

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

STATE TICKET. GOVERNOR. JAMES A. BEAVER. Centre county.

SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS. JOHN M. GREER. Butler county.

LEUTENANT GOVERNOR. WILLIAM T. DAVIES. Bradford county.

FOR CONGRESSMAN-AT-LARGE. MARRIOTT BROSIUS. Lancaster county.

JUDICIARY TICKET. JUSTICE OF SUPREME COURT. WILLIAM HENRY RAWLE. Philadelphia.

COUNTY TICKET. CONGRESS. JACOB M. CAMPBELL. Cambria county.

STATE SENATOR. JACOB H. LONGENECKER. Bedford county.

ASSEMBLY. WILLIAM S. MORGAN. Jenner township.

ANDREW J. COLBORN. Somerset borough.

POOR HOUSE DIRECTOR. JESSE HOOVER. Milford township.

JURY COMMISSIONER. CHARLES F. RAYMAN. Brothersvalley township.

THE Shamokin Herald suggests that "if there were enough offices to go around, there would be no Independent party."

"ALEX" Stephens was elected Governor of Georgia last week by a majority of forty or fifty thousand. The average Bourbon heart is much gratified thereat.

GENERAL BEAVER is the candidate of the Republican party this year, not Senator Cameron. The Senator may be a candidate in 1884, and then his case can be attended to.

The restless dogs that sit up nights to bay at the moon waste their time and breath as foolishly as do the Half-breed editors who are howling in chorus at General Beaver.

THE Democratic press is devoting most of its time to feeding taffy to the "Independents," but it had no good word for Republicans in 1880, and it will have none for them in 1884.

It is true that a political party should be defeated because it has a bad leader, why should it Christianity be abolished because some of its professors betray its teachings. The same principle applies to both.

PATRICKSON discovers the hand writing on the wall. He has concluded to abandon his desk and take to the stump, and to making the acquaintance of a few Democrats in the neighborhood.

Who is Dr. Hall of Altoona, who is the "Independents" has nominated for Congressman in this district? How many people in Somerset county ever heard of him? Was this nomination made by the people or by the bosses?

CALLING themselves Republicans does not make them so. Men are judged by their actions. There may be good men among the Independents, but good Republicans do not labor for the election of Democrats by dividing the party.

The Philadelphia Record, good Democratic authority, says that at the Independent meeting held at Norristown on Friday night last, which was addressed by Stewart and Kootz, about 1,000 persons were present, the majority being Democrats.

SENATORS Frye and Hale of Maine, will speak for the Republican ticket in Philadelphia on the 28th inst. They are Blaine's first lieutenants, and the fact that they are coming into this State effectually stamps out the report that Blaine is against Beaver.

The friends of General Croft are very gleeful in anticipation of his election through divisions in the Republican party, and by means of their bargain with the Independent bosses to vote their followers for him. It is not safe to count chickens before they are hatched, as the General may discover when the bosses attempt to deliver the votes bargained for.

INDEPENDENT orators of the Stewart-Kootz stripe have all their political lives charged the Democracy with being corrupt, disloyal and rotten, and yet they prefer seeing a tool of this party made Governor, rather than a man of soldier like General Beaver.

Isn't it a singular spectacle to see men calling themselves Garfield Republicans, lying down in the same dirty bed with the Morley-Judge Democrats, concocting schemes to defeat General Beaver, the man who seconded the motion to make Garfield's nomination unanimous at Chicago?

From all parts of the State we have the most encouraging news of General Beaver's canvass. Republicans who are dissatisfied with the party management see that the choice is simply between Pattison and Beaver, and are resolving not to assist the Democrats in carrying the State by voting for Stewart.

REPUBLICANS may honestly differ about methods and revolt against leadership, but if they are wise they will not attempt to destroy the party because their views are not adopted, or because they do not admire one or more of its leaders. The man has always been accounted a fool who burned his barn to drive away the rats.

