

The Somerset Herald.

EDWARD SCULL, Editor and Proprietor. WEDNESDAY, July 13, 1870.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT: JAMES A. GARFIELD, of Ohio. FOR VICE PRESIDENT: CHESTER A. ARTHUR, New York.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR SUPREME JUDGE: HENRY GREEN, Northampton Co. FOR AUDITOR GENERAL: JOHN A. LEMON, Blair County.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET.

FOR ASSEMBLY: A. J. COLEBURN, Somerset Ber. SAM MILLER, Elklick Twp.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY: GEORGE R. SCULL, Somerset Ber.

FOR HOUSE DELEGATE: ALEX. KOHNS, Jender Twp.

FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR: WILLIAM M. BAKER, Milford Twp.

GEN. HARTBANT has taken possession of his new office—Collector of the Port of Philadelphia.

We have heard from the next President. He "accepts." Now let us have a few words from the "superb."

Has anybody seen that grand rush of Republican soldiers to the support of Hancock, which the Democratic journals predicted?

If the South were not solid, and kept so by shot-guns and tissue-balls, what would become of the Democracy and their "superb" candidate?

The true way to meet the solid South is by an overwhelming Republican vote in the North. The North when pitted against the South can beat it any time.

GEN. LOGAN has already opened the campaign in Illinois, with a ringing speech at Murphysboro, in that State, where an immense crowd gathered to hear him.

ACCORDING to the census statistics Pennsylvania has a population of 4,316,415. Venango is the only county that has not increased in population since the last census.

The Democratic Convention at Cincinnati demanded "a free hot everywhere." Does any one believe that if there is a free ballot at the coming election, the South will be sold for Hancock?

THERE are ten Democratic candidates for the nomination for Congress in Berks county, but it is thought that the struggle will narrow down to a rattling fight between Heister Clymer and Daniel Ermentrout.

A BIBLE reader, who had just laid down a florid campaign life of Gen. Hancock, in which his war record was duly magnified, quietly remarked that he ought to read a verse in Proverbs—"My son, let not sinners entice thee."

HOS. JOHN CESSA, Chairman of the State Central Committee, has notified that body to meet (for the purpose of organization, and arranging for the campaign) at Philadelphia, on Tuesday, the 29th inst., at 10 o'clock, A. M.

SENATOR BRUCE thinks there will be "less shooting in the South this year." He says it's "no use to shoot a man when you can so easily count him out." Anyway, the "tissue-ball" is not so cruel as the black-snake whip and the shot-gun.

It's singular that the Democratic free-trade organs of this State are so anxious to make the people believe that Gen. Garfield, like themselves, is opposed to "Protection." If this was true it would only be an inducement for Democrats to vote for him.

A CONFEDERATE soldier, a member of the Fifteenth South Carolina regiment, who lost an arm in battle, has filed his claim for a pension, in the Pension Bureau at Washington. He evidently intends to be the first on the list, when his friends obtain power by the election of Hancock.

JUDGE LAWRENCE, of Ohio, it was announced a few days since, had refused the appointment of Comptroller of the Treasury. The remarkable thing about the matter was, that he was the first Ohio man that was ever known to decline an office. He has, however, relented and accepted the position.

SENATOR BARNUM, Tilden's right bowler, has been elected Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Senator Wallace, of this State, who aspired to the position, has been snubbed. The Tilden men have thus secured control of Hancock and of the campaign, and Pennsylvania is virtually conceded to Garfield.

The eagerness of the Democrats to have the people believe that Gen. Grant approves the nomination of Hancock is one of the remarkable things of this campaign, and although he denies that he is for the Democratic nominee, and has telegraphed "Hancock's personal and military record is good." The record of the party that nominated him is bad, they still persist in claiming that

Republican National Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT: JAMES A. GARFIELD, of Ohio. FOR VICE PRESIDENT: CHESTER A. ARTHUR, New York.

Republican State Ticket.

FOR SUPREME JUDGE: HENRY GREEN, Northampton Co. FOR AUDITOR GENERAL: JOHN A. LEMON, Blair County.

Republican County Ticket.

FOR ASSEMBLY: A. J. COLEBURN, Somerset Ber. SAM MILLER, Elklick Twp.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY: GEORGE R. SCULL, Somerset Ber.

FOR HOUSE DELEGATE: ALEX. KOHNS, Jender Twp.

FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR: WILLIAM M. BAKER, Milford Twp.

GEN. HARTBANT has taken possession of his new office—Collector of the Port of Philadelphia.

We have heard from the next President. He "accepts." Now let us have a few words from the "superb."

Has anybody seen that grand rush of Republican soldiers to the support of Hancock, which the Democratic journals predicted?

If the South were not solid, and kept so by shot-guns and tissue-balls, what would become of the Democracy and their "superb" candidate?

