

EDWARD SCULL, Editor and Proprietor. ONLY five more working days until the election. Every Republican voter can do something to help the cause. Push things.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT: JAMES A. GARFIELD, of Ohio. FOR VICE-PRESIDENT: CHESTER A. ARTHUR, New York.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR SUPREME JUDGE: HENRY GREEN, Northampton Co. FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL: JOHN A. LEMON, Blair County.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS: JACOB M. CAMPBELL, Cambria Co. FOR ASSEMBLY: A. J. COLBORN, Somerset; SAM MIERL, Elk Lick Twp.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY:

GEORGE R. SCULL, Somerset; FOR FOUR YEARS DELEGATE: ALEX. KOHN, Jenner Twp.

FOR COUNTY SHERIFF:

WILLIAM BAKER, Millport Twp. FOR COUNTY CLERK:

FRANK WOLF, Meyersdale Boro.

ELECTORS:

- TOWNSHIP DELEGATES: HENRY W. OLIVER, Jr., JAMES L. LAYTON, EDWIN H. VITELL, J. BALDWIN STANTON, JAMES BOHANNON, GEORGE B. KEEL, DAVID F. HOFFMAN, JOHN A. WELLS, HENRY S. PERKINS, JOHN S. STEWART, ISAAC S. MOYER, EDGAR PINCHOFF, JOHN M. DEWEESE, RICHARD SCALLE, WALTER W. AMES, JOHN P. THOMAS, NELSON P. REED, AUGUSTUS E. W. PAINTER, THOMAS M. KENNAN, JAMES T. MATTETT, GEORGE W. HELMUTTER, CALVIN W. GILFILLAN.

Why the South is Solid for Hancock.

Counties where Lee and Jackson would do were they alive. There are few principles for which they fought to their death. Remember the son who poured from their blood on Virginia's soil, and do not abandon them now. Remember that upon your vote depends the nation's Democratic ticket. At the Hampton, at the meeting in the instance of Democratic harmony to Virginia, at Staunton, July 23rd.

Solid South 131 electoral votes.

solid South 138 electoral votes. Garfield's majority 83.

Republicans in Indiana and Ohio generally wear new blue suits the election.

It was old 329 that did it, with its little piece of chalk. It isn't being chalked up as such as formerly.

Ohio and Indiana couldn't march to the tune of "Dixie"; they had been drilled to keep step to "Hail Columbia."

Since the Ohio and Indiana elections you cannot measure the face of a Democrat with anything shorter than a yard-stick.

The next House is active, but we want a good working majority.

Coffroth's defeat will help to swell the majority. He is already on the run. Now "push things."

The official plurality of the Republican candidate for Governor in Indiana is 7,545!!!

How is that for a "sure and certain" Democratic State?

The Democrats are so badly scared that they are trying to prove that a tariff for revenue only and a tariff for protection are one and the same thing.

The Democrats started out in the campaign by asserting that Hancock would take his seat. No one has denied this, but it will be a back seat.

What does a "tariff for revenue only" mean to American workmen?

Simply a reduction of their wages, in order to assure an increase of wages to English workmen.

Now for a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether. Get out every Republican vote, and when you vote the clean Republican ticket from top to bottom.

Garfield will certainly be the next President, but we want to make his majority so big that the present Democratic Congress will not dare to tamper with it when it comes to be counted.

Now you have a doubting friend, show him the Democratic platform in favor of a tariff for revenue only, and ask him if he wants to decrease his own wages by voting for Hancock and Coffroth.

Get out every Republican vote on Tuesday next. It was the silent work, in every precinct, done by the active, earnest men that carried Ohio and Indiana. Bear this in mind and get out the vote.

We warn all Republicans to be on their guard against spurious tickets. Read your ticket before you vote it, and see that the names of none but the Republican candidates are on it.

ONLY five more working days until the election. Every Republican voter can do something to help the cause. Push things.

