And glistening white, this porcelain s Sheds on you oriel's fairy grove Of flowers and ferus a summer glow. and here, though Saxon winter whirl Round hoary lindens flakes of storm, The legendary sylphids swarm, and charm us back to boy and girl. child-like, hand-in-hand we list To a caged linnet carolling. It pauses, hark! what echoes ring!

Or is he a ventriloquist? For off, in husb of throbbing throat. We hear, or fancy that we hear, From mellow distance, low yet clear, A sympathetic softer note.

And hath the lonely bird beguiled His own beart, thus to imitate The voice of an imagined mate, Consenting from the greenwood wild? LIGNUM, Ah, hand-in-hand and heart to heart.

Mine own! there have been weary times When I, in visionary rhymes, Have played the linnet's mimic part; Caged not in bower, but barren ship, Have feigned fond courtship and replies In some all-perfumed paradise-Yea, even the kiss from answering lip;
