

The Somerset Herald.

CHRISTMAS COMES ON Monday this year. The Xmas comes next—Thanksgiving and turkey.

The Legislature of this State will assemble on the first Tuesday of January next, which will be the 23rd of the month.

Farmers complain that a small insect or worm is destroying the young wheat by cutting the stalk off close to the ground.

This is the business man's season for planting. If he plants his Holiday advertisement in the Herald he will reap a rich harvest every time.

Quite a number of the pavements of the borough are in bad condition. They should certainly be repaired before Winter comes to stay.

The beautiful came down today all day Sunday and covered the ground to a depth of several inches. The sleighing is not fast, but locomotion is easier on runners than wheels.

There will be no Thanksgiving next in the Presbyterian church on next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Shearer, of the Lutheran church, will preach. All are cordially and earnestly invited to attend.

Mayor Welley has been preparing Winter quarters for the borough fire apparatus by having window lights put in, and shutters placed on the windows to the engine house. The repairs done will bring to the safety of the town, nor do they to the engine.

A temperance meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church, Thursday evening (Thanksgiving) at 7 o'clock. Short addresses by prominent citizens, interspersed with music, will be the programme for the evening. The attendance of the public is earnestly solicited.

Mr. E. A. Sage, of New Berlin, New York, who for a number of years so successfully operated the butter and cheese factories in this county, spent several days of last week in Somerset looking after his business interests. He was accompanied by his wife and returned home Monday evening.

People in town and country cannot be too careful about admitting and locking traps or opening their houses to persons who have a right to sell; frequently, it is said, these are the forerunners to burglars, the room-nitters, as it were. These forerunners, if they do not secure admission, are quick to take to the situation of the house and room from the door.

Dulcie McClellan, a young man about 20 years of age, who had been in the military service in Africa, township, committed suicide on the night of the 23rd inst., by strangulation caused by tying a suspender tightly around his neck. No cause can be assigned for the act, except that he was not of sound mind. His body was taken to the morgue and will be buried on Monday.

There is a rumor circulating for some time in the town of Somerset, that a young man named John Smith, who is a resident of the town, had been seen in the town of Somerset, and that he had been seen in the town of Somerset, and that he had been seen in the town of Somerset.

Supervisors of public roads should take time by the forelock and see to it that all roads and bridges are in good condition. If they are not, they should be repaired as soon as possible. By attending to this important duty at once they will save themselves much unnecessary trouble and expense, besides averting much of the annoyance and warning which are generally met with throughout the winter from those who travel over the highways.

The term "backwater" has often been applied to the people of Western Pennsylvania in derision for some unknown cause. If panicles are good, however, and are everybody seems to think they are, the Pennsylvania has reason to be proud of the epithet rather than ashamed of it.

The following, in regard to an important Somerset county case tried in the United States Court last week, is taken from the Pittsburgh Post:

"The case of Richard S. Hardesty against George W. Fife, sheriff of Somerset county, to recover the value of certain rolling stock of the Somerset & Cambria railroad, which was sold by the sheriff, was called for trial Monday in the United States Circuit Court before Judge Ashmun. Several nice legal points were raised in a most interesting trial. The history as gleaned from the testimony taken yesterday, is as follows: In 1870 a railroad was built from Somerset to Mineral Point. A first mortgage for $50,000 was given to pay for the construction, and subsequently a second mortgage for $20,000 was given. After the road was finished paving was completed and the Pennsylvania railroad and everything progressed favorably until 1874, when the trustee of the second mortgage, after notice from George W. Fife, the holder, sold the road. A. H. Coffin became the purchaser, subject to the first mortgage, paying $21,000. In February 1875 a new company was organized and took possession of the road. Having no property or credit as a company they could not purchase rolling stock, but Geo. Coffin, J. A. Hoffman, Richard D. Hodson, David Hoffman, Henry McCray, John Miller, Joseph Oberdorfer, David O'Hara, Dennis Van Horn, B. N. A. C. Davis, P. M. Nov. 27, 1882.