Dem. friends have forgotten President Lincoln's pledge that it wasn't wise to swap horses while crossing a stream. They started on a free trade horse, and the water is too deep now for them to dismount and try to get on the Protection rug.

There is no doubt that the Democrats are in a minority in this Congressional district, and that Coffroth cannot be elected except by the folly of Republican voters. Remember that a full Republican vote will show him under for all time.

Ohio and Indiana settled the question. The victory is virtually won, but like the fellow pounding the dead dog, we want to give the Democracy a realizing sense of the future. Ball every vote, and we'll bury them so deep that the sound of Garfield's trumpet will not reach them.

Garfield's only hope lies in securing Republican votes. The Republican who votes for him had better take his grip-sack and the yoke of his treasury, and "get up and go" into the Democratic camp; there is no room for him among true men.

General Grant, fresh from the glorious battle fields of the West, has entered enthusiastically into the eastern campaign. On Thursday evening last he made three speeches at three different Republican meetings in New Jersey. This week he is in New York abiding Senator Cookling to carry the Empire State.

We haven't much faith in a death-bed repentance. So we don't take much stock in Coffroth's declaration in favor of Protection, after his long adherence to the party pledged to a "tariff for revenue only." It is the hand writing on the wall that reads "political, as well as all other kind of sinners."

A young man wrote Gen. Grant under date of 31st of August last, asking him to send "a short motto—a rule of life, with his autograph." To this Gen. Grant replied as follows: "Vote the Republican ticket every day in the Nation, until you vote, and cast your vote at each election, for with party loyalty without fear or solicitation, and with integrity in your own conduct, you will have done your duty as a citizen."

It is now certain that there will be a working Republican majority in the next House, and very probably that the Democratic majority in the Senate will be wiped out on the 11th of next March. With a Republican Congress at his back, General Garfield will have clear sailing, and the ship of state, for at least four years, will not be in danger of slipping track.

Gen. Hancock, in his letter of acceptance said: "The principles enunciated by the convention are those I have cherished in the past, and shall endeavor to maintain in the future." One of the principles contained in the platform and which Gen. Hancock proposes to maintain is "a tariff for revenue only," which would close half the workshops in the country and throw half the workmen out of employment.

Every vote, friends, get out every vote. Not that we need them to elect Garfield and Campbell, but we want to settle conclusively, beyond all dispute by the crushing weight of public sentiment expressed through the ballot box, that this is a Republican country, now and everlastingly in favor of the Union, and of protection to the labor of all the country.

Gen. Coffroth has published a card in all the Democratic papers of this district, announcing that, if elected, "no caucus instructions or party platform will prevent him from voting for such a tariff bill as will protect the iron, coal, mining, manufacturing, and other interests of this district and of the whole country."

It is a curious thing, but it is true, that the tariff for revenue only is a tariff for revenue only, and a tariff for protection are one and the same thing.

Now for a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether. Get out every Republican vote, and when you vote the clean Republican ticket from top to bottom.

Garfield will certainly be the next President, but we want to make his majority so big that the present Democratic Congress will not dare to tamper with it when it comes to be counted.

Now you have a doubting friend, show him the Democratic platform in favor of a tariff for revenue only, and ask him if he wants to decrease his own wages by voting for Hancock and Coffroth.

Get out every Republican vote on Tuesday next. It was the silent work, in every precinct, done by the active, earnest men that carried Ohio and Indiana. Bear this in mind and get out the vote.

We warn all Republicans to be on their guard against spurious tickets. Read your ticket before you vote it, and see that the names of none but the Republican candidates are on it.

ONLY five more working days until the election. Every Republican voter can do something to help the cause. Push things.

Dem. friends have forgotten President Lincoln's pledge that it wasn't wise to swap horses while crossing a stream. They started on a free trade horse, and the water is too deep now for them to dismount and try to get on the Protection rug.

There is no doubt that the Democrats are in a minority in this Congressional district, and that Coffroth cannot be elected except by the folly of Republican voters. Remember that a full Republican vote will show him under for all time.

