There are quite a number of families in town who have been unable to lease a house yet, and who are compelled to move the 1st of April.

It is rumored that the contract for the grading of the S. & C. R. R. from Somerset to Johnstown, will be advertised to let, in the city papers, this week.

Every aggrieved angler owes it to craft to resist the implication in the current newspaper squib that "it's the amateur fisherman who hires a hall."

The amount of maple sugar made so far this season is far short of that made up to this time last year. The indications are that the yield will not be very large.

"My own sweet lovey, I have chosen you from all the world to settle my millinery bills, till death doth us part." "This is the proper term on a leap year proposal or notification. Ladies will please commit it to memory. No charges to regular subscribers.

The fickleness of this winter's weather is a puzzle to the would-be prophets. We think it is now time for them to declare it an off winter, and withhold their prognostications until next season, when perchance they may have a more certain and settled state of weather on which to base their predictions.

A hen always kicks backward after laying an egg. A Brideport Yankee is reported to have turned this fact to account in inventing a device to prevent the sale of stale eggs. When the hen kicks she hits an electric disk, to which is attached a rubber stamp, and the apparatus stamps the date on each egg.

A bill to punish adulterators of food is one of the best measures introduced in Congress for some time. It provides that any person having cause to suspect the character of any article of food or drink may demand a sample of the same for analysis, and the dealer refusing to comply shall be subject to arrest and fine not exceeding one hundred dollars.

A MAN CAN VOTE BEFORE HE IS 21.—A person twenty-one years old on the day after an election cannot be deprived of his vote because he is one day short of being of age. This is because the law does not recognize parts of days. One Republican vote was gained in the Fifth ward of Norristown, on Tuesday last, through a decision of Judge Ross to this effect.

Our streets are in a fearfully muddy condition at present. The borough authorities are much censured for not keeping them in better order, a thing almost impossible with the material at hand. We have no doubt that the officers will be greatly obliged to any one who will devise some efficient and available means by which the streets can be kept in good condition, and, besides, will vote the inventor a silver medal.

The public entertainment to be given by the young people of Somerset, Friday night of next week, promises to be very amusing and highly interesting. As the proceeds are to be devoted to the "worthy poor," we would urge upon all who can, to attend, and thus assist and encourage the young folks in their work of charity. The programme will consist of vocal and instrumental music, the famous tableaux, "Mrs. Jarley's Wax-Works," a play, "Country Cousins," &c., &c. The price of admission will be so reasonable that none need stay away on that account.

Last Wednesday Mr. George Countryman, of Lavansville, bought a horse, for which he paid seventy dollars. The following day he saw an advertisement of a horse having been stolen at Tarr's Station, Westmoreland county, and, upon comparing, found that his newly purchased horse answered the description to a "T." He immediately set out in pursuit of the man from whom he had made the purchase, and succeeded in overtaking him at Ursina, Thursday night. Monday morning the party of the first part, from whom the horse had been stolen, put in an appearance, proved property, and took it away. The thief traveled under several alias', at one time giving his name as James W. Murdock, and at another as Peter Jones. At the time of his arrest he had one hundred and fifteen dollars in money about his person. The probabilities are Mr. Countryman will not be very much out.

Mr. Simon Cameron Galbraith, for the past eighteen months an attachee of the HERALD office, on Saturday last severed his connection with this office to accompany his parents to Altoona, where they intend to make their home. It was with regret that we parted with Simon, as he is a good practical printer, a prime favorite among his companions, and, more than all, a thorough Christian gentleman. He had but recently been elected Assistant Superintendent of the M. E. Sunday School, in which he took a great interest and a just pride. That he may be prosperous in the land where resides 'Squire Houk and Dr. Miles, and that "his lines may be cast in pleasant places," is the sincere wish of the HERALD boys.

Concerning the payment of backstanding subscriptions to newspapers, the Germantown Telegraph well says: Why don't subscribers pay up? Everything is now getting to be prosperous. The great farming interest was never better, all things considered. Mechanics are flourishing. The industrial establishments are in full flow, and there is no excuse why the small sums involved in a few newspaper subscriptions should not be promptly met. Those in arrears, too, should pay a full year in advance, to make amends for their short-comings. Postoffices are to be found everywhere, and they are safer now than ever before to transmit small notes: besides there are the postal orders and the registered letters, so that those who cannot call at the newspaper office have no excuse to delay payment. To pay a collector to go after subscribers and to pay the postage in advance, as every publisher has to do upon every paper sent through the mail, leaves scarcely enough money to pay for the white paper before it is touched with a type.