The virulent speeches made by Stewart, Kootz & Co., in which they attempt to take their spite against the Camerons out of General Beaver, is suggestive of the old story of the boy, who being scolded for beating a cow, replied: "Dad licks Mam, and Mam licks Siss, and Siss licks me, and I'm going to take it out of this darned old cow."

The Philadelphia Record says that the Democratic City Committee is assessing its candidates with a heavy hand. The aspirant for Sheriff is asked to hand over $2,000; Judge, $1,500; Treasurer, $1,200; Assessor, $1,000, and each Tax Assessor, $40. These are the fellows that howl so lustily because the Republican Committee collected contributions for campaign expenses.

How does it come that so soon as General Kootz seized his grip-sack and left the Republican party, it at once became corrupt? The party hasn't changed a particle within a score of years, and until the last three months the proudest General boasted of it as the purest and most honest party that ever existed. Was all its honesty told round in the vest pocket of the virtuous General?

THE HERALD'S exposure of the bargain and sale between the bosses of the Democrats and the Independents of this county, has driven the Somerset Democrat frantic, and it repeatedly applies the choice epithet "murderous Gibeon Stalwarts" to the Republican party. History records that one J. Wilkes Booth, a Democrat, assassinated Abraham Lincoln. How would the epithet "Murderous Wilkes Booth Democrats" strike the fancy of our neighbor?

There is a man in this county who regards himself as a Republican, and yet thinks of voting for Seibert and Sorber, we ask him to pause and reflect. It is charged and has not been denied, that both of these gentlemen are pledged, if elected, not to go into the Republican caucus for officers of the House, nor to cooperate with the Republican organization. The next Legislature will have to perform the duty of appointing the State for members of Congress and of the Senate and the House. The Legislature may be close, and it is too much to risk having Somerset County put into Democratic districts for the next ten years. If they are not pledged to do so, do not act with the party, neither do not let them have a particle of influence in shaping legislation. Pause and reflect before you vote.

The nomination of Hon. Jacob M. Campbell for Congress, and of Hon. J. H. Longenecker for Senator, completes the Republican ticket, and is the signal for all good Republicans to go to work.

Gen. Campbell needs no commendation at our hands. His public record speaks for itself. His public record speaks for itself. He has been an intelligent, faithful, attentive public servant, always voting right, always abreast with the best public sentiment, always true to the interest of his country, of his State and of his constituents. So excellent a record speaks for itself. He is a gentleman of ability, of culture, and of stainless personal character. He is one of the leading lawyers of the Bedford bar, has represented Bedford county in the Assembly, with great acceptability, and is deservedly popular and much esteemed. He is a Republican, pure and without reproach, has held aloof from the bickerings of factions, and his candidacy is looked upon with favor by almost the entire Republican party in Bedford and Fulton counties. We earnestly commend him to the support of all Republicans of this County who desire to see the district redeemed from the hands of the Democracy. Mr. Longenecker can be elected to be, and we believe will be elected to the Senate by a very decided majority.

THERE is nothing draws a Democratic crowd like an Independent meeting. Our exchanges report immense crowds of enthusiastic Democrats in the eastern counties, flocking to hear and cheer the noble anti-Republican speeches made by Stewart, Marshall and Kootz.

CANDIDATE STEWART says: If Mr. Pattison is elected then that cleans the decks, and the party can then come together and be stronger than it is to-day.

The full-grown man that is weak enough to swallow such stuff, ought to be supplied with a sucking-bottle with two rows of teats on each side, so he would speedily get his fill.

For twenty-five years the long line of Republican Governors in Pennsylvania has not been broken, and in all that time the Republican party has not been beaten in the State in a general battle. And now the Independents want to turn the State over to the Democracy, because, as they allege, they want to beat Senator Cameron, who is not a candidate.

The Democrats and their allies, the Independents, are howling lustily over the fund that Chairman Cooper is collecting to defray Republican campaign expenses in this State. Did these virtuous gentlemen ever hear of a campaign when office holders and others were not asked to contribute? If so, we will thank them to name the time and the party that ran a campaign without money.