The true way to meet the solid South is by an overwhelming Republican vote in the North. The North when pitted against the South can beat it any time.

GEN. LOGAN has already opened the campaign in Illinois, with a ringing speech at Murphysboro, in that State, where an immense crowd gathered to hear him.

ACCORDING to the census statistics Pennsylvania has a population of 4,316,415. Venango is the only county that has not increased in population since the last census.

The Democratic Convention at Cincinnati demanded "a free hot everywhere." Does any one believe that if there is a free ballot at the coming election, the South will be sold for Hancock?

THERE are ten Democratic candidates for the nomination for Congress in Berks county, but it is thought that the struggle will narrow down to a rattling fight between Heister Clymer and Daniel Ermentrout.

A BIBLE reader, who had just laid down a florid campaign life of Gen. Hancock, in which his war record was duly magnified, quietly remarked that he ought to read a verse in Proverbs—"My son, let not sinners entice thee."

HOS. JOHN CESSA, Chairman of the State Central Committee, has notified that body to meet (for the purpose of organization, and arranging for the campaign) at Philadelphia, on Tuesday, the 29th inst., at 10 o'clock, A. M.

SENATOR BRUCE thinks there will be "less shooting in the South this year." He says it's "no use to shoot a man when you can so easily count him out." Anyway, the "tissue-ball" is not so cruel as the black-snake whip and the shot-gun.

It's singular that the Democratic free-trade organs of this State are so anxious to make the people believe that Gen. Garfield, like themselves, is opposed to "Protection." If this was true it would only be an inducement for Democrats to vote for him.

A CONFEDERATE soldier, a member of the Fifteenth South Carolina regiment, who lost an arm in battle, has filed his claim for a pension, in the Pension Bureau at Washington. He evidently intends to be the first on the list, when his friends obtain power by the election of Hancock.

JUDGE LAWRENCE, of Ohio, it was announced a few days since, had refused the appointment of Comptroller of the Treasury. The remarkable thing about the matter was, that he was the first Ohio man that was ever known to decline an office. He has, however, relented and accepted the position.

SENATOR BARNUM, Tilden's right bowler, has been elected Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Senator Wallace, of this State, who aspired to the position, has been snubbed. The Tilden men have thus secured control of Hancock and of the campaign, and Pennsylvania is virtually conceded to Garfield.

The eagerness of the Democrats to have the people believe that Gen. Grant approves the nomination of Hancock is one of the remarkable things of this campaign, and although he denies that he is for the Democratic nominee, and has telegraphed "Hancock's personal and military record is good." The record of the party that nominated him is bad, they still persist in claiming that Senator Don Cameron.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—For two weeks daily letters have been received from people at Sulphur Springs containing the most ominous intelligence as to the state of the matter, if possible, by direct information, your correspondent called on him at Worley's. He was looking no worse than when Congress adjourned. He said that he had, indeed, been out of health, and had been obliged to go to the springs and abandon all business of the matter, but he was recovering rapidly, and he would be ready to go to the city in a few days. He thought his friends were over-anxious, simply, and needlessly alarmed. He felt so far improved that he should return to his usual avocations of life. He was in high spirits, and he was confident that he would be able to do his duty as Senator of the State.

It is amusing just now to hear some gentlemen boasting of their principles, and charging everybody else with a want of it. They have not been so particular in the past. In 1861 they supported a platform which declared it unlawful to coerce a State.

In 1862 they declared themselves in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war.

In 1864 they rejoiced in its success.

In 1868 they opposed the constitutional amendments.

In 1870 they accepted them without a groan.

Now they have always been so fearfully honest on the money question.

In 1862 they denounced the Legal-tender as unconstitutional.

In 1868 they shouted the "secede" in favor of a doctrine as true as fire.

In 1872 they pledged themselves to the resumption of specie payments.

In 1876 they advocated the unconditional repeal of the Resumption act.

Such are and have been the positions of the Democratic party.

Now they have always been so fearfully honest on the money question.

In 1862 they denounced the Legal-tender as unconstitutional.

In 1868 they shouted the "secede" in favor of a doctrine as true as fire.

In 1872 they pledged themselves to the resumption of specie payments.

In 1876 they advocated the unconditional repeal of the Resumption act.

Such are and have been the positions of the Democratic party.

Now they have always been so fearfully honest on the money question.

In 1862 they denounced the Legal-tender as unconstitutional.

In 1868 they shouted the "secede" in favor of a doctrine as true as fire.

In 1872 they pledged themselves to the resumption of specie payments.

In 1876 they advocated the unconditional repeal of the Resumption act.

Such are and have been the positions of the Democratic party.

Now they have always been so fearfully honest on the money question.

In 1862 they denounced the Legal-tender as unconstitutional.

In 1868 they shouted the "secede" in favor of a doctrine as true as fire.

