OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

WASHINGTON, August 18, 1880.

The largest rattle snake probably that has ever been seen in this city arrived at Southdown Institute, on Saturday, from Florida.

It is about 8 feet long, will measure twelve inches around the body, and has twelve rattles and a button on the end of its tail.

It came in a close wicker cage, and was at once dropped into a large square wooden box with wire work sides and a sliding cover, prepared for the purpose of containing reptiles.

A great many people visit the Southdown snake to be killed in a day or two for the purpose of taking a plaster cast of it.

The manner for killing it was to put the serpent in a cloth bag and admit a sponge saturated with chloroform.

This preserves the form so that a life-like cast may be taken.

Adjutant General Drum, confided to me the fact that the rattle snake of the country, approving the course that he has taken in trying to improve the militia and volunteer forces of the United States.

We have but a brief report to make as to the movement of Mr. Coffroth—the South in general, and a more unexpected denial of it, will not weigh the weight of a feather with men who make up their minds from the testimony in the case.

The denial that he is the friend of the Confederates soldier, because the bill reported by him to pension soldiers of the Mexican war includes only those Confederate soldiers who have had their political disabilities removed.

General Drum is no West Pointer. He worked his way up like Garfield. He rose to Adjutant General from the ranks, having served as a private in the Mexican War.

The National Theatre will open on September 6.

The marriage of Laura Holson of the Baltimore steam yacht, to Alexander D. Brown, which took place at Christ Church, Navy Yard, in Baltimore, Md., on August 17, has been a decided sensation here, as well as in Baltimore.

During the past week the state of Vermont passed in Memorial Hall, a session of the Vermont Legislature.

Asst. Sec. of the Treasury, Mr. Jackson, threatened to resign from the office of the Treasury, if the President would not appoint him to the office of the Treasury.

A letter from F. H. Baker, Esq., of Elmston, withdrawing as a Republican candidate for Congress, in the Cambria District of the 29th Dist., Mr. Baker states that he withdraws in the interest of harmony and unanimity in the county and district.

The reason why Bob Ingersoll does not believe in a personal debt is that the whole side of nature, as he sees it, is filled by the Democratic party.

The Confederacy still exists, my friends, and Jeff Davis, its President and devoted to our interests, and if Hancock is elected, and we have no doubt he will be, you will be paid for all the money you have lost through Federal rule, and you must stand by the great Democratic party for a solid South.

The demand for standard silver dollars continues to increase owing to the fact that the Treasury has received at the Treasury for them amounting to $28,000, more than any preceding day for a year.

The people here generally deplore the loss of Miss Neilson, the eminent English actress. She was a native of Washington.

The Sergeant-at-Arms of the U. S. Senate, who is notorious for his charging crippled union soldiers, and employing rebels in their places, having run out of the "blue bellied Yankees" to fire out, has commenced calling them "biggers" as he likes to call them. The first one he saw since his return to Washington was Kate Dodson. She is a colored woman and the widow of a soldier of the regular army.

LIST OF CAUSES.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

PHILADELPHIA, August 17.—Yesterday afternoon Mr. Rivers, residing at Agnew Station, near this city, discovered an unknown man in his yard stealing grapes.

He shouted to him, and he immediately took to his heels, running in the direction of the Ohio river. A large dog and a gang of railroad men started in pursuit. The man, driven to desperation, took to the water, hoping to gain the other side, but his heavy clothing retarded him, and finding that he was approaching the river bank, he turned back. His heartless pursuers, however, would not permit him to return, and continued stoning him until, completely exhausted, he sank. The residents on the other side who witnessed the affair sent a skiff to his rescue, but before they could reach him the happy man had gone down. The people in the neighborhood highly indignant, and demand an investigation by the authorities.