It is currently rumored—and the course of the Meyersdale Commercial leads the story strength—that Rev. Seibert is merely being used as a cat's paw, and that when the proper time comes, he will be dropped, and the Democratic and Independent vote be rallied to the support of Captain Sorber with the hope of herby electing him over Colborn. Morgan's election is conceded, but it is hoped that by dropping Seibert and concentrating on Sorber to push him through. Wait until you see Colborn come in on the home stretch, gentlemen, and you will wish you had not played false to Seibert.

TEN-YEAR-old General Hartranft, a brave, loyal soldier, was running for Governor. The Democrats, with such allies as Curtis, McCord and Foley, opened the flood-gates of slander on a brave old man, and endeavored to drive him out of the ticket, but the people rebuked these traitors and elected Gen. Hartranft Governor. This year Gen. Beaver, a brave, loyal, crippled soldier, in running for Governor, and the Democrats with Stewart, Wolfe and McCord, are trying to drive him out of the ticket, but the people will do this year with Gen. Beaver just as they did with General Hartranft in 1872, they will elect him Governor and rebuke the slanders the Democrats and their Independent allies have heaped upon a brave old man, and an honest Christian gentleman, and elect General Beaver Governor. He was true to the people in war, and the people will be true to him in peace.

The only Democratic daily in Western Pennsylvania, the Pittsburgh Post, keeps up the threadbare falsehood that General Beaver betrayed his pledges to his constituents by voting for Grant at Chicago. The Telegraph here and now defies the Post, and says that the Post is wrong in Pennsylvania, to produce one constituent of General Beaver's to whom he ever made a pledge that he broke at Chicago or elsewhere.

Let it be understood also, that when they went to the Republican primary and voted, they knew that the Independents would hold separate primaries and nominate a separate ticket, and yet they deliberately pledged themselves to support a ticket which they had predetermined to betray.

There is a man in this county who regards himself as a Republican, and yet thinks of voting for Seibert and Sorber, we ask him to pause and reflect. It is charged and has not been denied, that both of these gentlemen are pledged, if elected, not to go into the Republican caucus for officers of the House, nor to cooperate with the Republican organization. The next Legislature will have to perform the duty of appointing the State for members of Congress and of the Senate and the House. The Legislature may be close, and it is too much to risk having Somerset County put into Democratic districts for the next ten years. If they are not pledged to do so, do not act with the party, neither do not let them have a particle of influence in shaping legislation. Pause and reflect before you vote.

The nomination of Hon. Jacob M. Campbell for Congress, and of Hon. J. H. Longenecker for Senator, completes the Republican ticket, and is the signal for all good Republicans to go to work.

Gen. Campbell needs no commendation at our hands. His public record speaks for itself. His public record speaks for itself. He has been an intelligent, faithful, attentive public servant, always voting right, always abreast with the best public sentiment, always true to the interest of his country, of his State and of his constituents. So excellent a record speaks for itself. He is a gentleman of ability, of culture, and of stainless personal character. He is one of the leading lawyers of the Bedford bar, has represented Bedford county in the Assembly, with great acceptability, and is deservedly popular and much esteemed. He is a Republican, pure and without reproach, has held aloof from the bickerings of factions, and his candidacy is looked upon with favor by almost the entire Republican party in Bedford and Fulton counties. We earnestly commend him to the support of all Republicans of this County who desire to see the district redeemed from the hands of the Democracy. Mr. Longenecker can be elected to be, and we believe will be elected to the Senate by a very decided majority.

THE Philadelphia Record, good Democratic authority, says that at the Independent meeting held at Norristown on Friday night last, which was addressed by Stewart and Kootz, about 1,000 persons were present, the majority being Democrats.

SENATORS Frye and Hale of Maine, will speak for the Republican ticket in Philadelphia on the 28th inst. They are Blaine's first lieutenants, and the fact that they are coming into this State effectually stamps out the report that Blaine is against Beaver.

