Homer Greedy's type metal invention is still a bit of a dream. About fifteen thousand dollars were contributed to the building fund, the printers in almost every town in the country giving something. Where, O where has the money gone? Probably for beer to wet the whistles of the enterprising originators of the scheme.

The passenger coach, express and baggage car combined, that is run on the C. & C. R., on the evening train that connects with the mail west is a diagram to the company and a most objectionable imposition on the traveling public. Frequently the few seats in the passenger section are all occupied and passengers are compelled to stand in the baggage and express section, in which are very often boxes of live poultry, which the stench from which is sickening. The many complaints that are daily being made will, we suppose, in the course of time reach the ears of the officers of the road where the evil will be remedied, and an additional car will be placed on this route, and after the summer travel has ceased and the car is not needed.

If our friends in the country should be approached by a good fellow, who has some new machine for sale of which he desires to make a good thing, they should be just as well to decline the honor. Decline to purchase unless he brings trouble. A band of just such swindlers has been thoroughly working Ohio. They have patent rakes, pitchforks, pumps, corn-bushers, etc. They appoint their friends to sell, and they sell their machines without any trouble, and only ask them to sign a note payable at the nearest bank for $50 when they have sold $235 worth of the implements. This contract is so written that the end is torn off and leaves a good straight note for $235, payable at the nearest bank, which is then sent forward by farmers have walked up and paid the amount, and charged it up to experience, profit, and a loss.—E.

The general public will be glad to know that a proposition is pending whereby small sums of money can be sent in letters under post office stamps, which will be forwarded on a slip of bank note paper, and its peculiar feature is a triple row of numbers on one end, so arranged that by punching out the proper figures and sum from one cent to five dollars may be extracted from the letter. These orders are to be sold for a few cents, and they are sent forward in the postmaster in receiving the amount to be forwarded, will punch out the corresponding figures and give the order to the sender. The plan is much cheaper and more convenient than the present postal order, which, however, is not so well known. The new design is only for small amounts, and will be limited to five dollars, while a still smaller one, limited to $2.50, is also contemplated.

The collection of BOROUGH TAX.—The following relative to this commonwealth, passed both houses finally and has been signed by the Governor. Its provisions should be well studied and all changes from the present mode of procedure carefully noted by not only borough officers but by the people at large.

Sec. 1. The council shall place in the hands of the treasurer a certified duplicate of the borough tax, and it shall be his duty to give at least one month's notice to each and every resident taxable by a written or printed notice, which, where personal service is practicable, shall be made in person, and where not, shall be made by mail, and shall specify the amount and kind of taxes, and of the time and place at which they will be levied, and shall be made at least one month before the date of receiving said tax, for the purpose of receiving borough tax, and it shall be his duty to receive and receipt for all borough tax given him for three months after said notice. Provided, that if any person on or before the expiration of two months after the date of notice shall pay to the treasurer the amount of his or her tax, such person shall be entitled to a full and complete discharge of the amount thereof, and for the remaining portion he shall make no abatement on the taxes received.

Sec. 2. In case the taxes are not all paid on or before the expiration of three months from the date of notice, the collector shall call a collector, have the duplicate placed in his hands, and the borough shall be liable to the full extent of the unpaid tax assessed in said duplicate, with power and authority to enforce the collection of the same as now or may hereafter be provided by law upon the delinquent of county taxes, with an addition of five per centum on the amount thereof; in the manner heretofore provided by law, he shall be allowed such compensation as shall be agreed upon, not exceeding five per centum of the amount collected, except in case of distress, and sale of goods, he shall receive the same fees as are allowed by law to constables for a levy and sale upon a writ of execution, which fees he shall retain out of the proceeds of such sales, after deducting the taxes and the addition of five per centum thereon.

Sec. 3. All acts or parts of acts for the collection of borough tax inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed, so far as they relate to boroughs in which the burgess and council authorize the collection of borough tax by the provisions of this act.—Provided, that this act shall not apply to the borough of Johnston, in which is regulated by a local act.