Ohio and Indiana settled the question. The victory is virtually won, but like the fellow pounding the dead dog, we want to give the Democracy a realizing sense of the future. Ball every vote, and we'll bury them so deep that the sound of Garfield's trumpet will not reach them.

Garfield's only hope lies in securing Republican votes. The Republican who votes for him had better take his grip-sack and the yoke of his treasury, and "get up and go" into the Democratic camp; there is no room for him among true men.

General Grant, fresh from the glorious battle fields of the West, has entered enthusiastically into the eastern campaign. On Thursday evening last he made three speeches at three different Republican meetings in New Jersey. This week he is in New York abiding Senator Cookling to carry the Empire State.

We haven't much faith in a death-bed repentance. So we don't take much stock in Coffroth's declaration in favor of Protection, after his long adherence to the party pledged to a "tariff for revenue only." It is the hand writing on the wall that reads "political, as well as all other kind of sinners."

A young man wrote Gen. Grant under date of 31st of August last, asking him to send "a short motto—a rule of life, with his autograph." To this Gen. Grant replied as follows: "Vote the Republican ticket every day in the Nation, until you vote, and cast your vote at each election, for with party loyalty without fear or solicitation, and with integrity in your own conduct, you will have done your duty as a citizen."

It is now certain that there will be a working Republican majority in the next House, and very probably that the Democratic majority in the Senate will be wiped out on the 11th of next March. With a Republican Congress at his back, General Garfield will have clear sailing, and the ship of state, for at least four years, will not be in danger of slipping track.

Gen. Hancock, in his letter of acceptance said: "The principles enunciated by the convention are those I have cherished in the past, and shall endeavor to maintain in the future." One of the principles contained in the platform and which Gen. Hancock proposes to maintain is "a tariff for revenue only," which would close half the workshops in the country and throw half the workmen out of employment.

Every vote, friends, get out every vote. Not that we need them to elect Garfield and Campbell, but we want to settle conclusively, beyond all dispute by the crushing weight of public sentiment expressed through the ballot box, that this is a Republican country, now and everlastingly in favor of the Union, and of protection to the labor of all the country.

Gen. Coffroth has published a card in all the Democratic papers of this district, announcing that, if elected, "no caucus instructions or party platform will prevent him from voting for such a tariff bill as will protect the iron, coal, mining, manufacturing, and other interests of this district and of the whole country."

It is a curious thing, but it is true, that the tariff for revenue only is a tariff for revenue only, and a tariff for protection are one and the same thing.

Now for a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether. Get out every Republican vote, and when you vote the clean Republican ticket from top to bottom.

Garfield will certainly be the next President, but we want to make his majority so big that the present Democratic Congress will not dare to tamper with it when it comes to be counted.

Now you have a doubting friend, show him the Democratic platform in favor of a tariff for revenue only, and ask him if he wants to decrease his own wages by voting for Hancock and Coffroth.

Get out every Republican vote on Tuesday next. It was the silent work, in every precinct, done by the active, earnest men that carried Ohio and Indiana. Bear this in mind and get out the vote.

We warn all Republicans to be on their guard against spurious tickets. Read your ticket before you vote it, and see that the names of none but the Republican candidates are on it.

ONLY five more working days until the election. Every Republican voter can do something to help the cause. Push things.

Dem. friends have forgotten President Lincoln's pledge that it wasn't wise to swap horses while crossing a stream. They started on a free trade horse, and the water is too deep now for them to dismount and try to get on the Protection rug.

There is no doubt that the Democrats are in a minority in this Congressional district, and that Coffroth cannot be elected except by the folly of Republican voters. Remember that a full Republican vote will show him under for all time.

Ohio and Indiana settled the question. The victory is virtually won, but like the fellow pounding the dead dog, we want to give the Democracy a realizing sense of the future. Ball every vote, and we'll bury them so deep that the sound of Garfield's trumpet will not reach them.

