

The National banks of the country paid taxes to the Government last year amounting to $7,591,770.

The total receipts of the United States Treasury for the past fiscal year were $141,578,241.

On the first day of this month there were in the Treasury, standard silver dollars to the amount of $47,084,450.

Garfield's official plurality in New York is officially declared to be 21,043, and his majority over all 7,130.

It now appears to be understood that President Garfield will make an entire change in the Cabinet, retaining none of the present members.

The thanksgiving dinner of many of our Democratic friends consisted of "cooked geese," which was prepared several weeks since.

Function LAMAR, of Mississippi, is reported to be seriously ill, and his friends fear he will never be able to return to Washington.

Fifty-four national banks were organized during the past year; five failed, and twenty-one went into voluntary liquidation.

FELIXUS is not only out of debt but has a surplus in her treasury. That's the place to move to. No State taxes, you know.

It is remarked as a curious coincidence, that the only three counties in Iowa carried by Hancock are named Jackson, Johnson and Lee.

The reduction in interest on the public debt, effected during the past year, is shown by the report of the Treasurer of the United States to have been $21,699,965.

The last accounts indicate that thirty-two unfortunate lost their lives in the recent fire at St. Peter's Insane Asylum, Minnesota. This is worse than was first supposed.

The Congressional delegation from Massachusetts will not be solidly Republican as had been expected. One Democrat, Mr. Morse, slips in by a majority of 115 votes.

It is said at Washington that all the five Congressional seats from South Carolina will be contested by the Republican candidates who were counted out.

The placing of the militia of the several States upon the same footing in organization and discipline as the regular army, is urged by the Secretary of War in his report.

PRESIDENT-ELECT GARFIELD attended the Thanksgiving services at the Christian Church on Vermont avenue, Washington, of which, when in the city, he is an attendant.

THERE are over a quarter of a million of recipients of pensions in the United States. Commissioner Bently estimates that $50,000,000 will be required to pay them for the current year.

The reduction of the charge for postal money-orders for five dollars or a less sum to five cents, and the issue of orders to the amount of $1,000, is recommended by the Postmaster General in his report.

By making a contest over the election of General Garfield's successor as Senator from Ohio, the Democracy can retain control of the Senate. It is reported at Washington that it is the programme to do so.

That howl about fraud in New York, and the loud-moaned threats of a contest in Congress pestered out very suddenly. The official count was made and declared in favor of Garfield, and nary a protest was heard from the billious Democracy.

The Treasurer's statement shows that there was an increase of nearly sixty million dollars in the national revenue this year over last. This indicates at once the prosperity which the country is enjoying and the ability with which the public business is being conducted.

THERE is entirely too much gush, to suit our taste, in the Southern journals. Rememering with what success they met in the early days of the present administration, it looks to us as if they were going to "try it on" with President Garfield. Well let 'em. The new President knows exactly what Southern propensities are worth.

As let a decent man shut his eyes and think over the Democratic tactics of the late campaign. The gutters were raked for filth to throw at Garfield, and as a last resort a deliberate attempt was made to cheat the people out of their votes by forgery. What honest man likes to be caught in such company?

In the Southern Democrats really wish to restore the era of good feeling as they profess, why don't they repudiate the fraud, violence, and wrong that characterized the elections in many Southern districts?

If they shut their eyes to these crimes, and support the men who perpetrated them, how can they hope for the respect and fellowship of decent men?

The blunder which may lead to the return of a Hancock elector from Indiana was in the returns, but in the printed blank poll-books used. These contained the name of Thomas W. Bennett, who was not a candidate as one of the Republican electors. In the haste and carelessness of the count, votes cast for B. G. Parker, the Republican electoral candidate for the Sixth District, were counted for Bennett. The result is, on the face of the returns, the election of a Democrat for the Sixth District.

GEN. GARFIELD spent last week in Washington on private business. Of course he was besieged by office-seekers, and received much good advice from intermediaries. He proved to be a good listener, and a poor talker. Not the slightest intimation as to his probable course on the possible members of his cabinet could be corkscrewed out of him. On passing through Harrisburg he stopped a couple of hours, and dined with Senator Don Cameron, whereupon the conclusion has been jumped at that "Don" will go into the Cabinet and distribute the cakes in Pennsylvania.