The friends of General Croft are very gleeful in anticipation of his election through divisions in the Republican party, and by means of their bargain with the Independent bosses to vote their followers for him. It is not safe to count chickens before they are hatched, as the General may discover when the bosses attempt to deliver the votes bargained for.

So, too. It turns out that the virtuous Independents, while denouncing political assessments, and charging that the Republican party is corrupted thereby, are all the same busily engaged in gathering in all the shekels they can. A circular issued by the Secretary of the Independent Committee of Union County, that immaculate Reformer Wolfe, being its chairman, has come to light and has been published, levying an assessment on all the county officials. What vile hypocrites and imposters these Independent bosses are.

It is a most pitiful, as well as a transparent dodge, to attempt to extenuate the treason to party of the men who have grown rich and fat on offices obtained from the Republican party, by insisting that they "were given them by the people."

What part of the people gave them to them? Was it the Democratic party? The people as a mass had nothing to do with it. It was the Republican people or party that elected them, and solely by power of the Republican organization. Did they ask the whole people, or the voters of the Republican party for their nomination? Did the whole people or the voters of the Republican party elect them? How many Democratic votes did any of them get when candidates? There is not one of them that could have come within forty furlongs of an election had he not been nominated and adopted as the Republican candidate. There is a whole volume in the pithy announcement, that after Judas betrayed his master, "he went away and hanged himself."

Said Garfield at Chicago in 1880: "In our own country, where we want the vote of every Republican and every anti-Grant Republican—and every Blaine man and every anti-Blaine man."—No name is more securely enshrined in the hearts of Pennsylvania Republicans than that of General Garfield. Let his words appeal to them to-day as in the campaign which secured his own election, and Pennsylvania will not be handed over to the party that shamefully vilified him with slander and forgery.—Standard.

TEN-YEAR-old General Hartranft, a brave, loyal soldier, was running for Governor. The Democrats, with such allies as Curtis, McCord and Foley, opened the flood-gates of slander on a brave old man, and endeavored to drive him out of the ticket, but the people rebuked these traitors and elected Gen. Hartranft Governor. This year Gen. Beaver, a brave, loyal, crippled soldier, in running for Governor, and the Democrats with Stewart, Wolfe and McCord, are trying to drive him out of the ticket, but the people will do this year with Gen. Beaver just as they did with General Hartranft in 1872, they will elect him Governor and rebuke the slanders the Democrats and their Independent allies have heaped upon a brave old man, and an honest Christian gentleman, and elect General Beaver Governor. He was true to the people in war, and the people will be true to him in peace.

The only Democratic daily in Western Pennsylvania, the Pittsburgh Post, keeps up the threadbare falsehood that General Beaver betrayed his pledges to his constituents by voting for Grant at Chicago. The Telegraph here and now defies the Post, and says that the Post is wrong in Pennsylvania, to produce one constituent of General Beaver's to whom he ever made a pledge that he broke at Chicago or elsewhere.

Let it be understood also, that when they went to the Republican primary and voted, they knew that the Independents would hold separate primaries and nominate a separate ticket, and yet they deliberately pledged themselves to support a ticket which they had predetermined to betray.

There is a man in this county who regards himself as a Republican, and yet thinks of voting for Seibert and Sorber, we ask him to pause and reflect. It is charged and has not been denied, that both of these gentlemen are pledged, if elected, not to go into the Republican caucus for officers of the House, nor to cooperate with the Republican organization. The next Legislature will have to perform the duty of appointing the State for members of Congress and of the Senate and the House. The Legislature may be close, and it is too much to risk having Somerset County put into Democratic districts for the next ten years. If they are not pledged to do so, do not act with the party, neither do not let them have a particle of influence in shaping legislation. Pause and reflect before you vote.