Garfield's only hope lies in securing Republican votes. The Republican who votes for him had better take his grip-sack and the yoke of his treasury, and "get up and go" into the Democratic camp; there is no room for him among true men.

General Grant, fresh from the glorious battle fields of the West, has entered enthusiastically into the eastern campaign. On Thursday evening last he made three speeches at three different Republican meetings in New Jersey. This week he is in New York abiding Senator Cookling to carry the Empire State.

We haven't much faith in a death-bed repentance. So we don't take much stock in Coffroth's declaration in favor of Protection, after his long adherence to the party pledged to a "tariff for revenue only." It is the hand writing on the wall that reads "political, as well as all other kind of sinners."

A young man wrote Gen. Grant under date of 31st of August last, asking him to send "a short motto—a rule of life, with his autograph." To this Gen. Grant replied as follows: "Vote the Republican ticket every day in the Nation, until you vote, and cast your vote at each election, for with party loyalty without fear or solicitation, and with integrity in your own conduct, you will have done your duty as a citizen."

It is now certain that there will be a working Republican majority in the next House, and very probably that the Democratic majority in the Senate will be wiped out on the 11th of next March. With a Republican Congress at his back, General Garfield will have clear sailing, and the ship of state, for at least four years, will not be in danger of slipping track.

Gen. Hancock, in his letter of acceptance said: "The principles enunciated by the convention are those I have cherished in the past, and shall endeavor to maintain in the future." One of the principles contained in the platform and which Gen. Hancock proposes to maintain is "a tariff for revenue only," which would close half the workshops in the country and throw half the workmen out of employment.

Every vote, friends, get out every vote. Not that we need them to elect Garfield and Campbell, but we want to settle conclusively, beyond all dispute by the crushing weight of public sentiment expressed through the ballot box, that this is a Republican country, now and everlastingly in favor of the Union, and of protection to the labor of all the country.

Gen. Coffroth has published a card in all the Democratic papers of this district, announcing that, if elected, "no caucus instructions or party platform will prevent him from voting for such a tariff bill as will protect the iron, coal, mining, manufacturing, and other interests of this district and of the whole country."

It is a curious thing, but it is true, that the tariff for revenue only is a tariff for revenue only, and a tariff for protection are one and the same thing.

Now for a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether. Get out every Republican vote, and when you vote the clean Republican ticket from top to bottom.

Garfield will certainly be the next President, but we want to make his majority so big that the present Democratic Congress will not dare to tamper with it when it comes to be counted.

Now you have a doubting friend, show him the Democratic platform in favor of a tariff for revenue only, and ask him if he wants to decrease his own wages by voting for Hancock and Coffroth.

Get out every Republican vote on Tuesday next. It was the silent work, in every precinct, done by the active, earnest men that carried Ohio and Indiana. Bear this in mind and get out the vote.

We warn all Republicans to be on their guard against spurious tickets. Read your ticket before you vote it, and see that the names of none but the Republican candidates are on it.

ONLY five more working days until the election. Every Republican voter can do something to help the cause. Push things.

Dem. friends have forgotten President Lincoln's pledge that it wasn't wise to swap horses while crossing a stream. They started on a free trade horse, and the water is too deep now for them to dismount and try to get on the Protection rug.

There is no doubt that the Democrats are in a minority in this Congressional district, and that Coffroth cannot be elected except by the folly of Republican voters. Remember that a full Republican vote will show him under for all time.

Ohio and Indiana settled the question. The victory is virtually won, but like the fellow pounding the dead dog, we want to give the Democracy a realizing sense of the future. Ball every vote, and we'll bury them so deep that the sound of Garfield's trumpet will not reach them.

Garfield's only hope lies in securing Republican votes. The Republican who votes for him had better take his grip-sack and the yoke of his treasury, and "get up and go" into the Democratic camp; there is no room for him among true men.