The sixth Mississippi (Shoating district) contains the heaviest Republican majority in the country, and yet it has been represented in Congress for the last two terms by Chalmers, the Fort Pillow murderer. At the late election this model Democrat had himself again counted in and now comes the news that the Democratic County Commissioners, the Chairman of the District Committee and the Chairman of the County Committee have been arrested by order of United States Judge Hill for violation of the National election laws. It begins to look as if some of the infamous election frauds perpetrated by the Southern Democrats will be at last exposed.

At the present rate of progress it will not be long before the Post-office Department is self-supporting. In the ante-bellum days there was a yearly deficiency of nearly fifty per cent to be made good, whereas for the last fiscal year the receipts only fell eight per cent below the expenditures, and had it not been for the lavish way in which Assistant Brady spent money on the Star routes the accounts would have balanced. In Great Britain the Post-office is an important source of public revenue, and though the great distances in this country place us at a serious disadvantage, there are good grounds for expecting that in time such will be our experience also.

The session of the present Congress which commences on Monday next is not likely to be an eventful one. It will expire by limitation of law on the thirteenth of March, and if the legitimate business of the country is attended to there will be little time left for anything else. Moreover, the Democrats, after their late overwhelming defeat, will not feel like attempting any strictly party legislation, knowing that the Presidential vote will effectually squelch it. There will probably be much planning and arranging among the Republican members of the House over the next speakership, clerkship and other subordinate offices which will pass into their hands with next Congress, but apart from this, the session in all probability will be a very dull one.

SAVE THE Chicago Inter Ocean: The man who led the greatest defeat in the history of the United States was nominated did the most to secure his election. That is conceded by every fair man, and makes the "reformers" who fear Garfield will recognize the services of the stalwarts seem very puny and childish. The Meekin (Ohio) Weather Reporter writes to this sort of fair weather Republicans. Its editor is an Ohio man, and a near friend of Garfield. He says:

In the discussion of the policy of Garfield's administration, and the make-up of his Cabinet, there is a great deal said about stalwartism and Grantism: and we observe that the stalwarts of the friends of the most fearful of a third term, and defamers of the great soldier, have the most to say, and in saying it manifest the old spirit of bitterness against General Grant and his stalwart supporters. This, to say the least, is decidedly checky. When the stalwarts in the Chicago Inter Ocean, exclaimed that the friends of the silent soldier would be found in the thickest of the fight, while his defamers in the Republican ranks would retire at their own and vote politics a bore, he prophesied. We lost Maine in September by the skulking of the friends of Blair, and if it had not been for the stalwart work of Grant and Grant men all over the country we should have lost the Presidential election in November. Gen. Garfield owes his election to the splendid work of the men who stood by Gen. Grant from first to last in the conventional campaign, and now that the fight is over and the victory won, it is entirely in keeping with the spirit of the fellows "who would not vote for Grant if he was nominated," to come to the front and do the blowing.

GARFIELD'S TRIP.
THE ARRIVAL AT HARRISBURG AND WASHINGTON.
Two Hours' Rest at the State Capital—Southern Republicans Seeking Representation in the Cabinet.