A HEALTHY STATE.—People are constantly changing their homes from East to West and from North to South or vice versa, in search of a healthy state. It would seem to be contented and to use the celebrated Kidney-Tonic when sick they will be much better off. The whole system can be kept in a healthy state by this simple but effectual remedy. A Man Killed.

FELDONIA, Kan., Aug. 8.—About 40 armed and masked men attacked the jail here early this morning for the purpose of lynching two brothers, Hardin by name, who were in custody for the murder of one Conner on June 28. The outer door was battered down and the two guards overpowered, but not until one of the latter had passed his pistol to one of the prisoners.

John Hoffman, the leader of the assaulting party, approached the cell with a crowbar to break open the door, when he was fired upon by the prisoner who had received the guard's pistol, and mortally wounded. The mob placed Hoffman in a wagon and fled. Hoffman while an alarm had been given and the Sheriff raised a posse and started in pursuit of the mob. It is stated that Hoffman has since died. He was a well-known farmer and was much respected.

CHICAGO, August 11.—A despatch from Terre Haute, Ind., to the Times says: Last night at Cory, Clay county, Elijah Bady, had a dispute with Josiah Donham in regard to some wheat which they both claimed. It was agreed to lay the matter before a referee for settlement. While the settlement was in progress, Donham provoked Bady, drew a revolver and shot Donham three times, killing him instantly. The assassin was immediately arrested and conveyed to jail at Brazil. There is strong excitement in the neighborhood, and a strong probability that Bady will be taken from the jail and hanged. Mr. Donham was sixty-five years of age and possessed the respect and confidence of the entire community. Bady is only twenty years of age, but is looked upon as a desperado.

A Double Tragedy.

St. LOUIS, Aug. 11.—The Republican's Hannibal, Mo., special says a bloody double tragedy occurred at the town of Burton, Mo., on the night of August 10. A man named Jackson, insulted a lady named Langford. The lady told her husband, who at once hunted up Jackson and attempted to chastise him. Jackson drew a knife and stabbed Langford several times, inflicting mortal wounds. Mrs. Langford, who was standing by, was shot in the breast, whereupon she turned on the woman and cut her slightly two or three times, when he fell exhausted from loss of blood. Both Jackson and Langford will die.

A Ducky Belle.

CINCINNATI, August 8.—A murder took place at Stringtown, near Xenia, Ohio, on Sunday night. Wallace Davis and William Hudson were suitors of Miss Parker (colored), and some time ago had a fight about her. On Sunday night last Miss Parker refused Davis' offer to escort her home from church, and accepted Hudson. On the way home Davis overtook Hudson and threatened to whip him. Miss Parker and her sisters ran away and left the two men together. Three shots were fired and Hudson remained on the ground. The property of John J. Saylor, of Summit township, said county, contained in:

PITTSFIELD, Mass., August 9.—Pittsfield was terribly shocked about 7 o'clock this evening by the news that Judge James D. Colv, of the Massachusetts Supreme Bench, had been found dead in his office, he having committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. Judge Colv had for years a private office in a room connected with the Berkshire County Savings Bank, where he had a library and other accommodations for study. He entered his study about 3 o'clock this afternoon, and at four o'clock when Treasurer Daniel Day left the bank, the Judge was sitting at his table with books and writing paper before him. About 6:30 p. m. Treasurer Day returned to the bank and entered the Judge's room. He found Judge Colv lying on the floor, and near his right hand was a Smith & Wesson Revolver, which belonged to the bank. Mr. Day at once summoned medical aid, but life was extinct. Though the body was quite warm, Judge Colv was born in Pittsfield, October 8, 1816. He was appointed to the Supreme Bench in 1865. He had filled several important offices, and at the time of his death was a trustee of Williams College. For some time he had been in very bad health.