General Grant, fresh from the glorious battle fields of the West, has entered enthusiastically into the eastern campaign. On Thursday evening last he made three speeches at three different Republican meetings in New Jersey. This week he is in New York abiding Senator Cookling to carry the Empire State.

We haven't much faith in a death-bed repentance. So we don't take much stock in Coffroth's declaration in favor of Protection, after his long adherence to the party pledged to a "tariff for revenue only." It is the hand writing on the wall that reads "political, as well as all other kind of sinners."

A young man wrote Gen. Grant under date of 31st of August last, asking him to send "a short motto—a rule of life, with his autograph." To this Gen. Grant replied as follows: "Vote the Republican ticket every day in the Nation, until you vote, and cast your vote at each election, for with party loyalty without fear or solicitation, and with integrity in your own conduct, you will have done your duty as a citizen."

It is now certain that there will be a working Republican majority in the next House, and very probably that the Democratic majority in the Senate will be wiped out on the 11th of next March. With a Republican Congress at his back, General Garfield will have clear sailing, and the ship of state, for at least four years, will not be in danger of slipping track.

Gen. Hancock, in his letter of acceptance said: "The principles enunciated by the convention are those I have cherished in the past, and shall endeavor to maintain in the future." One of the principles contained in the platform and which Gen. Hancock proposes to maintain is "a tariff for revenue only," which would close half the workshops in the country and throw half the workmen out of employment.

Every vote, friends, get out every vote. Not that we need them to elect Garfield and Campbell, but we want to settle conclusively, beyond all dispute by the crushing weight of public sentiment expressed through the ballot box, that this is a Republican country, now and everlastingly in favor of the Union, and of protection to the labor of all the country.

Gen. Coffroth has published a card in all the Democratic papers of this district, announcing that, if elected, "no caucus instructions or party platform will prevent him from voting for such a tariff bill as will protect the iron, coal, mining, manufacturing, and other interests of this district and of the whole country."

It is a curious thing, but it is true, that the tariff for revenue only is a tariff for revenue only, and a tariff for protection are one and the same thing.

Now for a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether. Get out every Republican vote, and when you vote the clean Republican ticket from top to bottom.

Garfield will certainly be the next President, but we want to make his majority so big that the present Democratic Congress will not dare to tamper with it when it comes to be counted.

Now you have a doubting friend, show him the Democratic platform in favor of a tariff for revenue only, and ask him if he wants to decrease his own wages by voting for Hancock and Coffroth.

Get out every Republican vote on Tuesday next. It was the silent work, in every precinct, done by the active, earnest men that carried Ohio and Indiana. Bear this in mind and get out the vote.

We warn all Republicans to be on their guard against spurious tickets. Read your ticket before you vote it, and see that the names of none but the Republican candidates are on it.

ONLY five more working days until the election. Every Republican voter can do something to help the cause. Push things.

Dem. friends have forgotten President Lincoln's pledge that it wasn't wise to swap horses while crossing a stream. They started on a free trade horse, and the water is too deep now for them to dismount and try to get on the Protection rug.

There is no doubt that the Democrats are in a minority in this Congressional district, and that Coffroth cannot be elected except by the folly of Republican voters. Remember that a full Republican vote will show him under for all time.

Ohio and Indiana settled the question. The victory is virtually won, but like the fellow pounding the dead dog, we want to give the Democracy a realizing sense of the future. Ball every vote, and we'll bury them so deep that the sound of Garfield's trumpet will not reach them.

Garfield's only hope lies in securing Republican votes. The Republican who votes for him had better take his grip-sack and the yoke of his treasury, and "get up and go" into the Democratic camp; there is no room for him among true men.

General Grant, fresh from the glorious battle fields of the West, has entered enthusiastically into the eastern campaign. On Thursday evening last he made three speeches at three different Republican meetings in New Jersey. This week he is in New York abiding Senator Cookling to carry the Empire State.