HARRISBURG, November 23.—General Garfield, accompanied by A. T. Galloway and Hon. Amos Townsend, Congressman from the Second District, arrived here at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon in a special car on their way to Washington. The coming of the President-elect was known to but very few, and the increase in the throng at the depot was scarcely noticeable. A short while after the train had started, a crowd of about 100 persons gathered in front of the depot and was waiting when it stopped. The Senator immediately entered the car, and after exchanging greetings with the Gen. and Mrs. Garfield and Mr. Townsend, accompanied by Mrs. Garfield on his arrival, he proceeded to the carriage waiting, closely followed by the General and Mr. Townsend. The four entered the carriage and were rapidly whisked away to the Senator's residence. After partaking of lunch the distinguished party were informed that upon the arrival of our citizens who desired to pay their respects. The two hours allotted for their stay at Senator Cameron's passed quickly, when they were driven back to their car and left for Washington on the regular day express train. During his brief visit here, the Senator in the largest hall and entered heartily into conversation with all who called upon him, the only tabooed topic being politics.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—General Garfield and wife arrived here at 8 o'clock this evening. In consequence of the announcement by the local papers that in accordance with the General's request the proposed public demonstration would not take place, but few persons were present at the railroad station. He was received and warmly welcomed, however, by Colonel Robert Ingersoll, Deputy Quartermaster General, Rosewell and a delegation of the National Tow-path Club, a prominent political organization of this city. The General and Mrs. Garfield then drove quickly to their residence, corner of Thirteenth and I streets, where, during the evening, they received a few of their personal friends. While General Garfield is here he will get a great deal of advice. He says he intends to be an expert listener for the next three months, and here in Washington, during his brief stay, he will have all the suggestions and advice which upon him that he can conveniently carry. Several leading Southern Republicans now in Washington intend to make a dead set at him upon the subject of a Southern man in the Cabinet. The report has been circulated that he ignores that section in making his Cabinet, and did not get an electoral vote in all the States. It will be shown him that his popular vote in the South was much larger than that cast for him in New England. The Southern Republicans do not intend to suggest any particular name to be put to a protest against a Southern Cabinet. In conversation they admit the poverty of material, but think somebody can be found who will fill the bill. The gentleman most mentioned in this connection is Horace Maynard, but the incoming President and Garfield will retain none of the present Cabinet.

DEATH OF EX-GOVERNOR BARRASCO'S FATHER.
NORFOLK, Pa., November 24.—Samuel E. Harriman, father of Ex-Governor Harriman, died of pneumonia last night, aged seventy-five years.

KILLED WITH A BULLET OF WOOD.
MILLERSBURG, Pa., November 23.—Howard Diggins, colored, a trainman on the Pennsylvania Railroad, was killed by a bullet of wood while working on the line near this place. The bullet was fired from a rifle which was in the hands of a man named Diggins, who was working on the line at the same time.

AN INJUNCTION.
JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 21.—Judge Deane, on application of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, has issued a temporary injunction restraining the Camden Railroad from restraining that portion of their track which has been built on the old feeder. The Pennsylvania Railroad bought the old land from the state, this track was severed on resident engineer Hunter by Sheriff Griffin last night at six o'clock. The injunction, which was issued Tuesday, will cause considerable delay and trouble to the Camden and Camden Railroad.

RECEIVED BY THE SENATOR.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—General Garfield and wife arrived here at 8 o'clock this evening. In consequence of the announcement by the local papers that in accordance with the General's request the proposed public demonstration would not take place, but few persons were present at the railroad station. He was received and warmly welcomed, however, by Colonel Robert Ingersoll, Deputy Quartermaster General, Rosewell and a delegation of the National Tow-path Club, a prominent political organization of this city. The General and Mrs. Garfield then drove quickly to their residence, corner of Thirteenth and I streets, where, during the evening, they received a few of their personal friends. While General Garfield is here he will get a great deal of advice. He says he intends to be an expert listener for the next three months, and here in Washington, during his brief stay, he will have all the suggestions and advice which upon him that he can conveniently carry. Several leading Southern Republicans now in Washington intend to make a dead set at him upon the subject of a Southern man in the Cabinet. The report has been circulated that he ignores that section in making his Cabinet, and did not get an electoral vote in all the States. It will be shown him that his popular vote in the South was much larger than that cast for him in New England. The Southern Republicans do not intend to suggest any particular name to be put to a protest against a Southern Cabinet. In conversation they admit the poverty of material, but think somebody can be found who will fill the bill. The gentleman most mentioned in this connection is Horace Maynard, but the incoming President and Garfield will retain none of the present Cabinet.