In planting new orchards, or even single fruit trees, we hope our readers the coming spring will avoid the error of manuring the ground, even though the soil is quite impoverished. The second year, when the trees are well established, they may be manured with advantage. The growth of a newly transplanted tree the first summer is but little and the trees need but little food. To furnish rich food is really to invite disease. A newly transplanted tree may be regarded as an invalid—that is, its growth and vigor have sustered a severe check, and nature at once sets to work to supply all that was lost in the removal, as in the case of an injured person she endeavors to heal the wound. Surely at such times strong food is not to be recommended. The most and best that we can do is to supply mellow earth and to see that the roots and fibers are placed in contact with it, and in case of drought to spead over the earth, a little further than the roots extend, a layer of hay or straw, so that some little moisture may be retained.

13—15—14.—At no time during the remembrance of the "oldest inhabitant" has there been a game that has excited as much attention of the people as the "Game of Fifteen," or "Gem" puzzle. The papers are full of it, and business, for a time at least, is suspended, and the game receives due attention. The requirements of the game are very simple: They are to move fifteen numbered blocks in a box, which have been thoroughly mixed, in such a manner so that you have, in the end, the blocks to stand in this order:

1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12
13	14	15

This looks simple enough, but nine times out of ten—yea, even the tenth time, you will discover that to do it is not so simple after all. At the beginning the game is easy, but it is only when you come to bring the last line or two into position that you find your Waterloo. The interest this puzzle is creating is astonishing and the New York Herald devotes columns to its solution. The Union Manufacturing Company, of Boston, claims that when the figures in the fourth column come 13 15 14 the puzzle cannot be solved. We leave our readers to puzzle it out for themselves.

You can also mark on a board or piece of paper a large square containing sixteen smaller squares, and then number fifteen pieces of wood, and move them about until you reach the result given above.

SOMERSET, PA., March 8, 1880.

ED. HERALD: It has frequently been charged, and to my mind not without just cause, that Mr. Blaine's over-zealous or would be friends in their anxiety to serve him, did more harm than good to the cause of the "plumed knight" at the Harrisburg convention. Is it a fatality that runs all through his followers, or is it simply a wonderful coincidence that Gen. Koontz's friends should show a tendency to injure his cause by precisely the same tactics, and a blind desire to serve him at any and all hazards. Deprecating as I do the unpleasantness between that gentleman and the HERALD, I wish to say that when a "Somerset Township Republican" wrote to the Meyersdale Commercial, and after quoting a portion of your former article in which you say: "We have lived for thirty-five years in this community in vain, if we cannot lay our character for truth, for integrity, for honor or any other manly attribute alongside of his and serenely abide the result," added, "those of us who know both parties well know that if the editor of the HERALD was placed in the scales alongside of Gen. Koontz he would be found wanting," he opened the road for a comparison which Gen. Koontz nor his more intimate friends do not seek. A "Somerset Township Republican" ought to know that when a man's character is called into question in a court of justice that it is his immediate neighbors that are called on to testify; we of the borough, who know more of both parties than a man, who by his own showing, is not a member of the community, feel perfectly satisfied to stand by a test of character for truth, for integrity, for honor, for moral or political rectitude and "serenely abide the result." Now let me add, sir, these are not the questions at issue, but if over anxious persons insist on thrusting them in, "as the Lord liveth" the citizens of the borough will see to it that they get all the airing that is coveted for them. Hoping that this is the last we shall hear of this matter, I am a BLAINE REPUBLICAN.

THAT IMMEMORIAL "M" AGAIN.—In last week's mucid attempt at buffoonery, "M" boasted of being "alone responsible" for Ursina Items; says he honored soldiers, etc.; claims to have been "a correspondent for the HERALD under the nom de plume of 'M' from time immemorial; don't want his veracity trodden upon," etc. He needn't fear, as his own murky understanding (feet) have covered up all the chips in that line of virtue (veracity).

"M" reminds us of sorehead's in Somerset, who "don't like Grant because he's a soldier." They rush to Meyersdale to vilify the staid character of the HERALD. Those fellows (as well as "M") remind us of the man who "took a bunghole to a cooper to get a barrel made to it." They think to get the bulge on——

Since "M" claims to be such an immemorial scribe, we have wondered if he could be Moses. But Moses spent 40 years of his boyhood going to school and playing the agreeable to the ladies about the Court of Amenophis (Pharo). At the age of 40 years Moses happened to kill an Egyptian, and, feline like, buried him in the sand. He then moved to a more genial clime, where he spent 40 years in herding sheep, during which time he married the daughter of his employers. M. next spent 40 years trying to get the Israelites into Canaan, during which time he is supposed to have written the "Pentateuch," which embraces a history of 2553 years; after which M. died, in the year 1451 B. C. Consequently, after writing the Pentateuch, the Mosaic Laws, &c., this M. had no time to write for newspapers; hence, we pass on to older ones.