We haven't much faith in a death-bed repentance. So we don't take much stock in Coffroth's declaration in favor of Protection, after his long adherence to the party pledged to a "tariff for revenue only." It is the hand writing on the wall that reads "political, as well as all other kind of sinners."

A young man wrote Gen. Grant under date of 31st of August last, asking him to send "a short motto—a rule of life, with his autograph." To this Gen. Grant replied as follows: "Vote the Republican ticket every day in the Nation, until you vote, and cast your vote at each election, for with party loyalty without fear or solicitation, and with integrity in your own conduct, you will have done your duty as a citizen."

It is now certain that there will be a working Republican majority in the next House, and very probably that the Democratic majority in the Senate will be wiped out on the 11th of next March. With a Republican Congress at his back, General Garfield will have clear sailing, and the ship of state, for at least four years, will not be in danger of slipping track.

Gen. Hancock, in his letter of acceptance said: "The principles enunciated by the convention are those I have cherished in the past, and shall endeavor to maintain in the future." One of the principles contained in the platform and which Gen. Hancock proposes to maintain is "a tariff for revenue only," which would close half the workshops in the country and throw half the workmen out of employment.

Every vote, friends, get out every vote. Not that we need them to elect Garfield and Campbell, but we want to settle conclusively, beyond all dispute by the crushing weight of public sentiment expressed through the ballot box, that this is a Republican country, now and everlastingly in favor of the Union, and of protection to the labor of all the country.

Gen. Coffroth has published a card in all the Democratic papers of this district, announcing that, if elected, "no caucus instructions or party platform will prevent him from voting for such a tariff bill as will protect the iron, coal, mining, manufacturing, and other interests of this district and of the whole country."

It is a curious thing, but it is true, that the tariff for revenue only is a tariff for revenue only, and a tariff for protection are one and the same thing.

Now for a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether. Get out every Republican vote, and when you vote the clean Republican ticket from top to bottom.

Garfield will certainly be the next President, but we want to make his majority so big that the present Democratic Congress will not dare to tamper with it when it comes to be counted.

Now you have a doubting friend, show him the Democratic platform in favor of a tariff for revenue only, and ask him if he wants to decrease his own wages by voting for Hancock and Coffroth.

Get out every Republican vote on Tuesday next. It was the silent work, in every precinct, done by the active, earnest men that carried Ohio and Indiana. Bear this in mind and get out the vote.

We warn all Republicans to be on their guard against spurious tickets. Read your ticket before you vote it, and see that the names of none but the Republican candidates are on it.

ONLY five more working days until the election. Every Republican voter can do something to help the cause. Push things.

Dem. friends have forgotten President Lincoln's pledge that it wasn't wise to swap horses while crossing a stream. They started on a free trade horse, and the water is too deep now for them to dismount and try to get on the Protection rug.

There is no doubt that the Democrats are in a minority in this Congressional district, and that Coffroth cannot be elected except by the folly of Republican voters. Remember that a full Republican vote will show him under for all time.

Ohio and Indiana settled the question. The victory is virtually won, but like the fellow pounding the dead dog, we want to give the Democracy a realizing sense of the future. Ball every vote, and we'll bury them so deep that the sound of Garfield's trumpet will not reach them.

Garfield's only hope lies in securing Republican votes. The Republican who votes for him had better take his grip-sack and the yoke of his treasury, and "get up and go" into the Democratic camp; there is no room for him among true men.

General Grant, fresh from the glorious battle fields of the West, has entered enthusiastically into the eastern campaign. On Thursday evening last he made three speeches at three different Republican meetings in New Jersey. This week he is in New York abiding Senator Cookling to carry the Empire State.

We haven't much faith in a death-bed repentance. So we don't take much stock in Coffroth's declaration in favor of Protection, after his long adherence to the party pledged to a "tariff for revenue only." It is the hand writing on the wall that reads "political, as well as all other kind of sinners."

