It was characterized by a marked absence of formality, and the easy, graceful manner of the Chief Ruler of the Nation was welcomed by the masses as a good omeo. There were but three Cabinet receptions, but they were conducted in elegant style, and some of the other receptions of less distinguished officials and of private citizens were events of a high order of magnificence. To a great extent, however, receptions among first families in the city decreased, as compared with former years, and at some of the county friends asking "Picket" to resume his pen for the benefit of the Herald's readers. To this flattering appeal there is but one mode of action left and that is lemptuyen, and the latter advanced to introduce the diplomatic corps, who followed him promptly. Many of the foreigners were accompanied by hadies, and nearly all appeared in court dress. The dean or the diplomatic corps, Mr. Allen, the Hamilies in the city decreased, as compared with former years, and at I can, so here goes:

My journey was very pleasant and interesting, and if I were to attempt to relate what I have seen in the least perioathetic dress.