Mahaleel was the first man we read of who began his name with M, but he died 2714 years B. C. Methuselah comes on the carpet next, but he died 2348 years B. C. Merrahem perpetrated divers cruelties and committed great wickedness, but he died 761 years B. C. Mithridites poisoned his son 83 years B. C. Marius imprisoned Juguertra and starved him to death 106 years B. C. Malchus poisoned Antipates 43 years B. C. We next come to Mark Antony, thinking he must be the M, but we are informed that he died in the arms of Cleopatra, in the year 30 B. C.

Now, if the reader will permit us to lay aside the Mosaic vision as regards the creation of man, and take up Darwin's theory, that life began with Moluses, Molecules, and upward in the scale of development, he sites us to the monkey, which he claims was the greatest grandfather of the race; then we are not at all surprised at this immemorial "M" retaining the old family initial. We acknowledge he has the bulge. Whoop him up! MAC.

The leading article in the North American Review for March is by ex-Judge Jere. S Black, and is entitled "The Third Term," being a reply to ex-Senator Howe's paper on that subject in the Review for February. Mr. Black holds that to elect General Grant to a third term of office in the presidential chair would be a violation of a custom that is stronger than any laws or constitutions whatever; that it would in effect be the end of our republican institutions, and the enstallment of "empire." Hon. E. W. Stoughton follows Mr. Black, taking precisely the contrary view, that not only is a third term not a thing to be deprecated, but that it is eminently desirable, especially if, as in General Grant's case, an interval of time has elapsed between the second term and the third. A timely article by David A. Wells aims to prove that a discriminating income tax is essentially Communism, and that this is specially true of such an income tax as was levied in the United States by Acts of Congress in 1863 and succeeding years. The fourth article is by Rev. Dr. Bellows, and treats of Civil Service Reform. The author recounts what has been done in Britain to reform the civil service of that country and shows how the experience of British statesmen may be turned to advantage by American lawmakers Professor Simon Newcomb, in an article on "Our Political Dangers," calls attention to the need of some non political tribunal for the determination of contested elections. He looks on the presidential struggle of three years ago, and the recent excitement in Maine, as symtomatic of a diseased condition which calls for remedies very different from those which have hitherto been employed. John Lancaster Spalding, Bishop of Peoria, makes a spirited reply to Froude's recent article on "Romanism and the Irish Race in America." The notices of new books are by Mr. E. L. Didier.

BROTHERSVALLEY ITEMS.—

The schools of our district are closing this week.

Hezekiah got a new suit. Now, Somerset girls, look out.

Our farmers say that the sugar crop will be small this season.

W. H. Wheeler, the mineralogist, informs us that the strata of ore discovered on the property of S. U. Shoker proves to be satisfactory.

Our friend John J. Beeghley is erecting a new saw mill, which will furnish employment for 8 persons. It will be completed in a few weeks.

The price of horses community in this has raised considerably. Drovers say that S. U. Shober has the best mare in the county—with but one fault—too high priced. Good for the ridge.

A New Spelling.—The reason we call it a new spelling is because the teacher got his first kiss in playing ring. The spelling was rather a lively one, five of the teachers of the district being present. It was called to order at 7:30 oclock and continued until quarter past eight, when an intermission was given till 9 o'clock.

CONFLUENCE, March 8, 1880.

EDITOR HERALD, Sir: In the Confluence items of Feb. 25th, "Jno" says: "On the evening before the election, the little end of the Republican and Democratic parties fused," etc. These items bear unmistakable "throat marks" as being the production of a certain pill-peddler in this region. If the Republicans who constituted the convention to which he refers are the little end of their party, then the party carries him in the same position in which "Mountaineer" says the Ohidians carry their hearts.

"Jno" is indignant at the defeat of a Republican for Street Commissioner, and yet he is the chap who supported a lifelong Democrat for Constable, against a live Republican. "O! consistency! thou art a jewel!"

We advise "Jno" to quit peddling pills and take an agency in some responsible Sewing Machine Company.

"And "Andy" says he thinks "She" will.

Yours truly,
LITTLE END.

HOW TO REACH KANSAS.—Persons moving to the West should consult their own comfort by selecting the route by which there are sure connections in Union Depot, fast trains and comfortable cars. There is no line that can compare with the Pan Handle Route in these particulars. Two daily trains leave Union Depot, Pittsburgh, via Pan Handle Route, which run through in many hours quicker time than by any other line as follows:

Leave Pittsburgh, (city time),	8:42 A. M.	11:47 P. M.
Arrive, St. Louis,	7:30 A. M.	9:00 P. M.
" Kansas City,	10:00 P. M.	8:00 A. M.
" Leavenworth,	11:40 P. M.	10:15 A. M.
" Atchison,	1:20 A. M.	11:50 A. M.
" St. Joseph,	2:05 A. M.	12:05 P. M.