In 1872 they pledged themselves to the resumption of specie payments.

In 1876 they advocated the unconditional repeal of the Resumption act.

Such are and have been the positions of the Democratic party.

Alabama Bulldozing.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Bulldozing has commenced in Alabama, as appears from three articles which have been published in the Selma Daily Times (Bourbon). The first is from M. L. Bowie, a native of that State, a one-legged ex-Confederate soldier. The Republicans of Dallas county have proposed to nominate him for a county office. Unhappily, the county has five thousand Republican voters. However, the Democrats have intimidated Bowie into declining a card in which he says:

"I desire to say that I am not a candidate for any office in Dallas county. For anything that I have doubtless one I have an answerable, and not Judge Craig, or any other man. My condition and that of my family, which demands an honest effort for their support, alone prompted my course. If by expressing a desire for public office I have committed a sin, I, for one, am ready to bear my part of it, and to do so in whatever capacity may see fit to do."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

Irretractable Testimony.

JUDGE BLACK AGENTS GARFIELD OF COMPLICITY IN THE CREDIT MOBILIZER SWINDLE.

It is a lawyer in this country who is a constitutional hatred of all public officials who show the slightest tendency towards corruption, it is Judge Jeremiah S. Black, a Democrat of Democrats. With full knowledge, after thorough investigation, he writes the following letter, which we commend to the careful study of all intelligent and disinterested readers:

PHILADELPHIA, February 15, 1873. My Dear Sir:—From the beginning of the investigation concerning Mr. Ames use of the Credit Mobilizer, I have been a careful and careful student of the matter, if possible, by direct information, your correspondent called on him at Worley's. He was looking no worse than when Congress adjourned. He said that he had, indeed, been out of health, and had been obliged to go to the springs and abandon all business of the matter, but he was recovering rapidly, and he would be ready to go to the city in a few days. He thought his friends were over-anxious, simply, and needlessly alarmed. He felt so far improved that he should return to his usual avocations of life. He was in high spirits, and he was confident that he would be able to do his duty as Senator of the State.

It is amusing just now to hear some gentlemen boasting of their principles, and charging everybody else with a want of it. They have not been so particular in the past. In 1861 they supported a platform which declared it unlawful to coerce a State.

In 1862 they declared themselves in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war.

In 1864 they rejoiced in its success.

In 1868 they opposed the constitutional amendments.

In 1870 they accepted them without a groan.

Now they have always been so fearfully honest on the money question.

In 1862 they denounced the Legal-tender as unconstitutional.

In 1868 they shouted the "secede" in favor of a doctrine as true as fire.

In 1872 they pledged themselves to the resumption of specie payments.

In 1876 they advocated the unconditional repeal of the Resumption act.

Such are and have been the positions of the Democratic party.

Now they have always been so fearfully honest on the money question.

In 1862 they denounced the Legal-tender as unconstitutional.

In 1868 they shouted the "secede" in favor of a doctrine as true as fire.

In 1872 they pledged themselves to the resumption of specie payments.

In 1876 they advocated the unconditional repeal of the Resumption act.

Such are and have been the positions of the Democratic party.

Now they have always been so fearfully honest on the money question.

In 1862 they denounced the Legal-tender as unconstitutional.

In 1868 they shouted the "secede" in favor of a doctrine as true as fire.

In 1872 they pledged themselves to the resumption of specie payments.

In 1876 they advocated the unconditional repeal of the Resumption act.

Such are and have been the positions of the Democratic party.

Now they have always been so fearfully honest on the money question.

In 1862 they denounced the Legal-tender as unconstitutional.

In 1868 they shouted the "secede" in favor of a doctrine as true as fire.

Such are and have been the positions of the Democratic party.

Alabama Bulldozing.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Bulldozing has commenced in Alabama, as appears from three articles which have been published in the Selma Daily Times (Bourbon). The first is from M. L. Bowie, a native of that State, a one-legged ex-Confederate soldier. The Republicans of Dallas county have proposed to nominate him for a county office. Unhappily, the county has five thousand Republican voters. However, the Democrats have intimidated Bowie into declining a card in which he says:

"I desire to say that I am not a candidate for any office in Dallas county. For anything that I have doubtless one I have an answerable, and not Judge Craig, or any other man. My condition and that of my family, which demands an honest effort for their support, alone prompted my course. If by expressing a desire for public office I have committed a sin, I, for one, am ready to bear my part of it, and to do so in whatever capacity may see fit to do."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."

The next card in connection to the bulldozing is from G. S. Craig, who had been nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the Republicans. The district has a Republican majority of 20,000, the people being largely ex-citizens of the South. The Selma Times on the fourth instant denounced the candidacy of Judge Craig as "a challenge and defiance to the people of the county, and that it will be the cause of trouble in the county for a long time to come."