Farming.

D. S. Curtis, in the National Farmer, remarks:
The wonderful improvements in mechanism, in engineering, in the liberal professions, and in mercantile business, which distinguish our times, have not been secured by accident or thoughtless chance, but by mind, reason, study and thoughtful labor.

Artificial Incubation.

There is not the slightest reason to believe that when the ancient Egyptians invented a method of artificially hatching eggs they were influenced by any desire to lessen the labor of hens.

The religious Editor on Base Ball.

A few days ago the local department was terribly rushed, and it was found necessary to assign the religious editor to a base ball match.