A young man wrote Gen. Grant under date of 31st of August last, asking him to send "a short motto—a rule of life, with his autograph." To this Gen. Grant replied as follows: "Vote the Republican ticket every day in the Nation, until you vote, and cast your vote at each election, for with party loyalty without fear or solicitation, and with integrity in your own conduct, you will have done your duty as a citizen."

It is now certain that there will be a working Republican majority in the next House, and very probably that the Democratic majority in the Senate will be wiped out on the 11th of next March. With a Republican Congress at his back, General Garfield will have clear sailing, and the ship of state, for at least four years, will not be in danger of slipping track.

Gen. Hancock, in his letter of acceptance said: "The principles enunciated by the convention are those I have cherished in the past, and shall endeavor to maintain in the future." One of the principles contained in the platform and which Gen. Hancock proposes to maintain is "a tariff for revenue only," which would close half the workshops in the country and throw half the workmen out of employment.

Every vote, friends, get out every vote. Not that we need them to elect Garfield and Campbell, but we want to settle conclusively, beyond all dispute by the crushing weight of public sentiment expressed through the ballot box, that this is a Republican country, now and everlastingly in favor of the Union, and of protection to the labor of all the country.

Gen. Coffroth has published a card in all the Democratic papers of this district, announcing that, if elected, "no caucus instructions or party platform will prevent him from voting for such a tariff bill as will protect the iron, coal, mining, manufacturing, and other interests of this district and of the whole country."

It is a curious thing, but it is true, that the tariff for revenue only is a tariff for revenue only, and a tariff for protection are one and the same thing.

Now for a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether. Get out every Republican vote, and when you vote the clean Republican ticket from top to bottom.

Garfield will certainly be the next President, but we want to make his majority so big that the present Democratic Congress will not dare to tamper with it when it comes to be counted.

Now you have a doubting friend, show him the Democratic platform in favor of a tariff for revenue only, and ask him if he wants to decrease his own wages by voting for Hancock and Coffroth.

Get out every Republican vote on Tuesday next. It was the silent work, in every precinct, done by the active, earnest men that carried Ohio and Indiana. Bear this in mind and get out the vote.

We warn all Republicans to be on their guard against spurious tickets. Read your ticket before you vote it, and see that the names of none but the Republican candidates are on it.

ONLY five more working days until the election. Every Republican voter can do something to help the cause. Push things.

Dem. friends have forgotten President Lincoln's pledge that it wasn't wise to swap horses while crossing a stream. They started on a free trade horse, and the water is too deep now for them to dismount and try to get on the Protection rug.

There is no doubt that the Democrats are in a minority in this Congressional district, and that Coffroth cannot be elected except by the folly of Republican voters. Remember that a full Republican vote will show him under for all time.

Ohio and Indiana settled the question. The victory is virtually won, but like the fellow pounding the dead dog, we want to give the Democracy a realizing sense of the future. Ball every vote, and we'll bury them so deep that the sound of Garfield's trumpet will not reach them.

Garfield's only hope lies in securing Republican votes. The Republican who votes for him had better take his grip-sack and the yoke of his treasury, and "get up and go" into the Democratic camp; there is no room for him among true men.

General Grant, fresh from the glorious battle fields of the West, has entered enthusiastically into the eastern campaign. On Thursday evening last he made three speeches at three different Republican meetings in New Jersey. This week he is in New York abiding Senator Cookling to carry the Empire State.

We haven't much faith in a death-bed repentance. So we don't take much stock in Coffroth's declaration in favor of Protection, after his long adherence to the party pledged to a "tariff for revenue only." It is the hand writing on the wall that reads "political, as well as all other kind of sinners."

A young man wrote Gen. Grant under date of 31st of August last, asking him to send "a short motto—a rule of life, with his autograph." To this Gen. Grant replied as follows: "Vote the Republican ticket every day in the Nation, until you vote, and cast your vote at each election, for with party loyalty without fear or solicitation, and with integrity in your own conduct, you will have done your duty as a citizen."

It is now certain that there will be a working Republican majority in the next House, and very probably that the Democratic