RECEIVED BY THE SENATOR.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—General Garfield and wife arrived here at 8 o'clock this evening. In consequence of the announcement by the local papers that in accordance with the General's request the proposed public demonstration would not take place, but few persons were present at the railroad station. He was received and warmly welcomed, however, by Colonel Robert Ingersoll, Deputy Quartermaster General, Rosewell and a delegation of the National Tow-path Club, a prominent political organization of this city. The General and Mrs. Garfield then drove quickly to their residence, corner of Thirteenth and I streets, where, during the evening, they received a few of their personal friends. While General Garfield is here he will get a great deal of advice. He says he intends to be an expert listener for the next three months, and here in Washington, during his brief stay, he will have all the suggestions and advice which upon him that he can conveniently carry. Several leading Southern Republicans now in Washington intend to make a dead set at him upon the subject of a Southern man in the Cabinet. The report has been circulated that he ignores that section in making his Cabinet, and did not get an electoral vote in all the States. It will be shown him that his popular vote in the South was much larger than that cast for him in New England. The Southern Republicans do not intend to suggest any particular name to be put to a protest against a Southern Cabinet. In conversation they admit the poverty of material, but think somebody can be found who will fill the bill. The gentleman most mentioned in this connection is Horace Maynard, but the incoming President and Garfield will retain none of the present Cabinet.

RECEIVED BY THE SENATOR.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—General Garfield and wife arrived here at 8 o'clock this evening. In consequence of the announcement by the local papers that in accordance with the General's request the proposed public demonstration would not take place, but few persons were present at the railroad station. He was received and warmly welcomed, however, by Colonel Robert Ingersoll, Deputy Quartermaster General, Rosewell and a delegation of the National Tow-path Club, a prominent political organization of this city. The General and Mrs. Garfield then drove quickly to their residence, corner of Thirteenth and I streets, where, during the evening, they received a few of their personal friends. While General Garfield is here he will get a great deal of advice. He says he intends to be an expert listener for the next three months, and here in Washington, during his brief stay, he will have all the suggestions and advice which upon him that he can conveniently carry. Several leading Southern Republicans now in Washington intend to make a dead set at him upon the subject of a Southern man in the Cabinet. The report has been circulated that he ignores that section in making his Cabinet, and did not get an electoral vote in all the States. It will be shown him that his popular vote in the South was much larger than that cast for him in New England. The Southern Republicans do not intend to suggest any particular name to be put to a protest against a Southern Cabinet. In conversation they admit the poverty of material, but think somebody can be found who will fill the bill. The gentleman most mentioned in this connection is Horace Maynard, but the incoming President and Garfield will retain none of the present Cabinet.

RECEIVED BY THE SENATOR.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—General Garfield and wife arrived here at 8 o'clock this evening. In consequence of the announcement by the local papers that in accordance with the General's request the proposed public demonstration would not take place, but few persons were present at the railroad station. He was received and warmly welcomed, however, by Colonel Robert Ingersoll, Deputy Quartermaster General, Rosewell and a delegation of the National Tow-path Club, a prominent political organization of this city. The General and Mrs. Garfield then drove quickly to their residence, corner of Thirteenth and I streets, where, during the evening, they received a few of their personal friends. While General Garfield is here he will get a great deal of advice. He says he intends to be an expert listener for the next three months, and here in Washington, during his brief stay, he will have all the suggestions and advice which upon him that he can conveniently carry. Several leading Southern Republicans now in Washington intend to make a dead set at him upon the subject of a Southern man in the Cabinet. The report has been circulated that he ignores that section in making his Cabinet, and did not get an electoral vote in all the States. It will be shown him that his popular vote in the South was much larger than that cast for him in New England. The Southern Republicans do not intend to suggest any particular name to be put to a protest against a Southern Cabinet. In conversation they admit the poverty of material, but think somebody can be found who will fill the bill. The gentleman most mentioned in this connection is Horace Maynard, but the incoming President and Garfield will retain none of the present Cabinet.