The nomination of Hon. Jacob M. Campbell for Congress, and of Hon. J. H. Longenecker for Senator, completes the Republican ticket, and is the signal for all good Republicans to go to work.

Gen. Campbell needs no commendation at our hands. His public record speaks for itself. His public record speaks for itself. He has been an intelligent, faithful, attentive public servant, always voting right, always abreast with the best public sentiment, always true to the interest of his country, of his State and of his constituents. So excellent a record speaks for itself. He is a gentleman of ability, of culture, and of stainless personal character. He is one of the leading lawyers of the Bedford bar, has represented Bedford county in the Assembly, with great acceptability, and is deservedly popular and much esteemed. He is a Republican, pure and without reproach, has held aloof from the bickerings of factions, and his candidacy is looked upon with favor by almost the entire Republican party in Bedford and Fulton counties. We earnestly commend him to the support of all Republicans of this County who desire to see the district redeemed from the hands of the Democracy. Mr. Longenecker can be elected to be, and we believe will be elected to the Senate by a very decided majority.

THE Philadelphia Record, good Democratic authority, says that at the Independent meeting held at Norristown on Friday night last, which was addressed by Stewart and Kootz, about 1,000 persons were present, the majority being Democrats.

SENATORS Frye and Hale of Maine, will speak for the Republican ticket in Philadelphia on the 28th inst. They are Blaine's first lieutenants, and the fact that they are coming into this State effectually stamps out the report that Blaine is against Beaver.

The friends of General Croft are very gleeful in anticipation of his election through divisions in the Republican party, and by means of their bargain with the Independent bosses to vote their followers for him. It is not safe to count chickens before they are hatched, as the General may discover when the bosses attempt to deliver the votes bargained for.

A Statement has been going the rounds of the Independent and Democratic press, that in Milton Northumberland county, Stewart will pull a larger vote than General Beaver. There were 338 Republican votes cast for Garfield in Milton. Republican club of Milton has now on its rolls 290 members pledged to vote for General Beaver, and the roll is still being signed. So the statement, like all the other Independent Democratic falsehoods of its kind, has no foundation.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

THE Independents of Montgomery county propose holding a mass meeting in Norristown on Friday evening next. They invited the Hon. George Bullock, of Conshohocken, to act as president. He respectfully declined on the ground that he was not ready to give his vote in favor of free trade by supporting the Independents, and advised Republicans to support General Beaver. That is the true ring of Republicanism. The Hon. George Bullock sets a good example for all Republicans to follow. Elect your own party, and let the Independents and their allies be damned.

It is a most pitiful, as well as a transparent dodge, to attempt to extenuate the treason to party of the men who have grown rich and fat on offices obtained from the Republican party, by insisting that they "were given them by the people."

What part of the people gave them to them? Was it the Democratic party? The people as a mass had nothing to do with it. It was the Republican people or party that elected them, and solely by power of the Republican organization. Did they ask the whole people, or the voters of the Republican party for their nomination? Did the whole people or the voters of the Republican party elect them? How many Democratic votes did any of them get when candidates? There is not one of them that could have come within forty furlongs of an election had he not been nominated and adopted as the Republican candidate. There is a whole volume in the pithy announcement, that after Judas betrayed his master, "he went away and hanged himself."

Said Garfield at Chicago in 1880: "In our own country, where we want the vote of every Republican and every anti-Grant Republican—and every Blaine man and every anti-Blaine man."—No name is more securely enshrined in the hearts of Pennsylvania Republicans than that of General Garfield. Let his words appeal to them to-day as in the campaign which secured his own election, and Pennsylvania will not be handed over to the party that shamefully vilified him with slander and forgery.—Standard.