Prompt connections are made in Union Depots at points named, for all land points. For further information, time tables, etc., address W. L. O'Brien, General Passenger Agent, Pan Handle Route, Columbus, Ohio.

A MOTHER'S GRIEF.—The pride of mother, the life and joy of a home, are her children, hence her grief when sickness enters and takes them away. Take warning then, that you are running a terrible risk, if they have a Cough, Croup, or Whooping Cough, which lead to Consumption, if you do not attend to it at once. SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION CURE is guaranteed to cure them. Price 10 cents, 50 cents and $1 00. For Lame Back, Side or Chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cents.

Sold by G. W. Benford, Druggist, Somerset, Pa.

Butter buyers everywhere are refusing to take white, lardy looking butter except at "grease" prices. Consumers want nothing but gilt-edged butter, and buyers therefore recommend their patrons to keep a uniform color throughout the year by using the Perfected Butter Color made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. It is the only color that can be relied on to never injure the butter, and to always give the perfect color. Sold by all Druggists.

CARDING MACHINES FOR SALE.—Three Carding Machines for sale at Berkley's Mills, Somerset county, Penn'a. The fixtures are almost entirely new—Any persons desiring to examine or purchase, will call upon J. B. Uhl, at Somerset, Pa., or the undersigned Admsnistrators of Jacob Steyer dec'd.

THE BEST I EVER KNEW OF.—J. G. Starkey, a prominent and influential Citizen of Iowa City, says: "I have had the Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint for several years, and have used every remedy I could hear of, without any relief whatever, until I saw your Shiloh's Vitalizer advertised in our paper, and was persuaded to try it. I am happy to state that it has entirely cured me. It is certainly the best Remedy I ever knew of." Price 75 cents.

These were amiable and christian young ladies, and fearless they passed under the shadow of death and explored the mystery of dissolution. Death came upon them lovingly in its sublimest and purest image. Regret is expressed at the early death of these promising young ladies. They fell asleep in Jesus in the dawn of a brilliant morning. They died with all the beauty and fervor of piety fresh upon them, which might have become impaired with longer life. The Lord plucked these flowers before a leaf had faded, for the adornment of His everlasting garden. We do not fear for the voyagers, for they have gone, simple and trustful, into the presence of their all-wise Father, to wear the royal diadem of glory; to walk together in the golden streets of the New Jerusalem; to admire its twelve foundations of precious stones; to pluck the fruit of the tree of life, whose leaves are for the healing of the nations; to drink of that crystal river which flows from the throne of God and of the Lamb. They died of diphtheria. Mr. Shultise and his lady came from Germany, and have no relatives this side of the ocean, save the one daughter that is living yet. They have the sympathy and prayers of the entire community in their bereavement.

Grant's North Carolina Friends.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 3.—The Republican Committee of this district, composed of one member from each of the seven counties, met here to-day and elected Isaac J. Young and Steward Ellison delegates to Chicago. P. B Hawkins and William Arrington were elected alternates. The delegates and alternates are strongly for Grant. Each member of the committee was outspoken for Grant, and represented that there was no sentiment for any other candidate in their respective counties. The members also report that the election of Sherman delegates at large by the State Committee on January 29, is severely denounced throughout the district.

Boy Shot.

EDENBURGH, PA., March 4.—At three o'clock yesterday afternoon a twelve year old boy, Swatzfagger by name orphan, living with Miles Dale's family at Shippenville, was found by Dale's daughter behind the inner door in the house, on her return from school, his brains oozing out, and a single barreled pistol close by. His forehead was powder stained, showing the pistol to have been close to his head. The house was darkened, and the rest of the family was out. Opinion is divided as to accident or suicide. There is no particular reason for the latter. The boy lived two hours. A coroner's inquest will be held to-day.

An Exciting Scene.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., March 3.—Alice Hoffman, a girl 18 years of age, living at Mahony City, recently brought an affiliation suit against one Thomas Moran, of the same place. The case was called for trial in the Criminal Court held here this week, but defendant yesterday made application for a continuance, and the girl became despondent. Shortly after the court opened this morning, Alice ran before the bar, calling for Moran, saying she had taken an ounce of laudanum, and that she was dying. She became unconscious in the court room, and now lies in a precarious condition. Every effort is being made to save her life, but there is very little room for hope.
