. The quarrel arose over some money owed and drunk. It appears that Honeoy had attempted to use his revolver on George Duran, when the latter caught him (Honeoy) around the waist and arms. While they were scuffling the revolver was fired, the ball taking effect in Honeoy's head. It hit him about an inch above the left eye, penetrating his brain two inches. Honeoy had been arrested and committed to jail at Uniontown to await developments in the case of the shooting of Honeoy. It is understood that they had some words.

An Atrocious Murder.

New York, Feb. 22—The startling discovery was made yesterday morning in Paterson, N. J., that an atrocious murder had been committed in that city on Thursday night. The body of Mrs. Harriet Hink was discovered lying on the bed in a room in the very heart of the city, and the muzzle of a gun was pointed to a horrible wound on the side of the head. Naturally, it was at first thought to be a case of suicide, but subsequent developments dispelled that theory entirely, and there seemed to be no reason to doubt that Mrs. Hink was assaulted then murdered and robbed of her jewelry and money. The murderer made good his escape and the body lay all day on Friday in the room where it was found. The body was taken to the morgue, and just over the summer from the effects of which he died at 7 o'clock last evening. Fields was promptly arrested.

Starvation of a Miner.

Cincinnati, Feb. 25—The Gazette's special from New Albany, Ind., says: "John E. Filly, aged 74, made himself yesterday on the floor of his house, in Spencer township, Harrison county, terribly gnawed by rats. It appeared that he had been dead a week. There was no food in the house, and nothing to prepare food with. He was refused credit for three weeks ago, and it is supposed he died of starvation, though he had money hid away, and owned a good farm of 100 acres. He lived alone and was a widower."

Wife Murderer Hanged.

Little Rock, Feb. 27—James Howard was hanged at Ozark, Franklin county, today. In January, 1879, Howard's wife was dancing with a man of the name of Pease. He seized her by the hair and dragged her from the room to his home, where he further maltreated her until she died from the effects of her injuries.

Search for a Murderer.

Pittsburg, Feb. 25—The detectives have been scouring the city and surrounding country since yesterday afternoon for the perpetrator of the murder of Wm. Pease, who was killed yesterday. The name of the fugitive is Wm. Kelly, an Irishman, as published in these dispatches yesterday. Kelly peddled butcher knives and flat-irons and the murder was committed with one of the knives. After he had hung the blade into the victim's body he coolly wiped the blood from it, and wrapping the weapon in paper walked away. We understand that Kelly has since been captured near Ohio Pyle