TEN-YEAR-old General Hartranft, a brave, loyal soldier, was running for Governor. The Democrats, with such allies as Curtis, McCord and Foley, opened the flood-gates of slander on a brave old man, and endeavored to drive him out of the ticket, but the people rebuked these traitors and elected Gen. Hartranft Governor. This year Gen. Beaver, a brave, loyal, crippled soldier, in running for Governor, and the Democrats with Stewart, Wolfe and McCord, are trying to drive him out of the ticket, but the people will do this year with Gen. Beaver just as they did with General Hartranft in 1872, they will elect him Governor and rebuke the slanders the Democrats and their Independent allies have heaped upon a brave old man, and an honest Christian gentleman, and elect General Beaver Governor. He was true to the people in war, and the people will be true to him in peace.

The only Democratic daily in Western Pennsylvania, the Pittsburgh Post, keeps up the threadbare falsehood that General Beaver betrayed his pledges to his constituents by voting for Grant at Chicago. The Telegraph here and now defies the Post, and says that the Post is wrong in Pennsylvania, to produce one constituent of General Beaver's to whom he ever made a pledge that he broke at Chicago or elsewhere.

Let it be understood also, that when they went to the Republican primary and voted, they knew that the Independents would hold separate primaries and nominate a separate ticket, and yet they deliberately pledged themselves to support a ticket which they had predetermined to betray.

There is a man in this county who regards himself as a Republican, and yet thinks of voting for Seibert and Sorber, we ask him to pause and reflect. It is charged and has not been denied, that both of these gentlemen are pledged, if elected, not to go into the Republican caucus for officers of the House, nor to cooperate with the Republican organization. The next Legislature will have to perform the duty of appointing the State for members of Congress and of the Senate and the House. The Legislature may be close, and it is too much to risk having Somerset County put into Democratic districts for the next ten years. If they are not pledged to do so, do not act with the party, neither do not let them have a particle of influence in shaping legislation. Pause and reflect before you vote.

The nomination of Hon. Jacob M. Campbell for Congress, and of Hon. J. H. Longenecker for Senator, completes the Republican ticket, and is the signal for all good Republicans to go to work.

Gen. Campbell needs no commendation at our hands. His public record speaks for itself. His public record speaks for itself. He has been an intelligent, faithful, attentive public servant, always voting right, always abreast with the best public sentiment, always true to the interest of his country, of his State and of his constituents. So excellent a record speaks for itself. He is a gentleman of ability, of culture, and of stainless personal character. He is one of the leading lawyers of the Bedford bar, has represented Bedford county in the Assembly, with great acceptability, and is deservedly popular and much esteemed. He is a Republican, pure and without reproach, has held aloof from the bickerings of factions, and his candidacy is looked upon with favor by almost the entire Republican party in Bedford and Fulton counties. We earnestly commend him to the support of all Republicans of this County who desire to see the district redeemed from the hands of the Democracy. Mr. Longenecker can be elected to be, and we believe will be elected to the Senate by a very decided majority.

THE Philadelphia Record, good Democratic authority, says that at the Independent meeting held at Norristown on Friday night last, which was addressed by Stewart and Kootz, about 1,000 persons were present, the majority being Democrats.

SENATORS Frye and Hale of Maine, will speak for the Republican ticket in Philadelphia on the 28th inst. They are Blaine's first lieutenants, and the fact that they are coming into this State effectually stamps out the report that Blaine is against Beaver.

The friends of General Croft are very gleeful in anticipation of his election through divisions in the Republican party, and by means of their bargain with the Independent bosses to vote their followers for him. It is not safe to count chickens before they are hatched, as the General may discover when the bosses attempt to deliver the votes bargained for.

THEN AND HOW

When the rebel cannon thundered at Gettysburg and fear and dread settled down on half the people of the North, how eagerly those who stood at home pressed forward on any and every occasion to do honor to the soldiers who stood as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction. No honors were too great to heap upon them, no favors in the future were to grand to promise them. They were the country's guardian angels, and he who spoke slightly of sneered at them did it in his peril.

What a change has come! Now from the end of the State to the other Democratic and "kicker" journals abuse and sneer at a man whose patriotic devotion to his country led him, in the dawn of early manhood, to offer his own life as a wall of fire between them and destruction