Would you ask me why I flirt; I'll tell you the reason why: Were it not for my flirting I would slowly droop and die.

A CROQUETTE'S PLEA.

Some may say, "it is not right To break a dear lover's heart; But what is all that to me If I only play my part?

I am sure I'm not alone In my innocence and mirth, For all nature seems to jilt The gay lovely scenes of earth The mild sunbeams doth allure the flowers, in color, red; Their bloom in lovely summer

Soon all by frost to be shed. And they, then even themselves, To nod in coquettish glee To every gentle zephyr That is wafted o'er the lea.

Then you need not censure me For I know that I am right; I'd flirt with dear old grandpa When no other vows to plight

I wouldn't give up my flirting For all the gay boys I know; Nor would I e'er pledge my hand To any chivalrous beau I'll not forsake this pleasure No difference who he be,

I'll ne'er bow to any man

And live a meek Niobe. They say I will soon grow old And old maiden's course pursue, But paints, and curls, and gumming

Well, what if I do grow old? For it I care not a pin. I'll play off a "sweet sixteen" And take some old bach'lor in.

Yet, if in all this I fail A great consolation-dear I'll have to know in old age Of bliss, I have had my share I will then live at my ease,

Remembering jilted beaux;

I'll have no rough cur to please But spend my time knitting hose. Oh howl then ye gallant beaux, If my beauty's made you mad I care not for joy or woes

But for pleasures I have had