RECEIVED BY THE SENATOR.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—General Garfield and wife arrived here at 8 o'clock this evening. In consequence of the announcement by the local papers that in accordance with the General's request the proposed public demonstration would not take place, but few persons were present at the railroad station. He was received and warmly welcomed, however, by Colonel Robert Ingersoll, Deputy Quartermaster General, Rosewell and a delegation of the National Tow-path Club, a prominent political organization of this city. The General and Mrs. Garfield then drove quickly to their residence, corner of Thirteenth and I streets, where, during the evening, they received a few of their personal friends. While General Garfield is here he will get a great deal of advice. He says he intends to be an expert listener for the next three months, and here in Washington, during his brief stay, he will have all the suggestions and advice which upon him that he can conveniently carry. Several leading Southern Republicans now in Washington intend to make a dead set at him upon the subject of a Southern man in the Cabinet. The report has been circulated that he ignores that section in making his Cabinet, and did not get an electoral vote in all the States. It will be shown him that his popular vote in the South was much larger than that cast for him in New England. The Southern Republicans do not intend to suggest any particular name to be put to a protest against a Southern Cabinet. In conversation they admit the poverty of material, but think somebody can be found who will fill the bill. The gentleman most mentioned in this connection is Horace Maynard, but the incoming President and Garfield will retain none of the present Cabinet.

RECEIVED BY THE SENATOR.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—General Garfield and wife arrived here at 8 o'clock this evening. In consequence of the announcement by the local papers that in accordance with the General's request the proposed public demonstration would not take place, but few persons were present at the railroad station. He was received and warmly welcomed, however, by Colonel Robert Ingersoll, Deputy Quartermaster General, Rosewell and a delegation of the National Tow-path Club, a prominent political organization of this city. The General and Mrs. Garfield then drove quickly to their residence, corner of Thirteenth and I streets, where, during the evening, they received a few of their personal friends. While General Garfield is here he will get a great deal of advice. He says he intends to be an expert listener for the next three months, and here in Washington, during his brief stay, he will have all the suggestions and advice which upon him that he can conveniently carry. Several leading Southern Republicans now in Washington intend to make a dead set at him upon the subject of a Southern man in the Cabinet. The report has been circulated that he ignores that section in making his Cabinet, and did not get an electoral vote in all the States. It will be shown him that his popular vote in the South was much larger than that cast for him in New England. The Southern Republicans do not intend to suggest any particular name to be put to a protest against a Southern Cabinet. In conversation they admit the poverty of material, but think somebody can be found who will fill the bill. The gentleman most mentioned in this connection is Horace Maynard, but the incoming President and Garfield will retain none of the present Cabinet.

RECEIVED BY THE SENATOR.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—General Garfield and wife arrived here at 8 o'clock this evening. In consequence of the announcement by the local papers that in accordance with the General's request the proposed public demonstration would not take place, but few persons were present at the railroad station. He was received and warmly welcomed, however, by Colonel Robert Ingersoll, Deputy Quartermaster General, Rosewell and a delegation of the National Tow-path Club, a prominent political organization of this city. The General and Mrs. Garfield then drove quickly to their residence, corner of Thirteenth and I streets, where, during the evening, they received a few of their personal friends. While General Garfield is here he will get a great deal of advice. He says he intends to be an expert listener for the next three months, and here in Washington, during his brief stay, he will have all the suggestions and advice which upon him that he can conveniently carry. Several leading Southern Republicans now in Washington intend to make a dead set at him upon the subject of a Southern man in the Cabinet. The report has been circulated that he ignores that section in making his Cabinet, and did not get an electoral vote in all the States. It will be shown him that his popular vote in the South was much larger than that cast for him in New England. The Southern Republicans do not intend to suggest any particular name to be put to a protest against a Southern Cabinet. In conversation they admit the poverty of material, but think somebody can be found who will fill the bill. The gentleman most mentioned in this connection is Horace Maynard, but the incoming President and Garfield will retain none of the present Cabinet.

RECEIVED BY THE SENATOR.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—General Garfield and wife arrived here at 8 o'clock this evening. In consequence of the announcement by the local papers that in accordance with the General's request the proposed public demonstration would not take place, but few persons were present at the railroad station. He was received and warmly welcomed, however, by Colonel Robert Ingersoll, Deputy Quartermaster General, Rosewell and a delegation of the National Tow-path Club, a prominent political organization of this city. The General and Mrs. Garfield then drove quickly to their residence, corner of Thirteenth and I streets, where, during the evening, they received a few of their personal friends. While General Garfield is here he will get a great deal of advice. He says he intends to be an expert listener for the next three months, and here in Washington, during his brief stay, he will have all the suggestions and advice which upon him that he can conveniently carry. Several leading Southern Republicans now in Washington intend to make a dead set at him upon the subject of a Southern man in the Cabinet. The report has been circulated that he ignores that section in making his Cabinet, and did not get an electoral vote in all the States. It will be shown him that his popular vote in the South was much larger than that cast for him in New England. The Southern Republicans do not intend to suggest any particular name to be put to a protest against a Southern Cabinet. In conversation they admit the poverty of material, but think somebody can be found who will fill the bill. The gentleman most mentioned in this connection is Horace Maynard, but the incoming President and Garfield will retain none of the present Cabinet.

RECEIVED BY THE SENATOR.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—General Garfield and wife arrived here at 8 o'clock this evening. In consequence of the announcement by the local papers that in accordance with the General's request the proposed public demonstration would not take place, but few persons were present at the railroad station. He was received and warmly welcomed, however, by Colonel Robert Ingersoll, Deputy Quartermaster General, Rosewell and a delegation of the National Tow-path Club, a prominent political organization of this city. The General and Mrs. Garfield then drove quickly to their residence, corner of Thirteenth and I streets, where, during the evening, they received a few of their personal friends. While General Garfield is here he will get a great deal of advice. He says he intends to be an expert listener for the next three months, and here in Washington, during his brief stay, he will have all the suggestions and advice which upon him that he can conveniently carry. Several leading Southern Republicans now in Washington intend to make a dead set at him upon the subject of a Southern man in the Cabinet. The report has been circulated that he ignores that section in making his Cabinet, and did not get an electoral vote in all the States. It will be shown him that his popular vote in the South was much larger than that cast for him in New England. The Southern Republicans do not intend to suggest any particular name to be put to a protest against a Southern Cabinet. In conversation they admit the poverty of material, but think somebody can be found who will fill the bill. The gentleman most mentioned in this connection is Horace Maynard, but the incoming President and Garfield will retain none of the present Cabinet.

Distinguished Dead.
A Lancaster paper says: Quite a number of the nation's illustrious dead lie in the cemeteries of this city. Almost in the centre of Woodland street, a man stands the remains of James Buchanan. A plain, massive Indiana marble tomb, composed of a single slab weighing over seven tons, bears the inscription, "James Buchanan, fifteenth President of the United States," and the date of birth and death. A massive granite monument, the work of the sculptor, Charles D. W. Chambers, the Democratic elector, by about 5,000 majority. The error was caused by the cross carelessness of the county election officers, and it is doubted whether it can be legally corrected, but the matter will be thoroughly investigated by the Republican State Committee. Governor Gray when interviewed on the subject to-day, said there was no desire to take advantage of a technicality, as one elector from Indiana will be of no possible advantage to the Democrats in the event of a legal contest of correcting the returns if it should appear that the mistake was made by the clerks of election boards in crediting the votes for Parker to Bennett on the tally sheets, but if the error was on the part of the county clerks he thought it might be corrected, because the officials were still in existence, while the election board, having passed out of existence, could not be organized to correct any error that they had made. As in seven counties the total Republican vote is returned for Bennett it is probable that the view of the case adopted by the county clerks will furnish a solution of the difficulty. The official vote shows that Bennett received 1,513 in Wells county, 1,659 in Perry, 2,115 in Floyd, 1,065 in Union, 2,575 in Bartholomew, 1,486 in Owen and 2,139 in Putnam.

Creation at Washington.
WASHINGTON, Pa., November 25.—A slight ripple upon the quiet of Thanksgiving was caused here today by the creation of Lucia Burton Morse Noyes, the young wife of C. H. Noyes, Esq., of Warren Pa. The deceased was a lady of fine accomplishments and high social position. She died at her residence in this city on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten months, and twenty-eight years of age. She died in child bed on the 22d inst. Her husband, who was a member of the bar, died on the 22d inst. at the age of 32 years. The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased on the 24th inst. at 1:30 p.m. in the regular burial service of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Hayes said to your correspondent that the services were so impressive that he had never before seen a funeral so impressive as that of the late Mrs. Noyes. Indeed, more so than is possible with inhumanity. The deceased was a lady of ten